

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 851

Shaun was startled by the anger in her eyes. "I just gently patted..."

"I don't care. You hit me. You men just don't know how to cherish others. I just slept with you in the morning, and you bullied me in the afternoon. I'm ignoring you. Go away." Catherine's eyes were red. She was originally just pretending, but after thinking about it, she felt aggrieved too.

The proud Shaun too became a little angry at being driven away like this, but when he saw her red eyes, he immediately panicked and picked her up carefully. "Babe, I was wrong. Don't be angry. You can hit me back, okay?"

"I don't want to hit your stinky *ss." Catherine looked away. Her beautiful eyes were filled with tears, and her mouth pouted, making her look as cute as possible.

Shaun's heart melted. He grabbed her hand and patted it on his face. "Is this okay?"

"No, it's too light." Catherine lowered her eyes and snorted.

"Like this?" Shaun grabbed her hand again and heavily slapped himself twice.

If others saw this scene, their eyes would have fallen off. No one would expect that the high and mighty Shaun Hill would coax a woman like this. Even Sarah would be shocked if she saw this.

"That's more like it." Catherine looked at the red mark on his face and smiled.

When Shaun saw the smile on her face, his heart fell to the ground.

He never thought that he would coax a woman like this one day. He coaxed her without a bottom line.

He would not be like this even when facing Sarah in the past.

Of course, Sarah also sometimes acted spoiled, but comparing her with Catherine, he felt that he was only instinctively indulging Sarah. It seemed his heart did not mean it.

As he thought about it, there did not seem to be moments where his heart would skip a beat when he was with Sarah. There was not much anger, but no lovey-doveyness either.

However, there was a voice in his head that dominated him. He loved Sarah, so he had to be good to her.

However... was that love? Did he really love Sarah?

True love should be like this, where there was laughter and sweetness.

Even when she was angry, she was beautiful. Suddenly, there was a sharp pain in his head.

He drew a cold breath and let go of her, stumbling back two steps and holding his head.

“Shaun...” Catherine was startled and quickly held him. “What’s wrong?”

“My head suddenly hurt.” Shaun held his head.

Confusion flashed across Catherine's eyes. "What were you thinking of?"

"I was thinking about..." Shaun's throat suddenly got stuck when he found that his brain was a little confused. "I thought that it felt very sweet getting along with you like this now, and you looked very cute when you were angry."

"That's all?" Catherine did not believe it. Last time, he also had a headache when he recalled something at McDonald's. "Have you had headaches before?"

"I've had fewer headaches since Sarah helped me treat them." Shaun froze. "It seems that every time I have a headache, it's with you. Should I consult a neuro..."

"Are you afraid you have a tumor in your brain?" Catherine joked.

"Don't talk nonsense. That won't happen. I still want to be with you." Shaun pinched her small face. "Cathy, sometimes, I feel like life is strange, but I can't tell what's strange about it... Right, I was just thinking that when I'm with Sarah, it's like I'm not as satisfied with her as I am when I'm with you now. Stop." Catherine suddenly covered his mouth.

Sarah hypnotized him, and Catherine consulted a good doctor about it before. For this kind of hypnosis, the worst-case scenario was that one day, the patient broke the hypnosis himself and the chances of recovering were slim. What was more likely would be that the reality and implanted memory would tangle up, and the patient would lose his mind.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 852

"What's wrong?" Shaun was puzzled.

"Nothing. I just don't want to hear about Sarah and you."

Catherine turned her face away purposefully.

“Sorry.” Shaun turned her body and kissed her overbearingly and fondly. “Babe, I’m incredibly sure now. I love you.”

She was a little dazed by his kiss and hung her arms around his neck.

She originally planned to go to the company but did not make it in the end.

The next day, when Shaun drove her out, she made him stop at the door.

“What are you doing?” He glanced at her sideways. He had to say that women did need to be nourished sometimes. After yesterday, he felt as if she was even more beautiful and delicate, like a rose in full bloom.

“Buying something.”

Catherine unfastened her seat belt and got out of the car, and went to the pharmacy. She asked for a box of contraceptives and drank a glass of water before coming out.

“What did you buy?” Shaun suddenly stared at her, his handsome face slightly dark.

Catherine blinked and took out the box of pills from her bag.

Shaun's hands tightened on the steering wheel, even the veins were bulging. His expression was unpleasant. "Don't eat it next time. I plan to spend the rest of my life with you. Children are also..."

"The last time we were together, you threw me a box of birth control pills." Catherine interrupted him. "I'm a little scared now."

"That was because I..."

"Also, the bad experience I had when I was pregnant before traumatized me. I'm not ready to experience that kind of pain and fear again, for the time being, so please put yourself in my shoes and think about it." Catherine said mercilessly.

"I'm sorry." Shaun was chagrined.

Thinking about it, he hated his former self immensely. Why was he so cruel? Even if he did not love her back then, she was still pregnant with his children. Why was he not more caring?

The more he thought about it, the more he felt that his past self was incredibly strange.

"Don't take the medicine in the future. It's not good for your health." He sighed. "I'll buy condoms."

"Okay." Catherine nodded and did not refuse.

After arriving at Hudson Corporation, not long after she went upstairs, she received custom-made chocolate rose from Frrozen Haute. Inside was a pink card: I'm sorry, babe. I'll treat you well for the rest of my life. Love, Shaun.

Then, her WhatsApp rang.

Shaun sent message after message. [Cathy, I miss you.]

[Cathy, are the chocolates good?]

[Babe, what else do you want to eat? I'll have it sent to you.]

Catherine was speechless.

She looked at his WhatsApp messages and her lips twitched. This man was like a different person when dating. She never saw him like this before.

She bowed her head and replied, [No need. I have plans tonight.]

Shaun. [The first message you sent is to send me away?] Followed by it was an emoji with an aggrieved face.

Catherine. [Be good. I'm busy. Don't make a fuss.]

Shaun. [Okay, I won't make a fuss. I'll listen to my wife.]

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 853

Catherine, who was eating chocolate, almost choked. What the hell. Was this guy possessed by a husky?

However, she smiled silly as she looked at the conversation.

When she finally came about, the corners of her mouth stiffened.

At night, in a bar.

Catherine sat on a barstool next to Logan, who was in a trench coat.

“It must have been a hard trip to Neah Bay. How was the investigation?” Catherine opened a beer bottle and pushed it over.

“This kind of thing is confidential and usually won’t be disclosed.” Logan took a sip of beer and said smugly, “But who am I? I spent some time there and finally got wind of something. There really were a bunch of guys there who came to the country. At that time, a young and handsome man from Australia went over there personally and spent a lot of money to hire them.”

“Is there a photo?” “Nope.”

Under her gaze that seemed to say ‘you’re so useless’, Logan was offended and explained, “Come on. Although that is the most chaotic place in the world, they’re still organized. Who would dare to seek their cooperation if information is casually leaked out?”

“A young and handsome Australian man. Thomas Neeson is out. He doesn’t have the guts to contact those dangerous people.” Catherine pondered. “Does Sarah still have helpers?”

“She definitely has people backing her,” Logan said with certainty. “But she hasn’t shown her cards yet.”

“Let’s wait. She should be impatient now, so we wouldn’t have to wait for long.” Catherine took a sip of beer and suddenly showed a trace of exhaustion from her brow.

“What’s wrong? Are you in a bad mood?” Logan raised his brows. “Speaking of, you’re with Shaun again, right? How is the feeling of getting back with your ex-husband? Is your ex-husband who once abandoned you treating you like a treasure now?”

Catherine glared at him, and Logan chuckled. “I’m just curious. After all, he was someone you loved. You won’t end up being soft-hearted, right?”

Catherine looked down. Her beautiful face could not be seen in the dim light.

“What the f*ck, you really... became soft—hearted?” Logan was speechless at her strange silence. “That’s the person who hurt you deeply before. Back then, if you hadn’t faked your death, you might have died. You children would’ve been taken away too.”

“I know.” Catherine frowned with great annoyance. If she had not learned from Yael that nothing happened between Sarah and him, she might not have been shaken at all. “I’m just... a little annoyed. In fact, I know that he didn’t mean to hurt me at that time. He was just hypnotized by Sarah, but the past is like an open wound to me. Sometimes, I think that I should just get revenge on Sarah and I shouldn’t get too close to this man. He’s toxic...”

She was clearly hurt by him and thought she no longer loved him.

However, the two days they were together made her feel like she went back to the time when the two of them used to love each other.

“What should I do?” She asked blankly. Should she continue or give up?

“How would I know? I’ve never been in love before. But can you continue to marry him and have children as if it never happened?”

Logan said, “Frankly, I think that if he was able to be hypnotized by Sarah in the first place, it meant that he completely believed in Sarah. Back then, how much did he respect you when you were married? He didn’t think that he should keep a distance from his ex-girlfriend since he had a wife. Isn’t it just comeuppance that he ended up like this now?”

Catherine was stunned. Yes, Shaun deserved it.

His stupidity harmed her and her children.

“Forget it, let’s go. It’s too late.” Logan yawned. He had jet lag and had not rested well. “Don’t think too much. If there’s still someone behind Sarah, then it’s not over yet. Besides, don’t forget, Sarah only just broke up with Shaun. Is this the only result you want?”

“You’re right.”

Her eyes gradually grew cold. Sarah killed so many people and ruined Charity’s family. Charity was also tortured to death by Sarah. She would definitely make Sarah’s life worse than death.

If Shaun dared to stop her, then she would deal with him too.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 854

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 854

Catherine woke up the next day with a slightly upset stomach due to the few pints of beer she had last night.

When she got up and washed her face, she received a call from Shaun. His voice was low. "Where did you go last night?"

"I had something to do with a friend..."

"Is that something drinking at a bar with him?" Shaun gritted his teeth and said gloomily, "Go read the news about yourself, Ms. Jones. I'll reach your place in ten minutes. You better give me an explanation."

Then, he hung up.

Catherine was shocked and used her phone to search for her news. The latest one was: [Yule Corporation's heir talking and laughing with her mysterious boyfriend, behaving intimately.]

The photo was of Logan and blurred figures of hers in the bar.

She narrowed her eyes and rubbed her brows. Fortunately, Logan's face was not exposed, otherwise, it would be troublesome. After all, Logan was the only assistant she could trust completely.

These reporters really had nothing better to do. She was not some kind of public figure.

It seemed like she had to give them a good beating.

She had just changed her clothes when someone knocked on the door violently.

When she opened the door, Shaun's handsome and cold face brought upon an eerie chill.

"Who was that man?" He was going crazy with anger. He cared about her so much and held her all the time, but she went behind his back to go to a bar with another man. What was even worse was that he could tell from the man's back that he was not bad-looking. His physique was good too.

It was not easy for him to get rid of Isaac Stringer, and now there was another random man.

"Catherine Jones, can't you give me peace of mind? Will you die if you don't provoke men all day long? Or are you saying that I can't satisfy you?"

He grabbed her shoulders angrily.

Catherine's shoulders hurt from his grip. She looked at the man in front of her, and Logan's words last night came to mind. She should control her feelings. "Shaun Hill, I did agree to be with you, but there's no law that says I can't have contact with the opposite sex."

Her face was full of indifference, completely different from the shy and hot appearance in bed yesterday. Shaun felt like a bucket of cold water was poured on him, chilling him.

"Catherine Jones, since you're with me, keeping a distance from the opposite sex is the basic principle of being a girlfriend."

Shaun said with a cold face, "I asked you out yesterday, but you'd rather spend time with an unknown man. What do you take me for?"

"If you don't want to believe me, then there's nothing I can do."

Catherine turned and took out the milk from the refrigerator indifferently.

Shaun glared at her back. "If you don't give me an explanation, I'll investigate that man and find out just who he is."

Then, he turned around angrily and walked out.

"Stop," Catherine called him, her voice rising in anger. "Are you done? You investigate the people around me at the drop of a hat. You investigated Isaac before and now you're investigating someone else. Shaun Hill, if you won't even give me a little respect, then we'll break up."

Shaun was shocked. His face was covered with hostility and he was so angry that he punched the door, making a heavy muffled sound.

However, Catherine simply poured a cup of milk with a calm face, completely unaffected by his anger.

For a moment, Shaun was a little taken aback.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 855

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 855

Shaun was clearly upset, but why did Catherine not comfort him softly, or explain herself?

As long as she begged him and promised not to go out with the opposite sex in the future, he could force himself to forgive her.

However, this woman's attitude was really too cold.

"Catherine Jones, I don't think you realize it, but since you're my woman, it's not that easy to break up. I'll throw you away if I don't want you, but it's impossible for you to initiate a breakup." Then, he slammed the door and left.

In the room, Catherine called Logan helplessly. "

You were photographed by a reporter. Hide for now and don't show your face. I'll contact you if something happens."

The next day, Shaun did not contact her.

She went to the Yule family villa to accompany Lucas. When she arrived, Lucas was fiddling with a Lego Star Wars set.

"Did Grandpa buy this for you?" Catherine looked at the box. It was a limited edition, so it should be quite expensive.

"Uncle Wesley gave it to me. He came to the kindergarten to see me yesterday." Lucas looked up and smiled, revealing a row of pearly whites.

Catherine was surprised. She knew that Lucas rarely smiled, but he was laughing now because of Wesley's gift. It showed that he was really fond of the gift.

Wesley was always like that. He remembered what the two children liked, and was gentle and attentive.

Her heart suddenly became heavy.

She knew that Wesley had always been watching her silently from behind. He was afraid of disturbing her plan and rarely came over to find her.

"Lucas, do you like Uncle Wesley a lot?" Catherine asked gently.

"Mommy, I know that he likes you and will be good to me," Lucas said seriously. "The most important thing for me is that Mommy is happy and won't get hurt."

Catherine lowered her head and kissed her son's forehead.

Joel came over with a smile. "Lucas is the most sensible child I've seen. He's so sensible that it's stressing me out."

"Yes." Catherine touched her son's head. "Dad, are you feeling better?"

"A trace of toxins was removed recently, so I'm much better." Joel sighed. "I went to Yule Corporation yesterday and found that your grandfather... took the leading position. He wanted me to train at home for a while and said that he would watch the company. Needless to say, he must have been encouraged by Damien. Your grandfather even agreed to set up a joint venture with Campos Corporation. I don't have a good feeling about this..."

"Dad, if you ask me, you should just let them do as they please," Catherine said faintly. "Just sell your shares and leave Yule Corporation. When your health gets better, you can set up another company by yourself."

Joel's face sank. "Cathy, Yule Corporation is Dad's heart and soul. I spent most of my life on Yule Corporation..."

"Dad, I'll be honest. I'm not optimistic about Campos and Yule's cooperation. I heard a bit from Shaun. The Campos family is best at pretending to be weak, but they want to surpass the Hill family and become the top family in the country. I'm guessing that he wants to use the Yule family as a stepping stone."

Catherine elaborated, "Think about it. Establishing a joint venture company. The Yule family knows nothing about finance and has no familiar team or talents. We won't know how the Campos family will manipulate it in the future."

"Moreover, Grandpa came back and got involved. Damien and Melanie are just the same as those shareholders. If you want to regain control, you can't fight with Damien anymore. If you fight with Grandpa, and if things go south, you'll be called an unfilial son."

Joel's face darkened. He saw that coming.

Chill ran down his spine as he thought about what his father had done.

Damien and his daughter did so many things to harm Joel, yet his father still forgave them.

Catherine added, "If I have to say, Yule Corporation's market value is high now, and the shares are at their most valuable. Getting rid of them earlier is the best idea. Dad, sometimes, letting go is also a kind of success."

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 856

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 856

"Maybe you're right..." Joel was taken aback by her words for a while and sighed sorrowfully.

Catherine saw him hesitate and said, "Dad, if you can't let go, leave this matter to me. After everything that has happened, don't you understand? You value affection too much. Your guilt to Nicola, your brotherly love for Damien, and your love for Grandma and Grandpa. If it weren't for all those, would you and my mom fall to where you are today? Tell me honestly. Are you happy?"

Joel smiled bitterly. How could he be happy? Ever since finding out that Melanie was not his child, he regretted every moment.

Those people treated him like a fool and hurt him and there were no sincere apologies at all.

"Okay, Cathy. I'll leave this to you." Joel nodded. "I'll hand over all my rights to you."

"Dad, when you start a new company, you can still open up new frontiers with a group of people who are loyal to you."

Catherine reminded him. "But don't make this public. Otherwise, Grandma and Grandpa will be furious if they find out."

The next day, Catherine arranged a group to inquire about some news in the business circle.

Soon, Harvey brought her the news. "Chairman Jones, President Kawada from Delta Co., Ltd. in Japan is very interested in Yule Corporation.

Coincidentally, the president is flying to Hobart today to attend tomorrow's international porcelain trade fair."

"Porcelain?" Catherine raised her eyebrows.

"Yes, President Kawada is very interested in porcelain," Harvey explained.

"Book me a plane ticket. I'll fly to Hobart today." Catherine said immediately.

Hill Corporation.

At 8:00 PM, the light in the president's office was still on.

Those in the secretary's office yawned and looked at Hadley pleadingly. "Assistant Young, please persuade the president not to stay up so late and let him go home early. We can't take it anymore."

“You say that as if I can.”

Hadley wanted to cry. He took a picture of the pitiful faces of everyone in the secretary department and sent it to Catherine. [Ms. Jones, can you persuade President Hill not to work overtime so late? We want to go home. PS: We worked overtime until 1:00 AM last night.]

Catherine replied. [You’re used to it. Just go back. I never ask my employees to accompany me every time I work overtime.]

Hadley. [Not everyone is as nice as you.]

Hadley. [I’m busy. I have a flight, so I’m turning off my phone.]

Hadley. “ ”

What the hell. Ms. Jones was not in Canberra anymore.

He quickly checked with the airlines. Ten minutes later, he walked through the door of the office.
“President Hill...”

“Don’t bother me,” Shaun warned coldly and picked up his phone, glancing at it.

Damn it. That woman had not even called to apologize to him yet.

Was she making a fool out of him?

Was this a payback for those times when he did her wrong when they dated previously?

When he thought about that possibility, his heart seized up with a fierce pain.

“No, President Hill. I wanted to inform you that Ms. Jones took a plane to Hobart. ” Hadley said weakly.

Shaun suddenly sat up from the leather chair and stared at him with treacherous eyes. “What is she going there for?”

“There’s an international porcelain fair in Hobart tomorrow. Perhaps she’s there to attend it.”

Shaun was furious. When he was annoyed to death at their couple’s fight, not only did she not apologize to him, she even went to attend some porcelain fair.

Good. Very good, Catherine Jones.

“Right, how did you know she went there?” Shaun suddenly asked sharply.

“I sent a WhatsApp message to her. She...”

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 857

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 857

“You have her WhatsApp?” Shaun narrowed his eyes at Hadley. “And you chatted with her privately?”

Hadley flushed. "As your assistant, I added Ms. Jones's WhatsApp for your own good. For example, when you're upset, I can ask her to comfort you."

"But I'm not comforted by her now." Shaun snorted coldly. "Did she tell you that she was going to Hobart?"

"She mentioned it, but I..."

"I know. She wants to tell me about this matter using your mouth." Shaun scoffed. "She thinks that I'd become anxious if she leaves Canberra. She can dream on."

Hadley was speechless.

He seriously suspected that President Hill was thinking too much.

"Book me a plane ticket right now. I'm going to Hobart tonight." Shaun suddenly ordered.

"You're going to... chase after Ms. Jones?" Hadley was stunned and taken off guard by the change of heart.

"Of course not. I'm going to buy porcelain." Shaun got up and packed up his stuff.

Hadley wanted to cry. It was already so late, yet he had to accompany Shaun to Hobart. Being an assistant was so tiring.

In the evening, Catherine stayed in a four-star hotel in Hobart.

Since there were too many people coming from all around the world to attend the fair, many good hotels were booked in advance, so this was the best she could get.

After taking a shower, she was off to bed. She was suddenly woken up by doors slamming in the next room.

“They must be crazy. Why did they bang the door closed?” Catherine scolded in her heart.

Less than ten minutes later, there was loud heavy metal music next door.

It was so noisy that she could not sleep. She could not hold back and called the front desk of the hotel to complain. Five minutes later, the front desk called back helplessly. “I’m sorry. Our staff went up to find the gentleman next door, but he said that his music didn’t exceed 50 decibels, which isn’t causing a nuisance. Even the police can’t do anything about it.”

“How can there be such a person?” Catherine was annoyed. “It’s very loud. It must be more than 50 decibels.”

“We’ve measured it. It’s only 49 decibels.” Catherine was speechless.

Damn it. He was making things difficult for her. It must be someone who knew the law well. She thought of that stupid pervert, Shaun Hill.

“Can you change my room?”

"I'm sorry, we have no other vacant rooms left."

Catherine had a headache. She could only stuff tissues into her ears in a daze.

In the end, she could not sleep well at night and kept having nightmares.

The next day, she got up early and put on her makeup delicately before heading to the trade fair.

After making a turn, she soon found Mr. Kawada. He was a man in his forties, but he looked refined and elegant.

At that moment, Mr. Kawada was studying a large plate with a dragon motif.

The seller said, "This is from the Kangxi period, and was passed down from my ancestors. It's an absolute treasure. I didn't sell it even when someone offered 4 million last time."

"Can I have a closer look?" Catherine walked over and asked with a smile.

Mr. Kawana handed the large plate to her and smiled. "Does this lady know how to appraise porcelain?"

"I know a little." Catherine looked at it and shook her head. "This is fake."

"Hey, don't talk nonsense." The seller glared at her angrily. "You don't know anything, you silly little girl."

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 858

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 858

Catherine pointed to the large dragon motif and said, "If it's a plate from the Kangxi period, it should have a history of at least several hundred years, and the jade should have been silicified long ago. Look, this area is too reflective, and in this spot, the glaze is too uneven. But it's a good imitation. I offer two thousand."

The seller's face was crimson in embarrassment by Catherine's claim.

Mr. Kawada glared at him. "You used a fake to scam me. You think I'm easy to fool because I'm not Chinese?"

"I'm not. Anyway, I think that it's real." The seller slunk away with the plate in his arms.

"Thank you, Miss." Mr. Kawada smiled. "You look a little familiar."

"Many people say that I look familiar." Catherine turned and tried to slip away shyly.

"Wait, I remember now. You're the heir of Yule Corporation. Your last name is... Jones..." Kawada hurriedly said. "Your father is Joel Yule, right?"

"You've got the wrong person." Catherine waved awkwardly.

"Haha, no I didn't. I've met your father before." Kawada handed her his business card.

Catherine read it and immediately shook his hand. “ Hello, President Kawada. I’m actually a porcelain enthusiast too. I secretly flew over here to see because I didn’t want others to recognize me.”

“I understand. There are always people who want to curry favor in exchange for benefits. It’s too troublesome.” Kawada laughed. “ It’s fate that we could meet. Look at that piece.”

“Sure.”

Catherine followed him, and an hour flew by. The two chatted about many things.

When it was lunchtime, Kawada said, “Actually, I’ve always admired Yule Corporation’s development in the logistics area. By the way, since you’re Yule Corporation’s heir, when are you planning to take over the company?”

“It’s not that easy to take over.” Catherine smiled bitterly. “Currently, Yule Corporation’s development is very good, and the stock prices also rose, but Yule Corporation’s internal management is complicated. There are many people who covet my position.”

“That’s true.” Kawada’s eyes flashed. “But you can’t give up this position easily. It’s your father’s hard work.”

“My father isn’t in good health and wants me to take care of it, but I still have another company on hand. I don’t have that much energy. I might end up selling my shares. ” Catherine blurted. “But I’m afraid my father will disagree, and my grandfather might get angry too. But either way, my last name is Jones, so I don’t care about it that much.”

Kawada gave a deep cough. “That’s true. You’re still so young, and those uncles are old and cunning, so it might be better to sell them. A girl has to marry eventually anyway.”

“That’s right. Sometimes I want to find a boyfriend, but I’m too busy. All I want now is to go dating happily now...”

Just as Catherine finished speaking, she suddenly seemed to hear the sound of something shattering from next door.

She froze.

At that moment, Kawada said in a low voice, “I’ll be frank. I’m actually quite interested in logistics. Why don’t you sell the shares to me? You can name a price.”

“Huh?” Catherine was shocked and looked around wildly. “That... That won’t do. If my grandfather finds out...”

“I heard that your grandfather returned to Yule Corporation. I guess that he won’t be relinquishing his position for some time.” Kawada said meaningfully, “You weren’t raised by his side either. Who knows if he’ll support that cousin of yours instead in the future.”

Catherine was stunned and gritted her teeth. “I’d sell it for 60 million USD...”

“60 million?” Kawada was shocked. That was quite a high price. “I remember your Yule Corporation’s market value is only around 100 million. I’m afraid no one will buy it if you sell for 60 million, but I’d be willing to buy it if you can let it go for 45 million.”

Look, there are so many logistics companies nowadays...”

Then, Kawada incessantly tried to convince Catherine.

Catherine pretended to listen and become more and more interested and finally agreed to sell Yule Corporation's shares for 50 million USD. Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 859

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 859

Kawada was overjoyed. "Then let's sign the contract at night. There's no time like the present."

He was afraid this little girl would turn back and tell Joel, and Joel would disagree. After all, Yule Corporation was the country's largest logistics company, and they were expanding fiercely in e-commerce as well. He had wanted to buy Yule Corporation for a long time.

"Okay, then we'll meet tonight. I need the secretary to send the contract over. But don't tell anyone about it. I'm afraid of being scolded by my father. We'll go to the company in a few days to transfer the shares." Catherine said uneasily.

"Sure, sure, sure. It's settled, then."

Kawada shook hands with her and left happily. As soon as he left, Catherine grinned.

Selling 40% of the Yule Corporation's shares for 50 million. Not bad.

When Kawada went to Yule corporation, it would surely stir up a storm. Damien, Melanie, and Charlie would definitely go mad.

“Waiter, I’d like another cup of coffee...”

She turned her head and was instantly dumbfounded when saw a tall man with a domineering presence standing by the door.

Shaun Hill. Why was he here? Her dark eyes were wide open.

“Come out.” Shaun gritted his teeth and glared at her viciously, directly pulling her out.

He had been following her since the morning and watched her constantly peeking at a middle -aged man, and finally striking up a conversation with him. Then, they talked and laughed over lunch.

He was furious at first, but his heart felt more and more complicated when he went to the room next to theirs.

This woman was getting more and more out of hand. She approached a person like President Kawada without batting an eyelid and even played him in the palm of her hands.

When they went out of the hotel, Shaun sized her up deeply.

“When did you come?” Catherine pulled her hand back and rubbed her wrist that was pinched and sore.

“I’ve been following you since you came out this morning,” Shaun said gloomily.

Catherine was stunned but quickly reacted with a dark expression. "Were you that psycho who kept blasting songs last night next door?"

"Who are you calling a psycho?" Shaun's handsome face went black.

"It really was you." Catherine rubbed her forehead and snapped at him. "Are you crazy? I couldn't sleep at all because of the noise."

"We're in the same boat. You tortured me until I couldn't sleep, so don't think you get to sleep either." Shaun snorted coldly. He had two sleepless nights because of her.

Catherine was speechless. "You weren't eating in the room next door, right?"

She looked at his hands, where there were scars and blood marks, and remembered that she heard something being crushed earlier.

Shaun said gloomily, "I originally wanted to see if you would do something sorry to me, but I ended up hearing that you want to find a boyfriend to go dating happily. It turns out that I'm not your boyfriend yet. So, who is your boyfriend? The one who went to the bar to drink with you at night?"

The corners of Catherine's mouth twitched. She finally saw what an unreasonable man looked like. "I said that deliberately to fool him." Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 860

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 860

"Catherine Jones, what are you planning?"

Shaun's gaze was odd. "You sold Yule Corporation's shares just like that. Does your father know?"

Yule Corporation was the country's largest logistics company and had been developing rapidly in e-commerce especially in recent years. Many people were eyeing this juicy piece of meat, but Catherine handed it over so easily.

"Yeah, I persuaded him to sell it." Catherine shrugged coolly. "There's internal strife in Yule Corporation, my grandfather is still ambitious at his old age, Damien and his daughter eye us covetously, and the shareholders are made from the same mold as Damien. It's better to just sell them all.

"Delta Co., Ltd. is a big company in Japan. After President Kawada enters Yule Corporation, he'll definitely think about competing for power with my grandfather and uncles. It would be interesting to watch then."

Shaun was speechless.

He imagined the image. Old Master Yule would probably want to vomit blood out of anger. The ancestors of the Yule family would climb out of the grave if they knew about it.

The company was the painstaking efforts of the Yule family for generations, but she sold it just like that, and to someone from Japan.

"You're really..."

Catherine interrupted him. "There's one more thing. I feel like a joint venture with Campos Corporation at this time is a trap. President Kawada is also very knowledgeable in the area of finance. When he joins, he'll at least disrupt Charlie's ambition to become the top family in the country."

“In the end, you’re just trying to help me?” Shaun’s eyes suddenly brightened.

“You think too much.” Catherine felt herself sweat and spat out, and walked forward.

However, after taking just a few steps, her arm was grabbed by Shaun and she was pulled into his arms. He glared at her with a trace of chagrin and annoyance. “Catherine Jones, do you really want to break up with me? I’ve been waiting for you to apologize.”

“Sorry, but I have no intention to apologize,” Catherine said coldly.

“You...” Shaun’s pupils glared at her. If looks could kill, she would have died countless times already.

He had already chased her here. Why could she not bow her head? Would she die if she apologized?

“So you want to break up with me?” Shaun breathed heavily. “You went behind my back at night with another man to drink at the bar and make a scandal, but I can’t say anything about it? Don’t you think you’re too much?”

Catherine looked up at him. No one understood him more than her. His anger was almost at the limit.

She sighed. “I’m not trying to break up with you. I said I had matters to attend to, which I do. Who said that people can’t talk in bars? Besides, did the photo show me kissing or hugging another man?”

“In any case, it’s an undisputed fact that you went behind my back with another man.” Shaun’s tone softened slightly when she explained, but his face was still cold and hard. “I can forgive you this time, but... it can’t happen again.”

He said it adamantly and that tone made it seem like Catherine was begging him for forgiveness.

Catherine refused to bite. “Why do I have to listen to you? You’re also always alone with Sarah whenever you meet with her. Call me over if you dare.”

Shaun was silent for a moment and said, “I won’t meet her much in the future.”

“Is that so?” Catherine faked a smile.

“Why would I lie to you?” Shaun snorted coldly and used a superior tone. “Forget it. Since you have a good attitude and admitted your mistake, I’ll let this matter pass.”

Catherine. “ ”

She had a good attitude and admitted her mistake? Since when did she admit her mistake?

She was in disbelief.

“Why are you looking at me like that?” Shaun could not help but glared at her in return. “Catherine, I’ve compromised time and again for you. No woman has dared to provoke me like this before.”

“How did I provoke you? I didn’t do anything.” Catherine rolled her eyes at him. “Get out of the way. I’m going back to the hotel. It’s too sunny.” Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 859

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 859

Kawada was overjoyed. "Then let's sign the contract at night. There's no time like the present. "

He was afraid this little girl would turn back and tell Joel, and Joel would disagree. After all, Yule Corporation was the country's largest logistics company, and they were expanding fiercely in e-commerce as well. He had wanted to buy Yule Corporation for a long time.

"Okay, then we'll meet tonight. I need the secretary to send the contract over. But don't tell anyone about it. I'm afraid of being scolded by my father. We'll go to the company in a few days to transfer the shares." Catherine said uneasily.

"Sure, sure, sure. It's settled, then."

Kawada shook hands with her and left happily. As soon as he left, Catherine grinned.

Selling 40% of the Yule Corporation's shares for 50 million. Not bad.

When Kawada went to Yule corporation, it would surely stir up a storm. Damien, Melanie, and Charlie would definitely go mad.

"Waiter, I'd like another cup of coffee..."

She turned her head and was instantly dumbfounded when saw a tall man with a domineering presence standing by the door.

Shaun Hill. Why was he here? Her dark eyes were wide open.

“Come out.” Shaun gritted his teeth and glared at her viciously, directly pulling her out.

He had been following her since the morning and watched her constantly peeking at a middle-aged man, and finally striking up a conversation with him. Then, they talked and laughed over lunch.

He was furious at first, but his heart felt more and more complicated when he went to the room next to theirs.

This woman was getting more and more out of hand. She approached a person like President Kawada without batting an eyelid and even played him in the palm of her hands.

When they went out of the hotel, Shaun sized her up deeply.

“When did you come?” Catherine pulled her hand

back and rubbed her wrist that was pinched and sore.

“I’ve been following you since you came out this morning,” Shaun said gloomily.

Catherine was stunned but quickly reacted with a dark expression. “Were you that psycho who kept blasting songs last night next door?”

“Who are you calling a psycho?” Shaun’s handsome face went black.

“It really was you.” Catherine rubbed her forehead and snapped at him. “Are you crazy? I couldn’t sleep at all because of the noise.”

“We’re in the same boat. You tortured me until I couldn’t sleep, so don’t think you get to sleep either.”
Shaun snorted coldly. He had two sleepless nights because of her.

Catherine was speechless. “You weren’t eating in the room next door, right?”

She looked at his hands, where there were scars and blood marks, and remembered that she heard something being crushed earlier.

Shaun said gloomily, “ I originally wanted to see if you would do something sorry to me, but I ended up hearing that you want to find a boyfriend to go dating happily. It turns out that I’m not your boyfriend yet. So, who is your boyfriend? The one who went to the bar to drink with you at night?”

The corners of Catherine’s mouth twitched. She finally saw what an unreasonable man looked like. “ I said that deliberately to fool him.”Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 860

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 860

“Catherine Jones, what are you planning?”

Shaun’s gaze was odd. “You sold Yule Corporation’s shares just like that. Does your father know?”

Yule Corporation was the country’s largest logistics company and had been developing rapidly in e-commerce especially in recent years. Many people were eyeing this juicy piece of meat, but Catherine handed it over so easily.

“Yeah, I persuaded him to sell it.” Catherine shrugged coolly. “There’s internal strife in Yule Corporation, my grandfather is still ambitious at his old age, Damien and his daughter eye us covetously, and the shareholders are made from the same mold as Damien. It’s better to just sell them all.

“Delta Co., Ltd. is a big company in Japan. After President Kawada enters Yule Corporation, he’ll definitely think about competing for power with my grandfather and uncles. It would be interesting to watch then.”

Shaun was speechless.

He imagined the image. Old Master Yule would probably want to vomit blood out of anger. The ancestors of the Yule family would climb out of the grave if they knew about it.

The company was the painstaking efforts of the Yule family for generations, but she sold it just like that, and to someone from Japan.

“You’re really...”

Catherine interrupted him. “There’s one more thing. I feel like a joint venture with Campos Corporation at this time is a trap. President Kawada is also very knowledgeable in the area of finance. When he joins, he’ll at least disrupt Charlie’s ambition to become the top family in the country.”

“In the end, you’re just trying to help me?” Shaun’s eyes suddenly brightened.

“You think too much.” Catherine felt herself sweat and spat out, and walked forward.

However, after taking just a few steps, her arm was grabbed by Shaun and she was pulled into his arms. He glared at her with a trace of chagrin and annoyance. "Catherine Jones, do you really want to break up with me? I've been waiting for you to apologize."

"Sorry, but I have no intention to apologize," Catherine said coldly.

"You..." Shaun's pupils glared at her. If looks could kill, she would have died countless times already.

He had already chased her here. Why could she not bow her head? Would she die if she apologized?

"So you want to break up with me?" Shaun breathed heavily. "You went behind my back at night with another man to drink at the bar and make a scandal, but I can't say anything about it? Don't you think you're too much?"

Catherine looked up at him. No one understood him more than her. His anger was almost at the limit.

She sighed. "I'm not trying to break up with you. I said I had matters to attend to, which I do. Who said that people can't talk in bars? Besides, did the photo show me kissing or hugging another man?"

"In any case, it's an undisputed fact that you went behind my back with another man." Shaun's tone softened slightly when she explained, but his face was still cold and hard. "I can forgive you this time, but... it can't happen again."

He said it adamantly and that tone made it seem like Catherine was begging him for forgiveness.

Catherine refused to bite. "Why do I have to listen to you? You're also always alone with Sarah whenever you meet with her. Call me over if you dare."

Shaun was silent for a moment and said, "I won't meet her much in the future."

"Is that so?" Catherine faked a smile.

"Why would I lie to you?" Shaun snorted coldly and used a superior tone. "Forget it. Since you have a good attitude and admitted your mistake, I'll let this matter pass."

Catherine. " "

She had a good attitude and admitted her mistake? Since when did she admit her mistake?

She was in disbelief.

"Why are you looking at me like that?" Shaun could not help but glared at her in return. "Catherine, I've compromised time and again for you. No woman has dared to provoke me like this before."

"How did I provoke you? I didn't do anything." Catherine rolled her eyes at him. "Get out of the way. I'm going back to the hotel. It's too sunny."

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 860

July 30, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 860

"Catherine Jones, what are you planning?"

Shaun's gaze was odd. "You sold Yule Corporation's shares just like that. Does your father know?"

Yule Corporation was the country's largest logistics company and had been developing rapidly in e-commerce especially in recent years. Many people were eyeing this juicy piece of meat, but Catherine handed it over so easily.

"Yeah, I persuaded him to sell it." Catherine shrugged coolly. "There's internal strife in Yule Corporation, my grandfather is still ambitious at his old age, Damien and his daughter eye us covetously, and the shareholders are made from the same mold as Damien. It's better to just sell them all.

"Delta Co., Ltd. is a big company in Japan. After President Kawada enters Yule Corporation, he'll definitely think about competing for power with my grandfather and uncles. It would be interesting to watch then."

Shaun was speechless.

He imagined the image. Old Master Yule would probably want to vomit blood out of anger. The ancestors of the Yule family would climb out of the grave if they knew about it.

The company was the painstaking efforts of the Yule family for generations, but she sold it just like that, and to someone from Japan.

"You're really..."

Catherine interrupted him. "There's one more thing. I feel like a joint venture with Campos Corporation at this time is a trap. President Kawada is also very knowledgeable in the area of finance. When he joins, he'll at least disrupt Charlie's ambition to become the top family in the country."

"In the end, you're just trying to help me?" Shaun's eyes suddenly brightened.

“You think too much.” Catherine felt herself sweat and spat out, and walked forward.

However, after taking just a few steps, her arm was grabbed by Shaun and she was pulled into his arms. He glared at her with a trace of chagrin and annoyance. “Catherine Jones, do you really want to break up with me? I’ve been waiting for you to apologize.”

“Sorry, but I have no intention to apologize,” Catherine said coldly.

“You...” Shaun’s pupils glared at her. If looks could kill, she would have died countless times already.

He had already chased her here. Why could she not bow her head? Would she die if she apologized?

“So you want to break up with me?” Shaun breathed heavily. “You went behind my back at night with another man to drink at the bar and make a scandal, but I can’t say anything about it? Don’t you think you’re too much?”

Catherine looked up at him. No one understood him more than her. His anger was almost at the limit.

She sighed. “I’m not trying to break up with you. I said I had matters to attend to, which I do. Who said that people can’t talk in bars? Besides, did the photo show me kissing or hugging another man?”

“In any case, it’s an undisputed fact that you went behind my back with another man.” Shaun’s tone softened slightly when she explained, but his face was still cold and hard. “I can forgive you this time, but... it can’t happen again.”

He said it adamantly and that tone made it seem like Catherine was begging him for forgiveness.

Catherine refused to bite. "Why do I have to listen to you? You're also always alone with Sarah whenever you meet with her. Call me over if you dare."

Shaun was silent for a moment and said, "I won't meet her much in the future."

"Is that so?" Catherine faked a smile.

"Why would I lie to you?" Shaun snorted coldly and used a superior tone. "Forget it. Since you have a good attitude and admitted your mistake, I'll let this matter pass."

Catherine. " "

She had a good attitude and admitted her mistake? Since when did she admit her mistake?

She was in disbelief.

"Why are you looking at me like that?" Shaun could not help but glared at her in return. "Catherine, I've compromised time and again for you. No woman has dared to provoke me like this before."

"How did I provoke you? I didn't do anything." Catherine rolled her eyes at him. "Get out of the way. I'm going back to the hotel. It's too sunny." Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 861

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 861

“Don’t go to that hotel you went to yesterday. It’s too cheap.” Shaun brought Catherine into the car. “I have a private presidential suite in a five-star hotel here.”

Catherine was astonished. “When did you invest in a hotel?”

“I’ve been investing in a lot of places. You’ll slowly find out in the future.” Shaun rubbed the tip of her nose. “You need to know that none of the men in the whole of Australia is comparable to me.”

Knowing that he was trying to imply something again, Catherine pretended that she did not understand his words.

Once they arrived at the presidential suite, she was suddenly carried before she could even look around.

“Shaun...” She wrapped her arms around his neck. Looking into the man’s burning eyes, she had a sinking feeling. “What are you planning to do in broad daylight...”

“It’s not as if we’ve never done it in broad daylight.” Shaun immediately placed her on the bed and put his hands on both her sides. He added in a somber tone, “You’ve been giving me the cold shoulder for the past three nights.”

“Let’s talk about it tonight, okay? Harvey is coming in a while, and I’ll be meeting President Kawada tonight to sign an agreement.”

Catherine tried to push away his muscular body, but he did not move at all.

“Harvey is taking a flight here, so it’ll take him a while. We still have time to do it.”

As soon as Shaun finished speaking, he carried her and kissed her passionately to stop her from speaking.

In the dining hall of the hotel at night.

After waiting for a long while, President Kawada finally saw Catherine who was late. He let out a sigh of relief and then said with a smile, “I thought you regretted it and decided not to come.”

“I was held up at work.” Catherine tried her best to act natural and sat down. Deep down, she was scolding Shaun, that b*stard.

Shaun was the one who said that they could make it in time. In the end, he kept Harvey waiting outside for over an hour before he opened the door. She had felt thoroughly embarrassed.

After signing the agreement, Catherine shared small talk with President Kawada before he took a night flight back to Canberra.

When Catherine was about to book a flight ticket to go back, Shaun grabbed her phone. “Since we’ve made an effort to come here this time, let’s not hurry to return. We can stay here and explore the place.”

Hobart had a long history and a number of attractions.

Catherine was stunned. A moment later, she nodded. "Sure. We've never gone on a trip together."

"I'll take you out more often in the future," Shaun replied gently while carrying her.

The next day, Shaun drove her to the nearby Mount Wellington. After he parked the car, the two of them began to walk to Wellington Park.

Halfway through their walk, Catherine was so tired that she kept nagging Shaun to carry her.

At the sight of the visitors who were walking to and from around them, Shaun felt awkward. "You're already an adult but you're expecting me to carry you?"

"I'm not well. I want you to carry me." Catherine pouted coquettishly.

Her behavior made Shaun become muddle-headed. Unable to say no to her, he had no choice but to carry her on his back.

During their walk, many people looked at them with admiring looks.

"Look how nice her husband is. He's carrying her along this mountain path."

"Above all, he's good-looking."

Within seconds, a lot of people had secretly taken photos of Shaun and Catherine, sharing them online.

In this day and age when the internet had become a fast-growing technology, the netizens soon discovered that Catherine and Shaun were on a trip together.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 862

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 862

[Is there something wrong with my memory? Didn't Young Master Hill marry Sarah recently?]

[They didn't get married in the end. I heard the police took Sarah away during the wedding.]

According to an insider, Sarah seemed to have wronged Elder Young Master Hill.]

[So Eldest Young Master Hill is getting back together with his ex-wife? Somehow, I find Eldest Young Master Hill quite scummy.]

[Can't Eldest Young Lady Jones do better? After all, not only is she the female successor of one of the wealthiest families in Australia, but she's also the top architect in the world. Aren't there any other men on earth for her to date?]

[Well, Eldest Young Master Hill is indeed good- looking and wealthy. I guess hardly any woman can resist him.]

[Why do I feel that Eldest Young Master Hill loves Catherine more? From the way he carries her, he pampers her a lot.]

[I think so too. When Eldest Young Master Hill was in a relationship with Sarah previously, it was rare to catch him shopping with her, much less carrying her.]

Sarah, who was far away in the seaside villa, flew into a rage upon seeing those netizens' comments.

In fact, they were right. Although she had been together with Shaun for over ten years, Shaun had never gone on a trip with her, much less carried her on his back.

A hint of determination flashed across her grim eyes. She immediately called someone...

At a mountain in a town at night.

In the wooden villa, Catherine lay on the bed while reading the netizens' comments. The corners of her mouth curved up every now and then.

Shaun gazed at her silently after taking his shower. She was wearing an oversized shirt with a big neckline, revealing the hickeys on her collarbone.

The moment he recalled creating this masterpiece, he was filled with unspeakable contentment.

"Babe, what are you watching?" Shaun approached her. When he looked at the news about him on her phone, a blush of shame spread across his handsome face at once.

"Look how interesting netizens' comments are." Catherine pointed at one of them and said playfully, "Everyone's saying that you're loyal because you've only been involved with Sarah and me. When you choose to abandon Sarah, you can have me, and vice versa. You never look for other women."

With an impassive face, Shaun tossed Catherine's phone aside. "Is it funny?"

"Yeah. Don't you think it makes sense?" Catherine lifted her head and fixed her eyes on him with a grin.

Seeing Catherine laughing at him mercilessly, Shaun felt a tight sensation deep down and frowned. He cupped her face and kissed her passionately until the two of them fell onto the bed again.

Catherine stopped him. "What are you doing? This is endless, just like yesterday. It's almost like you've never slept with other women for several years."

Shaun secretly gritted his teeth. She was right, but he could not admit it considering his dignity. As such, he had no choice but to mumble, "I just can't resist your charms."

"I thought you were going to say that you've never slept with other women." With her finger wandering across his chest, Catherine could clearly sense that his body had frozen at her remark.

Shaun lowered his head and remained silent. All he wanted to do was to continue kissing her. Nevertheless, Catherine covered his mouth and began to look serious. "Since you refuse to answer me, it means that you've slept with Sarah a lot over the last few years, right? You guys probably slept together once a day or once a week—"Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 863

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 863

"Catherine Jones..." Shaun interrupted Catherine with gritted teeth. His handsome face flushed with shame. "Stop tying this back to Sarah and me, okay?"

“No, I insist on doing so. I care about it.” Catherine wrapped her arms around his neck. “Am I more charming, or is she more charming? If you don’t give me an answer today, you won’t hear the end of it from me.”

Shaun’s head hurt. As much as he felt like flying into a temper, the woman looked so lovely even when she was being unreasonable. How could he possibly be harsh with her?

“Is it so difficult to answer? I know, I’m sure you’ve slept with Sarah a lot. I’m going to ignore you now.”

She pretended to be angry and pushed him away. Then, she rose to her feet and was about to leave.

In a state of panic, Shaun swiftly hugged her from behind. “Babe, I’ll answer you, alright? Actually... Actually, I’ve never done it with Sarah.”

Catherine froze. She turned around and glanced at him in disbelief. “Stop deceiving me. Since you loved her so much previously, how could you possibly not have done it with her? Shaun, this is such a blatant lie.”

“I’m not lying.” Shaun gave a bitter laugh. “Whenever I tried sleeping with her, I’d have an upset stomach. I’ve even vomited a few times. When I lost control and looked for you the other day, I didn’t get framed. In truth, Sarah tried to do something to me but she failed. I ended up vomiting.”

Catherine was dazed. She had just wanted to sound him out. She did not expect what Yael said to be true.

“You spotted me visiting the andrology unit before this, didn’t you?” Shaun gripped her hand helplessly. “I thought there was something wrong with me, but when I was with you later... I could function normally. I thought I just couldn't deal with Sarah, so I tried it with a few other women. In the end, they also made me feel like vomiting."

"You even tried it with other women...?" Catherine widened her eyes.

"I did that for the sake of understanding my condition. Anyway, I was never planning to do it with them. Don't get me wrong. In fact, my private life is very decent," Shaun quickly explained.

"But why didn't you let me know earlier?" Catherine shrank away from his grip. "You decided to be with me just because I can satisfy your needs, huh?"

"This is exactly why I didn't tell you. I was afraid you'd have such a thought."

Shaun said softly, "I want to be with you simply because I love you. It feels like home when I'm with you. When I'm alone, I keep thinking about you. Even during meetings, I can't help checking my phone frequently. I'm afraid I won't get to reply to your message immediately. I've never changed because of anyone. If not love, what is this?"

Catherine's heart jerked in spite of herself.

Despite being clear about her ulterior motive for approaching him, she could not help but get swayed by him.

"Cathy, stop overthinking, okay? There's no doubt that I love you."

Shaun turned her face gently and kissed her affectionately.

“By the way, Sarah went to the hospital to undergo i n-vitro fertilization recently. Did you— ”

“No. I only accompanied her twice for a medical check-up. I didn’t approve of it. She won’t be having a child,” Shaun responded vaguely.

Catherine then hugged him without saying anything else.

Just like that, they would continue staying together for as long as they could. Even though she had a hidden agenda, she thought of putting it aside until some time later.

At this moment, Shaun’s phone rang all of a sudden.

He did not answer the call. When the incessant calls did not stop, he got up and answered it grumpily. “Rodney Snow, are you asking for death?”

“You’re the one asking for death, Shaun. You’re actually in the mood to go on a f*cking trip with Catherine when Sarah is in trouble!” Rodney roared, “She has been kidnapped!” Shaun’s red eyes darkened. “What happened?”

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 864

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 864

“Sarah went missing this afternoon when she went out to buy something. I couldn’t even contact her. Only when I asked the housekeeper did I learn that she hadn’t returned to the seaside villa at all. I checked the surveillance cameras and found that someone covered her mouth and brought her into the car when she was in the car park of a shopping mall.”

Rodney said furiously, "Come back right now! Now that you've dumped her, she might not be able to survive if this bunch of people who've kidnapped her are hooligans."

"I'm coming back now." Shaun rose to his feet.

Catherine hugged him from behind and cast a flirtatious look at him. "Shaun, are you going to leave me behind?"

"You can come with me," Shaun whispered.

"But I don't want to meddle in Sarah's affairs. Just let Rodney and Chester save her," Catherine responded with a low voice.

Those words made Shaun's eyes flash with grimness.

Subsequently, Rodney's howl sounded from the phone as the call had not ended.

"Catherine Jones, you're such a cruel woman! Sarah has been kidnapped and the kidnappers might kill her. At such a moment, you're still feeling jealous! Don't you have the slightest sympathy? Why did Shaun fall for a woman like you?"

"Rodney!" Shaun hung up the call without letting Rodney continue.

He turned around and said to Catherine in a stern voice, “ If you don’t feel like coming with me, you can stay here. I’ll ask Elle to pick you up tomorrow or even accompany you for a few days.”

“Didn’t you assign Elle to another part of the country?”

“ I’ll ask her to come back right now. ” With that, Shaun swiftly put on his clothes and took his phone.

When he opened the door, the mountain breeze blew in on this chilly night. She wrapped her arms around her body. Before she realized it, he had already left.

With her arms around her knees, Catherine gave a weak smile.

Just earlier, she had swayed upon hearing his sweet words. Little did she expect a slap in the face so soon after.

It was not a bad thing, after all. At least, she was learning not to be so easily touched by his words.

She had to thank Sarah for that. Her trip with Shaun made the news during the day, and Sarah was then kidnapped at night. What a coincidence.

It must be another new plan of hers.

It probably had to do with that man who was heading to Neah Bay.

Catherine tried to call Logan, but she could not reach him.

Somehow, she felt as though a dark shadow was cast on her. It was just like the night sky outside.

She quickly leaped to her feet and looked for the owner of the villa. "Sir, can you ask someone to send me down the mountain immediately? I have something urgent to deal with."

"Eh? Why didn't you go with your boyfriend? He left first and now you're leaving at such a late hour." The owner yawned. "Let me remind you that the roads here are winding. It's not easy to travel in the middle of the night."

"I really have something urgent to deal with. Please get me a good driver. I'm willing to pay any amount."

6:00 a.m.

Shaun entered the seaside villa under the morning sunlight.

The top hacker and the members of Liona as well as the brilliant people of the Jewell family were already here. In addition, there were quite a number of people from the police department.

Rodney punched Shaun the minute he saw him. "It's all because of you! If you hadn't driven away the Liona members after Sarah was discharged, she wouldn't have been kidnapped, you b*stard! If anything happens to her, I won't let you off!"

Shaun held Rodney's fist and narrowed his eyes. "Rather than kicking a fuss here, why don't you go search for her?"

After a moment, he turned around and asked Chance. "How is it going?"

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 865

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 865

Chance asked the hacker to play the recorded footage. “The car that was used to kidnap Miss Neeson left the car park and headed to the parking area of a nearby playground in the suburb. As the playground has just opened to the public, there are no surveillance cameras in the parking area. It’s a little problematic.

“When we got there, there was already no one in the car. We suspect that the kidnappers have left with another car. Through our inspection of every car last night, we can confirm that it’s a black Santana.”

Chester said, “From what I just heard, the Santana traveled to the forest in Cheney Hill before going missing.”

“Stop droning on. Let’s get there first,” Rodney said impatiently, “It’s been one night. Many things might’ve already happened.”

Those words made everyone’s face turn somber.

After Shaun got into the car, he sped past the vehicles on the road, heading toward the suburb. On his way there, he asked, “Have you found out who did it?”

“We still can’t see the kidnappers’ faces, so we’re not sure. It could be your business competitors too.” Chester added hesitantly, “Over the years, many people have grown to dislike the sight of you.

Considering that you have a close relationship with Sarah, many probably plan to threaten you with her. The owner of Gloway did something like this to you previously, didn’t he?”

Shaun furrowed his brows.

Rodney glared at Shaun ferociously. “Those kidnappers must be blind! They should’ve kidnapped Catherine instead. What does it have to do with Sarah? You’ve hurt her enough. How unfortunate she is to have fallen for you.”

Pursing his thin lips grimly, Shaun remained silent.

“You’d better pray that Sarah is fine.” Rodney was so anxious that his veins were bulging out.

Shortly after, a crowd of people appeared in the surrounding area of Cheney Hill.

Less than half an hour later, someone called and claimed that the black Santana was found in the west.

Shaun and the rest immediately rushed there. Chance said, “We’ve searched around, and I think the kidnapper brought the victim away using this path.”

“Kidnapper?” Shaun raised his brow grimly. “Are you suspecting that there’s only one person involved?”

“Based on the footprints, I think so.”

“Go hunt him down. Since he’s bringing a woman along, he should still be somewhere here.”

Shaun hurriedly gave an order.

About ten minutes later, they suddenly heard a woman screaming.

“It’s Sarah.” Rodney’s expression changed drastically. He ran to the area where the sound came from.

Shaun went after him with large strides. Soon, they discovered a cave behind a forest.

Everyone scurried into the cave with torchlights. Only a shirtless young man was seen pressing on Sarah, whose shirt had been torn in half. From her swollen face, it was clear that she had been slapped violently.

“What a wretch.”

Rodney dashed to the man to smack him, but the man soon turned around as if he had eyes on the back of his head. He got into a fight with Rodney.

Shaun rapidly took off his shirt and wrapped it around Sarah.

“Shaunic, Shaunic, am I dreaming? You’ve finally come to save me.” Sarah fell into his arms while weeping.

“Sorry.” The moment Shaun began speaking, Sarah suddenly pushed him away forcefully. Then, she curled up and hid at one side. “Don’t touch me. I’m dirty. I’m very dirty.”

“You’re not dirty. We’re here, and you’ll be fine.” Shaun comforted her softly. “Let me bring you home, okay?”

“No, I’ve had enough. I don’t want to live anymore.” As soon as Sarah finished speaking, she turned around and slammed her head on the wall.

“ Sarah... ” Shaun promptly rushed toward her and carried her.

Sarah’s head was covered with blood. While struggling to lift her head, she touched his face and sobbed miserably. “Shaunic... d-don’t bother saving me anymore, really. I... I’m in a living hell. Actually... I wanted to die so badly at that time. I... don’t feel like... living anymore. I hate... how dirty I am. I hate... how sweet... you and Catherine are... It pains me... This is fine... I can be free now...”

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 866

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 866

As soon as Sarah finished speaking, she closed her eyes as if she was dead.

“ Sarah!” Shaun screamed anxiously. He placed his hand by her nose and noticed that she was still breathing shallowly.

“Chester, come and save her at once!” Distraught, Shaun roared at Chester.

On the other hand, Rodney was so furious that his eyes reddened. “Chester, you must save her, please.”

“I will.”

Chester promptly asked Shaun to lay Sarah on the ground. Fortunately, he had brought along a first aid kit this morning.

After he spent over ten minutes treating Sarah, she let out a moan in an unconscious state. She still remained unconscious.

“ I’ve tried my best. Although she’s out of danger for now, she needs to be sent to the hospital as soon as possible, or she’ll suffer from a shock in the brain, ” Chester said in a deep voice.

“Alright. I’ll send her to the hospital right now.”

Shaun swiftly carried Sarah and ran toward his car. After he found his car, he raced to the hospital as fast as lightning.

After emergency treatment, Sarah was finally rescued.

Shaun leaned on the chair, and his hands were full of blood. The weariness he felt was indescribable.

“Eldest Young Master Hill, the kidnapper is being locked up in Liona’s cellar, ” Chance walked to Shaun and informed him.

Shaun raised his head and glanced at the injuries on Chance’s face. When he looked at Rodney who was in a sorry state as well, he frowned grimly. “You and Rodney were dealing with only one person. How did you get injured?”

Chance coughed lightly. “I could’ve dealt with him alone as we were neck and neck, but Young Master Snow held me back a bit...”

“What do you mean? Are you saying I’m inept? ” Rodney lost his temper.

An awkward look washed over Chance's face.

Nevertheless, Shaun's deep-set eyes flashed with a frosty look. "Anyway, it's rare that anyone in Australia can be a match for you. Who on earth is this person? Why did he kidnap Sarah? Who is the mastermind behind this incident? Hurry up and find out for me."

"Okay, I'll do it now." Chance turned around and left once he replied.

When Sarah was pushed into the VIP ward, Shaun felt extremely helpless at the sight of her head that was bandaged.

Never had he thought that she would not hesitate to bang her head against the wall to kill herself.

Had he hurt her so much that she did not want to live anymore? It felt like he would owe her forever.

"Shaun..."

Rodney approached Shaun with bloodshot eyes as he had not slept for a day. On top of that, he had gotten into a fight as well, which made him look dejected.

Shaun said in a huff, "If you're planning to fight with me..."

Before he could finish his sentence, Rodney dropped on his knees in front of him.

Shaun's expression changed. "What are you doing, Rodney Snow? Get up."

"Shaun, you know I've never begged anyone nor knelt in front of anyone." Rodney gave a bitter smile while being on the verge of tears. "I'm begging you just this one time. Marry Sarah and stop being with Catherine. If you abandon Sarah after all these things, she'll... die. There's nothing else I'll ask you for. I just want to see her alive."

Shaun was at a loss for words.

If he had not gotten back together with Catherine, he might have chosen to endure it and marry Sarah. However, now that he had experienced the sweet romance, he would be too miserable marrying a person he had no feelings for.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 867

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 867

"Get up." Shaun clenched his fists.

"No." Rodney gnashed his teeth with an imploring gaze. "Shaun, the doctor has managed to rescue her, but what if she has nothing else to look forward to after this? What about tomorrow and the day after tomorrow? If she hadn't encouraged you back in the mental hospital, you probably would've given up. Later, she took up psychology because of you. If it weren't for her three years ago, you would've gone insane. Why can't you sympathize with her a little? You just have to be so cruel, huh?"

Shaun's temples twitched. He turned around to walk out of the ward straight away.

Rodney gripped his leg. "Shaun, I beg you. If you don't agree, I'll continue to kneel here."

“Rodney, as my buddy, you’re not supposed to threaten me like this.”

Shaun broke free from his grip and strode out.

“Rodney, get up.” Chester let out a sigh. “I understand that you want Sarah to be happy, but you can’t build her happiness on someone’s pain. Shaun has been feeling guilty over what happened to Sarah and her life. He’s stressed too.”

With that, Chester walked out.

Shaun lit a cigarette in the corridor and said, “ Sometimes, I think it would’ve been better if Sarah hadn’t saved me three years ago.”

“ Shaun, don’t put too much pressure on yourself. I n truth... you haven’t done anything wrong.” Chester tapped Shaun on the shoulder. “I understand. Previously, you were only forcing yourself to marry Sarah and you weren’t even happy.”

“Thank you.”

Shaun forced a smile.

He took out his phone and found Catherine’s WhatsApp contact. However, he had not received a message nor a call from her.

He pressed on the keyboard, planning to ask her something. At that moment, he recalled Sarah banging her head on the wall so determinedly. He ultimately paused his actions. He was mentally exhausted as well.

In the evening, Chance came to Shaun with the latest news. However, he bit his tongue after glancing at Rodney and Chester.

“Just say it. They’re not outsiders anyway,” Shaun said nonchalantly.

“This is the person who kidnapped Sarah.” Chance showed him a photo.

Shaun took the photo and was stunned at the sight of it. Never in his wildest dreams did he think that the kidnapper would be a young man in his early 20s. Although his face was badly scarred, one could tell he looked handsome and thuggish.

Chance added, “We found his passport, and it shows that he’s not Australian. He’s from Country X, and his name is Logan Law. After returning to his home country for less than three months, he entered Australia under a guarantor named...

Catherine Jones.”

Shaun froze. His muscular body appeared to be riveted to the spot.

“What did you say? It was Catherine who guaranteed his entry?” Rodney was so infuriated that he curled his fingers up tightly. “So is Catherine the mastermind behind the kidnapping incident yesterday?”

“This is impossible,” Shaun interrupted fiercely as he crumpled the photo in his hand.

“I’m sure it’s her!” Rodney thundered. “She has an ulterior motive. No doubt, she hates Sarah for claiming she had mental illness three years ago and hates Thomas for forcing himself upon Freya.

Later, Thomas was acquitted because of Sarah. Moreover, Sarah snatched you away from her, so she's been holding a grudge against her."

"Shut your mouth!" Shaun glowered at Rodney gloomily.

Chester stared at the two of them. "Calm down, you guys. Can you let Chance finish first?"

Chance continued, "Eldest Young Master Hill, I'm not sure if you still remember the reporter who caught Miss Jones drinking with a strange man in a pub a few days ago."

"Yeah." Shaun gritted his teeth. He would remember this incident until the day he died. "Are you trying to tell me that the man is Logan Law?"

"This is the photo taken at the pub at that time. You can compare them." Chance took out another photo. "Although only his back was captured then, this man's hairstyle is exactly the same as Logan's. If you look at his left ear, you'll notice that the style of their piercings is the same. Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 868

Shaun continued to look at the photo. His tall and straight figure seemed to be surrounded by frostiness.

He was completely dazed.

He simply could not believe that Catherine was the one who got this man to kidnap Sarah.

"You still trust her, huh?"

Rodney snatched the photo and swung it in front of him. "Look, they're the same. Don't you get it yet? This is Catherine's trap. You've been trapped!"

"She has long since arranged for someone to kidnap Sarah. After that, she lured you to Hobart so that she could get the man to kidnap Sarah. If I hadn't learned about it and got there soon enough, Sarah might have been killed. This woman is too cruel!"

Shaun remained motionless. He only gazed at Chester. "What do you think?"

Chester's eyes carried a complicated look. "I think... what Rodney said makes sense. Catherine has a motive, and what's more, she knows the kidnapper. I previously reminded you that she might have a hidden agenda when she decided to be with you again."

"If you still refuse to believe it at this point, you're basically fooling yourself. I'm guessing you can't bring yourself to treat Catherine harshly. I want to take revenge on Sarah's behalf. I'll send Catherine to the police station."

Rodney turned around and dashed out of the ward.

After being dazed for a moment, Shaun immediately went after him.

Shortly after, Rodney entered the elevator. Shaun had no choice but to go down the stairs, quickening his pace.

At this moment, Catherine, who had not managed to find Logan after a long time, sent a message to a number in the States. [Quickly come back to Australia, Austin Lord. Logan might be in danger.]

After sending the message, she drove back to Hackett Institute.

At the same time, there was unease growing within her.

In the two years she knew Logan, Catherine had never failed to contact him. After returning to Australia for such a long time, it was her first time feeling helpless. After all, Logan was her right- hand man.

As soon as she parked her car, a sports car suddenly whizzed toward her. Before she could dodge it, her car crashed into the wall behind her. The airbag was deployed, protecting her, but blood was surging inside her.

Subsequently, she spotted Rodney striding out of the sports car opposite her. He opened the door of her car and dragged her out directly.

“Catherine Jones, I’ve long since wanted to kill you but I kept putting up with you. Yet this time, you actually dared to harm Sarah. I won’t let you off the hook for this! ”

With a ferocious expression, Rodney stretched out his hand to squeeze her throat.

Catherine closed her eyes, trying her best to control her head so that she would not feel so dizzy. After that, she lifted her hands and attacked Rodney.

The two of them soon got into a fight. Rodney asked his people to subdue her.

“I’ll personally pay you back for what you did to Sarah.” Rodney pointed at her in exasperation.

“I don’t have the faintest idea what you’re saying!” Catherine found it ridiculous. “Are you suspecting that I kidnapped Sarah?”

“If not you, who else would have done it? Even the person under you has been seized.” Rodney tossed the photo at her. “Look at this person. Do you know him?”

Catherine lowered her head and saw Logan being tied to a shelf. There were whip marks all over his body, and his handsome face was severely wounded.

Her eyes suddenly conveyed a sense of grimness. “

Where is he?”

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 869

“Just admit it. ” Rodney scoffed. “Catherine Jones, I’m giving you two options now. You can either go to jail or let my subordinates have their fun with you. Only then will I let you off the hook.”

Catherine chuckled. “For someone like you who isn’t even eligible to inherit the Snow family’s properties, you’re nothing. I’m sure this bunch of people are not the masters from Snow Corporation. If you guys have the guts, you can band together and attack me. Let me see how great you are.”

Rodney was so exasperated that his expression changed drastically. At this moment, Shaun had rushed over.

He slammed the brakes to stop in front of their cars. He immediately got out.

He was still wearing the same shirt as when he had hurriedly left in the wee hours of the morning.

Nevertheless, his exquisitely handsome face looked extremely fierce, which was completely different from his gentle appearance yesterday.

At the sight of Shaun, Rodney snorted. “Shaun, you came at the right time. She’s admitted that it was her doing. This time, you have to give me an explanation. This cruel woman must be punished accordingly.”

Catherine was at a loss for words. “When did I admit to kidnapping Sarah?”

“You admitted that the kidnapper works for you. If you hadn’t instructed him, would he have kidnapped Sarah of his own accord?” Rodney criticized her.

Catherine furrowed her brows. Although Logan worked for her, he would not randomly kidnap someone without her order—unless someone had framed him.

She had always kept Logan a secret. No one knew about him except for a few of her close friends.

Could it be that someone had found out about it after the reporter captured her meeting Logan in the pub a few days ago?

Having said that, who could that person be?

Could it be the young man who headed to Neah Bay, the one who also secretly assisted Sarah?

Perhaps... it was Sarah’s new plan. Sarah’s purpose was to intensify the conflict between Shaun and her. Then, she would destroy her right-hand man, Logan.

The mastermind of this incident was ruthless, indeed.

It had been a while since she returned to Australia and it was her first time feeling so frustrated.

She had underestimated Sarah.

At this point, it was still not known who was the one secretly assisting Sarah.

However, what mattered now was saving Logan. She could not leave him high and dry.

“Look, Shaun. She feels so guilty that she’s stopped speaking.” Rodney scoffed.

Shaun slowly walked toward Catherine. Last night, he had imagined himself being with her forever, yet at this moment, he felt that he could not see through her.

“Why did you do such a thing?”

He stared at her icily with bloodshot eyes. “If you’re holding a grudge, you can take revenge on me. I was the one who hurt you previously, not Sarah. You can do anything you want to me, but why did you get someone to humiliate Sarah?”

For a woman, nothing was crueler than accusing her of something she did not do.

However, it was his beloved woman who did such a horrible thing.

Catherine looked into his eyes impassively and calmly. "Shaun, you just told me recently that you'd try to trust me. Is this how you're trusting me? Whenever it comes to Sarah's affairs, you always suspect me without a second thought."

"I don't want to suspect you either, but I've caught the person who works for you!" Shaun thundered, "When you met him at the pub that day, you were instructing him to kidnap Sarah, right? If you say no and deny your connections with him, I'll get someone to kill him at once."

"No!" Catherine said helplessly, "Shaun, there must be a misunderstanding. I hope you'll investigate this matter thoroughly. It's true that Logan works for me. He's the bodyguard I hired from overseas. When I returned to Australia, you guys were still my enemies, so I had to get someone to protect me. I understand his character. He wouldn't do such a thing."

"Stop denying," Rodney chimed in, "The truth is already right in front of your eyes. Logan just acted on your instructions. Who else would've instructed him to do so if not you? In the whole of Australia, only you and Freya hate Sarah."

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 870

Shaun remained silent, but he clearly agreed with Rodney.

As Catherine watched the glow in Shaun's eyes dim little by little, her heart was overwhelmed with sarcasm. She mocked herself for being touched by his words 24 hours ago.

After going through so many hardships, had it still not hit her that this man was a liar?

When he wanted her, he could say everything.

“Shaun, I just want to ask you one thing. What can I do so that you’ll let Logan go?” Catherine asked in a low voice.

“Let him go?” Rodney reacted as if he had heard a joke. “Are you dreaming? He hurt Sarah. People like him should be tortured to death. By the way, why are you so worried about someone who works for you? Could it be that you’re having an affair with him?”

“Watch your mouth.”

As soon as Catherine warned Rodney severely, she could clearly sense the sudden fury in Shaun’s frosty eyes.

Deep down, she was cursing Rodney. She even hoped that he would not have any descendants nor get together with the woman he loved.

“I can let him go,” Shaun enunciated each word sourly, “When he dies, I’ll pour his ashes into the toilet.”

“Shaun, Logan and I are innocent. You’d rather believe Rodney’s words than mine despite sharing a bed with me. I finally understand it now.” Catherine lowered her eyes, her eyelashes hiding the glint in her eyes.

Shaun was heartbroken at the sight of her expression. Was she under the impression that he wanted to behave this way? It was all because of her insistence on saving Logan.

“Catherine Jones, you’ve let me down. I never thought... you’d be so wicked.”

Rodney had said this to her many times before but she never cared about it. However, when the same thing came out of Shaun's mouth, she could not help but give a faint smile.

Her eyes even reddened.

He was calling her wicked?

After three years, he was still as blind as ever. He still failed to see Sarah's true colors.

"How dare you still smile at this point?!" Rodney yelled in anger.

"It's funny." Catherine wiped the moist corners of her eyes before she turned around and walked toward the elevator.

"Stop." Rodney immediately asked his subordinates to surround her. "Where are you planning to go?"

"Why? Are you planning to seize me on your own?" A stony look flashed across Catherine's eyes. "You guys aren't the ones in charge of Australia now. You claim that I kidnapped Sarah, but do you have evidence? Just because you caught someone I know, you're certain that it was my doing. Did the person you caught mention that I was the one who instructed him to do it?"

Stung by her criticisms, Rodney was so exasperated that he widened his eyes. "I don't care! Whether or not you admit it, you just can't leave today."

"Well, Young Master Snow, this means that you're kidnapping me by force." Catherine approached him suddenly. "May I know whether you're a police officer?"

“I...”

“You’re not. Your uncle is going to run for prime minister next year. Do you think you can act unscrupulously and catch anyone at random? Now, you’re trying to lay your hands on the chairwoman of a listed company. What’s more, I’m the daughter of Joel Yule, one of the top ten most brilliant figures in Australia.”

Catherine’s eyes flashed with fierceness. “Young Master Snow, your uncle has quite a number of competitors now. Everyone in the Snow family has been behaving cautiously for the sake of the election next year, yet you’re only dragging your uncle down. Are you sure you want to spoil your family’s reputation and become the one to blame?”

“You...” Rodney’s veins bulged in a fit of fury. He felt an overwhelming urge to strangle her.

Nevertheless, what she said was true. He knew full well how important his uncle’s election next year was.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 871

August 1, 2021 by gamanovel

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 871

Rodney had once destroyed the Snow family’s reputation previously, but that had to do with his private life. If he made a move against Catherine this time, it would most probably cause everyone to boycott the Snow family for the election next year.

“If you plan to arrest me, you’d better have evidence first,” Catherine said nonchalantly. With that, she turned around to leave.

“Hold on. You’re leaving, but have you asked me?” Shaun approached her with a stony expression. “ Did I say you can leave?”

Rodney’s eyes lit up. “Shaun, seize her and send her to Liona to torture her.”

“You’re planning to seize me, huh?”

Catherine looked into Shaun’s eyes, her gaze revealing a rare look of grimness.

His heart tightened in an instant. Suddenly, he had no idea what to say.

He knew if he did it, the conflict between them would intensify. However, now that she had done such a wicked thing, could he actually pretend that nothing had happened?

“Shaun, why are you hesitating?” Rodney thundered, “Have you forgotten that Sarah nearly lost her life? Have you forgotten the look of despair on her face when she wanted to kill herself?”

Catherine was dazed. Sarah actually tried to kill herself. Indeed, she had acted ruthlessly this time.

“You, come to Liona with me.” Shaun’s eyes showed a sense of astonishment. Then, he extended his hand to grab Catherine.

Before he could approach the woman in front of her, she took out a gun and jabbed him with it.

He froze to the spot with a look of incredulity in his eyes. It was unclear whether he was shocked because she had a gun or because she was jabbing him with it.

“ I won’t come with you. If you dare take me away forcefully, I’ll have no choice but to shoot you.”

Catherine’s gaze was unusually calm. He felt as if she would really shoot him if he insisted on taking her away.

Grief overcame Shaun deep down. He said with a hoarse voice, “How dare you have the thought of shooting me?”

“Should I be awaiting my fate by letting you seize me instead?” Catherine snorted. “I didn’t do it, so why should I let myself be tortured in Liona?”

Shaun, I’m doing this out of self-defense. You might think that I’m hurting you by pointing the gun at you, but what about you? You’re trying to seize me, so aren’t you hurting me as well? Since you can bring yourself to hurt me without a second thought, why can’t I?”

She raised the gun a little and aimed at his leg. “You can try and make a move. Just give it a try.”

“If you dare shoot me, you’ll be in jail,” Shaun warned severely.

“ If you dare move, you’ll be crippled, ” Catherine gave him a reminder without compromising.

Shaun clenched his fists tightly. His eyes were filled with fury, guilt, sorrow, and despair.

However, Catherine did not seem to notice it. She walked backward until she entered the elevator.

Only after the elevator went up did her tense heart begin to relax.

Nobody knew that she had gone through too many things. Ever since she returned, she had placed a gun in her car just in case. After all, who knew whether Sarah and Shaun would want to kill her the next minute?

Even so, she had not planned on firing just now. It was because she would go to jail if she did.

Having said that, Catherine could not have him send her to Liona. It filled her with dread. Three years ago, Shaun sent her to a mental hospital and nearly made her go insane. Three years later, who knew what consequences she would suffer in his clutches?

Also, who would save Logan if she was taken away? Luckily, she guessed it right. Shaun did not go after her anymore. Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 872

At the car park.

After the elevator went up, Shaun violently punched the glass window of his car.

Blood flowed from his fist to the ground, yet he did not feel the slightest pain. His eyes reddened, and he was overwhelmed with grief.

Catherine actually... pointed a gun at him.

What could be more painful than knowing that his beloved woman had the thought of shooting him?

Ha!

Was she even in love with him? How could she be so brutal?

“Shaun, aren’t you already clear about Catherine’s character by now? She has long since changed. She has changed so much that we can’t see through her now. Who would carry a gun with them?”

Rodney said in exasperation, “She’s been hiding a lot of things from you. She’s probably not sincere being in this relationship with you. She doesn’t even love you. She got back together with you simply because she wanted to take revenge on Sarah. Don’t you see it?”

“Shut up!” Shaun glowered at him frostily. “I’m just telling the truth. Wake up and look at what’s in front of you. See who’s the one truly in love with you.” As soon as Rodney finished his sentence, he opened the door of the car in a huff. “I’m not done with this matter yet. Even though she could escape today, I won’t let her off the hook tomorrow. I’m going to Liona now to interrogate that wretch.”

Shortly after they left, Freya came over in a rush. “Did Shaun really seize Logan?”

“Mm.” Catherine had just come out of the bathroom and changed into a set of clean clothes.

As she had not slept for a night, her pretty face was filled with weariness. “According to what they said, Logan was caught treating Sarah violently at the scene. After Sarah was rescued, she felt so humiliated that she banged her head on the wall to kill herself.”

“Clearly, it’s all Sarah’s doing. How could Logan possibly be interested in a woman like Sarah? Pah!

He’d be afraid of contracting a disease!” Freya insulted in a fit of fury.

Catherine was having a headache and rubbed her forehead. “This is just too strange. But I can’t afford to leave Logan in Liona as Shaun will take his life.”

“What are your plans?” Freya asked.

“...I haven’t thought about it.” Catherine’s eyes flashed with confusion. “I need to meet Logan to clarify the matter so that I can prove my innocence.”

“Forget about it. The two b*stards, Rodney and Shaun, have been brainwashed by Sarah. They have complete trust in her. The moment Sarah cries and threatens them, they’ll still believe her even if there’s evidence against her.

Freya let out a sigh. “I don’t understand why those men trust Sarah so much even though she’s so evil.”

“Exactly.” Catherine clenched her fists. “Since I can’t teach Shaun a lesson, I’ll do it to another person.”

One and a half hours later.

Joel and Catherine went to the Snow family’s villa together.

The Snow family had just finished their dinner. In addition to Old Master Snow, his sons and grandchildren were also there. Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 873

Even Nathan Snow, who was going to run for prime minister next year, was present.

“Joel, what brings you here at this hour?” Old Master Snow asked with a grin.

“Old Master Snow, I have an urgent matter to talk to you about.” A look of exasperation washed over Joel’s face. “If I had another choice, I wouldn’t have brought my daughter here. Jason, considering we’re acquaintances, I hope you’ll keep an eye on your son.”

Jason was stunned. He had two sons. “You’re referring to...”

“This afternoon, Rodney came to Hackett Institute and caused trouble for me.” Catherine turned on her phone and showed him a video. “This is the footage I got from the surveillance camera. Take a look at it. He crashed into me and destroyed my car.”

The other members of the Snow family came over to watch the video on the phone. All of them saw Rodney pulling Catherine’s hair while dragging her out of the car. He even strangled her after he hit her car. From the footage, they could see that he brought a lot of people along as well.

Old Master Snow, Jason, and the rest turned grim in an instant.

The Snow family was faced with a critical issue at this moment. If such a video spread to the public, Nathan would probably be disqualified from running for prime minister next year.

“What actually happened?” Jason soon pulled himself together. “There must be a reason behind this.”

“President Snow, given that you’re a reasonable person and also an outsider, I’m going to be frank with you. Sarah was kidnapped yesterday. It happened that the person who got caught was my bodyguard. Because of that, Rodney was convinced that it was my doing.

“In fact, I find this incident strange. I was in Hobart the past few days. When I came back, Rodney crashed into me with his car and even tried to seize me to... get his people to force themselves on me.”

Jason’s face darkened at once. It was even darker than charcoal now.

Every generation of the Snow family was strict with themselves and had reputations as clean as a whistle. Little did Jason expect that he would have such a cocky son.

Catherine continued helplessly, “I tried to reason with him, but he continued to suspect that I was the one behind Sarah’s kidnapping. I wouldn’t mind if he wanted to call the police, but he must have evidence. Even the person whom he caught didn’t claim that I gave the instructions.

“I wanted to have a word with Young Master Snow, but he couldn’t be bothered about me. All he did was criticize and punch me. Honestly, I don’t think my bodyguard would kidnap Sarah. There might be a misunderstanding regarding this issue.”

“Miss Jones, is it true that you didn’t kidnap Sarah?” Old Master Snow suddenly asked with a deep voice. “As far as I know, you have a personal vendetta against Sarah.”

“Elder Snow, if I wanted to kidnap Sarah, I would’ve asked my bodyguard to do it. I didn’t have to hire someone else to do it.” Catherine gave a bitter laugh. “What’s more, I’ve been on friendly terms with Shaun these days. We even went on a trip together two days ago. Why would I be bothered to kidnap Sarah and cause my relationship with Shaun to turn sour?”

The Snow family was smart. After hearing Catherine’s words, they realized that she was right.

Besides that, Old Master Snow still remembered that Shaun had come to pick her up in person the other day.

Joel said with a snort, "My daughter wouldn't kidnap Sarah. On the other hand, Sarah is extremely wicked. Despite knowing that Shaun and Cathy were already married back then, she still approached Shaun and shamelessly seduced him. After the two of them were caught by the reporters, a lot of people criticized Sarah as the mistress.

"But Shaun made Catherine announce that they were bound by a marriage contract and they had gotten a divorce due to his illness. She was also forced to say that he was truly in love with Sarah. When in fact, Shaun and Catherine only divorced last month. If you don't believe me, you can go to the registry office and check their date of divorce."

Upon hearing this, many women in the Snow family were indignant about it.

Wendy was astonished. "This means that Sarah has been the mistress during these two years. I didn't expect Shaun to be playing the field. He has gone too far."

"Sarah was his first love and also his childhood sweetheart. I only have myself to blame for falling for someone who was secretly loving someone else."

Catherine said dejectedly, "You guys might not know that Shaun was really planning to marry Sarah before this, but... I guess you all saw how the police had taken Sarah away during their wedding."

"Yeah. Sarah didn't marry Shaun in the end, and I heard... She was having an affair with another man?" Jason coughed lightly and replied.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 874

"Yes. When Sarah was in a relationship with Shaun, she was having an affair with a drug addict who was also a foreigner. If I'm not mistaken, they knew each other from her time overseas. Every week, Sarah would go to his apartment and sleep with him. The person who murdered the man hasn't been found. Previously, the police suspected Sarah, but they didn't find any evidence incriminating her."

This statement astounded everyone in the Snow family.

After all, they were under no illusions that Rodney had been protecting Sarah in secret.

Although Sarah's tarnished reputation had caused an uproar lately, it was just a rumor, after all. The specific details of the incident were unknown.

"Are you sure that you're telling the truth?" A somber look washed over Jessica's face.

"Actually, Young Master Snow is aware of this matter as well, but he treats Sarah as a goddess. Sarah probably fooled these men by claiming that she had been forced to do those things."

Catherine spoke in a weak tone, "When a man has been bewitched by a woman, he'll believe whatever she says. What's more, the fact that Shaun chose not to marry her in the end proves that I'm not lying. Hardly any man can accept being betrayed by their woman."

The Snow family remained silent. The other day, Shaun had said that he would rearrange the wedding sometime later. However, it was not mentioned anymore. When the Hill family was asked about it, they were vague about it.

When Joel realized that his daughter was almost done, he said coldly, "I came here to tell all of you these things considering the relationship between us over the years. Also, I understand Old Master Snow's character. I hope that all of you will keep an eye on Rodney. I showed you the video about his illegal and arrogant behavior to remind you that if this video is in the hands of those with ill intentions, I'm afraid Nathan won't be able to run for prime minister next year."

With an elegant and handsome face, Nathan asked nervously, "Brother Joel, the footage..."

“I’ve asked the security guard in the neighborhood to delete it,” Joel responded in a generous manner.

The Snow family let out a sigh of relief upon hearing it. They also expressed their gratitude toward Joel and Catherine.

“Thanks, Joel. ” Old Master Snow then said with a sigh, “It must’ve frightened you, Catherine. Don’t worry, I’ll keep a watchful eye on Rodney and teach him a lesson on your behalf.”

“Thank you, Elder Snow,” Catherine said earnestly, “Actually, when Freya tricked Rodney previously, the outsiders had talked about the Snow family but you guys didn’t make a fuss about it. I can tell that you guys are reasonable people.”

The Snow family was gratified to hear it. Then, Wendy said, “Miss Jones, you’re quite a pitiful person. It was very immature of Rodney. In fact, I don’t like Sarah as well, but it seems that Rodney has been bewitched by her and can’t live without her.”

Catherine sighed. “When one loves someone without complaining, aren’t they just the same as someone who has been bewitched? Looking at it from another perspective, we can say that Young Master Snow is an affectionate person. Sadly, he fell for the wrong person. If he meets someone who cherishes him, I’m sure the woman will cherish their relationship.”

“You’re right.”

Wendy nodded in satisfaction. After all, Rodney was her son. She did not wish to hear an outsider belittling him. Catherine’s words gave her a huge sense of contentment. “Unfortunately, we feel that Sarah treats him as a backup but he doesn’t seem aware of it.”

“Aunty Wendy, Sarah is a clever person. Now that Young Master Snow won’t be inheriting Snow Corporation, she won’t accept him unless she’s desperate.”

Catherine darted a profound glance at Nathan. “Of course, if Sarah and Shaun still haven’t gotten married next year and Uncle Nathan becomes the new prime minister, you’ll see Sarah going all out to marry into the Snow family.”

The Snow family was startled.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 875

Upon realizing that they had caused quite a commotion, Joel said, “It’s already late. We’ll leave first.”

“You’re leaving just like that? Why don’t you stay and have coffee with us?” Jason rose to his feet.

“No, we’re going to investigate the matter regarding Catherine’s bodyguard to find out who’s secretly framing Cathy. We must find out the truth.” Joel waved his hand before he left with Catherine.

After they left, Old Master Snow asked with a deep voice, “Do you think what Joel and his daughter said is true?”

Jason frowned. “I think... Catherine was telling the truth. Also, Joel is a gentleman.”

“Yeah.” Wendy nodded as well. “Otherwise, Joel wouldn’t have been cuckolded by Nicola who had been having an affair with Damien for over ten years. Besides that, I’ve been fond of Catherine and Freya since the last time I met them. They’re unlike those people who have bad intentions. Well, onlookers see most of the game. Rodney and Shaun are both involved in the situation, so they’re not clear about it. They claim that Catherine kidnapped Sarah, but when you think about it carefully, the incident is questionable.”

“I suspect that Sarah was the one who staged the kidnapping incident by herself,” Jessica suddenly said, “By the look of things, Sarah is even hoping to marry Shaun. According to the recent news, Shaun and Catherine have gotten back together, so it’s possible that Sarah is framing Catherine out of anxiety.”

Everyone glanced at Jessica in astonishment for half a second. Then, Old Master Snow nodded. “ That’s likely.”

Nathan began to look impatient. “Anyhow, you guys must teach Rodney a lesson. Luckily, it was the Yule family who came. If it were other families, they might expose our family for bullying others and disregarding the law. You guys know full well that we’ve spent more than ten years preparing for next year’s election.”

Old Master Snow hit the arm of the chair before he lifted his head. “Ask members of Snowden to bring Rodney back. Don’t allow him to go anywhere during this period.”

“Dad, if Rodney doesn’t listen...”

“Beat him up immediately,” Old Master Snow responded nonchalantly, “You can beat him anywhere, except for his head. He’s stupid enough. If you hit his head, he might become even more stupid. His life will be in shambles then.”

Everyone else in the Snow family was at a loss for words.

Old Master Snow actually had a point.

After the black Bentley left the Snow family's villa, Joel comforted Catherine, saying, "Don't worry.

The Snow family will deal with Rodney. Nathan and I used to be classmates, and what's more, the Snow family are reasonable people."

Catherine was surprised. "Dad, you and Nathan were classmates?"

"Mm. Nathan is a shrewd person. The other candidates who are running for prime minister can't compete with him. As a brilliant figure in the Snow family, Nathan will soar in the sky sooner or later. So... let's not offend them or have a falling-out with them," Joel reminded her cautiously.

"Okay..." Catherine rubbed her forehead upon hearing this. "If that's the case, I mustn't let Sarah marry Rodney. If Nathan ends up being the prime minister, Sarah will act even more unscrupulously."

"Don't worry. You've already exposed Sarah's true colors today. If Rodney dares marry Sarah, he'll be kicked out of the Snow family."

Next Chapter