Chapter 271

Chapter 271

“No?” Tracy laughed coldly and crazily. “Who do you think you are? My brother, lover, or husband?” for her.

Jim thought, I feel shameful

Jim sneered at these words.

His ears suddenly turned red.

Leo leaned against the wall and looked at Tracy with a cold gaze.

His eyes were cruel and hard.

Brandon didn't want to talk to Tracy at all.

He knew that Tracy's mental state was close to collapsing and going crazy.

“Who let you out? I'll get even with him for this.”

Brandon said viciously.

Tracy narrowed her eyes and said, “I'm afraid you can't afford to offend that person.”
looked at Savanna.

Tracy lowered her eyes and

She scanned Savanna all over.

Finally, she looked at Savanna's face and sneered, “There are 11111y women who are more beautiful, charming, and hot than you are so popular.” Tracy glanced at Leo, who was so angry that he clenched his fists and wanted to kill her. than you, Savanna, I don't understand

Tracy smiled sarcastically.

She said, “How many men are crazy about you?” “What a pity! You have a pretty face.”

Tracy's eyes burst with the light of destruction.

She suddenly had a knife in her hand and was ready to cut Savanna.

The situation is desperate.

Suddenly, there was a clang.

Tracy screamed.

Her knife had been turned over by a rough palm.

The tip of the knife stabbed into Tracy's wrist.

It hurt so much that she broke out in a cold sweat.

Tracy raised her eyes.

She saw that Brandon had pulled Savanna over and held her in his arms.

On Savanna's pale neck, there were several red bloodstains.

That was the pinch mark Tracy left on her neck

Tracy lowered her eyes and smiled.

Her entire body was shaking.

Even when her body was almost cramped, she could not stop laughing

After a while, she began to weep.

Mandel was unable to control her emotions.

She smiled and took two steps back.

Suddenly, she tripped over something.

She looked down and saw a pink face.

Mandel was stunned.

She gradually calmed down.

She slowly squatted down and gently stroked Mandel's face with her fingers.

Savanna's heart raced uncontrollably.

She wanted to rush over but was held back by Brandon.

All the men stared in horror at the hand that was lightly moving on Mandel's face.

It looked like Mandel was her precious treasure.

Tracy even hummed a song.

Her blood dripped on Mandel's face.

It looked horrible.

They thought, she's crazy! She's an absolute raving lunatic.

Savanna's legs were weak.

She had to bite her lips to stop herself from rushing forward.

Mandel was very close to Mandel.

If anyone took a step forward, Mandel would be in more danger.

Therefore, everyone could only hold their breath and wait, waiting for the moment when Tracy walked away and completely subdued her.

Perhaps Tracy knew everyone's thoughts.

Tracy was unwilling to let go of Mandel for a long time.

In the end, she carried Mandel in her arms while everyone was still in panic.

Mandel's lips smacked twice.

He turned over and fell asleep again.

"Let him go." Savanna could no longer hold it in as she shouted excitedly at Tracy.

Savanna wanted to rush over, but Brandon was holding her waist tightly.

Brandon seemed to be trembling Savanna raised her eyes and looked into Brandon's narrowed pupils.

She saw the muscles under his eyelids twitching.

The corners of his mouth were also twitching.

The muscles all over his body were tense.

She thought, he is also afraid.

Tracy raised her head and saw the man and woman who were hugging each other and looking at each other affectionately.

The infatuation, worry, and fear in the man's eyes were like cold needles that pierced Tracy's heart.

She was prostrated with grief.

Tracy swallowed the tears and placed her finger on Mandel's throat.

With a cold face, she took out a bottle of medicine from her bosom.

There was a crack.

Tracy tossed the medicine to the ground.

Tracy pointed at the bottle and said to Savanna, "Drink it and I'll let your son go."
Savanna gritted her teeth.

"You..."

If it weren't for Mandel, Savanna wanted to rush over and kill this crazy woman.

Leo could not stand it anymore.

He was afraid that Savanna would impulsively go up to pick up the medicine bottle.

Therefore, he limped over and reached out to pick up the medicine bottle.

The knife flew over and hit his leg.

Leo half knelt.

His face was full of cold sweat.

He could no longer hold on and completely knelt.

"Tracy, I think you're crazy. If you dare to hurt Mandel, I will kill you."

Brandon's face was filled with hostility.

His entire body immediately released a murderous aura.

“You want to kill me?” Tracy raised her eyebrows.

Her tears started to gather in her eyes.

“You abandoned me long ago, didn’t you? Now, I look more dead than alive.

What is there to be afraid of?” Tracy narrowed his eyes and stared at Savanna.

She roared, “Drink it. Otherwise, I will kill your son right now.” Tracy’s sharp finger was about to reach Mandel’s neck.

The knife on her hand was stained with blood.

It was the blood from her injured hand.

Tracy thought, even if I endure severe pain, I will let Savanna die.

Looking up at Brandon’s nervous eyes, Savanna smiled.

Savanna looked at the door and said.

“Grandma.”

Brandon looked at the door.

There was no one at the door.

By that time, he realized that he had been tricked by Savanna swallowed the potion into her mouth, which was bitter, sour, and unpleasant.

Savanna had picked up the bottle on the ground, opened the bottle cap, and “Swallow it.” Tracy knew that Savanna was cunning.

She fiercely ordered Savanna.

At the same time, the tip of the blade had already reached Mandel’s neck.

Brandon was flustered.

He reached out to grab Savanna’s chin, but Savanna turned her face away.

Savanna swallowed the potion into her stomach.

Leo was enraged by his helplessness.

He hated himself.

He hated himself so much.

Brandon slowly knelt on both knees.

Seeing this, Brandon stretched out his arm and hooked her body.

As tears streamed down her face, Savanna shouted in a trembling voice, "Tracy, I drank the potion. Let Mandel go. He is still so young and has just had an operation. He was also someone you used your life to save. How can you bear it?" Tracy roared towards the sky and laughed loudly.

The tears coursed down her cheeks.

Her red lips were pale.

She said, "As long as I can kill you, I can do anything. I'll take you to hell. Savanna, do you know what you drink?" Tracy put away the knife and put Mandel on the haystack.

She slowly got up and stared into Savanna's eyes.

She spoke word by word, "It is the new poison developed by the research institute. One drop of it can make you grow old. One bottle will cause your muscles to shrink. You'll become ugly. How do you seduce men?"

Tracy was laughing.

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 272

Chapter 272

Chapter 272

Hearing Tracy's words, Brandon paled. And Leo's face was pale too. her neck had been tightly gripped and her body was pressed against the wall.

They were shocked.

Leo shouted, "Tracy, you are too vicious."

Tracy wanted to say something, but

She was suspended in midair.

Brandon roared, "Antidot!." Tracy looked at Brandon's gloomy face in front of her.

Her neck had turned blood red, but she did not care.

She said, "No."

There was a click.

There was the sound of bones breaking in the air.

Brandon even pinched Tracy's neck with both hands, looking as if he was going to kill her.

When Brandon had attacked Mandel, Savanna had already rushed over and picked up Mandel, who was on the ground.

She didn't hug her son for the first time.

It was because she saw that her son was safe but Leo was injured.

That was why she had gone to check on Leo's injuries.

However, she did not expect that danger would descend in an instant.

Savanna held Mandel's hands tightly.

She could not stop trembling.

She felt fear.

Just now, she almost lost Mandel.

She felt so regretful.

"Jim," Savanna shouted.

Jim didn't reply.

Savanna looked in the direction where Jim had stood before, only to find that Jim had already fainted on the ground.

Savanna ignored the conflict between Brandon and Tracy.

In her opinion, Tracy deserved to die.

Moreover, Brandon might not kill Tracy.

Savanna struggled to pick up Mandel.

Just as she ran to the door, she found a group of people lying at the door.

They were all her subordinates who had just come with her and Brandon.

The atmosphere was tense.

Savanna looked forward.

There was a group of people.

The man in the lead wore a suit jacket and walked with a gust of wind.

His expression was even colder.

It was Jimmy, who had disappeared for a long time.

Savanna's eyebrows twitched.

She had just thought that deliberately let the media write about Tracy's arrest to deceive her.

Facts had proved that Tracy was rescued by Jimmy.

Jimmy wanted to use Tracy to make trouble.

"Dad." Jimmy and Savanna simultaneously looked toward the source of the sound.

Brandon grabbed Tracy's neck and dragged her out of the warehouse, completely disregarding her weak body.

Her injured hand was bleeding continuously.

From the warehouse to the outside, it was all her blood.

Jimmy's face was cold.

He shouted, "Shelton, let go of her." Brandon said to Savanna, who was in front of him, "Hide behind me." Savanna stared at Jimmy, holding Mandel in her arms as she retreated.

She quickly hid behind Brandon

Jimmy smiled.

“Shelton, do you think she can escape?” Before Brandon could reply, Jimmy said, “You attacked and destroyed the Gilbert family.”

Jimmy pointed at Savanna.

“From then on, her death was doomed.” Brandon did not expect that Jimmy would find out where he and Savanna were.

Jimmy released

Tracy and drugged him on his diet.

Why wasn't Brandon in a coma? Because Brandon did not eat any food

The sound of cutting the skin came.

The knife slashed down from Tracy's eyebrows.

It sounded melodious.

There was a deep and long wound stretched between Tracy's eyebrows and her chin.

Tracy's body

twitched.

The pain made her face turn purple.

The knife was about to scratch Tracy's neck.

Brandon

pulled his hand away in time.

Tracy rolled her eyes and fell to the ground like a broken kite.

Brandon's eyes were filled with shock as he looked up at the blood-stained knife.

He saw the man's firm chin.

It was Leo.

Brandon said, "You..."

"I'll kill her.

You sent me to prison.

I accept my fate." Leo used the last of his strength to come over.

After saying this, he closed his eyes and suddenly fell into a coma.

His daughter was killed.

Seeing that, Jimmy was so angry.

He screamed, "Joanna." Jimmy wanted to rush over and grab Savanna, but he was pushed back by a fist from Brandon.

The group of people behind Jimmy were about to pounce on Brandon fiercely.

A Bentley stopped.

An old man came out of the car.

He had a strong aura.

When Jimmy saw her, he shouted in a trembling voice, "Mrs.

Young, look.

They killed Joanna just now.

Joanna died." Jimmy was on the verge of crying Lorena glanced at Tracy, who was already dead on the ground, with contempt.

Her indifferent gaze swept to Jimmy.

"She killed so many people.

Now she wants to kill my great-grandson.

Death is her best choice."

Lorena's attitude had changed.

Jimmy felt surprised.

"Mrs.

Young, didn't you say..." Before Jimmy could finish, Lorena raised her voice, "Jimmy, Shelton originally wanted to marry your daughter, but now you have lost your daughter.

The agreement between the Young and Gilbert families cannot be counted.

After that, the two families no longer have any relationship."

Lorena's words made Jimmy frightened.

He was trying to argue with Lorena.

Lorena waved her hand.

A group of policemen rushed out from the dark, quickly subduing Jimmy he looked back at Lorena with cold eyes and a strange smile He seemed to hate Lorena so much The danger had finally been lifted.

and his group

When Jimmy was brought into the car,

Brandon had someone send Leo and Jim to the hospital.

He anxiously took Savanna back to the Moon Villas.

More than an hour later, Rex came over from New York on a special plane.

After a comprehensive examination, Rex took Savanna to an authority hospital in Philadelphia.

The medical report was very out.

Rex reviewed the data on it.

His face was calm.

He told Brandon, "Tracy must be lying Currently, technology is not developed enough to develop a medicine that can destroy a person's face." breathed a sigh of relief.

Hearing Rex's words, Brandon immediately

Rex said, "Brandon, although Tracy is wrong, she is dead.

I asked someone to bring his body back and cremate it.

In two days, I will choose a day to bury her."

Brandon hesitated for two seconds.

When he went out, he replied, "As you like it."

Rex shouted at his back, "I'll take it as you agree.

I want to bury her in Cassel's house.

After all, that's where she wants to go most." Rex didn't know if Brandon had heard it or not.

Brandon strode away without looking back.

Rex sighed.

His eyebrows jumped in panic.

He did not expect that Tracy, who grew up with him, would be so vicious.

He wanted to bury her.

This was the only thing Rex could do for her.

Chapter 273

Chapter 273

Due to Jimmy suing Leo for killing Tracy, Leo was taken from the hospital by the police. Brandon took Jim to the police station to testify for Leo.

Tracy kidnapped Mandel and used Mandel to threaten Savanna to leave him.

The police found the drug bottle at the scene of the complicated love triangle revenge.

They quickly identified the case as the failure of Tracy's revenge and then she committed suicide.

The people at the scene were all from the Young family.

As for Jimmy himself, he had also hidden a lot of secrets and did not dare to press charges.

Tracy's death could only be left unsettled.

Leo had not expected that Brandon would save him.

When he walked out of the detention center, it was drizzling. Leo's leg injury had not healed yet, and he was still limping.

He said to Brandon, "Thank you." Brandon looked at him and replied, "You Saved Savanna and Mandel.

This time, you were injured because of Mandel.

I came to testify for you only to return your favor."

Brandon didn't want to owe Leo a favor.

He wanted to get a clearer picture of Leo, which meant indirectly separating Leo and Savanna completely. Brandon knew Savanna too well and that she did not want to owe others.

Because of this, she kept in touch with Leo.

Leo pursed his lips and said nothing. Brandon turned around and left.

Before he got into the car, he said, "Don't look for her anymore.

Leave her alone." The Maybach drove off, bringing with it a gust of dust that dazzled Leo's eyes.

The distant Maybach was as arrogant and domineering as its owner.

Mandel's illness was gradually getting better, and his face was much rosier than before.

Brandon discussed with Savanna and took Mandel back to the Moon Villas.

During this period, Savanna had nightmares every night, and the scenes in her dreams were clearly imprinted in her mind every morning, lingering her dreams, Tracy had a ferocious expression.

In

Her entire body was covered in blood.

She opened her blood-red eyes and crazily rushed over to grab Savanna.

Before she could catch Savanna, she went to tear Mandel's body beside Savanna.

In the dream, Savanna was so weak and helpless.

She called out to Brandon, but Brandon ignored her and looked at her with contempt.

His cold voice sounded.

"You have already become like this.

Do you think I will still want you?" Savanna ran to the mirror and saw a woman in the mirror who had a head full of gray hair and a face full of wrinkles.

She suddenly aged dozens of years.

Ah! Unable to accept her old self, Savanna cried out, she covered her face, and tears flowed out from her fingers.

Savanna was a laid-back woman.

She didn't care much about her appearance, but she couldn't of the scene in the dream with lingering fear, Savanna felt suffocated Outside the window, it was night.

accept herself, who had a face full of wrinkles and was as old as an old woman

Thinking

Brandon was not in the room.

She put one window open She immediately saw the light in the study room.

He should be dealing with the company emails Savanna returned to her room and glanced at the clock on the wall It was five in the morning and it was almost dawn.

Savanna walked to the windowsill, lit a cigarette, and slowly smoked.

The smell of Nicholas drove away the haze and fear in her heart.

Cigarette was quickly finished, and she returned to the bed.

She took off her coat, turned off the light, and just lay down.

The door was opened.

The blurry shadow reflected on the floor and the door slowly closed.

The man moved very lightly as if he was afraid of waking her up.

He took off his coat and laid gently on the bed.

After a few seconds, he slowly approached Savanna and saw that she was motionless, thinking that she was sleeping soundly.

Brandon hooked his long arms and pulled Savanna into his arms.

He inhaled the faint fragrance of her hair.

It seemed that only in this way could he feel that Savanna was really beside him.

Savanna opened her eyes and did not sleep for a long time.

Not long later, she heard the steady breathing of Brandon behind her.

Early in the morning, when Savanna woke up, there was no trace of Brandon in the room.

Only the warmth of the pillow told her that Brandon really slept beside her last night.

It wasn't an illusion or a dream.

Savanna washed and went downstairs, and as soon as she entered the restaurant, Lizeth served the breakfast.

"Savanna, Mr.

Young asked you to go to the City Hall at two o'clock in the afternoon."

Savanna naturally knew what to do in the City Hall.

It could only be about getting the marriage certificate.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, Brandon called home.

Lizeth glanced upstairs but did not see Savanna coming down.

She said to Brandon, "I told Savanna this morning, but she didn't say anything, I couldn't see what she meant either.

Mr Young, why don't you call her and see what she "She didn't pick up my call." "Alright, I'll go up and tell her that." Lizeth hung up the phone and went upstairs.

says?"

Brandon sighed helplessly and said,

In the room, Savanna was sitting in a chair and reading a book.

Lizeth came in to convey Brandon's meaning Savanna did not raise her head and said to Lizeth, "Tell him that I'm not feeling well.

I'm going to go another day." Lizeth conveyed Savanna's words to Brandon in time.

Brandon knew in his heart that Savanna was trying to put off and that she did not want to get married to him Brandon parked the car on the side of the road, smoked two cigarettes, and after the second cigarette burned out, he drove the car back to the Young's villa.

There were very few people in the Young's villa, making the courtyard more spacious and filled with a chill

Brandon entered Lorena's room.

Lorena had just finished cleaning her hands and the maid had brought the basin out.

Just as Lorena was about to burn incense, she saw Brandon and frowned, "Why do you have the time to come over? "Grandma, you were the one who let Tracy out, right?" Brandon blurted out with a questioning tone, causing Lorena's raised eyebrows to fill with hostility.

Seeing that Lorena did not speak, Brandon added, "Jimmy was also instructed by you, right?" holding a sandalwood incense and lighting it with another "I don't understand.

Lorena did not seem to want to pay attention to him,

What is wrong with Savanna? No matter how bad she is, she gave birth to Mandel for me.

I only recognize her as my wife.

If you want your grandson to grow old alone, then you can do as you please."

Lorena could no longer listen.

Brandon came to question her with a gloomy face.

She had long been dissatisfied.

Now, she was criticized by him like this, so she got immediately angry.

“Bastard, is this how you speak to me?” Brandon looked away and did not say anything.

In the room, a pin drop could be heard.

The air suddenly became thin and the atmosphere became tense.

The servants around Lorena did not dare to breathe and quietly retreated.

Brandon’s silence finally extinguished Lorena’s anger.

Lorena said, “I didn’t know what happened between Tracy and Jimmy.

No matter how much I don’t like Savanna, as you said, she still gave birth to a child for you and the Young family.

“Is that so?” Brandon smiled coldly, his smile not reaching his eyes. became angry again.

Lorena saw that he did not believe her and immediately

“You don’t believe me, but only believe that bitch.

I don’t know what’s wrong with the fortune of our Young family.

Your grandfather, your father, and you all had an affair outside.

Don’t you know that beauties are all sources of trouble?”

Brandon’s laughter was ear-piercing.

He was not angry and retorted, "Grandma, are you a woman? How can you say that beauties are all sources of trouble? Besides, I don't agree with your point of view.

I don't know what grandfather and father are like.

After all, I was not present in many things in the past, so I am not qualified to criticize them.

"However, Savanna is not a troublemaker.

She is my, Shelton's, legal wife.

We married under numerous people's blessing.

We held a grand wedding in front of hundreds of guests.

We swore.

Savanna's grandfather was a professor at a college, Daled back to the old days, the ancestors of the Thompson family had been educated.

They deserved a family of scholars.

The important thing is that I am in love with her.

Why are always trying to separate us? Are you forcing me to hate you for a lifetime?"

Brandon's words made a lot of sense.

Lorena was so angry that her face turned gloomy.

She placed the burned incense on the table.

Clank!

She slapped the table.

"What kind of thing is David? I think everyone in the entire New York knows the answer.

Yet you still have the nerve to come and tell me this.

Back then, I think you know better than me how the Cassel and Thompson families reach a marriage alliance.

Even if the Thompson family is, as you say, a literary family, so what? Is Savanna a daughter of the Thompson family? She's just a fake, and the evidence is in my hands.

And you also know it..." Lorena had not finished speaking,

Brandon sheered and interrupted her.

"Are you trying to say that if I don't listen to you, you will expose the past events?" me to this extent.

Brandon ignored Lorena's pale lips and spoke clearly, "You forced

I am not afraid of anything.

What do you want to do? Just do it.

At most, I won't be the head of the Young family.

In fact, I don't want to do it long ago."

Brandon turned around and was about to leave.

Lorena stopped him.

"How dare you! Whether he was crazy

Seeing that her grandson was still stubborn after her saying so much, Lorena became angry.

"I didn't have that "Besides, if it was made by Tracy, you should get it from Iracy." eyes, looking guilty.

Lorena opened her

Lorena's subtle expression didn't escape Brandon's eyes.

Brandon's smile was as cold as frost.

"It's fine if you don't admit it.

I don't have any evidence.

When I have evidence, I won't talk to you like this." that she picked up the ashtray and threw it at Brandon Brandon just turned around to leave.

"You unfilial son."

Lorena was so angry

The ashtray hit his back and rolled to the ground.

He stopped and glanced at the ashtray at his feet.

His eyes were fierce.

"Back then, you used this vicious method to deal with Lisa Fry, right?"

The words "Lisa Fry" stimulated Loren Her laci Sudilenly turned loomy.

She stared at Brandon with cold eyes.

She was shocked, "Do you know her inne is Lisa Fry that her name is lisa Fry, but also know that her family was in dire straits.

Brandon said, "Not only do I know

Because of that, she became a dancer and then prostitute Thuis is also the reason why you don't like Savanna Savanna's mother has the saine jobas Lisa Fry" Every sentence poked at Lorena's weak point.

Lorena Stemed to have been pressed by someone, as she sat stiffy in her chair, not moving.

After a long time, she closed her eyes and lifted her lips several times before she spat out, ""What else do you know? Tell me everything.

Don't hold back.

We don't need to hide anything Lorena wanted to openly talk to her grandson.

She didn't want to hide anything Since Brandon had known so much, then she just let him say it out.

Brandon said bluntly, "What I know may be beyond your imagination.

Now, I only hope that you can be generous and give me the antidote.

I will listen to you.

In the future, I will just listen to whatever you say." Lorena did not seem to accept this.

Brandon, who was usually high and mighty, became so humble in order to get the antidote

However,

Brandon had made a sacrifice for Savanna like this, and she regarded Savanna more as a troublemaker, which made her have the determination to get rid of Savanna quickly.

In her opinion, Savanna had become a threat for outsiders to restrain Brandon, and the descendant of the Young family could never be trapped by love.

Then, Lorena earnestly told him to quit.

"For a woman, you can put down your dignity and pride and be so weak.

Everyone says that you, Shelton, are a rare business genius.

"In my lifetime, I will never allow this to happen. If it really does, I will follow my heart." Brandon's words caused Lorena to feel frustrated.

Brandon wanted to say something, but Brandon interrupted her and said, "Please stop hurting Savanna.

"Otherwise...

"I won't just let it go." With that, Brandon left.

Lorena was so angry that her face was red and her neck was bulging and she grabbed the incense burner and smashed it.

Bang! The incense burner shattered and the incense asli scattered all over the ground, “Savanna was a tease:

“Savanna was the same as Lisa, who was ‘Helen of Tony’ ” The master’s words came into Lorend’s mind.

Brandon returned to the Moon Villas.

Savanna stared at her laptop and sat beside the window, chatting with Justin, Neil, and the other colleagues about work

In the chat group of the top managers of the Thompson Group “Savanna: Report your work to me once a week.

That’s it.

The meeting is over.” Neil was the first to send an emoji, which meant goodbye.

Then Justin sent a rose emoji.

Justin took the lead, and the rest of the managers followed him.

It was kind of dazzling “Neil: Justin, you dare to send this emoji.

Aren’t you afraid that he will go crazy?” Everyone knew that, in Neil’s words, “he” was Brandon.

In everyone’s impression, every time a man got too close to Savanna, that man would suffer in secret.

Cain sent a thumb emoji.

He expressed his approval of Neil.

Because Cain himself was a victim.

Savanna sent an ellipsis to show her speechlessness, and everyone laughed involuntarily.

Suddenly, Savanna felt someone wrap her in a shroud.

She looked up and found it was Brandon, who had taken off his coat and was loosening his tie.

Seeing the joy on her face, he asked, "Who are you chatting with? You seem to be having a good time."

Savanna said goodbye and was about to quit when Brandon snatched the laptop away.

Then he saw the rose emoji, which made him frown.

Savanna took her laptop back Brandon didn't stop her and asked in a hoarse voice, "Cain is in the Thompson Group?"

"Yes."

NA

Savanna closed the laptop, jumped out of the bay window, and raised her eyebrows when looking at him.

"Where did you go? Mandel just wanted you to tell him a story.

I coaxed him for a long time before he fell asleep."

"Overtime." Brandon blurted out.

Again.

Working overtime had become an excuse that Savanna used most "I can't bear it.

It is your fig leaf." Brandon did not understand what Savanna meant.

He grabbed Savanna, who was about to go to the bathroom.

He raised his eyebrows, "What do you mean? "You don't understand?" Savanna asked Brandon's expression showed he

He stroked Savanna's tender lace with his rough fingers
"I went to Grandma."

Brandon did not want Savanna to think too much, so he chose to tell the truth Savanna had lost her mother in her childhood, so she had always lacked a sense of security.

No matter how much David loved her, she always felt that something was missing.

When she grew up, she gradually understood that it was maternal love
People who lacked maternal love were extremely meticulous and did not have a sense of security.

Hearing Brandon's words, she immediately thought of the medicine that Tracy had asked her to take.

Savaria asked, "Is that inedicine real?" Brandon became a little hesitant.

Savanna suddenly felt her limbs go cold, and she became upset.

She sat on the bed and closed her eyes.

She wanted to suppress the panic in her heart.

However, the desperation in her heart was not only unable to dissipate, but it also seemed to increase as she recalled a terrifying dream.

Brandon hugged her from behind and pressed her against his chest.

He lowered his head and pressed his face against her head.

He looked at her hair and said in a hoarse voice.

"No matter what happens, we can lace it together." Savanna gulped.

"If...

I mean, if I become ugly, will you still want me?"
In Savanna's dream, Brandon did not hesitate to say no.

His voice was clear and loud.

Savanna closed her eyes.

Her slightly trembling lips showed she was afraid of the result.

Brandon held her face, extremely gentle.

He lowered his head to kiss her soft lips.

He said eagerly, "I want you.

Of course, I want you.

How can I refuse you? Savanna, don't ask such a stupid question anymore." Savanna's eyes were filled with tears.

Her nose twitched and tears gushed out.

Her voice was hoarse, "Brandon, thank you." Even if men always told lies, she would rather believe them.

So, women were so fragile.

How many women could resist men's sweet words? Maybe none They knew it was poison, but they were still willing to swallow it.

When Brandon and Savanna poured their hearts out to each other, they both felt ud.

And the best way to cure them was sex Brandon kissed her passionately, Brandon could not restrain himself from Savanna's enthusiastic response He clued the curtains and pressed her against the window.

And they had a good time After the sex Savanna went to shower.

Brandon lit a cigarette, put on his shirt, and went to the study He called Ben and said, "Help me investigate Colten, especially his relationship with Lisa" Ben said yes and suddenly reacted, "Isn't Colten your grandfather?" Brandon wanted to investigate his grandfather.

Ben shivered.

"Just follow my words.

Stop your nonsense." Brandon hung up the phone.

Ben listened to the busy signal on the phone.

"He's so angry.

He definitely didn't get satisfied.

Savanna is really..." Ben muttered to himself, "Why doesn't she help him vent his anger?"

In the evening, Ben flew to Philadelphia and met with Brandon in a teahouse.

Ben directly took out the information he had found and pressed his hand on it with a solemn expression, "Brandon, it's a little scary."

Brandon's eyebrows twitched slightly. His eyes were cold, and he said, "Take your hand away."

Ben couldn't bear Brandon's cold gaze.

He quickly took his hand away.

Brandon picked up the documents and started to look.

Ben, who was aside, had been observing the subtle expression on Brandon's face.

Seeing that Brandon's expression was getting colder and colder, and even his eyebrows were deeply tangled, Ben turned around and picked up the glass on the table.

He took a sip of water to calm himself down.

Brandon's eyebrows twitched after he went through the whole stack of documents.

He leaned back in his chair, and the documents fell from his hand onto the table.

Brandon was more than shocked.

He knew Lorena was ruthless, but he still found it hard to believe that she had done something that left people speechless and stunned several decades ago.

Brandon stood up and walked out without furling his head.

Ben shouted at Brandon, "Wait for me!" "Then he took the documents, paid the bill, and rushed to the door. On the way back to the Moon Villas, Brandon had been pursing his lips.

He didn't utter a word, and there was a deep frown on his face.

Seeing that, Ben said in a low voice, "Brandon, maybe we should give it some more thought.

We shouldn't be reckless.

After all, Mrs.

Young is not easy to deal with." Knowing what Lorena did to Lisa, Ben was shocked.

It was simply jaw-dropping And Lorena was using the same means to deal with Savanna now.

The important thing was that Savanna was not the mistress that Lorena thought she was.

Savanna was Brandon's legal wife.

Although the two of them had divorced, they had a child.

The child was their bond.

Ben felt that Brandon's anxiety made sense.

If the same thing happened to Ben, if his grandmother did the same to his wife, the woman he loved, he might have been even more anxious than Brandon. Brandon looked out of the window.

No one knew if he heard Ben's words or not.

But it was not difficult to tell from the cold aura surrounding him that he was in a bad mood.

He was both angry and helpless.

However, Ben was certain about one thing.

Brandon would find a way to get the antidote for Savanna.

He would not watch Savanna grow old while sitting on his hands.

Ben stayed in Philadelphia at Brandon's request, because Brandon wanted to have someone to be there for him once something happened to him.

Recently, Mandel had a good appetite.

He particularly dug into shrimps, and he pestered Savanna to cook for him.

Savanna and Lizeth went to the market, bought some ingredients, and stayed in the kitchen after going back

After cooking two dishes, Savanna felt a little dizzy, and her limbs were weak.

She held on for a while.

Seeing that, Lizeth wanted her to go and have some rest.

“Savanna, go upstairs and have some rest.

I’ve got the rest covered.” Savanna nodded and went upstairs while holding her forehead.

She entered the bedroom and lay on the bed.

Brandon came back and did not see Savanna in the living room.

He entered the kitchen and saw that Lizeth was alone there.

He asked Lizeth, “Where is Savanna?” “She might be a little unwell i asked her to go upstairs to lie down for a bit.”

“Unwell?” Brandon muttered.

Brandon’s eyebrows twitched.

His worst fears had come to pass.

Although they had taken a series of measures, and Rex had given Savanna some specially-made pills to take, her body still could not resist the poison.

Brandon ran up the stairs.

Perhaps because he was too anxious, the sound of footsteps was very loud.

And he pushed the door harshly.

The sound of the door opening woke Savanna up She opened her eyes and saw Brandon’s anxious face He leaned forward and stared at her face.

His voice trembled slightly as he said, “What happened to you?”

Afraid that Brandon would be worried, Savanna pursed her lips and smiled, trying to make her eyes shine She said, “It’s fine.

Don’t worry.

Maybe I was just tired.

Brandon looked at Savanna, who was lying on the bed Coincidentally, Savannah was also looking at him the two of them looked at each other.

However, his eyes were shining with determination.

She eveli saw the simile on the corner of his mouth He nodded slightly at her.

The smile on his face and the splendor in his eyes seemed to say to her silently, "Don't worry.

I'm here."

The panic in Savanna's heart slowly vanished.

Brandon turned around and left.

Two tall men stood by the white railing Rex said, "According to the result, the poison is real.

Its efficacy is still unclear.

But one thing we know is that it's not as terrifying as Tracy said, but..."
Rex hesitated.

"Speak." Brandon spat out a single word.

“That kind of medicine is rare.

We still can't find its composition, so, there is no way for us to develop the antidote.

The root cause is Mrs.

Young.

I think you should go ahead and talk to her.” Brandon's face was cold.

“Are you sure she has it?” Rex said, “I've been working on it for a while.

Most drugs that have a formula have a cure.

And the person who develops them is up to something.

I think you know that Mrs.

Young's family runs pharmaceutical factories.

It is not impossible for them to develop harmful drugs.” Lorena's family was the richest in Philadelphia back then.

However, they could not find a suitable successor.

It was the reason why the family fell.

All the men in the Davis family either died accidentally or died of illness.

In the end, Lorena's father laid his eyes on his assistant, Colten.

He asked Colten to marry Lorena and chose Colten as the successor of the Davis family.

After getting married, Lorena found out that Colten had already had the love of his life.

It was Linda Fry.

Later, Linda was forced to change her name to Lisa Fry, and Lorena had everything to do with it.

After the Davis family collapsed, the elites in the family who were good at developing drugs vanished.

To hurt Linda and not be betrayed, it was very likely for Lorena to keep those elites by her side and develop drugs to hurt Linda especially.

Brandon's face was utterly gloomy.

"So, think about it. Maybe you should go and talk to Mrs. Young."

Before Rex could finish his sentence, he saw that Brandon was about to leave. Rex quickly grabbed Brandon's hand and said in surprise, "Are you going to talk to Mrs.

Young now?" "No." Brandon pulled Rex's hand away and went back to Savanna's room.

When Rex followed him in, he saw Brandon sitting by the bed.

Brandon took the handkerchief from the servant.

wiping the sweat on Savanna's forehead.

There was tenderness in his eyes, and his movements were so gentle.

It was like Savanna was a fragile porcelain doll that he treasured so much.

Rex and Brandon had grown up together, and he had never seen Brandon doing this for anyone. Savanna was the only exception.

Rex felt that he was completely worrying about nothing: Brandon would do anything for Savanna. Let alone going to Lorena, Brandon could even sacrifice his life in exchange for the antidote without blinking. All three-generation men of the Young family were in a line.

Rex left with the medical group.

Seeing how nervous Brandon was, Savanna gently said to him, "I'm fine.

Don't worry. Go and accompany Mandel.

You haven't talked to him properly for a few days." Seeing that Brandon did not move, Savanna got up and pushed him on of the door.

Brandon was driven to Mandel's room by Savanna.

Right now, Mandel was very energetic His cheeks were rosy because of the recent nourishment He salonachair and put together Logos Brandon walked over and pulled Mandel into his armis.

Brandon accidentally knocked over Mandel's Legos, and Mandel naised the corners of his mouth to express his dissatistaction.

He glanced at Brandon and said, "Daddy, there are so many wrinkles on your face.

You look so tired.

Go and rest for a while.

I'll call you when it's dinner time." Mandel's concern was like a wart spring breeze that slowly tlowed into Brandon's heart, making him feel warm all over.

He rubbed Mandel's temples.

"Your mommy said that you missed me because you haven't seen me these days."

"Yes.

I iniss you when either of you is gone." Mandel blinked.

Since he was just a kid, he naturally was telling the truth.

Hearing that, Brandon felt bitter.

He also became more determined to get the antidote.

He wanted nothing but the three of them to be together.

He wanted to spend the rest of his life together with his wife and his son.

They were his life.

Brandon was chatting with Mandel when someone sent him an iMessage.

It was Ben.

"Brandon, come here."

Immediately.

Ben sent the address.

Brandon took the phone and went downstairs.

Jim drove, and the car quickly rushed out of the Moon Villas and went straight to the address Ben sent.

The Whiteedge Building was the tallest in the south region.

The fourth floor of the building was pretty much sealed off.

No one had been inside.

Jim went to the parking lot to park Brandon got out of the car and saw Ben at the entrance of the Whiteedge Building.

Seeing Brandon come, Ben looked around.

Then he immediately pulled Brandon to a corner and whispered in Brandon's ear, "I found a group of people who always went in at the earliest time and came out at the latest.

They are very mysterious." Ben said, pointing to the small door in front of them.

There was a red arrow on the wall, and next to the arrow were the words "the fourth floor".

Brandon turned around and saw that Jim had parked the car and was getting out of the car.

He immediately sent a message to Jim.

Jim saw the message and nodded to him.

Then Jim quickly forwarded the message to Seth, knowing that Seth would bring his men and come here as soon as he could.

Brandon, Ben, and Jim would be outnumbered by those mobs.

Brandon and Ben went downstairs from the other side.

They hid in the corner next to the door.

Not long later, they saw a man open the door and come out.

The man saw them and was stunned.

He shouted inside and was about to rush back when Ben covered his mouth.

The man was drugged.

His eyelids twitched, and he fell to the ground.

The scent in the air drifted everywhere.

The man inhaled the scent and closed his eyes.

He fainted.

Brandon and Ben immediately went in through the door.

When they entered, the people inside had already fled from the other door after hearing the shout of the man just now.

In the sealed place, there were several rooms, and bottles were all over the floor.

The important ones seemed to be taken away.

Seth and his men met up with Jim and quickly arrived on the fourth floor.

Brandon asked Seth and Jim to bring all the medicine back to Rex
Then the police quickly sealed the place which was used to make pharmaceuticals secretly and investigated, trying to find the person behind the scenes.

However, the man was very sneaky.

The police did not find anything.

Rex took the medicine that Jim and the others brought back to the testing center for testing.

He got the results that afternoon.

The potion that Savanna had taken wasn't among them.

And of course, there was no antidote.

Dusk came.

The afterglow of the setting sun enveloped the Young's home.

When Brandon stepped into the hall, only Lorena was sitting at the large dining table.

Her back seemed so lonely.

She lowered her head and was eating silently.

Behind her stood two servants.

Seeing that Brandon had returned, they hurriedly greeted, "Mr.

Cassel."

Lorena did not even raise her head.

She continued to eat.

It was obvious that Lorena was in a bad mood.

Brandon knew the reason exactly. Seeing that Brandon did not speak, Lorena said, "What are you doing back here?"

Brandon said, "Lorena, please give me the medicine."

Brandon did not want to talk to Lorena too much.

He cut to the chase.

"I told you already.

I don't have it.

How can I give you something I don't have?" Lorena asked calmly.

Brandon pressed the tip of his tongue against his teeth and sneered, "The Whiteedge Building has a pharmaceutical factory within.

Lorena, you are the owner."

Brandon didn't ask Lorena.

It was a statement.

The muscles on Lorena's cheeks trembled.

She put down her fork and wiped her mouth with a tissue.

"I don't know what you are talking about." Lorena got up to leave but was stopped by Brandon.

Lorena tilted her eyebrows as she looked at Brandon, who dared to block her way.

"Shelton, what do you want? "Give me the antidote." "I don't have it."

They confronted each other in silence.

The atmosphere was extremely intense, Both of their eyes were burning with the rage of flame at the same time as if they wanted to tear the other into pieces and eat the other alive, even though they were the only family each other had in the world.

“Move,” Lorena roared.

Brandon was, after all, a junior.

He needed to show respect to Lorena.

He stepped away.

Lorena was pissed off because of Brandon’s disobedience.

She glared at Brandon and went upstairs with her cane.

Brandon stood on the stairs.

The cold light lit his face up, amplifying his irrepressible anger.

He picked up a vessel and smashed it on the ground.

Then he repeated the same actions.

Banp! Bang! One by one, the vessels were smashed to pieces.

When the servants heard the noise, they all ran over.

When they saw Brandon smashing things like a madman in the living room, no one dared to go forward and could only hide in the dark in fear.

They were terrified.

They thought that Brandon was going to destroy the Young’s house.

Brandon was finally tired.

He sat on the sofa and felt something sticky slide down from his fingertips.

He knew it was blood, but he did not care.

Besides Savanna’s antidote, he couldn’t think of anything else.

Brandon had rested enough.

He looked upstairs but did not see Lorena come down.

Brandon smiled sarcastically.

She could be so composed.

He slowly got up from the sofa and was about to leave when he heard Lorena's sad voice from upstairs.

She said, "Aldo, close the door.

From now on, he is no longer the grandson of the Young family.

Make an official announcement later to everyone that Shelton is no longer the president of the Young Group." Brandon sneered and looked upstairs with contempt.

He turned and left.

At the staircase, Lorena stood there with a coal draped over her, motionless, with a bitter face.

She thought, Shelton, you're nothing without the Young Family: I will cut off your way back to New York as well.

Including all your business connections.

Chapter 278

Savanna put the quilt on the bed, fucked Mandel in, and walked out of the children's room. Seeing that there was light in the study room, she walked to the door of the study and was about to reach out to knock on the door.

However, then she remembered that Brandon seemed upset when he came back she didn't know whether it was about work or worrying about her antidote.

Thinking of this, Savanna lowered her hand.

These two days, she could completely sense Brandon's huge anxiety and suffering as well as his strong feelings for her.

Savanna went downstairs and saw Seth chatting with Lizeth. Hearing Savanna's footsteps, Lizeth raised her head and saw Savanna.

Lizeth blushed and left in time.

Seth turned around and saw Savanna.

Seth seemed awkward, and he even blushed. Thinking that Lizeth was married, Savanna reined in.

"Seth.

do you like her?" Seth waved his hand hurriedly, "No." In Savanna said, "Lizeth's husband is in New York.

He is the Seth was dumbfounded when he saw Sivan looking at him simply cheated on her because they lived separately. Lizeth understood her choice.

Meanwhile, Lizeth's husband lied, so she came to the men who could be ruthless.

But then, Lizeth's husband went on his own parents' back.

1. He helped them as well. It had not been long. Lizeth shut the door.

10 Lizeth behind his head buried her

Savanna frowned and said, "Seth, no matter what, I won't cross the bed sheets.
Divorce. Otherwise, I will look down on you." Savanna, in fact, was protecting Lizeth and Seth's marriage based on betrayal would not end up with happiness. Seth understood what Savanna meant. Seth said, "I know.

There's nothing between her and me." Savanna nodded and asked, "Where did you go this afternoon? I don't think Brandon is in a good mood. Seth knew how important Savanna was to Brandon. Seth did not dare to hide anything from her, but he was also afraid that Brandon would blame him if he told Savanna the truth.

After some struggle, Seth chose to tell the truth.

Ever since Savanna had the poison given by Tracy, Brandon often sat alone in the corner, sad.

Sometimes he stared at Savanna in a daze, and his eyes were full of affection.

Brandon wouldn't have been like that if he weren't in deep love.

After hearing Seth's words, Savanna stood silently for a while.

Then she turned and went upstairs to her room.

Savanna was in a daze.

Vaguely, she heard footsteps.

Then a shadow flashed in front of her.

After that, she heard the sound of water flowing from the bathroom.

Savanna reached out and opened the lamp on the bedside table.

The room suddenly became bright.

Brandon came out of the shower.

He looked up and saw Savanna sitting on the bed.

He adjusted his emotions and pretended to be very happy, "Why aren't you asleep?"
"I was.

Then you came back." Brandon said, "I'm sorry, I shouldn't have taken a shower.

The shower in the guest bathroom is broken, so." Savanna smiled, "This is your room as well.

You should shower here." Savanna got up from the bed and reached for the hair dryer.

She pressed the switch, and the hair dryer whirred, she waved at him.

"Come here.

Let me blow dry your hair." Under the lamplight, the tenderness in her eyes could not be ignored.

Her cheeks were rosy and delicate because she had just woken up.

Brandon suppressed the urge in his heart and walked toward her.

In the office, he was a powerful figure, ruling everything.

Yet now, he was actually sitting at the head of the bed obediently, letting her blow his hair for him.

Her fingertips passed through his dense hair, and a grey hair flashed in front of her eyes.

Savanna skillfully dried his hair, took a set of clean clothes from the cloakroom, and even insisted on putting it on him.

Brandon was somewhat at a loss and was even more flattered, "Savanna, what's the matter?"

Suddenly, he thought of the medicine and quickly reached out to stroke Savanna's forehead Savanna took his hand off.

Her fingertips passed through his fingers.

Their fingers interlocked.

Savanna pressed her cheek against his.

Feeling the heat coming from Brandon's skin, she sighed "Brandon, I'm fine.

Really.

Don't be nervous.

From now on, you and I are going to be like these ten fingers."

As she spoke, Savanna looked down at her fingers that were interlocked with Brandon's.

After hearing her words, Brandon grasped her fingers even tighter.

Brandon lowered his head and gently bit Savanna's lips.

He said with difficulty slowly, "OK" That night, the two of them slept in each other's arms, smuggling while seeking emotional comfort from each other.

The next morning, Savanna woke up, and there was no trace of Brandon in the room.

After washing up, she went downstairs and asked Lizeth.

Because Savanna walked into Lizeth and Seth last night.

Lizeth was a little shy when she saw Savanna, "Mr.

Young went to the company with Seth early in the morning."

Then Lizeth ran into her room.

Savanna had breakfast with Mandel.

After that, she took him back to the room to play with Legos Mandel was there playing, while Savanna stood by the floor-to-ceiling windows, enjoying the warm sunlight outside the window.

She lowered her eyes, and she saw a piece of news pop up on her phone screen, It was an official announcement made by the Young Group.

It said, "With immediate effect, Shelton Young will no longer serve as the president of the Young Group, and his replacement for the post is pending." Savanna looked again and confirmed that the news was official.

Her hand holding the phone trembled a little.

She figured that it was Lorena who was behind this after having a tallout with Brandon last night.

Lorena was the executive director of the Young Group and had the privilege to dismiss the president of the Young Group.

Suddenly, she heard the jingle of her phone.

Savanna lowered her head.

She saw the unknown caller ID on the screen.

She did not want to pick it up, but it wouldn't stop.

"Hello."

"Mrs.Cassel, hurry to the company.

Mr.Young and Mrs.Young are quarreling again.

It's pretty ugly.

Mrs.Young even slapped Mr. Young, Mr.Young..."
Seth suddenly paused.

"Mr. Young! Mr. Young, where are you going?"

Seth's voice drifted away.

Savanna's fingers holding the phone broke out in a cold sweat.

She shouted a few times, "Seth! Seth..." After a while, Seth said, gasping, "Mrs.Cassel, we're back.Later."

The phone was hung up.

Savanna was uneasy.

She did not expect that the relationship between Brandon and Lorena would be so stiff because of her.

Soon, a whistle sounded in the yard.

Savanna rushed downstairs.

When she ran to the door, she saw Brandon get out of the car in anger.

Seth, who was behind, trembled and dared not say a word.

“Brandon, what...what happened?”
Brandon walked past her before Savanna finished.

Savanna looked back at Seth.

Seth looked helpless and anxious.

“Mrs.Young drove Mr.Young out of the company.

Now, maybe...” The Young Group declared that Brandon was no longer the president.

What was more, Lorena went to the company early in the morning to kick him out, which was simply outrageous.

Savanna quickly ran upstairs and saw that Brandon had taken off his tie and his coat.

He was sitting on the bed with a face full of anger.

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 279

Chapter 279

Chapter 279

Savanna looked at the red fingerprint on Brandon’s left face and was upset.

She made a cup of coffee for Brandon. “I’m sorry...”

She had just opened her mouth.

Brandon interrupted her, "You did nothing wrong. You don't need to apologize."

Brandon took the cup in her hand and took a few sips of coffee. The hostility he was showing gradually dissipated.

Brandon put down the cup, reached out to hold Savanna, and pulled her to sit on his thigh. He lifted her chin and made her look at him. He said, "Am I useless?"

Brandon was such a proud and tough man, yet he let Lorena ride on his head. Had it not been for the fact that Lorena was his grandmother, Brandon might have stood up to her long ago.

He suffered because Lorena was the only close one to him in the Young family

Seeing the sorrow and disappointment in his eyes, Savanna could feel his frustration deep down. She reached out to cover his lips and shook her head gently. "You are not useless. You are just filial. I am the one who dragged you down. Brandon, let's leave. Let's go back to New York. Ever since you left with Mandel, I have been working hard. The current Thompson Group is different. It is enough to support us three. Besides, with your capabilities, you can definitely bring glory to the Thompson

Group."

Brandon felt better. Savanna's words meant that she had opened her heart, put aside the past, and accepted him completely.

Brandon didn't seem to be that angry anymore. He let go of her chin and held her hand, placing it on his lips and kissing it. "In that case, will others laugh at me for living off you?"

Savanna said, "How is that possible? We are married. The Thompson Group is mine, so, it is yours as well. Besides, if it weren't for you, the Thompson Group would have gone bankrupt a long time ago."

She was right. Brandon reached out to help the Thompson Group secretly back then. Otherwise, the Thompson Group would have been merged long ago. Savanna would never be able to take the group to where it was today.

Savanna repeatedly emphasized that they were married. Brandon was more or less tempted by her suggestion.

“Lorena kicked me out. That’s not the end. Also...”

en

Brandon looked around the room. “She might take this house back as well. In that case, we will end up on the streets. Savanna, I don’t want you to suffer with me. Maybe....”

Savanna was surprised at how ruthless Lorena was.

She even suspected that Brandon wasn’t Lorena’s biological grandson.

Savanna pursed her lips and smiled beautifully, “Say no more. Did you not hear what I just said? Let’s go back to New York.”

After that, Savanna held Brandon’s head and planted a deep kiss on his lips. How could Brandon withstand the temptation? As they kissed, the atmosphere became more titillating. He grabbed Savanna’s slender waist and gently placed her on the bed. His beefy body leaned down.

Brandon suddenly stopped after kissing her for a while Savanna opened her eyes and knew that he was being bothered by something He wasn’t in the mood.

Brandon walked to the balcony to smoke, Savanna tidied up the clothes that he had messed up and got up to go to the cloakroom to pack their clothes.

Savanna quickly packed up their luggage. Mandel ran into the room near lunch, saw the leather suitcase in the corner of the room, blinked, and tilted his head. He asked, “Savanna, where are you going?

“Are we all going?”

Savanna rubbed Mandel's soft sideburns and said tenderly, "Yes. Do you want to go back to New York?"

"Yes, " Mandel answered instantly. He grew up in New York. Although he wasn't as nostalgic as adults, he missed the food in New York.

Seeing Brandon come in from the balcony, Mandel ran over and hugged Brandon's thigh. He raised his head and blinked at Brandon. "Daddy, are we really going back to New York?"

Brandon ran his fingertips across Mandel's tender face. "Go and ask your mommy. It's up to her

now. We'll do as she says."

Mandel snorted and pouted. "Daddy, you don't strike me as a pushover. You surprise me."

Mandel ran out of the room.

Mandel had returned to his former mischievous and glorious self. Seeing that, Savanna felt extremely thrilled. Brandon put his hands around her shoulders and chuckled. His voice was husky and gentle. He said, "You call the shots in our family now. Are you happy?"

"Very. I'm certain that Mandel will be exactly like you when he grows up."

Brandon's thin lips curved into a smile. "Both of us get jealous easily. Indeed, you're right."

Savanna was speechless.

Ben left at noon.

In the afternoon, Brandon brought his family, Jim, Seth, Lizeth, and others back to New York.

After getting off the plane, on the way to the entrance, Savanna pulled Brandon's sleeve and whispered, "Are we going back to the Cassel's house or the Rose Villas?"

Brandon was stunned. "The Cassel's house?"

Savanna suddenly remembered that Brandon did not know that she had bought the house.

“After you left, I bought the Cassel’s house.”

The faint light in the depths of Brandon’s eyes became even brighter. He pursed his lips and chuckled, teasing, “I didn’t know you loved me so much. I got you, finally. Tell me, how long have you secretly loved me?”

Brandon reached out and grabbed her by the waist, causing Savanna to cry out. Her sound made people wander and naturally attracted the attention of the people coming and going.

Savanna blushed and shyly buried her head into Brandon’s chest. She wished she could vanish on the spot.

She had no idea that she could be this content and happy when she was with the love of her life.

After getting out, when they were about to get into the car, Savanna said again, “You didn’t answer me.”

Brandon said, “The Rose Villas.”

Savanna beamed, “I agree.”

Brandon knew that Savanna wanted to go back to the Rose Villas. On the surface, she let him choose.

In fact, she had already decided in her heart.

Tracy’s body was buried in the Cassel’s house. Let alone Savanna, even Brandon didn’t want to think of Tracy again.

If it weren’t for Tracy, he and Savanna wouldn’t have had to bear so much.

They went to the Rose Villas.

Though the villa had been vacant for a long time, the windows were clean, and the place was bright.

The rooms were spotless, and the arrangement of the objects in the rooms didn’t change at all. All of these convinced Brandon of Savanna’s deep affection. And all this time, he didn’t believe her. He even doubted her feelings for him.

“Savanna, thank you.”

Lizeth brought Mandel downstairs. Brandon held Savanna in his arms. Savanna had her back against his chest. The two of them crossed their hands and looked at the slowly setting sun outside the window. Neither of them spoke. They were immersed in the quiet and serene atmosphere, feeling the heartbeat and breathing of each other and the wonderfulness of watching the sunset together.

It turned out that they could be so happy without misunderstanding or estrangement. They weren't longer afraid of anything, even if there were difficulties and obstacles ahead.

Because they were no longer alone, but two wisps of souls that merged. They were bound together. They would never be apart. ,

Chapter 280

At night, after dinner, Lizeth went to divorce her husband. Jim went to find his girlfriend, while Seth played with Mandel in the yard.

Savanna finished cleaning up the dishes. Just as she entered the room, she saw that Brandon was on the phone. Brandon seemed hesitant. He glanced at Savanna. “Alright. I’ll be right there.”

Brandon hung up the phone and said to Savanna, “Bob asked me out for a drink. Do you want to go?”

Savanna smiled bitterly, “What do you think?”

Brandon grabbed her hand and used it to slap himself in the face.

“My fault. What I mean is, do you want to accompany me?”

Savanna said, “I’ll pass. You can go. As long as there’s no female companion.”

Brandon knew her condition wasn’t perfect. Since she was unwilling to go, he would not force her.

He picked up his jacket from the bed and reached out to gently hug her. He kissed her on the forehead. "They enjoy female companionship. I kept my distance from women when there was something between you and me. Let alone now."

"One hangs out with similar kinds."

Hearing Savanna say this, Brandon went back. He stood still and turned back to look at Savanna. He was uneasy. "You have to believe me. You are the love of my life, and you will always be. No woman will ever be a match for you."

Savanna thought, yeah, right. If what you said is true, how do you explain Winnie? You can't get rid of her for so many years. Although everything was in the past, Savanna was still upset whenever she recalled it. Savanna was a human, a woman, and she had feelings. She couldn't get over the painful days.

Savanna didn't want to linger on the past or fight. She waved her hand and turned back to the bathroom. "Just go. Don't keep him waiting."

"Alright."

Brandon looked at her until she walked into the bathroom. Only when she closed the door did he step downstairs.

Savanna had just finished bathing when Mandel knocked on the door and entered.

"Savanna, I want kebabs."

Mandel was sweaty. It was probably because he was running around in the yard just now.

"I'm not feeling well. Let Seth take you."

Savanna was not lying. She did feel weak. Yet she couldn't tell what was wrong with her.

"No! I want both of you to take me there. Seth is always thinking about Lizeth. He is glued to his phone chatting with her. He barely talks to me."

Mandel grumbled.

Savanna found it hard to argue with Mandel. She changed her clothes.

Savanna and Seth took Mandel to the famous barbecue street in New York. There were many people in the night market. The crowd was bustling. Mandel looked at the kebabs in the stalls all the way and kept swallowing his saliva with appreciation in his eyes. Finally, they found the stall that they had visited before. Mandel sat down, and Savanna took a small stool and sat beside him.

The owner soon served the kebabs and some drinks. Savanna did not allow Mandel to drink those sugary drinks. Seeing that she was angry, Mandel did not dare to disobey her. He could only lower his head and eat the kebabs in silence.

Savanna looked up and found that Seth was gone. She figured that he must have been hiding in a corner, chatting with Lizeth.

Savanna did not know what to say about the fact that Seth had feelings for Lizeth.

After the meal, Savanna took a taxi and brought Mandel back. More than ten minutes later, Seth called her and asked where they were. She said that they had gone home. Seth rushed back with sweat on his face. "Mrs. Cassel, I'm sorry. I went to the bathroom, so..."

"It's fine. Did Lizeth divorce the man?" Savanna asked.

Seth said, "The man is a bit difficult to deal with. He wants 75 thousand dollars. How can Lizeth have 75 thousand dollars?"

Seth was distracted. Obviously, he was worried about Lizeth.

Lizeth's husband had great academic qualifications, yet he was also realistic. Breaks-up could be very ugly. Everyone would watch out for themselves.

Lizeth didn't get any benefit from marrying him. And the man cheated on her. Why should Lizeth give him money?

Sensing Seth's indignation, Savanna said, "This has nothing to do with you. Don't get involved."

"OK," Seth answered.

Seth returned to his room. Savanna took a bath for Mandel. After being told some nighttime story, Mandel fell asleep.

Savanna walked out of the children's room. She sat in front of the mirror and picked up a comb to comb her hair. She accidentally pulled off a few strands of hair, and she stared at the gray one.

Savanna was stunned for a moment. Suddenly, she seemed to think of something. She quickly turned her head and glanced back at the back of her head from the corner of her eyes. The gray hair offended her eye.

She thought of what Tracy had said. Tracy said, "With a drop, your hair will grow gray. With a bottle, your body will age."

She quickly took her phone out to take a selfie.

The woman in the photo still had an exquisite face, yet the wrinkles at the corners of her eyes seemed to be more than before. And her skin was not as tight as before. Savanna's calmness was suddenly shattered violently.

Helplessness and fear enveloped her all of a sudden.

Suddenly, she felt her heart racing. She quickly lay down on the bed and closed her eyes to sleep. When she fell asleep, she couldn't think about anything else. As soon as she closed her eyes, a gray-haired woman appeared in front of her. The outline of the woman's face was the same as hers.

Ah...

Savanna was so frightened that she sat up from the bed. She held her head and thought of the woman's face that had just appeared in front of her. Fear and uneasiness slowly overwhelmed her. She was nervous, and she thought of what Brandon said. Brandon said that he wouldn't leave her even if she became old and ugly. That was because he had not seen her wrinkled, ugly face. If she did become ugly and old, would he still be the same?

How many men in this world liked ugly women?

Brandon tried his best to drink less that night because he was thinking about Savanna. He didn't drink much. And it was one in the morning when he came back.

Afraid that he would wake Savanna up, he went to the next room to take a shower. Then he came back to sleep with Savanna in his arms.

The next morning arrived.

Brandon woke up and saw Savanna lying beside him. She did not move. She just watched him with her watery eyes. She kept staring at him after he woke up.

“Savanna..”

Brandon was about to pull her into his arms, but she pressed her hand against his chest. Obviously, she did not allow him to approach her.

Savanna asked, “Where did you shower last night?”

“In the guest room.” Brandon was a bit confused, yet he still answered her truthfully.

Savanna did not say anything. She got up and went straight to the guest room. When she entered the bathroom, she saw that Lizeth was about to take Brandon’s clothes downstairs to wash. Savanna reached out and pulled the clothes from Lizeth. “Leave them to me. You can go down.”

Seeing that Savanna’s face was so cold, Lizeth did not dare to speak. She turned and went down the stairs.

Savanna held Brandon’s white shirt and searched inside and out many times. Seeing that there was no trace on the shirt, she was unwilling to give up. She then picked up his grey coat and started to check it carefully. However, no matter how many times she checked, she still could not find any trace.

In the end, she picked up the clothes and moved them close to her nose. The pungent smell of perfume made her feel so uncomfortable that she couldn’t speak.

Brandon sensed that something was wrong with her and immediately chased after her from the bedroom: He saw her sniffing the clothes he wore last night.

“Savanna, let Lizeth do the laundry. You shouldn’t..”

Savanna interrupted Brandon before he could finish, “What time did you come back last night?”
