

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 311

“Yes.”

“Finish the rest, and you’ll fully recover.”

Brandon was overjoyed. He stared at Savanna’s mask with anticipation.

Brandon helped Savanna take a shower, wrapped her in a bath towel, carried her to the bed, and dried her hair. Savanna’s cheeks were red and her lips were rosy. She pressed down on Brandon’s hand and said, “I can do it myself.”

“Let me serve you.” Brandon smiled and grabbed her wet hair with a gentle expression.

After Brandon dried her hair, Savanna took her pajamas and put them on.

Brandon went to the bathroom to clean himself up after Savanna lay on the bed.

As Brandon took the shower, Savanna picked up her phone and opened iMessage. Neil had texted her, “Ms. Thompson, I’ve found Mia’s whereabouts. An hour ago, someone saw Rafael angrily pulling Mia out of Falcon Fest Bar and getting her into his car.”

Savanna replied, “Okay.”

Savanna opened TikTok. She liked to give thumbs up to financial videos. Therefore, TikTok always recommended many financial videos to her. She noticed that some share prices fell, a company went public, and two famous companies signed a cooperation agreement.

For some unknown reason, Savanna found a short drama. Each episode lasted one minute. Bang! A woman was slapped in the face. She covered her swollen face with burning anger as if she wanted to eat the man who beat her up alive.

The man smiled mischievously. When the woman jumped up and raised her hand to hit him, he grabbed the woman’s arm and pressed her against the wall. He bent down and bit the woman’s lips hard. Blood flowed from her mouth.

The atmosphere became tense.

Although it was not real, Savanna felt nervous.

Savanna saw the names of the actor and the actress. It was Rafael and Mia.

Mia? Savanna immediately replayed the video.

It turned out that this enchanting and sexy woman with dazzling fair skin was Mia.

The door clanked open.

Brandon came out, still wet.

He wrapped a bath towel around his waist. There were drops of water dripping from his chest. He looked sexy and attractive. Brandon dried his body, took off the bath towel, and changed into his pajamas. He sat on the bed to dry his hair.

After that, Brandon turned off the lights and lay down beside Savanna. He pulled her into his arms and placed his chin on the back of her neck. "What are you looking at?"

He glanced at Savanna's phone screen. Savanna was watching a short online drama. Brandon smiled, "I didn't know that you are so interested in this kind of thing."

Savanna said, "Women are different than men both physically and mentally. Men like fighting, killing, or solving mystery cases, but women like to watch ordinary life and romantic love stories."

Brandon did not say anything. After all, he was not a woman. He was unable to understand a woman's mind.

"Go to sleep. It's getting late."

"Alright." Savanna put the phone aside.

Brandon leaned against her back again. Savanna did not refuse his intimate behavior. However, she still, felt uneasy. When she slept with Brandon, she could not take off the mask on her face. After her face was injured, she had never slept with a mask. The mask was too hard and she would feel uncomfortable.

In the darkness, Brandon slowly raised his hand and held the corner of the mask. Savanna was shocked and suddenly opened her eyes. She immediately stopped him, but he said gently, "Don't worry, I won't look at you. Good night."

With Brandon's guarantee, Savanna let go of her hand. Brandon took off the mask on her face. Savanna still did not dare to sleep until Brandon fell asleep. Only then did she slowly close her eyes.

Savanna woke up in the middle of the night. In the darkness, it took her some time to see clearly. The lights outside the window reflected on the ceiling. She looked at it and realized that Brandon was lying next to her. She reached out to search for the mask and quickly put it on. Then she fell asleep peacefully.

In the morning, when she woke up, Brandon was already gone.

Savanna washed up and went downstairs. There was breakfast on the table and also a note, "Baby, good morning. I have a lot of work to do today. I'll leave first."

Savanna imagined Brandon calling her 'baby'. It was very sweet. Being loved made Savanna happy.

She ate the egg and drank warm milk comfortably.

At noon, Seth brought a new mask over. Savanna touched the soft mask and was moved. She never knew that Brandon was such a caring person.

Savanna remembered that when Brandon didn't like her, he treated her very indifferently.

Seth said, "Mrs. Young, the mask is handmade. And it's made of top quality materials. It feels soft. You can wear it while sleeping at night, and you won't feel uncomfortable."

Savanna smiled happily.

Seeing this, Seth felt happy, too. His biggest wish was that Shelton and Savanna could be happy.

Seth left.

Savanna took the mask back to her room and sat at the dressing table. She took off the old mask and put on the new mask.

The style of the masks was the same, but Savanna felt that this new mask was more beautiful.

Neil sent another message. "Ms. Thompson, Mia was raped last night. She wants to sue the rapist. She is in the headlines now."

Savanna frowned and quickly texted back, "Is the rapist Rafael?"

"This morning, the public relations department of the Colon Group quickly replied. I guess it should be Rafael. Ever since Mrs. Young was hospitalized, Mia had disappeared. Rafael has been looking for her everywhere. Last night, Rafael found Mia in Falcon Fest Bar and took her away. No one knew what happened after that. According to the news, Rafael hit Mia. Mia was angry and they got into a fight. Rafael had sex with her out of rage. After that, Mia accused Rafael of rape."

After hanging up the phone, Savanna quickly searched the news. But the headlines of all the platforms were not about Rafael and Mia anymore. It was about another star. Obviously, the Colon Group did the job.

Savanna went to the hospital with flowers and fruits.

Just as she walked to the ward, she saw two policemen coming out of the ward. Savanna leaned sideways and waited for the policemen to pass before she entered the ward.

Hearing the footsteps, Mia thought that the police had returned. Mia shouted impatiently, "I have nothing to say. It was Rafael who raped me..."

When Mia saw Savanna at the door, she swallowed her words.

Mia stroked her brown hair. A strange smile flashed across her face. "Who are you? What are you doing here?"

Savanna smiled and walked over, placing the fruits and flowers on the bedside table.

"Ms. Latimer, I heard that you are sick. I come to visit you."

Mia did not appreciate it at all. "I don't know you. Get lost."

Savanna stood still, and her eyes were fixed on Mia's face. Being stared at by Savanna like this, Mia became impatient, "I don't know you. Why do you come to see me? Tell me, what do you want?"

Savanna smiled and said in a cold voice, "Since you're so straightforward, I'll tell you the truth. You replaced Lorena's pills, right?"

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 312

The smile on Mia's face froze. "Who are you? What right do you have to say that? What proof do you have?"

Savanna said, "Since I dared to come to you, I naturally have evidence."

Savanna clicked her phone and played a video. She then held it in front of Mia.

Mia stared at the video. In a dimly lit room, a blurry shadow crept in. The moonlight from the window fell on her face, lighting it up. She reached for the medicine bottle in the compartment of a desk near the windowsill, pulled out the bottle cap, and poured out the medicine in the bottle. After that, she took some pills of about the same size and filled the bottle up.

Looking at the video, Mia narrowed her eyes slightly, a dangerous glint flashing in them. "What do you want?"

The smile on Savanna's face was gentle, but behind this gentleness was viciousness.

She said, "Mia, you destroyed the surveillance camera. I found a skillful hacker to repair this video. If I hand it over to the police, the police might re-evaluate whether what you just said is true or not."

Mia bit her lower lip and remained silent.

Seeing that the time was right, Savanna got straight to the point. "Who ordered you to do it?"

Mia bit her lips until they bled. She pressed the tip of her tongue against her cheeks and chuckled. "You want to sue the person who instigated me?"

"Of course." Savanna frowned.

Mia said, "Savanna, have you seen the trending topic about stories of the only daughter of the Thompson family two days ago?"

Savanna furrowed her eyebrows. "You made it?"

Mia chuckled again and admitted it generously. "Yes, it was me."

Savanna's breathing was unstable as she angrily asked, "Why? How did I offend you? Why do you slander me like this?"

Mia's voice was soft like a ghost. "You did not offend me, but in this life, I hate you to death. Why can you live a carefree life? Why should I bear everything for you?"

Savanna did not want to meet Mia's aggressive gaze. She turned her face away. "I don't understand what you are saying."

Mia said, "It doesn't matter if you don't understand."

Let me tell you something. Every word I said in that post is true. The only daughter of the Thompson family is you. Your mother is a promiscuous bitch. You are the same. You are all bitches. You deserve to not get happiness."

"Bang." Savanna slapped Mia in the face.

Mia's face tilted heavily. The burning pain on her face made her jump off the bed. She reached out to grab Savanna's hair, but Savanna dodged swiftly.

Savanna quickly pressed Mia to the bed and clutched Mia's neck. She asked with anger, "How dare you slander me and my mother? Mia, the Young family can sue you for attempted murder based on what you did to Lorena. Go find a lawyer and ask how many years you will have to spend in jail?"

Mia suddenly laughed out loud. Because she laughed too hard, her neck and body trembled. In the end, tears came out, but she still did not stop laughing.

"Savanna, you can let me go to jail. In that case, your biological mother will have no one to support her anymore. Do you know how much her medical expenses are now?"

Savanna furrowed her eyebrows. "I don't understand what you are saying."

Mia stopped laughing and said seriously, "Do you know why I posted that on the Internet and pulled some strings to make it a trending topic? Because I also hate you. Lorena is clearly our enemy, but you still look forward to taking care of her for the rest of her life. His grandson has betrayed you time and time again, but you wanted to marry him. Savanna, are you that cheap? Are you crazy about men?"

Savanna clenched her fists. "Shut up."

Mia said, "I believe that you know that you are not the child of Krissa and David. Back then, Krissa and Frank fell in love. But Jolin also liked Frank, so she trapped Frank into a one-night stand with her.

"Krissa, who was pregnant, ran away from home after she found out that. She met David. In a fit of anger, she got a marriage certificate with David. When Krissa was almost seven months pregnant, Frank finally learned that Krissa was pregnant with his child and heard the news that Krissa had married David. Frank came to see Krissa, but Krissa avoided meeting him. It was that night that Krissa had a car accident for the first time.

“She only had a minor injury in the car accident, but she had a miscarriage because of the accident. After that, Krissa was a little mentally ill. In order to deceive Krissa and make her believe that her child was still there, David went to the next ward to take away a baby girl who had just been born. When the woman found that her baby was missing, she was inconsolable and wanted to die. She had been with a man for a few years, but they didn’t get married. When the man found that the baby was missing, he felt relieved. The man then abandoned the woman because of the pressure coming from his family. Perhaps the woman was too sad. After that, she became crazy and silly. She was sold to a gambler. Later, she gave birth to me. However, the gambler began to take drugs. He beat my mom every day because he had no money to buy drugs. The man died because of excessive drug taking. My mom then married a vendor. She gave birth to the son of that vendor. In less than two years, the vendor also died. Isn’t it amazing, like a TV drama?”

Savanna listened quietly and did not say anything.

However, her heart was not as calm as she looked on the surface. Like a stone that had been thrown into a lake, Mia’s words shocked Savanna.

Savanna was expressionless, and her face looked like the surface of the ocean without waves.

Mia could no longer remain calm. She shouted at Savanna, “You want to sue me for that old woman? You want to send me to prison? Savanna, do you know that if it weren’t for her, mother wouldn’t have lost you at all, nor would she have been abandoned by your biological father, let alone marry a drug addict and a vendor?”

Mia sniffed and continued, “Of course, in that case, there won’t be me and Rhett. But I would rather not have been born. In this life, living is too painful.”

Savanna stood in place and did not move, but her face was frighteningly pale.

After a long while, she said, “You changed Lorena’s medicine for revenge?”

Mia said, “What else can it be? Because of that old woman, I lived in utter misery. What do you think is the reason that a woman leads a miserable life? It’s just because of the grudge from many years ago. Not only does Lorena hate Linda, but she also hates Linda’s daughter. Mom and we are both the ones she hates. If you don’t believe me, go and investigate the grudge between Lorena and Linda, as well as her grudge with Colten. You will know if I am telling the truth.”

Savanna turned around and closed her eyes in grief. “I will check it out. If you make it up, I won’t let you go, Mia.”

Savanna left, and Mia flipped the fruits and flowers Savanna had brought over to the floor.

Returning to the Moon Villas, Savanna was restless. She asked Neil to investigate Linda and Colten.

Soon, Neil replied, and Neil’s reply was exactly the same as what Mia had said.

Savanna finally understood Lorena would not accept her as her great-granddaughter-in-law. She also understood why Lorena had always been against her and even ordered Tracy to force her to drink poison.

She finally understood why Brandon had compromised with Lorena time and time again. It was not because he cared about his family relationship with Lorena, but because Brandon did not want to stand against Savanna.

It could also be said that Brandon wanted to protect Savanna. He did not want to involve Savanna in the grudge between the elders.

It turned out that Brandon had considered a lot for her.

In the evening, Brandon came back from work and saw Savanna sitting on the sofa in a daze. He took off his coat and hung it on the hanger. He walked towards Savanna and sat beside her. He pulled her into his arms and asked softly, “What’s wrong?”

“Nothing. I’m fine.” Savanna’s voice was hoarse. It was obvious that she had cried.

Brandon’s heart tightened. He held her chin and gently lifted it. As far as his eyes could see, there were pearl-like tears on Savanna’s face.

Brandon asked anxiously, “What happened?”

Savanna felt sorry for Brandon. She raised her hand and hugged Brandon so tight that Brandon almost could not breathe.

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 313

“I just thought of some sad things in the past, so I wanted to cry.”

Seeing that Savanna was not willing to tell him the true reason, Brandon did not ask any more questions. He just gently patted Savanna's back and comforted her softly, "Let the bygones be bygones. Think more about the future and think about our beautiful life."

Brandon held Savanna's chin and lifted it. Savanna's tearful eyes met Brandon's bright eyes.

Perhaps affected by Brandon's good mood, the sadness in her heart was swept away. She smiled, "Alright."

Savanna could not sleep at night. Brandon noticed it. When Savanna stopped turning and tossing, Brandon got up gently. He looked at Savanna. The mask on her face was shiny in the moonlight. Seeing that Savanna was already asleep, Brandon looked down at his watch. At two o'clock in the morning, he got up and quietly walked to the terrace. He closed the door of the terrace.

Brandon leaned against the white railing and dialed Jim's number. "I need to know where Savanna went today."

After giving orders to Jim, Brandon lowered his head and lit a cigarette for himself. The night wind was a little strong. He tried several times before lighting it up

He took a long pull on the cigarette. His nose and mouth puffed out smoke. His handsome face was immediately shrouded in white smoke. In the dim yellow light, he looked lonely but attractive.

Just as he was waiting quietly, the phone rang. He looked down at his phone. As soon as the call connected, Jim's voice sounded. "Last night, Rafael took Mia away from Falcon Fest Bar. Although the trending topic yesterday morning did not reveal who the man Mia wanted to sue was, we are now sure that it was Rafael. Since we could get this information, I guess Neil must have found it too. Mrs. Young went to the hospital to see Mia."

Jim told Brandon everything he had found.

Brandon ended the call and looked inside. The faint moonlight outlined the graceful curves of Savanna's body. Savanna had a good figure. No matter which way Savanna lay, Brandon found it pleasant to look at her.

Since Savanna went to see Mia, Brandon could vaguely guess why Savanna was in a bad mood.

In the end, she knew the secret that Brandon desperately wanted to hide.

Brandon withdrew his gaze and looked at the distant night sky. The sky was filled with shining stars, and he saw the Milky Way in the depths of the starry sky. He was lost in thought. When he thought that Savanna and he might be separated by his grandma, Brandon got agitated.

Brandon took another two long pulls on his cigarette. When he finished smoking, he returned to the bedroom. He carefully laid down on the bed and reached out to pull Savanna over. His chin was on Savanna's shoulder and he smelled the familiar fragrance from Savanna's body. Brandon's floating heart seemed to find peace in an instant.

After a day of work, he was also tired. Brandon fell asleep soon.

The next day.

The sunlight shone on Savanna and woke her up. Savanna opened her eyes and unexpectedly met a pair of deep eyes. Brandon should have gone to work, but now, he was lying beside Savanna and staring at her in a daze.

Realizing that Savanna had woken up, Brandon stopped his wandering thoughts. He took his clothes and sat up. "What do you want to eat? I'll cook for you."

Savanna subconsciously touched her face and felt relieved when she found that the mask was still there. She sighed and said, "No need. You have to handle company affairs every day. You must be tired. I will go outside to buy food."

Savanna did not care whether Brandon agreed or not and quickly got dressed.

She did not want to stay in a narrow bathroom with Brandon, so she went to the bathroom in the guest room next door to wash up. After that, she immediately ran out of the Moon Villas.

Not long after, Savanna bought two packs of fast food.

When Brandon went downstairs, Savanna had already placed food on the table.

After Brandon finished breakfast, Savanna walked out of the house with Brandon. Before Brandon got into the car, he pulled Savanna over and gave her a peck on her forehead. He said affectionately, "Have a good rest at home. You haven't fully recovered yet. Wait for me to come back."

Brandon's words had two meanings, but Savanna didn't get the deep meaning in Brandon's words.

She thought that Brandon was worried about her health and asked her not to do too much housework. So, she nodded and answered obediently, "Don't worry and go to work. I will be good and won't cause you any trouble."

Brandon gave her a complicated look and got into the car. He drove away.

After Brandon left, Savanna packed up her unfinished breakfast and immediately went to the hospital.

When Savanna entered Mia's ward, Mia was still asleep. Hearing Savanna's voice, Mia woke up with messy hair. Mia saw Savanna and snorted coldly, "Have you checked it?"

Savanna did not speak. Mia asked, "I'm not lying, right?"

Savanna was still silent, but her eyes were fixed on Mia. Perhaps she was comparing her face with Mia's in her heart to see how many similarities there were.

After all, she and Mia were only half-sisters. In terms of appearance, they could only be considered to be somewhat similar. After all, most of a girl's genes came from her father.

Mia felt bored and stopped talking. She sat up from the bed and combed her messy hair with her fingers. She tied up her hair with the rubber band on her wrist, revealing her broad forehead.

"Where is she?"

Mia asked, "Who?"

"You know who I am talking about. Why can't you tell me where she is?"

Savanna raised her voice, a little impatient. In fact, she was not impatient. She just could not accept the truth that Renee was her mother for the time being, as well as the truth that the girl with a sullen face in front of her was her sister.

Mia's eyes suddenly lit up. With a smile on her face, she said in a strange tone, "You know what, you can't separate from Brandon. In this way, you will always be that old woman's enemy, right?"

When Mia said this, she stared at Savanna's face.

Seeing a hint of impatience flash across Savanna's eyes, Mia curled up her lips into a smile.

"I knew it."

Mia looked distressed. "After I found out that you are my sister, I tried to look for you. However, I hesitated after much deliberation. It is meaningless if you don't accept me as your sister, or don't believe everything. Mom is already crazy and doesn't know anything. What she means to us is that the person who gave birth to us is still alive. Since that is the case, it's meaningless for you to see her, isn't it?"

Mia was right.

Savanna looked at Mia with resentment and anger.

"You were afraid that I wouldn't believe you, so you didn't come to see me. Instead, you hurt me to force me to take the initiative to see you, right?"

Mia admitted it. "Yes, is there anything wrong with what I did? You are her daughter and you have the right to know everything. You hate me now because I ruined your relationship with Brandon."

Mia laughed in self-mockery. "In fact, even if I don't speak out about everything, those problems will still trouble you and Brandon. Your life is also unfortunate, but compared with me, you are already considered lucky. You have a foster father who loves you, and a husband who loves you and cherishes you. As for me..."

Mia paused. "I have nothing.

"Savanna, I just can't bear to see that you wanted to live with your enemy. You even gave birth to a son for the grandson of your enemy."

Upon hearing that, Savanna retorted, "Before I gave birth to a child for Brandon, I didn't know about these things. I wasn't blaming you for ruining my happiness. As you said, even if you didn't say it, all of this would come to light sooner or later. I was just a little upset as I suddenly learned that my biological mother is someone else and I have a younger sister and a younger brother. Anyone who meets those things will lose their mind."

Mia held back the smile on her lips. "Now, everything is clear. It depends on what you decide."

“Lorena’s medicine was changed. Brandon was hit by someone and almost died when he went to Spirit Mountain to find medicine for me. These two things happened at the same time. Is it you who did those things?”

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 314

Mia laughed sarcastically, “You are moved?”

“That’s true. That man almost lost his life for you. Women, after all, are sentimental. If it were me, I would be moved.”

Mia lowered her eyes and fidgeted with her fingernails. “If you suspect me, then take it as I did it. You can go find evidence. I will be waiting for the police to arrest me at any time.”

Mia’s words infuriated Savanna. “What nonsense are you talking about? What do you mean by saying those words? Mia, before you did these things, aren’t you aware that you may break the law? And about Rafael, he is notorious. Don’t you know that? Why are you still entangled with him?”

“Is that all you know about him and me?” Mia asked.

The smile on her lips was cold. “You only know part of the truth. Just like other people, you only saw the rumors about me and Rafael. You only saw that I wanted to sue Rafael, but you didn’t know how Rafael hurt me.”

Mia undid the buttons on her clothes and took off her clothes. Her fair and tender chest, shoulders, arms, and slender waist were all covered in purple marks. Deep and shallow teeth marks on her neck were eye-catching... Savanna was shocked.

Mia glanced at Savanna and looked down at her legs. “There are more on my thigh, and the color is darker. Do you want to see them?”

Savanna bit her lips. Her throat tightened. She was so shocked that she could not utter a word.

Mia put on her clothes and took out a pack of cigarettes from her pocket. She then picked out a cigarette and lit it in her mouth. Her fingers that were holding the cigarette could not stop shaking. It could be seen that Mia’s heart was not as calm as she looked on the surface.

The white smoke blurred Mia's beautiful figure. Savanna saw the helplessness and dejection deep in Mia's soul.

She felt sorry for Mia and didn't know what to say.

Mia glanced at Savanna. Her gaze fell on the banana leaves outside the window.

"The world is beautiful, but that is only true for the rich. The poverty and love in the eyes of the rich are not worth a single cent."

The Colon Group was one of the best in Philadelphia when it came to science and technology.

Only the Young Group could be compared with it in the science and technology field.

Rafael was the fourth son of Fabian, the president of the Colon Group. It was said that he once studied abroad for a period of time. After returning, he was lost in the belles, and the woman on his bed was changed every night. If such a cruel man had his eyes on a beauty like Mia, how could Mia resist?

In addition, in order to get money to pay for her mother's expensive medical expenses, Mia was forced to date Rafael.

In the end, Mia and Rafael fell out with each other because of some things and turned hostile to each other. Now, they bring their hatred to the court.

For some reason, Savanna actually felt a trace of heartache when she looked at Mia, who was born into a poor family. She felt that this gentle and weak girl in front of her seemed to have shouldered too much. Savanna looked at the fragile Mia as if she saw herself five years ago. At that time, in order to protect the Thompson Group, she did not hesitate to put down her dignity and run around to ask for help.

She said in a horse but soft voice, as if she was making a promise, "Take good care of yourself. Leave the rest to me."

With that, Savanna left.

Mia finished smoking. She looked at the banana leaves outside the window for a long time.

Savanna gave Brandon a call. "Brandon, can you lend me a sum of money?"

Brandon was working in his office. When he heard what Savanna said, he was not surprised at all. He said in a husky voice, "Hey, we are husband and wife. My money is your money. You can ask Seth for any amount."

Brandon's words touched Savanna. Tears began to well up in her eyes, and they lingered her eyes. "Aren't you going to ask me what I need money for?"

The secretary came in and handed the documents that needed to be signed to Brandon. Brandon took a pen and signed his name. The secretary left.

Brandon stopped the work at hand and pinched his sore eyebrows. He leaned back against the back of the chair, and his voice was gentle. "Savanna, as I said, I trust in you. Even if you want my life, you can take it."

These were not sweet words that were used to dazzle Savanna.

Savanna knew that Brandon had almost lost his life when he tried to get medicine for her, and the long scar on his chest was the best proof that he loved her with his heart and soul.

Hot tears welled up in Savanna's eyes and blurred her eyes. "Brandon, thank you."

Savanna had no words to express her feelings now. In the end, she could only say "thank you."

Brandon was unhappy. "If you speak like this, I will be angry. You are my wife. It is only right for you to spend my money. There is no need to thank me."

"Alright," Savanna adjusted her mood and said.

After ending the call, Savanna could not suppress her sadness for a long time. Finally, she recovered and took a long breath. She called Seth and Seth said that he would send the check to her later.

Before this, Savanna had called Neil to ask for money. Neil said that all of the Thompson Group's money had been invested into the new project, and there was no extra money for her.

That's why Savanna asked Brandon for help.

Seth was very efficient and delivered the check soon.

Savanna personally handed the money to Mia.

Mia did not refuse. On the contrary, she accepted it as if she deserved it. In her opinion, Savanna also had the responsibility to pay for Renee's medical expenses.

Renee was also Savanna's mother.

Savanna glanced at Mia's drip and said, "I just asked the doctor. She said this is your last bottle of medicine. I'll wait here. Take me to see her when you finish the drip."

Mia nodded and acquiesced in the decision.

An hour later, in a hospital in Philadelphia, Savanna saw her biological mother Renee. Savanna finally knew why Mia and she had fair skin. It was because they had both inherited Renee's skin color. Renee had fair skin and was beautiful. Her eyes were bright and clear.

When Renee saw Mia, her lips trembled. "Mia, I don't want to stay here. Take me with you."

There was a faint trace of fear in her voice, and her face was filled with impatience.

Mia took a comb and combed Renee's hair. "Mom, it's good here. Just stay here. Tell me what you want to eat. I'll buy it for you."

"Bang."

The slap sound was crisp and clear.

Mia's face tilted to the side, and a burning pain spread across her face. She looked up at Renee, who stood up and slapped her with a fierce look in her eyes. Mia was annoyed. She broke the comb, smashed the comb on the floor, and stamped it with her foot. "Do you have a death wish?"

Seeing that Mia was about to blow up, Savanna stepped forward to stop her and pulled her behind her. She looked at this temperamental woman in front of her with sadness.

"Mia has worked hard for this family. You can't do this to her."

Savanna finally understood Mia's grievances. Not only did she have to bear the expensive medical expenses of her mother, but she also had to face her mother who might get mad with her at any time and her ignorant brother.

What was worse, she still remembered the grudges of the elders.

"Who are you?" Renee stared at Savanna, a vicious look crossing her face. "What right do you have to tell me what to do?"

Savanna was speechless. "I didn't. I just feel sorry for Mia. If she was born into another family, she should still be in college. Can't you consider her feelings?"

Renee had just finished arguing with a lunatic. She was angry. She wanted Mia to take her away, but Mia refused, so she slapped Mia.

She had never thought that the woman Mia brought over would reason with her.

Renee's anger was suddenly ignited by Savanna. "She is my daughter. I gave birth to her and raised her, so she has to work for me. I can beat her and scold her. No matter how painful it is, she has to endure it. Who are you? What right do you have to interfere in my family affairs?"

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 315

Chapter 315

Savanna was at a loss of what to say in the face of her biological mother, who seemed to be unreasonable and angry. Renee thought that Savanna was afraid of her, so she spoke even more unscrupulously, "Hey, are you ugly, or have you disfigured? You don't even dare to show your true face. How dare you shout at me?" As Renee's words got more outrageous, Savanna's lips got paler. Mia grabbed Renee and begged for mercy, "Mom, you can hit me and scold me. I have no complaints, but she is different. You'd better take away your hands." Renee shook off Mia, as if she would not let Savanna off. "Is she your friend or your classmate? She's so young. Why is she wearing a mask? She must have done a lot of bad things and was chased by her enemies. Is that so?" Mia glanced at Savanna, Unable to bear it any longer, she roared, "She is the daughter you lost and have been looking for for many years." Renee paled as she heard it. There was a buzzing in her ears. At this moment, she felt as if she could not hear any sound in the world at all. Mia's words kept ringing in her ears. In an instant, Renee felt as if her brain was short of blood. A numbing pain spread from her cervical spine to the top of her head. Her legs went limp, and she was about to fall down. Mia stepped forward to support her in time. Savanna wanted to go forward to help her, but she felt it was inappropriate. Of course, she was more worried that Renee would not recognize her, refused her, and got mad with her. Therefore, she just clenched her fists and did not move. Renee was helped to sit in the chair by Mia. She panted as she stared at Savanna's face. She did not seem to believe what Mia had said. Although Mia was a little rebellious, she knew that Mia was kind-hearted inside and would not lie to her. Renee's eyes slowly turned tearful. Her lips trembled as she asked, "Are you really my daughter?" Savanna pursed her lips and remained silent. Renee got up and staggered over to Savanna. Her steps were unstable, and her whole body was shaking as if she had just had a big operation. Savanna tried several times, but she couldn't help it, so she reached out and held Renee's arm. Renee did not reject her. Instead, she extended her trembling hand and slowly touched Savanna's soft mask. Tears rolled down from the corners of her eyes. Renee was so excited that her entire body trembled. Mia sighed, tears glistening in her eyes. She said, "Yes, she is my sister. I found her for you. Her name is Savanna Thompson." The emotional atmosphere got even sadder because of Mia's words. Renee seemed to be clear-headed. Her expression was no longer as fierce as before. She stared at Savanna with gentleness in her eyes. A mood of melancholy descended on Savanna. She held back her tears. When she was about to say something, Renee's hand that was holding her mask suddenly changed direction. Savanna realized that Renee was about to remove her mask. Her eyes widened. She slapped Renee's hand away and quickly turned around with her back to Renee. Ever since Mia learned that Savanna was the daughter Renee lost when Savanna was a baby, she had been keeping an eye on Savanna and Brandon's movements. She knew very well what happened to Savanna's face. Mia knew that Savanna cared a lot about her appearance, especially in front of Brandon.

seeing that Renee was about to walk forward again, Mia grabbed her hand and pleaded in a soft voice, "Mom, her face is injured. She can only wear a mask for the time being. Don't push her too hard, okay?" When Renee heard that Savanna was injured, she felt sorry for Savanna. She did not dare to ask Savanna what happened. She was afraid that Savanna would turn around and run away, so she grabbed Mia's hand and anxiously said, "How did she get injured? Is it serious? Can she recover?" Seeing her mother so anxious, Mia was afraid that she would be unable to suppress her emotions. She said in a hurry, "She will recover. It's just..." Mia looked at Savanna. When she saw that Savanna had slowly turned around, her worried heart finally found some peace. "She has to wear a mask for now. When her face recovers in the future, she will let you see it, okay?" Mia was afraid that Renee would go mad Set Bonus again, so she persuaded Renee carefully. Renee's eyes were glued to Savanna's face from beginning to end. After a while, she seemed to have thought of something. She walked over and stood in front of Savanna. She was about the same height as Savanna. She looked into Savanna's eyes. Her voice was very soft and gentle, "I know that it is a little difficult for you to accept me as your mother right now. But, my dear daughter, I have been missing you for more than twenty years. Please forgive my rudeness just now." Renee rubbed her hands. It could be seen that she was extremely nervous. She apologized to Savanna for her impolite behavior just now. Savanna could not ignore Renee's trembling body and panicked eyes. Her mother was always an abnormal person. Perhaps, that was related to her loss. Savanna said, "I won't blame you. You don't have to be so nervous." Renee's heart which was about to jump out other throat finally calmed down. Renee took a deep breath. She tried a few times before she firmly grasped Savanna's hand. Her face was full of worry, and she spoke incoherently, "My dear daughter, I finally found you. It's great that you're back. Your father won't blame me. Let's go and see your father." Savanna didn't move and looked at Mia in confusion. When Mia heard Renee mention Savanna's father, Mia scolded Renee, "Are you crazy again? He doesn't want you anymore. Why do you still want to see him?" Renee couldn't forget her first lover. That's what Mia hated the most about Renee. Renee's expression changed, and she suddenly shouted at Mia, "What do you know? Life has been hard for him in the past years. If I hadn't lost his daughter, he wouldn't have treated me like that. Now that I have found his daughter, he will be happy and forgive me."

seeing that her mother was being unreasonable again, Mia was upset and anxious. She covered her forehead with her hand and said, "How many times have I told you? Back then, he used the excuse that you lost his daughter to break up with you. Mom, it's been so many years. Why are you still thinking about him? He's living a wonderful life." In order to make Renee give up, Mia continued, "He appeared on the news every day. His career is getting bigger and bigger, and his relationship with his wife is getting better and better. His sons are excellent. You are just one of the girls he had for fun when he was young." "Shut up." Renee stepped forward and slapped Mia again. Mia did not care and shouted at Renee, "You will never be willing to face reality. You said that he loves you, but did he ever come to see you once over the past years? When we were in trouble, did he lend a hand?"

Renee was stunned for a moment. She suddenly lost her mind. She anxiously walked back and forth. She then stopped and looked at Mia with burning eyes, "He was busy, so he didn't come to see me. He told me that he never liked Ashley Baber. They married for business purposes, and the woman he loves is always me." Renee was stubborn. Mia felt frustrated. She shouted desperately, "How many a man's words can be taken seriously? Besides, he said those words to you twenty years ago. Perhaps, in his heart, he has long forgotten your appearance and even you." Renee flattered herself and always thought that she was loved. Renee probably couldn't stand Mia's words. She began to smash things and lost her mind. No one could persuade her. When she went crazy, it was quite terrifying. Savanna was afraid that Renee would hurt herself, so she rushed forward to control Renee. Unexpectedly, Renee grabbed Savanna's hand and bit it. Hiss. A sharp pain ran through Savanna, causing her to break out in cold sweat. When the emergency alarm rang, the do rushed over. He injected a tranquilizer into Renee's fair skin. Renee rolled her eyes and immediately fainted. Savanna and Mia carried Renee onto the bed. Savanna removed Renee's shoes. Mia was so tired that she collapsed into a chair. After resting for a while, Mia went to pay Renee's medical fees. Just as Savanna was about to ask Mia about something, Brandon called, "You're not home?" "I came out for something and will be back soon." Brandon went back home from work and did not see Savanna, so he called. "Alright." Brandon hung up. When Mia heard it was a call from Brandon, her face turned cold. She walked out of the ward and leaned against the wall to smoke. Savanna followed and whispered, "It's not good for your health to smoke too much." Although Mia agreed with that, she still lowered her head and gave a long pull to her cigarette, as if she wanted to vent all the depression in her heart. "Can you tell me who my biological father is?" From the intense argument between Renee and Mia, Savanna could tell that her biological father was not only still alive, but also a very capable person. When he was young, he once loved Renee, and she was the evidence of their love.

Chapter 316

The way Mia looked at Savanna was very indifferent. She gave a weird laugh and drew on the cigarette butt with her bright red lips. The red sparks of the cigarette butt reflected faintly on her face, matching the street lamps. Mia blew out the smoke rings, moved her bright red lips, and said slowly, "He once abandoned your mother, and he has never looked for you. In other words, he never cared about you. Do you want such a father?" Savanna said, "No, I don't. But I have the right to know." Mia tittered and said in a cold voice, "Yes, you do have the right to know. But now, I am not in the mood to tell you. You can have someone look into it." Mia stuffed out the cigarette butt and threw it into the trash can. Then she left. Savanna had no qualification to blame Mia. If she were Mia, Savanna would not do better than Mia. Savanna walked out of the mental hospital with Mia. Savanna looked up and saw a red fancy Maybach speeding over. With a creak... The wheels rolled hard on the ground. Dust swirled in the air and choked Mia's throat. Mia couldn't help but cough. Looking down at the wheel less than half an inch from her toes, Mia was slack-jawed. Before Mia recovered from the shock, her arms were tightly held by someone. The next second, her mouth was covered by a cold palm. The car door opened, and Mia was quickly dragged into the car. Then the car roared away. Seeing this scene, Savanna was stunned at the place. By the time she recovered from the shock, the car had disappeared. Savanna sprinted in the direction where the car disappeared for a long time. She didn't stop until her legs trembled and she could hold on anymore. Savanna took out her phone and dialed 911 while panting. When the call came through, Savanna gave the police the address and briefly told them about what had happened. After that, she called Brandon. Brandon answered the phone, "I am preparing the ingredients for dinner and waiting for you to cook when you are back. How long will it take for you to get home?" Savanna brushed away the hair on her forehead. She was still slightly out of breath from running. "Mia was kidnapped. Brandon, what to do?" Brandon frowned. He dropped the kitchen knife in his hand, took off the apron on his waist, and asked, "Were you with Mia just now?" "Yes... Ah..." Savanna's voice became unclear. "Savanna," Brandon shouted a few times in a row, but Savanna's voice was replaced by the busy tone of the phone. Brandon realized the seriousness of the situation. He grabbed the car key and shouted to Seth in the living room, "Go with me. Something might have happened to Savanna." Seth exited the game, got up from the couch, and rushed to the yard. Brandon had started the engine. Seth jumped into the car. Then the car rushed out of the Moon Villas. Brandon located Savanna's position according to their phone call just now. Brandon and Seth arrived at the scene of the accident at the highest speed. However, Savanna was not there. Instead, a police car parked there. A policeman came over to ask questions. Brandon told him about his relationship with Savanna. The policeman handed the phone he had picked up on the ground to Brandon. The policeman said, "Just now, we received a call from Mrs. Young and came over. We saw the phone on the ground, but Mrs. Young was missing. We checked the surveillance of this street and found that Mrs. Young was kidnapped by someone. We are locating the target. Mr. Young, can you tell us if you have had any conflicts with anyone in business recently? Or, have you offended anyone?" Brandon thought for a while and replied with certainty, "No." "Okay." The policeman drove to look for Savanna. Brandon didn't move but stared blankly in the direction where the mottled shadows flashed. His expression was sinister and vicious. His eyes were filled with cruelty. Brandon stood under the street lamp. His tall shadow was lonely and cold. Instantly, the surroundings were filled with killing intent. Jim brought his people over. "Mr. Young, these guys are too arrogant. They dare to offend you." Brandon thought of Savanna's words "Mia was kidnapped, Brandon, what to do?" The bad guys should have kidnapped Mia first and then taken Savanna away. The person who had an entanglement with Mia was the one who had taken away Savanna and Mia. Brandon smiled coldly, "Find out where Rafael is." Seth and Jim got the order and immediately used their connections to check. Soon, they got the news that Rafael had a drink at Falcon Fest Bar tonight. Brandon took Jim and Seth to Falcon Fest Bar directly Gary Burton, the manager of Falcon Fest Bar, came over. Seeing that Brandon and his men were very aggressive, Gary was very respectful. Seth grabbed Gary's collar and asked fiercely, "Where is Rafael?" Gary winced his neck. He didn't know the grudges between this group of people and Rafael, so he pointed outside. "Ten minutes ago, Mr. Colon drove his fancy car away. He looked very anxious. I don't know what happened." Brandon turned to walk out. Seth loosened Gary's collar, pointed to Brandon with his fingertip, and threatened, "If Mrs. Cassel loses a single hair, I'll punish you." Gary's legs went weak. He slumped onto the sofa and wailed in his heart, whom did Mr. Colon offend? I am just a manager of the bar. I can't take the consequence of offending the big shot. Gary got a feeling that the man in the lead had an extraordinary temperament and looked familiar. After thinking for a long time, Gary finally remembered that the man seemed to be Shelton, the heir of the Young family in Philadelphia, who had just returned to the Young family. Gary dialed Rafael's number with his shaking finger. Thankfully, the phone was connected. Gary was overjoyed. "Mr. Colon, Shelton was looking for you just now. I wonder if you offended him. Please don't get me involved in this. I didn't do anything wrong." Rafael was standing in a closed warehouse. His sharp eyes were like a wolf staring at Mia and Savanna in front, whose heads were covered by clothes and whose hands were tied, sitting in a row. Hearing Gary's words, Rafael unbuttoned the two buttons on his shirt and cursed a swear word. Gary was about to say more, but Rafael hung up. Rafael threw away the cigarette butt from his fingertips. "Warren." Rafael winked at the guy next to him and tilted his head. Warren understood tacitly and quietly walked to Savanna on the left. Warren grabbed Savanna's slender arm and pulled her up from the corner. When he was, about to drag Savanna out, Savanna hit Warren's chest with her head hard, which was out of Warren's expectations. Warren was caught off guard, so he was slammed to the wall by Savanna. "Ouch!" Warren's waist hit the wall, and he screamed in pain. Seeing that Savanna's resistance worked, Mia, who was in the corner, began to cry out. Warren was afraid that Mia would run away, so he quickly rushed over and pushed Mia against the cold wall. "Fuck! So I have to do it the hard way." Rafael walked over to Savanna while cursing. He grabbed Savanna's hair and fiercely smashed her head against the wall. However, Savanna bit Rafael's hand very hard. It hurt so much that Rafael was covered in a cold sweat. Rafael endured the great pain in his hand and was about to slap Savanna with his other, hand. Just then, Savanna took the opportunity to knock Rafael to the ground.

Rafael's palm happened to be scratched by a rusty nail, and it hurt so much that he winced. Rafael was flustered and exasperated. He shouted at his guys outside, "Are you dead? Come in and hold her down." Rafael thought that women were born weak and easy to bully. When he caught them, Rafael was negligent. He only had his guys tie Mia's hands and feet. As for Savanna, he only tied her hands and pasted tape on her mouth. Savanna was smart enough to make use of the convenience of her feet to knock Warren and him down. Hearing Rafael's scolding, all of his guys rushed in from outside. Soon, Savanna, who was crazily resisting, was subdued, and the clothes covering her head were removed. Savanna's pale and furious face appeared in front of Rafael. When Rafael saw Savanna's face, his eyelids, twitched. Rafael thought to himself, why did this woman look like my father?

Is she the reason why Shelton went to Falcon Fest Bar to find me? Rafael pointed at Savanna and said angrily, "I wanted to have Warren let you go, but unexpectedly, you don't appreciate my kindness. Since this is the case, I won't have to let you go for Shelton's sake. Santino, bind a big stone on her and sink her into the river,"

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 317

A cold breeze blew across her skin. Savanna's heart missed a beat. She felt that something was missing from her face, so she instinctively touched her face. Her fingertips did not touch the soft mask, but her tender skin. She gently pinched it, and the pain came. Savanna quickly lowered her head and covered her face when looking for the mask. At that time, Mia, who was in the corner, had already broken free from the ropes and pulled off the clothes covering her head. She was fighting against Warren. Mia used so much force that Warren's head hit the wall. The back of his head was swollen. It hurt so much that he cried out in pain. Mia glanced at Savanna. Seeing that Savanna was being dragged out by Santino and the others, Mia bent down and picked up the mask that Savanna had dropped on the ground. Mia was about to give it to Savanna when Rafael strode over to her in large strides with his face gloomy. Rafael grabbed her arm. Mia held his arm and bit it hard. Rafael could even hear the sound of his flesh cracking. Rafael couldn't bear the pain. He fiercely slapped Mia in the face. Rafael had hit her so hard that Mia fell to the ground, her ears ringing, and she could not hear anything. The strong smell of blood spread all over her mouth. Mia grinned, and blood seeped out of her teeth. She bit her lips, and her eyes were fierce and indomitable. She rushed to Rafael. Warren rushed up and grabbed Mia's hair. Feeling her scalp go numb from pain, Mia cried out in pain. When Warren pulled Mia out of the warehouse, Savanna had already been pulled out of the warehouse by Santino and the others. Savanna grabbed the door and refused to get in the car no matter what. Mia was afraid that Savanna would drown and Brandon would be angry. She turned around and shouted to Rafael behind her, "Mr. Rafael, believe it or not, she's your sister." Rafael was striding out of the warehouse. He lowered his head and rubbed his hand that had been bitten by Mia. When he heard Mia's shout, he looked outside. His lips curled up into an evil smile as he said ruthlessly, "Mia, who gave you the courage? How dare you offend me?" Seeing that Rafael did not believe her words, Mia was almost desperate. In an instant, her eyes became ruthless, "Rafael, even if you don't believe that she is your sister, you know she is Shelton's wife, right? Later, when Shelton comes, don't cry." Rafael smiled evilly. "Do you think I will be scared? Mia, if you are obedient, why should I treat you like this?" Rafael walked over and held her slender chin. He said meaningfully, "A day together as husband and wife means endless devotion for the rest of your life. Besides, the relationship between us is more than that."

Rafael waved his hand and strode out. When he passed Savanna, he looked at Savanna with cold and evil eyes. Mia was dragged down the ladder by Warren and brushed past Savanna. Mia was helpless. Seeing that Mia was dragged into Rafael's car by Warren, Savanna was furious and wanted to chase after her. Santino grabbed her arm. They forced her to get in the car. Brandon couldn't find Rafael's whereabouts. They immediately rushed to the Colon Group. Fabian was in the office dealing with company affairs. The internal line rang, and he picked up the phone. "Hello." "Mr. Colon, Mr. Young of the Young Group wants to see you. He is downstairs now." "Shelton?" Fabian raised his eyebrows. The receptionist said, "Yes." The Colon Group had never cooperated with the Young Group. Fabian hesitated for a moment and asked, "Did he say why he came here?" The receptionist said, "He didn't say it, but it seems that Mr. Young is very anxious." Fabian had been paying attention to the projects of the Young Group. He actually liked Shelton, who had just returned to the Young family. Fabian had asked his secretary to send a message to the Young Group, showing the Colon Group wanted to cooperate with the Young Group. However, they did not get a single reply. Shelton was very proud. Fabian was dissatisfied with that. He didn't expect Shelton to come to him. But the Colon Group had nothing to do with the Young Group. He wondered why Shelton came to him today. "Let him come up here." Fabian hung up the phone. In the past, if Fabian knew that Shelton was here, he would, definitely go downstairs to welcome him. But Shelton looked down on him. As the president of the Colon Group, he could not disgrace the Colon Group. He wanted to put on air. Two minutes later, someone knocked on the door. Fabian checked his appearance and walked over to open the door. To his surprise, the man standing at the door looked cold and aggressive. At the commercial meeting in Philadelphia, Fabian had seen Brandon before. Naturally, he knew Brandon. When he met Brandon's deep and dark eyes, Fabian raised his eyebrows. "Mr. Young, why didn't you inform me in advance? I would have gone down to welcome you." Brandon did not move. His lips were pursed coldly, and he did not speak. Fabian knew that Brandon must be here for something. He politely welcomed Brandon into the room. Fabian invited Brandon to sit and asked his secretary to make a cup of coffee for him. However, Brandon did not buy that. His voice was very soft, but his words were ruthless. "Mr. Colon, your son has already kidnapped my wife for almost an hour. If anything happens to her, I will ruin your entire company and you." Fabian suddenly gasped. He held his forehead and asked, "Mr. Young, do you have any evidence?" "Bang." Something smashed in. "Ah!" Someone screamed. Fabian looked down and saw a man with a bleeding face. The man knelt in front of Fabian, trembling. "Mr. Colon..." Fabian felt that the situation was serious. He said with a long face, "Speak." The bleeding man trembled as he stuttered, "When Mr. Rafael was in Falcon Fest Bar, I heard Mr. Rafael secretly discuss with Warren about the woman who sued him, Mia. He said he would teach her a lesson. Mia Was with Mrs. Young. Then, Mr. Rafael kidnapped them.” Fabian was furning with anger. “Kidnapped? “Do you think the Colon family are gangsters?” The manager of Falcon Fest Bar was timid. He knew that he couldn’t afford to offend both sides. He weighed the pros and cons in his heart and decided to support Brandon. After all, Brandon was in the right. The manager said, “They really said that back then. I have surveillance videos.” Originally, Brandon and the others had left. Somehow, after ten minutes or so, they came back and took him here. The manager felt that he was so unlucky that he wanted to cry. It had nothing to do with him. He had only overheard the conversation between Rafael and Warren. Brandon had captured him to be a witness. Seeing that Fabian doubted it, the manager became anxious. He walked to Fabian on his knees and held Fabian’s trousers. “Please, Mr. Colon, hurry up. Otherwise, if it’s too late... and something happens to Mrs. Young...” The manager glanced at Brandon and did not dare to continue. Since the manager had already said that, Fabian had to believe it. Fabian had a headache. He immediately smiled at Brandon. “Mr. Young, if my son really did such a thing, I will not let him go.” Fabian took the phone and went to the break room. He called Rafael, but Rafael did not answer. He could only call Santino. Santino was busy tying stones around Savanna’s waist. When he saw the strange number on the screen, he picked it up and shouted, “Who? What is it?” “Where’s Rafael?” When Santino heard Fabian’s voice, he immediately stopped tying Savanna. He stood up and chuckled, “Mr. Colon, what can i do for you?” Fabian gave the order, “Tell me, where is that bastard?” When Brandon kicked open the door to the hotel room, Rafael had already taken off his coat. He was pressing Mia under his body, wanting to rape her. When Rafael heard the door open, he quickly got up. When he saw Brandon, whose face was filled with killing intent, Rafael took a step back in shock. “You...” Suddenly, Rafael was slapped. Rafael gritted his teeth and shouted, “Damn, you dare to hit me? You fucking...” Rafael raised his head. When he saw the person who had hit him, his legs went limp and he knelt down. “Dad.” “Where is Savanna?” Seeing that there was a strange woman with disheveled hair on the bed, Brandon searched everywhere but could not find Savanna. He rushed over in a hurry and grabbed Rafael by the collar, pushing him to the corner of the bed. He held Rafael’s neck, and the sound of bones breaking was heard. “Where is Savanna?” Rafael’s face was dark red from lack of oxygen. His lips trembled for a long time before he managed to say, “She... She ... was taken by Santino ... into the river.” Brandon punched Rafael’s face. It was very fierce and sharp. He threw Rafael away and ran out of the hotel at a fast speed.

The Maybach's wheels rolled over silt, with sand flying in the air. The car stalled. Brandon jumped out of the car. A fierce kick landed on Santino's chest. Santino spat out a mouthful of blood and fell back. Then Brandon kicked the other two into the river. Brandon reached out and pulled apart the stone that was pressed on Savanna. Brandon carried Savanna up in his arms. from the silt. Savanna had been exhausted by the torment. In a blur of consciousness, she suddenly felt her back lighten. Then a pair of strong arms wrapped around her. Savanna opened her eyes lazily. In a trance, she seemed to see a man's firm chin, clear contours, and sexy protruding Adam's apple. Such a handsome man would not be someone else, but her man, Brandon.

savanna panted. She was carried into the back seat of the car. Seth and Jim drove over. Seth immediately took the driver's seat and started the engine. Brandon held Savanna so tightly that he wished to combine with her in one. Savanna wanted to say something. Her lips moved, but in the end, she could not say it because she was too tired. Savanna was so sleepy that her eyelids closed lazily again. Brandon lowered his head and looked at Savanna's face, which was so close to him. Although her skin was not as delicate as before, her facial features were exactly the same as that before. Brandon caressed the rough skin on Savanna's face with his trembling fingertips. His heart was filled with sadness and distress. He blamed herself in his heart, why am I always unable to protect Savanna? When Brandon just ran out of the hotel, Fabian walked over, gave Rafael several slaps angrily, and roared, "You bastard!"

Before he left, Fabian gave Rafael a hard kick. Rafael knelt on the ground. It hurt so much that Rafael almost couldn't stand up. After Fabian left, Warren quickly came over to help Rafael and muttered, "Mr. Rafael, you don't seem to be Mr. Colon's biological son." Mia rolled her eyes at Rafael, put on her coat, and left. As soon as Rafael returned to the Colon's house, he was called to the study by Fabian. There was another round of criticism. Ashley stood on the stairs and looked at the closed. the door of the study. Her eyes were calm, but the ends of her eyes were secretly filled with a touch of cruelty. It could be seen that Ashley was not as gentle and graceful as she appeared to be. After a while, the study door was open, and Rafael came out. He rubbed his nose that had been hit and almost broken by Brandon. This was the first time that Rafael had experienced Brandon's ruthlessness.

Rafael looked up and saw Ashley standing in front of him at a glance. Ashley's expression did not change, but her glance at Rafael was cold, and it seemed to be with a trace of tenderness. Perhaps it was also with a bit of pain that Rafael would not notice. "Mom." Rafael chased down the stairs, grabbed Ashley's wrist, and said pitifully, "Mom, I did not know that she was Shelton's woman." Ashley looked up at Rafael, but she still did not say anything. Rafael panicked a little. In the past, no matter how big of a mistake Rafael made, Ashley would always be on his side and protect him in front of Fabian. But now, when Fabian hit him and scolded him, Ashley seemed to be indifferent. Without his mother's protection, Rafael was at loss about what to do. A trace of fear rose in his heart. After a long time, Ashley sighed and said, “steak up with Mia, OK?” Seeing Rafael lowering his eyes, Ashley raised her eyebrows slightly and asked softly, “What? Are you not willing to?” Rafael clenched his fingers and decisively replied, “OK, I will.” Ashley noticed that Rafael’s tone was tangled with a hint of love. She said in a light voice, “If you don’t break up with her, I won’t help you with your matters in the future. You’d better weigh the pros and cons yourself.” Rafael’s eyes became deeper, and he said coldly, “Got it.” Savanna woke up from the nightmare. In the dream, she was tied to a big stone on her waist and sunk into the river. Her nose and mouth were filled with salty seawater, which made it hard for her to breathe. Just when she was about to be swallowed by the darkness, Savanna opened her eyes and woke up. Savanna thought, am I in the underground?

It shouldn’t have a green curtain in the Punderground, and it was a style I am familiar with. Her eyes swept around. It seemed to be... the room of her and Brandon in the Moon Villas. Savanna wondered, my soul came back for a visit? Savanna pinched her cheeks and felt the pain. She took two more breaths and saw her chest rising and falling. Savanna was overjoyed. She realized that she was not dead and that it was just a dream just now. Savanna was so delighted to be alive. She was going to find Brandon, but she stopped when she just took a step forward. It was because she found that the soft layer of things on her face was gone. The mask was gone! Where was her mask? Savanna started to look for her mask everywhere. Her consciousness returned, and scattered memories surged in her mind. The mask should have fallen when she was tied by Rafael and struggled in the warehouse. Savanna frowned. In her vague memory, there seemed to be a pair of strong hands pulling apart the big stone on her back, and then she was held tightly in his arms. In the blur of her consciousness, Savanna could feel the scent of pine that had filled in the tip of her nose. It belonged to Brandon. Suddenly, Savanna’s eyes widened. She rushed to the dresser and looked at herself in the mirror. Her face was pink. Her eyes narrowed slightly. Savanna saw that her face had recovered. Savanna laughed. This was a great surprise. So Brandon did not see her ugly face. No wonder when Savanna pulled off her clothes that covered her head, Rafael did not look at her in surprise.

savanna could not suppress the excitement in her heart. She ran downstairs and saw Brandon cooking in the kitchen. Brandon sensed a gaze at him at the door. He turned back and happened to meet Savanna’s smiling face. “I was just wondering how long it would take for you to wake up.” Savanna revealed a sweet smile on her face. She walked over and reached out to wrap around Brandon’s sturdy waist from behind. Savanna pressed her face against Brandon’s broad back and muttered, “Thank you so much, Hubby.” Brandon’s hand that was cutting vegetables paused, and his throat rolled slightly. He said in a hoarse voice, “What did you call me?” “Hubby.” Savanna’s clear and sweet voice swept away the haze in Brandon’s heart. Brandon put down the kitchen knife and turned around. He held Savanna’s slender waist with his palm, carried her up, and put her on the crystal table. Brandon placed himself between Savanna’s legs. Brandon lowered his head slightly, and they could hear each other’s breathing. “Call me again.” His lips pressed against hers, and the end of his voice trembled with excitement. “Hubby, Hubby, Hubby...” Brandon was so excited that he couldn’t control himself. He sealed Savanna’s mouth, which kept voicing out “Hubby”. Savanna and Brandon had two years of marriage and five years of separation. When they met again, there were too many entanglements and grudges between them. Savanna had never called Brandon “Hubby” before. How could Brandon not be excited? The word “Hubby” was a title exclusive to a man from his woman. It had never changed since ancient times, and it would not change forever.

Brandon felt an adrenaline rush when he heard this title from Savanna, his beloved woman. When the passion slowly faded away, Savanna’s flushed face was like a blooming flower, pure and alluring, which hooked Brandon’s heart and soul. Brandon looked at Savanna with a deep gaze as if he was drunk. Brandon stared at Savanna for a long time. Then he lowered his head to kiss her sweaty neck and gently sucked on the soft flesh of her neck. Brandon hugged and kissed Savanna again and again for a long time.

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 319

Outside the window, the sunlight penetrated the clouds and shone into the room, bright and dazzling

Savanna opened her eyes. Brandon was no longer by her side. She reached out and touched the lingering warmth on the pillow, which showed that everything last night was not a dream. It was all real.

Savanna covered her face. The warmth of her face came to her fingertips. Savanna could clearly feel her body temperature. Before, she could only touch the mask. The soft mask had been her sore point in the past two months.

Savanna got up and combed her hair. She looked at her red lips and bright eyes in the mirror. Thinking of last night, Savanna blushed, and so did her neck.

Savanna got dressed and was about to go downstairs when the green light of the phone flashed and prompted her that there was a message.

It was Neil. “One of the men being kicked into the river by Mr. Young last night went to the South Court Clinic after he got up. After he left the clinic, I went in and asked the doctor. The doctor said that the man was called Byron Ross. He was cut in the hand some time ago and came to change the medication in the past two days.

“I just called to ask Jim. Jim said that during the chaos, he cut the arm of a masked man at the foot of Spiritual Mountain. I checked it and found that Byron’s wound was at the same place as where Jim cut the masked man. I suspect that the people who attacked Mr. Young should be Rafael’s people.”

Rafael. Savanna thought about this name. Recently, his name is frequently mentioned.

Savanna went downstairs after reading the message.

In the dining room, there was breakfast prepared.

But only for one.

Since she couldn't find Brandon, she took out her phone and called Brandon. No one answered the phone. Savanna looked out of the window. In the courtyard, there was a black Bentley. The car number was unfamiliar, and Brandon didn't have such a car. Savanna walked out of the dining room and subconsciously looked at the second floor. The door of the study was closed, and there were conversations coming from inside.

She was so dead asleep that she didn't even know that someone had come.

Savanna was about to turn around and walk back to the dining room when the door suddenly sounded. She looked back and saw the door of the study open and close. The man who came out was wearing a red suit and a white shirt. He looked a little flashy. Standing in the corner under the eaves, he tilted his head and lit a cigarette. The flame lit up his face. From the angle where Savanna stood, she could vaguely see the red print on his left cheek, which was like a palm print. Feeling that someone was looking at him, the man looked up and met Savanna's probing gaze. The man was stunned. Suddenly, he reacted, and a look of joy appeared on his face. Then, he extinguished the flames and crushed the cigarette that had not been lit, and threw it into the trash can.

The man quickly went downstairs and walked towards Savanna.

Savanna stood there with a smile. She crossed her arms and waited quietly. The man tidied his hair and managed a smile. He said with embarrassment, "Mrs. Young, I'm sorry. I didn't mean it."

Hearing Rafael's apology, Savanna did not accept it. Her pink lips were tightly pursed, and she was silent.

Rafael was not stupid. He had just been spoiled by Ashley and developed a domineering personality, so he looked down on everything.

And this time... It was obvious that he had caused big trouble.

"I'm not targeting you. That slut Mia is too much, So..."

Hearing Rafael call Mia a slut, Savanna couldn't bear to hear it and asked in a cold voice, "Tell me, what did Mia do to you?"

Rafael did not dare to meet Savanna's fierce gaze and swallowed his saliva. "She ... she... I think you know about the entanglement between us."

Savanna sneered, "Since you don't want to talk about it, there must be something that you can't share with others and want to hide."

Rafael looked impatient. He thought that Savanna would be more soft-hearted than Brandon, but unexpectedly, she was even fiercer than Brandon.

He suppressed the anger in his heart and said hoarsely, "Mrs. Young, as long as you can forgive me, I will be grateful to you. I didn't mean to hurt you. If it weren't for Mia, I wouldn't..."

"Mia is just a woman. She is weak and not aggressive at all. Rafael, I'm warning you, if you continue to cause trouble for Mia, I'll teach you a lesson."

Savanna didn't want to be entangled with such a profligate man. She flicked her sleeves and wanted to enter the dining room, but Rafael grabbed her arm and refused to let her go.

"Mrs. Young, it's not that I want to cause trouble for Mia. She doesn't let me go."

Rafael frowned deeply. "I don't know what your relationship with Mia is, but since you've spoken up for her, I'll give her some face for the sake of you and Mr. Young. As long as she drops the lawsuit, I won't keep pestering her."

Savanna thought of Mia's situation and saw that Rafael had softened. She turned around, shook off Rafael's hand that was holding her, and scolded, "Stop talking nonsense."

Rafael looked in the direction of the study and saw that the door was still closed. Fabian was still talking to Shelton.

Just now in the study room, Rafael had witnessed how Shelton protected Savanna. Fabian apologized to Shelton on Rafael's behalf. Shelton's eyes were deep. He smiled calmly and replied, "Last night, the doctor had a comprehensive physical examination on my wife. Her back was badly injured, and she coughed this morning. I'm afraid her internal organs were hurt. Mr. Colon, I just want to ask, if your wife was also tied up with stones and almost fell into the river, what would you do?"

With the acumen of a businessman, Shelton threw the question to Fabian.

Regardless of Shelton's feelings for his wife, just to not disgrace the Young Group, Shelton could not let it go since his wife was bullied.

Fabian forced a smile, extremely embarrassed. "I know that this matter disturbed you. It is my fault for not teaching my son properly. But Mr. Young, things have already happened. I hope that you can be magnanimous and let my son go."

Shelton looked down, his knuckles rhythmically tapping on the table. His eyebrows did not loosen, and he did not say a word.

Fabian knew that there was no hope. He gave his son a slap in the face. Then, he turned around and smiled at Shelton. Then, Shelton rubbed his eyebrows and said, "I can't make the decision on this matter. You have to ask my wife. If she is willing to let go of your son, I have nothing to say."

When Fabian heard that, his smile froze on his lips. Fabian suddenly realized the position of Savanna in Shelton's heart.

In front of Shelton, he slapped Rafael in the face. Rafael was almost dazzled by the slap. Then Fabian kept apologizing to Shelton. He had tried everything he could say. Finally, Shelton's cold gaze swept over Rafael. "Let him out."

Shelton looked as if he was annoyed by Rafael.

Fabian immediately drove Rafael out of the study. Rafael came out. Because he was sullen, he wanted to smoke when he happened to see Savanna. So, he rushed downstairs to ask for Savanna's forgiveness.

If Savanna did not forgive him, he would have to go to jail. Shelton had evidence of him kidnapping Mia and Savanna.

"Alright." Rafael let go as if to prove that he was very obedient. He raised his hands and smiled, "Mrs. Young, as long as you don't sue me, I can do anything for you."

Savanna thought about it and said to him, "Come with me."

In order to get rid of the kidnapping case, Rafael followed Savanna out of the villa.

They stood under the eaves.

Savanna raised her thin eyebrows. "Can you do anything for me?"

"Yes."

Savanna said, "Tell me, was it you who hired people to kill Shelton in Spiritual Mountain?"

Rafael's heart skipped a beat. He looked away and replied firmly, "No."

Savanna saw Rafael hiding something. She put the tip of her tongue on the gums and chuckled. "It must be you. If it wasn't you, it would be Mia. Or, you conspired with her, Rafael. It was not such a coincidence. On one hand, she plotted against Lorena, and on the other hand, Shelton was in trouble."

Rafael lowered his head and lit up his cigarette. After taking in two puffs of smoke, he said indifferently, "It wasn't Mia, nor was it me. I have no enmity with Shelton. Why would I kill him? Before I kidnapped you, I didn't even know your husband."

This reason was far-fetched.

Savanna found Neil and asked Neil, "Neil, did the one who was kicked into the river by Mr. Young go to the South Court Clinic to change medication yesterday?"

Neil glanced at Rafael, his eyes cold as if he was looking at a dead man.

"Yes."

Before Savanna spoke again, Neil continued, "His name is Byron Ross. He was a secret agent. Five years ago, he became a bodyguard of the Colon Group. Now, he is working for Mr. Rafael."

Savanna showed a sly smile. "Where is his injury?"

Neil said, "On his left arm. The wound is very new. It should have been injured not long ago. When Mr. Young went to Spiritual Mountain to find medicine for you, they attacked him. Jim cut a masked man at the same place where Byron was hurt."

Savanna looked at Rafael with sparks in her eyes.

"Mr. Rafael, what else do you have to say?"

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 320

Rafael's hands on both sides of his body involuntarily clenched into fists, and cold sweat dripped from his clenched fingers.

Rafael wanted to deny it, but he was at a loss. His mind was a mess. His lips trembled as he said, "Savanna, you are my sister. Please forgive me for our relationship."

Savanna gritted her teeth. "You really did it, Rafael. How did the Young family offend you? Why did you want to kill him?"

Savanna was burning with anger. She was so furious that the veins on her finger bones popped out.

If Rafael hadn't mentioned their relationship, she could have ignored it. When this matter was mentioned, the anger in her heart burned even more.

"You and I have nothing to do with each other."

She was just an illegitimate daughter of Renee and Fabian.

Rafael knelt down to Savanna and shamelessly cried, "I didn't do it. It was Dahlia. She never liked the Young family, and she especially hated Lorena. She often said that Lorena was opinionated and arrogant."

Savanna was stunned. "You mean Dahlia? Isn't she abroad?"

Neil had investigated the Colon family, so Savanna knew the family structure of the Colon family.

Fabian had three sons and one daughter. His eldest son was Dane Colon. Because of a matter many years ago, he fell from a tall building and became paralyzed. He had to sit in a wheelchair. Because of his strange temperament, he was still unmarried. His second son, Morgan Colon, was an elite lawyer. He got a doctorate degree at a famous school in Spain. He was the most capable person in the Colon family. Fabian wanted to train him to be his successor. However, Morgan was not interested in business. After returning to America, he opened a law firm. He had never cared about the affairs of the Colon family, so he seemed to be different from others in the Colon family.

Fabian's third child, Dahlia Colon, had been spoiled by Fabian and Ashley since she was a child. They loved her a lot. Three years ago, for some reason, Dahlia was suddenly sent abroad by Ashley to study.

Rafael shouted in a hurry, "She came back a month ago."

Savanna thought for two seconds, her eyes cold. "I will continue to investigate. If she didn't do it, Rafael, I will kill you."

The tip of Rafael's nose was dripping with sweat. His body was stiff, and he kept smiling. "Okay, okay."

The door of the study room opened. Shelton sent Fabian out. Fabian laughed loudly. He turned his head and said to Shelton, who followed him, "Mr. Young, think about what I just said. I will wait for your reply."

Fabian went down the stairs.

He strode out of the villa and caught a glimpse of Rafael and Savanna under the eaves. He walked over and saw Rafael kneeling on the ground. The person in front of Rafael had delicate facial features and fair skin. Her eyebrows ... were somewhat similar to his.

And it was more than that. To be precise, she looked like both him and that woman.

Fabian was stunned.

When Rafael saw Fabian come out, he looked behind Fabian. He did not see Shelton and relaxed a little. Rafael called out to Fabian and got up from the ground. He bent down to pat the dust off his pants.

Suddenly seeing Fabian, Savanna was not completely calm.

However, when she thought of how ruthless he was towards Renee, the excitement in Savanna's heart quietly vanished.

bontor

She greeted him coldly, "Mr. Colon."

Fabian was stunned. Feeling Savanna's indifference and alienation towards him, Fabian smiled, but his smile was stiff. "You must be Mrs. Young. My son has offended you. I hope that you can be magnanimous."

Savanna said indifferently, "I'm just an ordinary woman. I'm not magnanimous. Mr. Colon, my lungs hurt when I cough. I was hurt by your son."

"Well, I see."

Fabian said.

"Mrs. Young, go to the hospital and have a check. The medical fee will be paid by us. I have failed to teach my son well. When we go home, I will teach this unfilial son a lesson. Mrs. Young, I am really sorry. We just got to know each other because of this dispute. After this incident, in the future, as long as the Young Group needs the Colon Group to help, we will do anything. I have something to do and will take my leave now."

Fabian seemed unwilling to talk to Savanna. He said to Rafael, "Let's go."

Fabian sat in the car. Rafael made a phone call gesture to Savanna and said, "Keep in touch."

Rafael turned and sat in the back.

When the car passed Savanna, Savanna met Fabian's sharp and malicious gaze.

Shelton thought that Savanna had not woken up yet. After Fabian left, he went back to the bedroom. Seeing that there was no one on the bed, he went down the stairs and found no one everywhere. Shelton went outside of the villa to look for Savanna.

As soon as he walked out of the villa, he saw

Savanna and Neil standing under the eaves, watching Fabian and his son's car go away.

Neil turned around and saw Shelton. Neil greeted him and drove away.

Shelton walked closer to Savanna. Seeing that Savanna did not look good, Shelton followed her gaze and looked at the car leaving. He asked softly, "What did he say to you?"

Shelton was referring to Fabian.

For Shelton and Savanna, Rafael had no status at all.

They didn't think they needed to care about him at all.

Savanna looked back at Shelton's face. The sunlight shone down from the cracks in the leaves and shone on Shelton's face, leaving a layer of mottled shadows on his face.

She nestled in his arms, her face buried in his arms, her hot breath on his chest. "He just begged me to spare Rafael."

Brandon gently hugged her. His fingertips wrapped around a strand of her hair. He pulled it to the tip of his nose to sniff it. The faint fragrance entered his nose. He had been obsessed with this fragrance for a long time.

"What do you plan to do?"

Savanna felt that since she was able to find out that the people who attacked Shelton were Rafael's people, Shelton could also find it out.

Moreover, he should also know about the relationship between her and the Colon family. He did not expose it, because he wanted to save her face.

Or, he was waiting for her to confess to him about her past.

Shelton gave her the right to decide what to do with Rafael because he respected her and her relationship with the Colon family was complicated.

Shelton completely placed her in the first place, and he did not care about Lorena and himself at all.

If it was someone else, based on Shelton's personality, Savanna thought that he might have already taught Rafael a lesson.

Savanna played with the button on his shirt. "Neil found out that last night when you saved me, the person you kicked into the river was one of the people who went to attack you in Spiritual Mountain. The place where he was injured was the same as the place where Jim cut."

It was silent.

Shelton did not say anything.

Sure enough, he knew it.

After a long while, Shelton said faintly, "Rafael is a heinous criminal. After doing so many bad things, he should be taken into custody. Just now, Fabian said that he was willing to give the Young Group priority to represent the recently developed products of the Colon Group. Moreover, it is exclusive."

Of course, Savanna knew that Fabian wanted to protect Rafael at all costs since he was willing to give such a priority to the Young Group.

And the Young Group could earn a lot of money with that.

Savanna said, "Just now, Rafael said that the group of people who attacked you was not ordered by him. It was his sister, Dahlia."

The corner of Shelton's lips curled into a gentle smile. "Do you believe that?"

Savanna said, "I believe that because Byron was hired by the Colon family, not only Rafael. Moreover, the person who initially hired Byron was not Rafael, but Dahlia. Three years ago, Dahlia went abroad to study, and Byron worked for Rafael after that."
