

Love Has its Will by Selena Lewis Chapter 351

Brandon was afraid that Mandel would have postoperative complications, so he stayed in the hospital until one in the morning. When Brandon returned to the Rose Villas, Savanna was asleep.

Brandon was afraid to wake Savanna up, so he went to another room to take a shower. After that, he quietly got to bed and lay down next to Savanna. After a while, he turned and held Savanna's waist with his hands. Then he moved his body slowly toward her. Finally, he felt her warm and soft back. Brandon smiled with satisfaction.

For Brandon, he could only feel Savanna's breath and her soul when he held her.

Brandon rested his chin on Savanna's shoulder. He smelled the fragrance of her hair. Then Brandon closed his eyes and fell asleep.

Savanna opened her eyes and listened to Brandon's breath. She quietly looked at the starry night sky outside the window and thought of the doctor's words.

"Are you really the child's mother?" Savanna had to admit that she felt pain when she heard what the doctor said.

Brandon was exhausted, so he slept very deeply. Savanna gently removed his hands that were wrapped around her waist. She got up and went to the bathroom. She washed up and came out of the room.

Savanna tied her hair back and put on cream when she went downstairs. Lizeth was cooking in the kitchen. Last night, Seth told Lizeth that Mandel's blood type didn't match Brandon's or Savanna's. Lizeth glanced at Savanna's face. Even though Savanna had put on makeup on her face, Lizeth could see the dark circles beneath Savanna's eyes. Lizeth knew that Savanna was in a bad mood and didn't sleep well last night, because Savanna found that Mandel was not her son and she didn't know where her own son was.

Lizeth thought that she wouldn't fall asleep if she were Savanna.

Lizeth wanted to say something, but she felt that it might be inappropriate. Finally, Lizeth smiled at Savanna and said, "Savanna, I made eggs and pancakes today."

Savanna took a plate and washed it in the sink. Then she said, "Lizeth, make some oatmeal and send it to Mandel later."

Lizeth did not expect that Savanna would still care about Mandel after Savanna knew he was not her son.

Savanna saw Lizeth look at her in surprise. She smiled and said, "Mandel has been with me for so long. In my heart, he is my son."

Lizeth nodded and smiled. "Savanna, you're a good person. Mandel is so lucky."

When they put the food on the table, Brandon ran downstairs. He was in his robe and his hair was messy. He just woke up and looked anxious. When Brandon saw Savanna at the entrance of the kitchen, he paused and then smiled at her. Then he said, "I thought that you..."

When Brandon woke up, he didn't see Savanna. He didn't find her in the room and thought that Savanna was gone. Therefore, Brandon went downstairs anxiously.

Savanna looked down at Brandon's feet. Brandon saw her eyes. He lowered his head and found that there was no shoe on one of his feet. He turned around and saw the slipper on the stairs. Before Brandon moved, Lizeth went to pick up the slipper and sent it to Brandon. "Mr. Cassel."

"Thank you."

It was the first time that Brandon had felt so embarrassed. His ears turned red. Lizeth noticed it and walked away immediately.

Savanna took a deep breath and said, "Lizeth made your favorite pancakes. Come here and have breakfast.

Brandon said, "Wait for a second." Then he quickly ran upstairs and changed his clothes.

Brandon felt very embarrassed about what happened just now.

He sat opposite Savanna. He drank milk and ate pancakes.

Nobody spoke. The atmosphere was subdued.

Savanna quickly finished her breakfast. She put the cup and the plate aside. Savanna bit her lip and looked at Brandon. She hesitated for a while and then asked, "Brandon, I want to know why our son was replaced by Mandel. I remember that he stayed with you at that time."

The atmosphere became tense. The whole room fell silent.

Brandon slowed down as he chewed on the food. He looked at the table for a long time before he looked up at Savanna's sharp eyes. He thought that Savanna would ask him about it last night. However, Savanna asked him after a night.

Brandon said in a low voice, "When I knew this thing, I was also very shocked. Savanna, I'm sorry. I promise you that I will get our son back. Can you give me some time?"

Brandon had been thinking about how to get her back after Savanna left the hospital without telling him. Brandon cared about their relationship. He was anxious to know why their son was replaced. Brandon asked Jim to look into this thing last night.

Debbie and Giselle had been taking care of Mandel. After Giselle passed away, Debbie resigned and went back to her hometown. Brandon thought that he would know the truth after he found Debbie.

Savanna answered, "I'll give you time. But I feel worried and anxious when I think of our son. I don't know where he is and whether he is alive. When I left you at that time, I thought that you could protect our son. But..."

Savanna looked at Brandon's eyes and said sadly, "I was wrong. I shouldn't have trusted you."

Tears welled up in Savanna's eyes. "Of course, it's not all your fault. I'm partly at fault. If I didn't leave at that time, things might be different."

Savanna knew both Brandon and she were responsible for this thing. Brandon felt sorry when he heard her words.

Brandon put the pancake on the plate. He didn't want to eat. He pushed the chair away, got up, and walked to Savanna. Brandon stroked Savanna's hair and said slowly, "Savanna, trust me. I'll find our son back. I made a mistake in this thing. You..."

Brandon had never begged forgiveness. And he never apologized to others.

However, he loved Savanna. Brandon gave up his dignity.

He had never said sorry to others. But now he said to Savanna, "Sorry."

Brandon held Savanna's shoulder and let her stay in his arms. They held each other very tightly to comfort each other.

"Blech."

Savanna felt sick and wanted to vomit. She covered her mouth with her hand.

Savanna could feel acid reflux. She pushed Brandon away and rushed to the bathroom.

Brandon paused and then frowned.

He went to the bathroom quickly. Then Brandon saw Savanna vomiting in front of the toilet. Brandon went to take a bottle of water and opened it. Then he handed it to Savanna.

Savanna felt very uncomfortable. She threw up in the toilet for a while. When she felt a little better, Savanna took the water and began to gargle.

"Savanna, you need to go see the doctor."

Brandon was about to lift her up. Savanna pushed away his hands and said, "I just got an upset stomach. I might have caught a cold last night. I'll be fine after I take the medicine."

Brandon looked at Savanna's pale face and asked, "Are you sure you just got a cold?"

Savanna held his trousers and stood up. She was shorter than Brandon. When Savanna spoke in front of him, she felt unconfident and weak

"Yes," Savanna responded and turned to walk out of the bathroom.

Brandon said something to Lizeth before he went to work. Savanna was sitting on the sofa and focusing on TikTok. Due to the distance, Savanna could not hear the conversation between Brandon and Lizeth.

Brandon left. Lizeth washed the dishes, took off her apron, and walked out of the kitchen. "Savanna, Mr. Cassel asked me to accompany you to the hospital for a check-up."

Savanna did not even raise her head as she played games. "No need."

After she finished playing the game, Savanna looked up. Lizeth did not leave or make a sound but just stared at Savanna. It seemed that if Savanna did not go to the hospital, Lizeth would never give up.

Savanna raised an eyebrow and said coldly, "Lizeth, what do you mean?"

Lizeth looked embarrassed. "Savanna, Mr. Cassel cares about you. You vomited so badly just now. I also think that you should go to the hospital to have a check. There are so many cancers nowadays. What if..."

Savanna said, "Lizeth, are you cursing me?"

Lizeth panicked. She stretched out her hand and slapped her face. "I didn't mean that. Savanna, I'm not good at talking. Anyway, I think you should go to the hospital for a check-up. The doctor is waiting."

Brandon contacted the doctor.

He knew that Savanna wouldn't listen to him, so he forced Lizeth to persuade Savanna.

Savanna turned off the game, put away her phone, and got up from the sofa. "I know myself very well. It's nothing serious."

As she spoke, Savanna walked out, and Lizeth followed her. When Savanna got into the car, Lizeth opened the car door and sat in the back seat without Savanna's permission.

Savanna frowned. "I'm not going to the hospital."

Savanna wanted to go to the clinic to buy a pregnancy test kit. She had been busy recently, so she forgot that her period had been late for more than ten days.

No matter what Savanna said, Lizeth refused to get out of the car. Lizeth begged, "Savanna, please do me a favor. If you don't go to the hospital, Mr. Cassel will fire me. I don't want to leave you."

Looking at Lizeth's pitiful look, Savanna did not say a word. She reached out to start the car and drove to the hospital.

After a urine test, the results came out soon.

Savanna stared at the report. It read "positive" and "28 days of pregnancy".

She didn't feel a trace of joy, and her heart was filled with mixed feelings.

When Lizeth came to see the report, her eyes immediately lit up. She had to cover her mouth to stop her from screaming.

Two seconds later, Lizeth's voice trembled. "Savanna, you are pregnant again. This is really a great thing. Mr. Cassel will be very happy if he knows it."

At the mention of Brandon, Savanna crumpled the report into a ball. She ordered Lizeth, "Don't tell him for now."

"Why?" Lizeth widened her eyes in disbelief.

Savanna blinked her eyes and looked a little annoyed. "Lizeth, my mind is a mess now. I'm not sure if I want this child."

It was not that Savanna was unreasonable. As her first child's life and death remained unknown, she did not have the courage to give birth to another child for Brandon.

There were too many grudges between Savanna and Brandon.

There were so many problems that couldn't be solved.

Because of Mandel, Savanna had endured too many things. Now, it turned out that Mandel was not her child. Suddenly, she felt much more relaxed.

"You don't want this child?"

Lizeth muttered.

Suddenly, Lizeth reacted, and her face turned red with excitement. "Savanna, you can't do this. Mr. Cassel looks haggard. Don't you see that he is much older than before? Savanna, no matter what has happened between you and Mr. Cassel, this child is the opportunity to solve the problem."

Beep...

Lizeth glanced at the name on the screen and saw that it was from Brandon.

She suddenly straightened her body. "Hello."

"How is it?"

Brandon's gentle voice sounded.

Lizeth glanced at Savanna. Seeing that Savanna was also looking at her, Lizeth swallowed her saliva.

"The results are out. Mr. Cassel, the doctor said that Savanna had just caught a cold."

Brandon hung up.

Lizeth's words made Savanna relieved.

Savanna's nervous expression relaxed. "Thanks, Lizeth."

After that, Savanna walked out of the hospital, and Lizeth chased after Savanna with her phone.

They left one after the other, and Rex saw them on the second floor. Rex immediately called Brandon. "Savanna seems to be quite angry. What's going on?"

Brandon asked, "You saw her?"

Rex said, "Yes. Just now, I saw her walk out of the hospital. Lizeth was chasing after her and seemed to be in a hurry.

"She is still a little weak. Let her stay at home for more rest. Don't run around."

Brandon guessed that it was because he forced Lizeth to ask Savanna to go to the hospital, and Savanna was annoyed by Lizeth.

Suddenly, something occurred to Brandon. He slowly said, "Rex, help me check her report in the department of gynecology. It's for today."

Rex finally understood what Savanna was doing in the hospital.

Soon, Rex called Savanna's report up on the computer. He read it and put on a meaningful smile. "Brandon, you are really good. You just lost a child, but you will have another one soon. Originally, I was worried that the relationship between you and Savanna would not be able to continue without the support of a child. I did not expect..."

Brandon fell silent.

"Hello?"

Brandon's voice could not be heard for a long time, so Rex called out.

Brandon came back to his senses after a long time. His voice trembled slightly. It could be seen how exciting this news was to him. He was so excited that he couldn't speak.

"You mean ... she's pregnant again?"

Rex laughed. "Yes, she's pregnant." He glanced at the computer screen again. "Twenty-eight days. The gestational sac looks pretty good."

Brandon wanted to abandon his work and go home to pull Savanna into his arms and kiss her.

He endured such an urge inside his heart.

Lizeth had just lied. Why did Lizeth lie to him? Needless to say, it was Savanna who did not allow Lizeth to tell him.

Savanna was not willing to tell Brandon about her pregnancy.

When Brandon thought of this, the excitement in his eyes gradually faded.

Seth and Jim soon found Debbie. Debbie had something important to do and could not come to the Rose Villas to meet Brandon. She told Brandon on the phone, "Brandon, Mrs. Cassel, and I have been taking care of Mandel, and many things were done by us in person. It is impossible for Mandel to be replaced."

Debbie was an old maid of the Cassel family and loyal to Giselle.

Debbie had watched Brandon grow up. On the surface, she and Brandon were master and servant, but in reality, they were like mother and son.

Debbie said with certainty.

Hearing that, Brandon was silent for a long time. "Debbie, try to recall if anything special happened during the years you took care of Mandel."

Reminded by Brandon, Debbie was lost in her memories. She then slowly said, "If Mandel was swapped, the person who did it wouldn't give us an identical child. Mrs. Cassel and I are not fools. Moreover, Mrs. Cassel likes Mandel so much that she wouldn't do anything to hurt him. If Mandel was indeed swapped, it should have happened not long after Mandel was born. At that time, we could not identify his appearance."

Brandon immediately thought of something a few years ago.

Before he could say it, Debbie seemed to have thought of it as well. Her voice was trembling. "Could it be that Winnie's mother did it?"

Just as Debbie said it, she denied it immediately. "At that time, you were the one who brought the child back. There was no change."

Although Debbie was old, her mind was clear. "Brandon, I heard about the death of Tracy. Unfortunately, I was unable to attend her funeral. Her life was so miserable. Mrs. Cassel adopted Tracy because she felt that Tracy was pitiful. What Mrs. Cassel did to Tracy was indeed too much.

"In fact, Mrs. Cassel and Tracy are both tragic people. In the past, I had always wanted to tell you something, but I thought that I was old and mistaken. I felt that Tracy had always been in love with you. It was not the love between siblings, but the love between men and women."

After a pause, Debbie continued, "Jim told me so much just now. I suddenly feel a bit sad. If I had known earlier, I would have told you about Tracy's morbid feelings. In that case, it would not have been so hard for you and Savanna to be together. If there was a chance to change the child, Tracy would be the most suspicious one. She lived in the old house and could act at any time. Brandon, you can investigate her."

Before Debbie hung up the phone, she added, "Brandon, if it was really Tracy who swapped out the child, I hope that she would love him and was willing to kill your child because of you. Don't be distant from Savanna because of the lost child. The child will be found. When you find him, remember to tell me."

Although Debbie's words did not give Brandon an accurate clue to finding the child, he had determined a target. That was Tracy.

He believed that if he investigated Tracy's past deeds, he would find traces of the child.

Yesterday, Lizeth took the comb that Savanna had used. She pulled a few strands of hair off the comb and handed them to Rex.

Rex cut off two strands of Brandon's hair and took them to the appraisal center for a paternity test.

Brandon and Debbie had just ended the call when

Rex called Brandon to tell him the results of the paternity test, "Brandon, the similarity is about twenty percent. At that time, when Mandel needed matching bone marrow, your blood type matched his. Someone must have exchanged your blood. I checked the staff who did the medical examination for you at that time. That person is called Randy Lamb, and he resigned three months ago."
