

Love So Sweet 366

366 Bad Things

Meanwhile, Zhang Li Xue spent her time cuddling with Bai Qi on the sofa. The two of them basically stayed in that narrow space together while chatting and whispering sweet nothings.

In the end, Zhang Li Xue was tired from too much excitement in a day and fell asleep in Bai Qi's embrace.

Seeing that the person he loved had her face buried in his chest as she slept brought a smile to his face. His face turned gentler and a helpless sigh escaped him.

His little fairy was too beautiful. Even her sleeping face looked adorable.

He could not stop kissing her face a few times. But the girl was annoyed with his pestering and turned her head away.

A low chuckle escaped him. Bai Qi held the person in his arms tightly as he buried his nose in her hair.

He was a little tired of preparing everything from early morning. However, with Zhang Li Xue in his arms, it felt as if all his tiredness had gone away.

In the past, having his little fairy in his arms was only something that he could only dream about.

Bai Qi would never think that one day, he would have the courage to propose to her and then, this girl would say yes to him.

Closing his eyes, Bai Qi tried to suppress his excitement.

With Zhang Li Xue in his arms, Bai Qi was the happiest.

Zhang Li Xue woke up again when she felt someone touching her shoulder. Her eyes squinted against the light and as soon as she saw Bai Qi's face, the corner of her lips tilted up.

She stretched her hand and cupped his face. As she felt the warmth from his skin, Zhang Li Xue finally realized that she was not dreaming.

"Are you awake?"

Zhang Li Xue did not hurry to answer his question.

She was still a little sleepy and it took her a while to figure out why Bai Qi was in front of her.

The memories came back to her. Zhang Li Xue recalled that Bai Qi had knelt on one knee under that big tree in the park earlier that day. He asked her to marry him and she said yes to it.

Bai Qi laughed when the girl stayed silent for a long time. He pinched her cheek and spoke, "Do you want to wake up? Let me help you to freshen up a little bit, hmm?"

Zhang Li Xue stretched up her body. "What time is it?" Her voice was still groggy.

Seeing that a certain someone was acting like a lazy cat made him sigh. Bai Qi reported the time. "It's almost time for us to pick up Xi Xi at her school."

Her eyes lit up. "Xi Xi?" Zhang Li Xue sat up quickly. "Then, we should go quickly. Let's not make her wait for a long time."

"There is still time for you to get ready," Bai Qi said. He recalled how excited she was when she heard that they will be picking up his little sister. Then, he pinched her cheek again.

"Why do you always pinch my cheek?" Zhang Li Xue pouted to protest. She wondered if it was because her mother has been feeding her all sorts of food recently and she has been gaining some weight.

"That's because you're too adorable."

Zhang Li Xue liked the answer and decided to let him pass. She spread her arms and spoke, "Then, Doctor Bai, hurry up and carry me."

Bai Qi leaned over to carry her in his arms. Seeing that a certain someone was acting coquettishly, Bai Qi took this opportunity to kiss her lips a few times before he let her go.

"Am I heavy?"

"Of course, you're not."

Zhang Li Xue smiled. Fortunately, her boyfriend is very smart.

No. This time, Bai Qi was no longer her boyfriend, right?

The ring on her finger was proof that this person now had a different status. Then, Zhang Li Xue found that she could not stop smiling.

Bai Qi carried her into the bathroom and waited for her outside as she was doing some business. Once she was done, Bai Qi helped her to clean up her face.

Once everything was ready, Bai Qi carried her into her wheelchair again.

"Are you tired?"

Bai Qi leaned over to kiss the top of her head and smiled. "Just get well very soon."

A certain someone refused to let go of his neck and continued to look at Bai Qi with her mischievous look. "But what should I do? I seemed to enjoy this treatment very much."

His brow rose. Bai Qi leaned over and whispered, "But if your injury did not heal in time, then we might not be able to do some bad things."

Zhang Li Xue's face turned red. However, she still kept her calm in front of him. "Doctor Bai, what bad things are you referring to?" She blinked her eyes innocently at him.

This time, it was Bai Qi's turn to flash her a mischievous smile. Instead of answering, Bai Qi stood up again and started to push her wheelchair out.

Zhang Li Xue lowered her head shyly. Her head was running wild of all sorts of bad things that Bai Qi had mentioned. She wanted to continue probing, but she did not dare to find out his answer.

The two left the apartment together and headed to Bai Xi Xi's school together.

When they arrived, there were already a lot of cars parked outside. A few parents were gathered outside the building as they were waiting for their children to come out.

Bai Qi parked his vehicle under the shades as they waited for Bai Xi Xi to come out. He turned to Zhang Li Xue and held her hand. "Wait for me here. I'll go and pick up Xi Xi quickly."

Zhang Li Xue nodded. She hoped that she could go with Bai Qi and pick up Bai Xi Xi together. However, it was indeed inconvenient for her with her injury.

She could only watch Bai Qi alight from the vehicle and waited for them to return.
