

Love So Sweet 405

405 She Doesn't Need a Man!

A few days before the exhibition began, Fang Su Jin had already headed to Capital City with Teacher Jiang to prepare for it.

For the past few days, she has been busy running around and meeting some people that her mentor wanted her to meet. Because her previous exhibition has been successful, there were a lot of people who wanted to meet her and admire her paintings. She was too busy that she could only take a rest after returning to her hotel room in the evening.

After coming out of the bathroom, Fang Su Jin sat in front of the dressing table while drying her hair. Then, she reached for her phone and scrolled through her social media.

On the day she arrived in Capital City with her mentor, Fang Su Jin posted a few updates on her social media. She also posted a few photos of her and Teacher Jiang on her activity in Capital City.

Her friends and family had responded to her posts.

However, the person she was waiting for had not appeared.

Fang Su Jin clicked on her latest post and saw that Zhang Yi Hai still had not reacted. He should know that she was in Capital City, right? Then, why didn't he come and find her?

Her heart grew sour and her mood dampened.

Fang Su Jin wondered if Zhang Yi Hai had really changed his mind as time passed by.

Otherwise, he would show up when he knew that she was in Capital City, right?

A heavy sigh escaped her.

Just as she thought that had gathered her courage to show up in Capital City and faced Zhang Yi Hai again, something like this would happen.

Tomorrow would be the first day of her joint exhibition. Fang Su Jin could not help but wonder if Zhang Yi Hai would show up and see her.

Fang Su Jin spent a long time sorting out her feelings.

Seeing that it was quite late, she decided to head to bed and sleep.

So what if Zhang Yi Hai changed his mind? She would still live her life to the fullest. Fang Su Jin knew that she had her family and friends who loved her. That was all that she needed.

She doesn't need a man!

On the next day, Fang Su Jin woke up early and headed to the exhibition hall for her last-minute preparation. There were a couple of hours left before the exhibition will be opened to the public and Fang Su Jin was busy making everything perfect.

Actually, she could always let someone else handle this matter for her. However, she realized that she was still new in the industry, and because of that, she wanted to be involved in every process.

Fang Su Jin was too busy with the preparation that she no longer have time to think about Zhang Yi Hai. It was only five minutes before the exhibition started that she finally have time to take a deep breath and drink some water.

As soon as the exhibition began, Fang Su Jin has been busy mingling with some people in the industry.

Just as her mentor had mentioned, there were a few media who came to cover this exhibition. Some of them came to her side and interviewed her for a while.

By lunchtime, there were a lot of people coming to the event. Fang Su Jin stood at the corner while watching the people coming and going to look at her paintings.

Time seemed to pass by very quickly.

When Fang Su Jin looked at the time again, she realized that there would be an hour left before the exhibition was going to end.

At this time, she could not help but think of Zhang Yi Hai.

She had hoped that he would show up at the exhibition, but it seemed that he was not going to show up.

Her lips curled into a mocking smile. Fang Su Jin could no longer hide her disappointment.

“Su Jin.”

Fang Su Jin turned around when she heard someone call her name. Her eyes lit up in surprise upon noticing the tall man walking towards her. “Brother Yu Ting. Why are you in Capital City? When did you get here?”

The man stretched his hand to pat her on the head. “Just now. I heard from your dad that you had an exhibition here. Coincidentally, I am in Capital City to attend a conference. I decided to come over and look around.”

“Thank you for coming.” Fang Su Jin smiled.

Fang Yu Ting looked at his watch and asked, “Is the exhibition ending soon? Do I still have time to look around?”

“Brother Yu Ting, you are lucky. There’s an hour left before the exhibition end. Otherwise, you might have to visit again tomorrow,” Fang Su Jin spoke. “Should I take you around for a tour?”

Fang Yu Ting laughed. “Please. I’m not very good at judging a painting. It would be good to have you as my guide.”

Turning around, Fang Su Jin started to give her cousin brother a tour around the place. She introduced to him a few of her paintings and let him look at them for a while.

The cousins walked around while discussing the paintings.

Just as they were about to reach the end, Fang Su Jin's eyes caught the sight of a tall man standing in front of her new painting.

The man stood straight as he continued to observe her paintings silently.

Her movement halted and her heart skipped a beat.

She could recognize the young man just by looking at his back view!

It was Zhang Yi Hai!

Fang Su Jin continued to stare at him for a long time. She did not dare to blink as she was worried that this man would be nothing but her imagination.

"Su Jin?"

The voice snapped her out of her trance. Fang Su Jin turned and saw that her cousin was looking at her in puzzlement.

"What's wrong?" Fang Yu Ting asked. "Is he someone you know?"

Fang Yu Ting's voice was not loud, but in the empty space, Zhang Yi Hai could still hear him. He turned around slowly and saw that Fang Su Jin was standing beside a man he had never seen before.
