

Love So Sweet 417

417 Zhang Yi Hai, You are Really Great

After dinner, the couple decided to walk around and talk instead of doing something else. They had just begun to date and it seemed that there was a lot for them to learn about each other.

Meanwhile, Zhang Yi Hai planned to take it slow with their relationship.

He could understand Fang Su Jin's concern and thought that he should coax her and let her know that the two of them would be alright.

There might be a lot of differences between them, but they would be alright if they worked together. As long as they have feelings for each other, nothing was impossible.

However, after talking to Fang Su Jin for a while, Zhang Yi Hai began to notice the tiredness around her eyes.

A helpless sigh escaped him.

Zhang Yi Hai wished that he could spend his time with his girlfriend a little longer, but seeing her tired face made him distressed.

He knew that Fang Su Jin has been working hard on her exhibition for the past few days and did not get proper rest. What he did not know was that Fang Su Jin was unable to sleep well because of him. Their relationship had changed and Fang Su Jin was still finding it hard to believe that she was dating him.

"Should we go back to your hotel?"

"Ah?" Fang Su Jin turned with a shocked look on her face.

Zhang Yi Hai suddenly understood that a certain someone had misunderstood his words. He lowered his head and coughed. "Su Jin, I don't mean anything. What I mean is, if you are tired, then, should I walk you back to your hotel?"

A shade of pink appeared on her cheek, knowing that she was thinking too much and this has caused a misunderstanding.

She should know that Zhang Yi Hai was not someone reckless.

Fang Su Jin glanced at the time and nodded. "Alright." Moreover, her legs were a little tired after walking around.

Zhang Yi Hai tightened his clasp around Fang Su Jin's hand. He raised it and pressed his lips against the back of her hand. Then, he walked her to the hotel.

Unexpectedly, it did not take them a long time to arrive at the hotel.

In a while, they are going to arrive at the hotel.

Zhang Yi Hai let out a helpless sigh. He was hoping that he could spend a longer time, walking with his girlfriend along the street.

But, who would guess that they would arrive so soon?

Zhang Yi Hai lowered his gaze to look at their intertwined fingers. Then he looked up again at the hotel's signage above them.

He was really unwilling to part, especially knowing that they only have a week to stay together.

Once the exhibition ended and Fang Su Jin returned to Y City again, it would be hard for him to see her again.

As he shifted his gaze, Zhang Yi Hai's eyes caught the sight of something across the street. He gave it a thought and turned to Fang Su Jin again. "Su Jin, accompany me to a place."

Before she could answer, Zhang Yi Hai had already pulled her in a direction. They arrived at the small arcade across the street. As she was still wondering what was going on, Zhang Yi Hai stood in front of the claw machine and looked at her.

"Su Jin, pick one. Which one do you like?"

It took her a few seconds to figure out what Zhang Yi Hai wanted to do. "Are you going to play and catch one for me?"

"Hmm..." Zhang Yi Hai nodded. "Although it might not seem like it, I am quite good at this game."

Previously, his Auntie Song who loved to play games so much had taught him and his sister to operate the claw machine. Zhang Yi Hai was not that interested in the dolls, but he still think that catching them was fun.

Fang Su Jin chuckled. "Are you going to get one for me?"

"I should give you something as a token of our first date." He wanted to give her something, but he had already given her some flowers yesterday. Buying some expensive stuff would make him appear pretentious. It would be better to give her a stuffed doll.

Fang Su Jin's cheek burned upon hearing his reason. "Zhang Yi Hai, are you sure that you never had a girlfriend before? Why do I think that you seemed very good at dating?"

"You are very close to my sister. Shouldn't you know if I had dated someone or not?"

"Your sister might be keeping some information from me."

Zhang Yi Hai stared at Fang Su Jin for a long time until the latter could no longer bear his penetrating gaze. "It's not that I am experienced. But Su Jin, I already promised that I will work hard. I'm not sure if what I am doing is right; I just like you and I want to do my best to impress you."

Her heartbeat accelerated again.

Zhang Yi Hai was often a man of few words. But recently, he seemed to be quite good with his words. Her heart was now dripping with honey.

Fang Su Jin shifted her gaze to the stuffed animal in the claw machine again. After looking for a while, Fang Su Jin finally pointed to the fluff and cute fox buried among the other stuffed animals. "That one. I want that one."

Zhang Yi Hai followed her line of gaze and raised a brow. "Su Jin, it seemed that you are doubting my skills."

"What are you talking about?" She blinked her eyes innocently. "I think the fox looked very cute."

Zhang Yi Hai did not believe her words. Still, he turned around and changed his money to a few tokens. Then, he operated the machine and tried to catch the fox that Fang Su Jin wanted.

On the first try, Zhang Yi Hai caught a fluffy alpaca.

Seeing that he had failed to catch the one she pointed at made her laugh. However, Fang Su Jin then realized that Zhang Yi Hai had deliberately caught that alpaca just so he could make some space for the fox.

The claw machine moved again. Zhang Yi Hai pressed the button and let the claw grab the fox.

A few seconds later, Fang Su Jin found that she was holding an alpaca in one hand and a fox in another.

She really did not expect that Zhang Yi Hai would be able to catch the fox.

When she raised her head again, Zhang Yi Hai had a rare smug smile on his face.

"What do you think?"

"Zhang Yi Hai, you are really great."
