

Love So Sweet 437

437 Feeling a Little Guilty

“Su Jin, what are you doing? I ask you to help me choose a shirt for your father, but why do you keep looking at your phone?”

Fang Su Jin raised her head from her phone and saw that her mother was looking at her with a frown. Immediately, Fang Su Jin was feeling a little guilty.

Just now, she was still updating her boyfriend on her whereabouts.

Fang Su Jin looked at her mother and wondered what would she think if she knew that her daughter now had a boyfriend. Moreover, this boyfriend was someone that her mother know.

Mother Fang looked at her daughter and narrowed her eyes. She could sense that there was something strange with her daughter’s reaction.

“Su Jin?”

Fang Su Jin jumped at her mother’s tone. The way her mother pronounced her name was as if she was caught doing something bad. This made her a little restless.

Her mind whirled quickly to figure out an excuse.

“Mom, I was just chatting with the other artists.” Fang Su Jin slid her phone quickly into her pocket and latched onto her mother’s arm. Her head was leaning on her mother’s shoulder. “Mom, I told you about the exhibition in F Country.”

.....

Mother Fang’s expression changed.

Earlier, she had heard from her daughter about the exhibition.

A few months ago, her mentor was already planning for her daughter’s exhibition in F Country. However, for some reason, the exhibition could not go on.

Mother Fang could sense that her daughter was disappointed. But now that there was a chance for another exhibition, Mother Fang was naturally happy for her daughter.

“What did you guys talk about?”

Fang Su Jin lowered her gaze to hide her face. “Nothing much. Everyone was a little excited about it. Since everyone will be joining, they were all talking about it. It seemed that we all get along together well.”

Mother Fang sighed. “Su Jin, once Teacher Jiang gives you the date, you have to tell us. I will try to coax your father to go. Or else, I can always ask your cousin to accompany me there.”

The mother and daughter chatted happily. Seeing that her mother seemed to have forgotten about the former issue made Fang Su Jin heave in relief.

Then, she quickly led her mother to choose the shirt for her father.

As her mother was about to pay for the shirt, Fang Su Jin took out her phone again and sneakily sent a text to Zhang Yi Hai.

According to the plan, her parents wanted to bring her over to dinner. Then, they are going to return to the hotel to rest.

Tomorrow morning, they still needed to head over to the airport and returned to Capital City.

Fang Su Jin told Zhang Yi Hai that she would be texting him again once she returned to the hotel. Then, the two of them could have their secret rendezvous in the hotel's garden just like the last time.

The thought that she will have to sneak around to meet her boyfriend excited her.

Fang Su Jin seemed to understand that Zhang Li Xue too had the taste of this thrill when she sneak out to meet with Doctor Bai in the past.

A sigh escaped her.

Fang Su Jin really did not expect that Zhang Li Xue and Doctor Bai Qi were now married. Moreover, their relationship was approved by her family.

Then, what about her? Will her parents too approve of her relationship with Zhang Yi Hai? But, Zhang Yi Hai was still very young. He should want to concentrate on building his career before he would think about getting married, right?

As soon as the thought came to her mind, Fang Su Jin realized that something was off...

Why was she thinking about marriage? She had only dated Zhang Yi Hai for a week! It's still too early to think in that direction!

"Su Jin? What are you doing? I already paid for the item. Come on, let's go."

Hearing her mother's voice, Fang Su Jin slid her phone into her bag again. She put on her usual smile before going over to her mother's side.

Meanwhile, Zhang Yi Hai was still staying with his classmates at the restaurant.

The atmosphere was still as lively. Now that they were in their final year, everyone was busy talking about their final project as well as their plan for the future.

There were also some who were discussing Zhang Yi Hai's presence.

It was the first time that he had stayed around for this long and the others began to think that it was a little strange. Usually, even if Zhang Yi Hai would join their gathering, he would leave after he finished eating.

Moreover, it was not as if Zhang Yi Hai would spend his time talking to others that much. He only sat alone in the corner while chatting with his former roommates. He also spoke to Ji Xin Xin not too long ago.

It really made them wonder just why was he staying if he was not going to talk to others.

“Yi Hai.” Tang Yin went to his friend’s side and slapped his shoulder, causing Zhang Yi Hai to look up with a frown. Tang Yin quickly removed his hand and coughed. “The others are planning to move this gathering to a karaoke room. Are you going to join us?”

The moment Tang Yin asked the question, the others began to turn to Zhang Yi Hai. Everyone was wondering if he was going to continue to join them.

Zhang Yi Hai raised his head to look at his classmates. Coincidentally, he was looking in the direction where Ji Xin Xin and her friends were sitting.

He recalled that the place where his classmates were going was not far away from the restaurant that Fang Su Jin was heading to. He then turned to Tang Yin again and spoke, “Alright. After all, it’s not as if I have anything to do.”

The others could not hide their surprise to hear that Zhang Yi Hai was going to join them for karaoke.

At the corner of the room, Shen Wei nudged her best friend, Ji Xin Xin on her waist. “Xin Xin, Zhang Yi Hai was looking at you just now. Could it be that he agreed to come because he wanted to spend time with you?”

Ji Xin Xin’s heart was beating fast. However, she only put a composed look on her face. “Don’t talk nonsense. Zhang Yi Hai did not like me.”

“How can it be? Didn’t he talk to you earlier?”

Ji Xin Xin frown. “Let’s not talk about this anymore. Alright. The others are leaving. We should catch up with everyone else.”

Hearing her words, Shen Wei could only give up.

However, while Shen Wei was not looking, the smile on Ji Xin Xin’s face became brighter.
