

Love So Sweet 446

446 Why are You Still Here?

On the next day, Zhang Yi Hai showed up at the hotel just in time after the Fang family had their breakfast in the hotel's coffeehouse.

He waited for them in the lobby as they handled their check-out procedure.

Seeing that Mother Fang was carrying a large bag, which contained her shopping loot, he quickly stepped forward and offered to carry it. Mother Fang was reluctant to let him help, but the bag was indeed quite heavy. In the end, Zhang Yi Hai managed to convince her to let him carry her bag.

A soft sigh escaped her. Mother Fang then turned to her daughter with a faint smile on her face. "The Zhang family's children are quite good. Yi Hai is really considerate."

Fang Su Jin shifted her gaze to Zhang Yi Hai and chuckled.

Look! It seemed that someone was working hard to win her parents' hearts, right?

He could make her father like him so much just by chatting with him. Now, he's winning over her mother's heart.

With her hands free, Mother Fang slid into the vehicle and sit down peacefully before she was joined by her husband.

Fang Su Jin looked at her luggage and sighed.

Actually, her luggage was much heavier than her mother's. After all, she came to Capital City and stayed there for a week. However, a certain someone only thinks about helping to carry her mother's luggage...

Why didn't he help his girlfriend instead?

Fang Su Jin walked over to Zhang Yi Hai who was arranging the luggage in the cargo space. Just as she was about to put in her luggage, someone finally noticed his girlfriend struggling.

"Let me help you," Zhang Yi Hai said as he leaned over to pick up her luggage.

As he bowed slightly to take her luggage, Fang Su Jin could feel the young man's lip brushing against her cheek. His lips stayed there for two seconds before Zhang Yi Hai pulled away and carried her luggage up.

Her heart was beating fast and her eyes widened. Fang Su Jin stared at Zhang Yi Hai in disbelief. Then, she quickly looked at her parents who were sitting in the vehicle.

A sigh of relief escaped her upon noticing that the two of them had their head down to look at their phone.

Her cheek was red as she turned to Zhang Yi Hai again. Fang Su Jin could not miss the mischievous smile on his lips.

This person was crazy! Her parents were still around but he was taking advantage to kiss her when they were not looking!

The one who was scared to death was her, alright?

Until now, her heart was still beating fast.

Fang Su Jin looked at his smile and thought that his mischievous smile really resembled his sister's.

Whenever Zhang Li Xue pulled some tricks or felt a little naughty, she too would have this smile on her face.

Is everyone in the Zhang family like this?

"Sister Fang, you should get in the car first," Zhang Yi Hai spoke. The teasing smile on his lips was still there. "Don't worry about the luggage. I'll handle it."

Fang Su Jin was planning to secretly pinch his waist for his action, but once he spoke, her mother turned around to look at them and she could no longer take action.

"Su Jin, what are you doing?" Mother Fang spoke. "Get in. We don't want to be late for our flight."

The corner of her lips started to twitch.

There were still a few hours before their flight. Her mother shouldn't be worrying about this.

Why does it seem as if her mother was taking Zhang Yi Hai's side?

Fang Su Jin walked around the vehicle and sat beside her mother in the back passenger's seat.

Zhang Yi Hai shut the door before he slid into the driver's seat. As he sat down, Father Fang turned to him with a grateful smile on his face. "Yi Hai, thank you for helping."

Initially, Father Fang wanted to help with the luggage as well, but someone called him and spoke about an urgent matter at work. Father Fang had to check his email to look at the problem.

"Uncle, there's no problem." Zhang Yi Hai started the car and drove off to the airport.

Fortunately, they went out in time just to escape the traffic.

The Fang couple chatted with Zhang Yi Hai a bit before they reached the airport. Fang Su Jin looked at this scene and thought that the atmosphere between the three of them was really good.

It seemed that she was forgotten by her parents again.

Fang SU Jin could not help but wonder if this situation would last for a long time, even after her parents finally found out that they were together.

After a long drive, the car finally reached the airport.

Zhang Yi Hai dropped the Fang family at the departure hall before he went to park his car. Then, he came out again to look for Fang Su Jin and her parents. He did not forget to take a gift bag that he brought with him.

When he approached the family, the Fang family had just finished dealing with their luggage check-in. There were still a couple of hours before their flight. Therefore, they were planning to sit down in one of the cafes before they would be called to depart.

“Uncle Fang, Auntie Fang,” Zhang Yi Hai called them as soon as he saw them.

The Fang couple looked up and was surprised to see that Zhang Yi Hai was still around.

“Yi Hai?” Mother Fang looked at the young man in puzzlement. “Why are you still here?”

Zhang Yi Hai flashed her a polite smile. Then, he raised the gift bag in his hand and shifted his gaze to his girlfriend. “I forgot to pass this to Sister Fang.”

It was then that the Fang couple remembered that Zhang Yi Hai had told them that he had something that he wanted their daughter to pass on to his sister.

Just now, they were in such a hurry to check in that they have forgotten about this matter.

Meanwhile, Fang Su Jin looked at her boyfriend and realized that this person was full of tricks.
