

Love So Sweet 461

461 Su Jin... I Miss You

Of course, Fang Su Jin was unaware that there were a few people planning to head over to F Country to give her a big surprise.

A few days before she headed to F Country, Fang Su Jin packed her bag and headed to Capital City. She told her parents that there would be a few matters that she need to settle before the trip.

However, this reason was partly true. Actually, Fang Su Jin was heading to Capital City earlier to meet her boyfriend.

It has been a month since they were separated. While they were in this long-distance relationship, Fang Su Jin could only see her boyfriend when they were on a video call.

Being apart made her miss him very much. Therefore, Fang Su Jin decided to head over to Capital City so that she could date Zhang Yi Hai.

As the plane touched down, Fang Su Jin did not forget to text Zhang Yi Hai about her arrival. Then, she texted her parents to inform them that she had safely arrived.

Once she got out, Fang Su Jin went to get her luggage before she finally come out to the arrival hall.

Her eyes swept around the hall. Soon, she finally saw the tall man waving his hand toward her. Her heart was beating rapidly the moment she saw his lips turn up to a smile.

Fang Su Jin gripped her luggage tight. Then, she picked up her speed and jogged over. As she reached his side, Zhang Yi Hai spread his arms before he pulled her into his embrace.

His sudden move startled her.

Fang Su Jin did not even have the chance to stop him.

Her nose bumped against his hard chest as everything was moving too fast.

Worried that they might be seen by someone who knew them, Fang Su Jin could only bury her face in Zhang Yi Hai's arms.

"Su Jin..."

His voice and his breath caressing her cheek made her grow restless.

"I miss you."

Then, there was an explosion of fireworks in her mind.

Her cheek grew redder and subconsciously, Fang Su Jin began to hug him back. She also missed him very, very much.

Fang Su Jin had never thought that their meeting will be like this.

Zhang Yi Hai looked especially happy to see her. It made her excited and it was very hard to bite back the shy smile on her face.

She liked this young man very much. What should she do?

"I did not expect that you would really be here," Fang Su Jin said. "Zhang Yi Hai, you did not skip your class, right?"

Zhang Yi Hai pulled away and flicked the tip of her nose softly. "I don't have class in the afternoon. Su Jin, I came over after I finished my morning class."

It was then that Fang Su Jin was more at ease.

She liked being with Zhang Yi Hai, but she was afraid that she would lead him astray even more.

Zhang Yi Hai gave her a squeeze before he finally let her go. Swiftly, he took her luggage from her hand. Then, he held her hand with his free hand.

"Is this all you're bringing with you?" Zhang Yi Hai asked as he glanced at her luggage.

Fang Su Jin nodded. "I only have to bring some clothes and documents with me," Fang Su Jin said. "My other stuff was already sent to F Country a few days ago."

Zhang Yi Hai nodded. While holding her hand, Zhang Yi Hai led Fang Su Jin out of the arrival hall and the two headed to the parking lot together.

As they walked, Fang Su Jin could not help but glance at their intertwined hands. It might be her imagination, but it felt as if Zhang Yi Hai was holding her hand very tight. It was as if he was not going to let her go.

Zhang Yi Hai helped her into the vehicle before he put her luggage in the cargo space.

As the car drove out of the parking building, Zhang Yi Hai turned to Fang Su Jin and asked, "Where are you staying this time?"

Zhang Yi Hai knew that Fang Su Jin was not going to stay at the family's hotel even though she would get a discount. What happened to her a few months ago was enough to make her embarrassed to stay there again.

But, Zhang Yi Hai thought that this was also good. At least, he could go and pick her up from the hotel openly.

If Fang Su Jin was staying in The Orchid Hotel, then, it would be hard for him to pick her up and send her back. Most of the hotel staff recognized him and he did not want anyone to report it to his parents.

"I already booked a room at Hillpark."

Zhang Yi Hai raised a brow. "The one nearby my apartment?"

Fang Su Jin nodded. "Un. That one."

Zhang Yi Hai smiled. Knowing that she will be staying so close to him made him happy.

“We only have two days to be together before I will leave for Country F.”

She thought that spending these two days with her boyfriend before she headed to F Country would be enough. However, now that she was beside him, Fang Su Jin thought that the two days were not enough. She wanted to stay longer.

“You will stop in Capital City again before you head back to Y City, right?”

Fang Su Jin nodded again.

“Then, why don’t you stay for a few more days before you head back to Y City?”

Her eyes lit up.

Fang Su Jin had thought about staying for a few days after she return as well, however, she was worried that Zhang Yi Hai would think that she was too anxious.

“This...” Fang Su Jin pretended to hesitate. “I will have to check my schedule first.”

Zhang Yi Hai looked at the road again and smiled.

Suddenly, he wondered how will Fang Su Jin react once she knew that he was going with her to F Country. His girlfriend would definitely be surprised, right?
