

Love So Sweet 469

469 Hello, Miss Fang

After coaxing her boyfriend, Fang Su Jin finally left the hotel and headed to the art exhibition.

When she arrived, her mentor, Teacher Jiang was already waiting for her outside the building. The old man saw her appearance and the smile on his face brightened up.

“Su Jin.” Teacher Jiang walked over to his student and gave her a look over. “It’s good that you are here. I was starting to worry that you might lose your way.”

“Teacher Jiang, my sense of direction is quite good. Why would I lose my way?” Fang Su Jin said. “Moreover, my hotel is quite close to this place.”

Fang Su Jin lowered her gaze. Actually, she could arrive at the exhibition center earlier. However, a certain someone was too clingy, and it took her a while to coax him.

Teacher Jiang laughed. Then, he waved his hand at Fang Su Jin. “Come on. Let’s go in first and take a look around.”

With a nod, Fang Su Jin then followed her mentor into the building. As soon as she stepped into the building, Fang Su Jin could not help but look around the place.

The design and architecture of the exhibition center in F Country were very beautiful. It managed to retain its culture while looking modern at the same time.

As they walked into the building, Teacher Jiang continued to brief Fang Su Jin about their exhibition this time.

It was expected that they would receive a lot of guests on the first day of the exhibition.

The people from the exhibition center and their art center had made a lot of preparation and advertisement to attract many people to come.

Moreover, Teacher Jiang overheard that a few big names in arts would also make their appearance at this exhibition. When Fang Su Jin heard those names, she could not help but feel anxious.

After all, this was her first exhibition overseas. Naturally, Fang Su Jin and the rest of the young artists around her age wanted to do well.

If they could get those big names’ attention, it would be like a dream come true.

When this exhibition was successful, their name would also rise. Each one of them dreamed of having their talents recognized by many people.

At this time, Fang Su Jin was glad that Zhang Yi Hai was accompanying her to F Country. Perhaps, with his presence, she would not be that anxious.

After looking around the center, Fang Su Jin followed her mentor to meet with the other artists who joined this exhibition.

Everyone was very familiar with each other as they had worked together last month.

After listening to a briefing, the group gathered for a while to chat. Then, the representative took them to a room where some food was prepared for them.

As this was the first time for everyone to have an exhibition in F Country, the organizer was generous enough to treat them to lunch. The food prepared was, of course, some specialties of F Country.

Fang Su Jin decided to text Zhang Yi Hai to tell him that it might be a while before she could return.

This way, he would not show up at the exhibition center earlier and wait for her for a long time.

The atmosphere in the room was quite lively.

Fang Su Jin used this chance to get to know the people from F Country. After all, there would be a chance that they might work together again.

Seeing that the meeting was about to end, Fang Su Jin finally texted Zhang Yi Hai to come over. Worried that her mentor would see him, Fang Su Jin especially instructed him to wait for her in the garden in front of the exhibition center.

“Su Jin, are you heading back to the hotel next?” Teacher Jiang spoke as the lunch with the organizer finally ended. “Should I walk you to the hotel?”

Before they came to F Country, Teacher Jiang received a call from Fang Su Jin’s father and the old man had especially asked him to look after Fang Su Jin.

This was a foreign country after all and Teacher Jiang was worried about his student.

“Teacher Jiang, it’s alright. I have another place to go.” Fang Su Jin flashed a smile.

“Are you going to shop around? Then, do you want me to accompany you?” Teacher Jiang asked.

After all, F Country was also popular as a shopping paradise. There were a lot of shopping malls and famous brands around the city.

“No. I can go by myself.”

The frown on his face deepened. “Are you sure? It’s not very safe for a girl to travel alone in the city, right? I don’t mind accompanying you to shop around.”

“Really, it’s fine.” Fang Su Jin heaved a helpless sigh.

She knew well that Teacher Jiang cared about her and that the man treated her as if she was his daughter.

Worried that her mentor was going to insist on accompanying her, Fang Su Jin quickly spoke, “Actually, I’m meeting a friend later.”

“Oh? A friend?”

Meeting Teacher Jiang’s inquiring gaze made her anxious. Fang Su Jin had this feeling as if Teacher Jiang could see through her heart.

“Is this friend someone you can trust?”

“Teacher Jiang, I trust this person very much.” Her eyes were clear and her voice was sturdy.

Seeing this, Teacher Jiang finally heaved a sigh. “Alright then, you go and have fun. But remember to tell me if you need anything.”

Fang Su Jin nodded. The smile on her face was especially bright. “Thank you, Teacher Jiang.”

After exchanging a few more words, Fang Su Jin finally turned around to leave.

She walked to the entrance and quickly headed to the garden to look for Zhang Yi Hai.

Fang Su Jin was too busy searching for her boyfriend that she failed to see a figure approaching her from behind.

She took out her phone, wanting to call Zhang Yi Hai, and turned.

Her expression turned ugly when she saw the person who stood behind her.

“Hello, Miss Fang.” Mika flashed her a bright smile. “It was pleasant to see you here.”
