

Love So Sweet 470

470 Threw a Punch

Mika observed the change in Fang Su Jin's face and the smile on his face widened. "I'm guessing that you don't expect to see me here."

Fang Su Jin took a step back as Mika advanced. She could still remember how Mika was the kind of person who did not understand the words of rejection.

Her eyes were watching Mika warily while Fang Su Jin tried to find a chance to run away.

"But Miss Fang," Mika continued. "Did you forget that I am someone in this industry?" He let out a chuckle. "Since you came to F Country for an exhibition, it would not be strange to run into me here."

Fang Su Jin grew scared. She could still remember Mika's hostility towards her when she rejected his advance as well as his invitation to represent her as an agent.

Now that she was in a foreign country, Fang Su Jin grew afraid that something might happen to her.

At this time, she can only hope that she could find Zhang Yi Hai sooner.

She also regretted that she had asked Zhang Yi Hai to meet her at this place. Initially, Fang Su Jin had asked Zhang Yi Hai to meet her in the quiet garden so that she could avoid others. However, she did not expect that she would run into this dangerous situation.

Her heartbeat accelerated. Fang Su Jin was starting to panic. She tried to keep calm but it was hard for her to conceal the panic on his face.

Mika saw this and the thought of wanting to get close to Fang Su Jin heightened up.

He could see that Fang Su Jin was afraid of him and this was making him excited.

"What do you want from me?"

Seeing Mika's appearance here made her wonder if this man was somehow involved in this art exhibition. Fang Su Jin decided that if Mika had something to do with this exhibition, she would not hesitate to pull out.

It was fine if there was no one who could see her paintings. It was fine if she would not become popular. The most important was that she would never want to work with someone like Mika.

"Miss Fang, didn't I tell you previously? I only wanted to befriend you."

"And I already told you that I am not interested," Fang Su Jin narrowed her eyes. "If you did not stop approaching me, then I will report you."

Mika started to laugh. "And you would think that they would believe your words against mine?"

As the words came out, Mika's courage started to grow as well. He knew that whatever happened, the authorities would take his side. After all, he was not someone without a status in F Country. Meanwhile, Fang Su Jin was someone who did not have an influence in this place.

Seeing that Fang Su Jin was taking another step back to avoid him, Mika made a sudden move and grabbed her wrist. In just a few seconds, the woman was in his arms.

Her sweet scent wafted into his nose, making him smile.

As he recalled that Fang Su Jin was a biter, he quickly hugged her tightly to avoid her from biting him again.

"Let me go!" Fang Su Jin tried to struggle out of the man's embrace. She hit his body with her fist, but the man did not seem to feel any pain.

Fang Su Jin was enraged. She opened her mouth and started to scream for help. But Mika was quick to block her mouth with his hand. Then he looked at her with a warning look in his eyes.

"If you dare to scream again, I won't hesitate to hurt you."

Her eyes were misty with tears. Fang Su Jin bit the hand that was covering her mouth, but the man only showed her an unhappy look before he tried to drag her away from the scene.

Fang Su Jin whimpered as she looked around for anyone who can help her. However, the place was too quiet.

Tears started to blur in her eyes.

At this time, Zhang Yi Hai's face came to her mind.

If only she knew that this would happen, she would listen to him and let him accompany her. Even if her mentor find out about their relationship, she would explain.

But it was too late to regret it, right?

With her mouth covered, Fang Su Jin tried to scream again.

Her action made Mika furious.

He pulled her away and raised his hand, wanting to slap her face.

Just as his hand was a few inches away from Fang Su Jin's cheek, someone grabbed his hand, stopping him in his action.

Before Mika could figure out what was going on, that person had already thrown him aside, causing him to stagger backward until he fell down on his butt.

The pain made him angry. Mika looked up and saw that it was a face that he recognized. The last time he was with Fang Su Jin, it was also this man who had disturbed him.

As the thought came to his mind, Mika stood up again, pissed.

Meanwhile, Fang Su Jin was relieved the moment she was no longer in Mika's embrace. She looked up and a breath of relief escaped her once she saw the tall young man beside her made her.

Swiftly, Fang Su Jin moved to hide behind his back and grabbed his shirt. "Zhang Yi Hai." Her voice croaked.

"It's fine. You're alright now." Zhang Yi Hai wanted to coax his girlfriend, but noticing that Mika was walking in his direction, he immediately turned around to confront him.

Zhang Yi Hai stared at Mika dangerously.

The last time, he had witnessed this man trying to harass Fang Su Jin in Capital City. He did not expect that he would still run into this person again.

Zhang Yi Hai's heart was aching as he recalled the tears pooled in his girlfriend's eyes.

He realized that if he came a little later, something might happen to Fang Su Jin. This thought made him furious.

As Mika approached them again, Zhang Yi Hai raised his fist and threw a punch straight at Mika's face.

His punch was hard enough that caused Mika to fall back to the ground. The corner of his lips trailed with blood and soon, he realized that one of his teeth came out.
