

Love So Sweet 485

485 The Smile on her Face Disappeared

After leaving the exhibition center together, Zhang Yi Hai took Fang Su Jin to a restaurant in the city.

Knowing that they will finally have time to spend alone, Zhang Yi Hai decided to do a little bit of homework and find a good place for them to have dinner. It was not easy for him to have a proper date with his girlfriend. Naturally, he has to work hard.

Meanwhile, Fang Su Jin was still admiring the beautiful flowers that Zhang Yi Hai had sent to her.

Knowing that she could not take the bouquet back home, Fang Su Jin decided to snap a few photos of the flowers. She checked on the photos and thought that the result was pretty good.

After contemplating for a while, Fang Su Jin decided to post the photo on her social media.

This time, she was in F Country for her exhibition. After she arrived, Fang Su Jin has been posting a few photos of her exhibition on her social media. Even if she posted the photos, the people in her cycle would only think that the flowers were what she received for her exhibition.

A few seconds after she posted the photo, her friends began to comment on the flower, praising them as good-looking.

Some of them were asking her about her exhibition and Fang Su Jin would answer them one by one.

Zhang Yi Hai watched his girlfriend typing a reply to her friend and smiled. He was very glad to know that Fang Su Jin liked the flower very much.

While Zhang Yi Hai was staring at Fang Su Jin's expression, the phone in Fang Su Jin's hand rang, and the smile on her face quickly disappeared. In fact, Fang Su Jin looked as if she was scared of something.

"What's wrong?" Zhang Yi Hai noticed that something did not seem right and was concerned about his girlfriend.

He wondered if that pervert somehow got out and was harassing his girlfriend again.

Seeing that his girlfriend was not answering his question, Zhang Yi Hai decided to peek at her screen. The corner of his lips began to twitch when he saw the name on her caller ID.

He could understand why Fang Su Jin was so scared.

The person who was calling her at this time was no other than his sister.

Fang Su Jin turned to look at him in horror. "Zhang Yi Hai, what should I do?"

Zhang Yi Hai had to suppress his laughter when he saw the look on Fang Su Jin's face. "You can reject the call or answer it. It's your choice."

Her brow furrowed. Fang Su Jin was staring at her phone. The look on her face was as if she was in the middle of making a very important decision.

At another time, Fang Su Jin would not hesitate to pick up the phone call. However, now that she was with Zhang Yi Hai, Fang Su Jin had a guilty conscience.

After pondering about it for a while, Fang Su Jin decided to ignore the call.

Maybe once she returned to her room, she could call back and tell Zhang Li Xue that she was too busy and had not noticed her phone call.

Fang Su Jin felt more at ease as the thought came to her mind.

She was about to put down her phone on the table when the phone in her hand slipped down.

Fortunately, Fang Su Jin managed to catch her phone before it could hit the ground.

Unfortunately for her, her fingers accidentally touched the answer call button, and the call was now connected.

Fang Su Jin inhaled a deep breath as she looked at her phone screen. Her body turned rigid and she did not know what she should do now.

“Hello?” Zhang Li Xue’s voice was heard on the other line. “Su Jin?”

Zhang Yi Hai looked at his girlfriend helplessly. He gave her arms a poke, reminding her that his sister was still on the other line.

Fang Su Jin snapped out of her trance. Realizing that the phone call was connected, she had no other choice but to answer it.

“Li Xue...”

“Hmm? What’s wrong with your voice? Su Jin, are you feeling unwell?”

Fang Su Jin coughed. “No. I’m fine. It’s just that, I was in the middle of something earlier.” She glanced at Zhang Yi Hai and saw the smile on his face.

Her eyes narrowed.

Fang Su Jin could tell that Zhang Yi Hai was enjoying watching her getting all flustered because of his sister’s phone call.

“Li Xue, why did you call me?” Fang Su Jin decided to quickly shift the topic.

Zhang Li Xue laughed. “Su Jin, how is your exhibition? This is your first overseas exhibition. How does it feel?”

Hearing that her friend was asking her about her exhibition, Fang Su Jin began to relax. The two of them chatted a bit about her exhibition. But of course, Fang Su Jin did not mention Zhang Yi Hai or the episode with Mika.

“Su Jin, congratulations.” Zhang Li Xue heaved a long sigh. “I wished I could be there to give my support.”

“It’s alright. There will be a lot more exhibitions after this. Next time, you can come with Doctor Bai.”

Zhang Li Xue had a mischievous smile on her face. Thinking about the surprise she was about to give Fang Su Jin made her feel excited. She already tried to picture the look on Fang Su Jin's face when she appeared a few days later.

"That's right, Su Jin, did my little brother come to your exhibition?"

Fang Su Jin began to panic again upon hearing the question. "Your little brother?" She glanced at the person beside her, hoping that the man would help to figure out a way to escape this situation.

"Uh-huh. Yi Hai is supposed to be in F Country as well," Zhang Li Xue said. "I asked him to go look at your exhibition when he has time."

"No. I did not see your brother." Fang Su Jin answered a little too quickly.

"Really? I guess Yi Hai should be very busy with his work then." Zhang Li Xue then decided to change the subject and chatted about something else.

The two of them chatted for a while before they hang up.

Once the call ended, Zhang Li Xue stared at her phone, thinking about her conversation with Fang Su Jin earlier.

"What's wrong?"

A light kiss fell on her forehead. Zhang Li Xue looked up and saw that Bai Qi was looking at her with concern.

"Nothing." Zhang Li Xue shook her head. "I just thought that Su Jin was a little strange earlier. But I could not figure out what it was."

"Don't think too much. Maybe your friend is just a little busy with her exhibition." Bai Qi leaned in and carried his wife in his arms. "Whatever it is, you will figure it out when you see her in a few days."
