

Love So Sweet 519

519 Missing Him Too Much

Fang Su Jin thought that he would not be able to see her boyfriend until his final exam. She did not want to disturb his study and was busy with helping Zhang Li Xue's wedding.

Therefore, Fang Su Jin did not expect that the man would appear in front of her two weeks later.

As arranged, Fang Su Jin was supposed to pick up Zhang Li Xue from her house and drive her over to the bridal store for her fitting. She pulled over her vehicle and walked to the door as usual. She pressed the doorbell and unexpectedly, the person who opened the door was Zhang Yi Hai.

Fang Su Jin looked at the tall man in front of her with a dazed look on her face.

She wondered if perhaps, she has been missing him too much that she started to imagine things.

Suddenly, Zhang Yi Hai leaned over until their faces were a few inches apart. "Su Jin, are not going to come in?" His voice was a whisper. Because of that, his voice sounded deeper and sexier.

Fang Su Jin's cheek reddened, noticing their closeness. She finally believed that the person in front of her was real. However, as she recalled where they were, Fang Su Jin quickly took a step back. Then, she looked around, worried that someone might see them together.

"You..." Fang Su Jin looked at the man anxiously. "Why are you here?"

"You didn't come over to visit me. Of course, I have to come here and see you."

.....

Fang Su Jin looked at him in disbelief. Then, she started to worry about his study. "Aren't you supposed to be busy with your final exam? Zhang Yi Hai, don't play around, alright?"

Seeing that a certain someone was worrying about his finals more than he was made him feel quite happy. Fang Su Jin's concern showed that she really cared about him.

"I'm joking with you." His lips tilted to a faint smile. "My mom asked me to come home for a fitting. I will only stay for the weekends."

Because of his sister's wedding, his mother planned to make a new suit for him and his father. He could only find the time to come back and go for a fitting.

It was only then that Fang Su Jin felt more at ease.

She took time to watch Zhang Yi Hai for a while longer. Her heart was about to burst from missing him too much.

"Is that Su Jin?"

The voice snapped them both out of their trances. Fang Su Jin lowered her gaze and took a few deep breaths to calm down. Then she looked up again and greeted the elder lady in front of her. "Auntie."

“Hey, it’s really you. I thought that I heard your voice.” Li Qin Yao smiled. “Why are you standing outside and not coming in?” She turned to her son and frowned. “Yi Hai, why didn’t you invite the guest inside?”

Zhang Yi Hai heaved helplessly. “Mom, I already invited Sister Fang in.”

Fang Su Jin could not help but snicker. The person in front of her was really good at shifting the way he addressed her. A few minutes ago, she was still Su Jin and now, he had smoothly called her Sister Fang again.

“Su Jin, are you in a hurry?” Li Qin Yao asked. “Li Xue is still in the middle of getting ready. Come on in first. Auntie had prepared some snacks. Why don’t you try them first before you go out?”

Fang Su Jin followed them into the house to wait for her friend.

Initially, she wanted to come in and wait, but Zhang Yi Hai’s appearance was too sudden. He took her by surprise.

As she walked in, Li Qin Yao sat with her in the living room and chatted with her before her daughter would come out. However, she soon noticed that something was a little strange.

Usually, her son would spend his time in his room and look at the computer for a long time. It was strange to see him sitting in the living room like this. Especially when there was a guest at home.

“Yi Hai, what are you doing here?” Li Qin Yao asked as she looked at her son. “Usually, don’t you always spend your time looking at the computer?”

Fang Su Jin lowered her head and covered her mouth to hide the smile on her face. Of course, she knew well that Zhang Yi Hai was only staying around in the living room because she was there.

“Mom, didn’t you say that my sister is going out?” Zhang Yi Hai said. “It’s rare for me to come back. I think I should go and accompany my sister out.”

Li Qin Yao thought that this was also a good idea.

Usually, it was Fang Su Jin who would often accompany her daughter to the bridal store. Li Qin Yao had always thought that it was troublesome for Fang Su Jin to drive her daughter around. Moreover, her wheelchair was quite heavy as well.

Even though Fang Su Jin did not seem to mind it, Li Qin Yao thought that it was too hard for Fang Su Jin to help her daughter alone.

Zhang Li Xue seemed to be enjoying planning her wedding slowly with her friend helping her out.

Meanwhile, she too was busy organizing a few matters regarding her wedding at home. Making a list of people they have to invite, figuring out the menu for the wedding, and a lot more.

When she got married years ago, it was her mother-in-law who helped with everything. Now that she had to do a lot of things by herself, Li Qin Yao thought that planning a wedding was quite tiring.

“Is it alright for you to accompany them?” Li Qin Yao asked. “Are you not busy with your work and study?” She knew that her son was usually busy with some matter with his company. This was the reason he would often sit down in front of his computer.

“It’s alright.” Zhang Yi Hai said. “I should take my eyes off the computer once in a while.” He glanced at his girlfriend and smiled when his mother was not looking at him.

It was a rare chance for him to meet his girlfriend. Of course, he wanted to spend a bit more time with her.
