

Love So Sweet 537

537 He was No Saint

Fang Su Jin stood at the spot for a while to watch Zhang Yi Hai's sleeping face.

The memory of him looking after her while she was a little drunk came to her mind. She did not realize what sort of nonsense she was spouting, but Fang Su Jin recalled staying obedient while he was there.

Then, he caressed her hair and coaxed her to sleep.

Zhang Yi Hai's embrace was very warm and assuring.

Subconsciously, she walked over to his side at a slow, lazy pace. Perhaps, she was still a little drunk or perhaps she was still dizzy from sleepiness.

Seeing that he was sleeping on the sofa, Fang Su Jin walked over to his side and slid into his arms. Her arms were around his waist and her face was buried in his chest.

It was a little cold at the night and Zhang Yi Hai's body was helping her to warm up.

His familiar scent was comforting. Soon, Fang Su Jin fall asleep in his embrace again.

Zhang Yi Hai waited until he could hear her deep breathing before he opened his eyes.

Actually, he woke up from sleep when Fang Su Jin was walking over to his side. He pretended to be sleeping just to see what his girlfriend was going to do.

He thought that she was going to wake her up from sleep. Unexpectedly, his girlfriend lifted his hand and slid into his embrace.

Zhang Yi Hai watched her for a while and chuckled.

Her bed was very big ad spacious. However, this person wanted to squeeze into this narrow space with him.

At this time, his girlfriend was using one of his arms and treating it as if it was her pillow and now, his body has become her warmer.

A helpless sigh escaped him.

Even though the space was narrow, Zhang Yi Hai thought that hugging his girlfriend like this was also quite good.

Zhang Yi Hai combed his girlfriend's long hair and kissed the top of her head. He let her sleep in his embrace and hugged her body tightly.

However, Zhang Yi Hai soon realized that something was not right.

The person in his embrace could still sleep soundly, but it was really difficult for him to sleep like this. Having the person he liked to sleep in his arms was really tormenting him.

Zhang Yi Hai did not know how long would he be able to hold on to this situation. He leaned over and kissed her lips deeply until she was struggling for her breath. Only then did he finally let her go.

His brow furrowed as he thought of how he was going to survive the night.

A few hours later, Fang Su Jin woke up from her sleep again only to realize that she was now in a different place.

She seemed to remember that she had woken up in the room. Then, how did she appear at a different place?

Fang Su Jin observed her surroundings for a while and figured out that she was now resting in Zhang Yi Hai's arms.

When she realized where she was, her cheek turned a little warmer.

It seemed that after she woke up, she had gone to look for him. However, when she saw him sleeping on the couch, she then decided to join him instead.

As the thought came to her mind, Fang Su Jin's face turned a little warmer. She could not believe that she had gotten so courageous to sneak into Zhang Yi Hai's arms.

A silly smile appeared on her lips. Fang Su Jin looked at the way his chest was heaving slowly and thought that he was still sleeping soundly. Taking this chance, Fang Su Jin rubbed her cheek against Zhang Yi Hai's body. Once she had enough, Fang Su Jin decided that it was time for her to leave before Zhang Yi Hai's side.

She slowly removed his arms from her waist and tried to slip away.

However, before she could come down the couch, Zhang Yi Hai's arm was once again on her waist. This time, she was holding her tightly.

His movement surprised her. Swiftly, Fang Su Jin raised her head and found that Zhang Yi Hai was staring at her.

From the look of it, it did not seem as if he has been asleep at all. In fact, Zhang Yi Hai was looking fresh and lively. Their gazes met for a long time.

Suddenly, Fang Su Jin seemed to be aware that she was now in a dangerous position. She tried to get out of his embrace again and heard his voice.

"You're awake."

Fang Su Jin stopped struggling immediately and raised her head to look at her boyfriend again.

"Good." The corner of his lips turned up. His eyelids drooped as he gazed on her lips. Then, Zhang Yi Hai leaned over to kiss Fang Su Jin on the lips.

One of his arms was draped around her waist, and his free hand was in her hair, holding her head as he deepened their kisses.

Zhang Yi Hai thought of how he has been tormented for the whole night. A certain someone was hugging his waist tightly and rubbing her body against him.

He finally thought that he would get some rest when Fang Su Jin was in a deep sleep. However, the moment she woke up again, this person continued to rub her body against him,

He was no saint.

No matter how hard he has been suppressing a certain urge, Zhang Yi Hai found that he could no longer hold on. He was trying to keep his distance but Fang Su Jin seemed unafraid of him. His body was hot all over because of her. He thought that if he did not vent his feeling, he would soon die from frustration.

With those thoughts, Zhang Yi Hai leaned over and continued to kiss Fang Su Jin's lips deeply. His teeth were nibbling against her lips. Once she opened her mouth to complain, Zhang Yi Hai plunged his tongue into her mouth.

A deep sigh escaped him as he was finally able to vent his frustration. His Su Jin's lips were too irresistible and addictive. Zhang Yi Hai found that he could not stop kissing her.
