

Love Will 444

Chapter 444

Why can't I be? Savanna, I will get back everything you owe me!"

Anyone who heard this at midnight would feel terrified.

Savanna subconsciously reached out and looked for the man next to her. "Brandon, are you there?"

Winnie sneered, "There is no one next to you, right? Guess who he is with now?"

"Stop talking nonsense." Savanna turned on the light, and the bed next to her was indeed empty.

Brandon was not at home.

"I thought that you were pitiful, so I told you that your husband is with me now," Winnie bragged.

Savanna gritted her teeth. "I don't believe it. Brandon must have left because of something else."

Then, she hung up the phone.

She sat by the bed to calm down before dialing Brandon's number

Beep

After a long time, the phone was picked up.

"Savanna, what's wrong?" Brandon's gentle voice made Savanna feel at ease.

But at the same time, Savanna felt that his voice was a little strange somehow.

"Why aren't you at home? I'm awake. I didn't see you."

"I have something to do at the company. I rushed over to deal with it. Are you feeling unwell?" Brandon asked.

Somehow, Savanna felt that his voice was very low, as if he was suppressing something. As he spoke, there seemed to be a low gasp.

"I'm not feeling unwell, but I miss you. Can you come back to accompany me?"

Winnie's words just now hurt her a lot. But now, as long as Brandon was willing to come back, Savanna would unconditionally believe him.

"Honey, can you wait for a while? I'll be back soon." Brandon comforted her.

Why can't you return now?" Savanna said unhappily, "Are you with someone else?"
