

LOVED BY AN OLDER MAN

Chapter 10: Pick A Gift For Her

Wei Juan's face alternated between red and white.

She suddenly realized that it was Jiang Yu's first time attending such a banquet. If Jiang Yu's outfit was too bad, the Jiang family would definitely be gossiped about.freewebnovel.com

"Alright, alright. You two can wear the same outfit. Go and change."

Although Wei Juan was biased in her heart, she did not want outsiders to know about this.

Therefore, she could only say this.

In a short while, the two daughters walked out in their most expensive gowns.

They each wore different styles. Jiang Ran smiled sweetly and walked in an amiable style. Jiang Yu, however, did not show any emotion on her face. There was an additional layer of coldness on her body.

It was hard to say which person was more beautiful, but Jiang Yu's image was more eye-catching.

Jiang Ran was so jealous that she was worried that she would be outclassed by Jiang Yu. But she didn't point it out on the surface.

When the bill was finally paid, Wei Juan's face was full of pain because each gown cost more than a million yuan. She was willing to spend it on Jiang Ran, but Jiang Yu was the lucky one.

In the afternoon.

At the entrance of the auction house, many people were complaining, "Didn't we agree on this afternoon's auction? Why was it canceled at the last minute?"

Young Master Ye and Jiang Ran were also among the crowd.

Jiang Ran looked at the poster hanging at the entrance of the auction house and immediately took a fancy to the most eye-catching necklace, The Heart of The Ocean.

Recently, Young Master Ye had helped his family to negotiate a big deal. Now that he was rich, it was not easy for him to pick the most expensive one.

But unexpectedly...

“Why is it closed?” Jiang Ran also looked depressed.

At this moment, the person in charge of the auction house said, “Today’s auction will be postponed for an hour.”

They could wait for an hour.

In particular, this auction house was full of high-quality goods. Many people had waited for a week.

And at this moment, inside the auction house.

Mo Long was stroking his chin and worrying about the dazzling array of items in front of him.

He asked his assistant, Teng Yi, “What do you think is the most suitable gift for a girl’s birthday?”

Teng Yi Thought for a moment and said, “Girls usually like jewelry. Oh right, diamonds. Every woman will like them.”

Diamonds? Mo Long’s gaze landed on one of the items placed in an exquisite box.

This diamond necklace, The Heart of The Ocean happened to be an auction item that had just been received at the auction house.

Previously, someone had placed it in the auction house due to a cash flow problem, and the starting price was 100 million.

“This is it.”

Mo Long immediately could imagine how eye-catching this necklace would be when it was worn on Jiang Yu's perfect white neck.

An hour later, the auction went on as scheduled.

However, the auction house's manager said, "The auction for The Heart of The Ocean has been canceled today."

Jiang Ran, who had been eager to try, could not help but feel a chill in her heart. She had come for The Heart of The Ocean.

"Why has it been canceled?" Jiang Ran was a little unhappy.

Young Master Ye, who was at the side, explained, "It's possible that the seller did not sell it at the last minute."

Jiang Ran had not seen anything satisfactory during the auction.

Young master Ye said, "I see that you usually like to draw. You will definitely like this painting. It's the work of a master."

In the end, Jiang Ran took a painting that was expensive but not to her liking and went home.

On the afternoon of the birthday banquet.

Jiang Yu and Jiang Ran were wearing the same clothes.

Both of them had outstanding temperaments.

Jiang Hai was very satisfied after looking at it. At least after dressing up, Jiang Yu could still look like a lady from a noble family.

However, there was an exquisite necklace around Jiang Ran's neck. That necklace was Wei Juan's favorite set of jewelry, and she usually couldn't bear to wear it.

Today, in order to make Jiang Ran the most dazzling existence, Wei Juan had put in a lot of effort.

"Are the piano pieces ready?" Jiang Hai took a sip of tea and asked.

Jiang Ran smiled and said, "Dad, don't worry. I've practiced it several times. I won't make any mistakes."

"Very good!" Jiang Hai nodded in satisfaction.

Jiang Hai had already invited professor Bai to attend the birthday banquet, and the other party had also agreed readily.

Today, everyone in the capital would see how outstanding his daughter was.

Jiang Hai looked at Jiang Yu again, and his expression became much better. "Remember, don't talk too much. Learn well from your sister."

Jiang Yu replied, "Dad, I understand."

Jiang Hai was still worried. He felt that Jiang Yu's etiquette wasn't good.

After Jiang Hai left, Wei Juan hurriedly called for a makeup artist to do Jiang Ran's styling.

At that moment, Jiang Yu's phone rang.

A person who claimed to be Mo Long's assistant said that he had sent the gift to the Jiang family.

A few minutes later, Teng Yi entered the house and handed a small square box to Jiang Yu. "This is president Mo's birthday gift for you."

Jiang Yu took it, but Jiang Ran and Wei Juan were looking up at the box.

When they saw that the box was very ordinary, they couldn't help but show disdain.
