

LOVED BY AN OLDER MAN

Chapter 13: This One Is It!

Jiang Yu's playing was natural and full of vitality.

Even a laymen who heard it immediately felt that Jiang Yu's realm was above Jiang Ran's.

At this moment, Jiang Ran's smug expression was still on her face, but she froze.

Jiang Hai and Wei Juan looked at each other and saw the same surprise in each other's eyes.

Didn't their daughter touch the piano for the first time a year ago?

Why was she so good now?

She was even more outstanding than Jiang ran, whom they had carefully nurtured for several years!

"This is the one!"

When Jiang Yu began to play, the calmness on Professor Bai's face disappeared.

She took a deep breath and stared at Jiang Yu's every move.

No, this version was even better than the one she had heard the other day.

After the song was played, the audience burst into applause again.

"Mrs. Jiang, how did you raise your two daughters to be so outstanding?" A woman next to Wei Juan said enviously.

"Yes, we didn't expect the second miss of the Jiang family to be so different."

Professor Bai had already moved forward excitedly and said to Jiang Yu, “Young lady, this song of yours is really too good. I want to buy the rights to play this song. Is that okay?”

Jiang Yu saw that the other party’s eyes were filled with appreciation and immediately said in an extremely good mood, “Professor, if you want to use it, you can just take it.”

Wasn’t it just a song? Jiang Yu’s small songs were everywhere.

“Professor!” Jiang Ran looked at the two interacting people with a pale face.

Wei Juan came back to her senses and quickly went forward, “Professor Bai, are you satisfied with our Jiang Ran?”

She didn’t mention at all that Jiang Yu had played before.freewebnovel.com
Professor Bai turned around and said, “I’ve long wanted to take in a disciple from the Jiang family, but after listening to Jiang Yu, I suddenly realized that I don’t have anything that I can teach her in song writing. As for playing, I can teach her something.”

After saying that, professor Bai looked at Jiang Yu and said, “Are you willing to learn from me?”

Jiang Yu said, “I’m willing. Professor, are you teaching at Qing Teng University? When I go there, I’ll look for a teacher to learn.”

Professor Bai nodded. “Very good.”

Jiang Ran’s face turned pale. Professor Bai had originally intended to take her in as a disciple.

But now, after listening to Jiang Yu’s performance, she switched?

Jiang Hai and Wei Juan had also misunderstood this meaning.

They all thought that Jiang Yu had harmed Jiang Ran.

Wei Juan was anxious. “Professor Bai, what about our Ran Ran?”

Professor Bai looked at Jiang Ran. “Jiang Ran’s performance was commendable, but she was not good enough.”

After professor Bai finished taking in disciples, she quickly left.

And the focus of the entire banquet shifted from Jiang Ran to Jiang Yu.

Jiang Ran was so angry that she almost couldn't maintain her facade of being a good sister.

Why was it that Professor Bai could teach Jiang Yu personally just because she was lacking in playing?

And she wasn't good enough, yet she couldn't be Professor Bai's disciple?

"Mom!" Jiang Ran tugged at Wei Juan's sleeve unwillingly and whispered, "Jiang Yu is considered to be in the limelight today. How can she be like this? She usually practices the piano secretly and deliberately hides her strength to humiliate me, right?"

Wei Juan and Jiang Hai felt the same way when they heard that.

Although Jiang Hai felt proud to accept everyone's compliments, he was very dissatisfied with Jiang Yu's intentions.

No matter what kind of conflict the sisters in the family had, Jiang Hai only had one principle when it came to dealing with outsiders. That was to put aside personal grudges for the benefit of the family.

"Yu'er, come with me! I have something to ask you," Jiang Hai ordered Jiang Yu.

He brought Jiang Yu to a corner and scrutinized her. "So, a year ago, you deliberately hid it from me and said that you don't know how to play the piano?"

Jiang Yu pursed her lips. "Would you believe me if I said that I only learned it for a year?"

Jiang Yu had always learned things very quickly. It was just that before she returned to the Jiang family, she had not come into contact with such things that only wealthy families would learn. It did not mean that she was mediocre.

Jiang Hai frowned and naturally did not believe her. "But in this one year, I have never heard you play the piano!"

Jiang Yu raised her head and looked straight into Jiang Hai's untrusting eyes. "That's because I have no right to touch the piano at home. Isn't this your order, father?"

A year ago, when Jiang Yu first came into contact with the piano and tried to play it at home, Jiang Hai felt that the piano should be picked up from a young age. At that time, Jiang Yu had no chance, so in front of the entire family, he pulled Jiang Yu away from the piano to show that only Jiang Ran could play the piano.

At that time, everyone was laughing at Jiang Yu and felt that it was right to not let her touch the piano, so as to avoid the whole Jiang family's demonic music.

Jiang Hai coughed, unwilling to admit that he had never counted on her, he said instead, "Forget it. Since you can play, then learn well from Professor Bai in the future.. If there's a chance, help your sister put in a good word and let her learn along with you."
