

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1151 -

1151 It's None of My Business

Being spat on his face was undoubtedly humiliating.

Roger's face flushed red, but he didn't dare to reach out to wipe the saliva away.

Based on what Nick said, Roger could tell that there was probably no way to resolve the matter amicably today.

They only had themselves to blame for beating up the young man without finding out his identity.

Although Roger always felt that the Dunnes would soon be able to catch up with the eight top families of DC and even become one of them, especially since Samuel and the others kept praising him, he knew very well that the Dunnes were not one of the eight top families of DC yet and were in fact far inferior.

Moreover, Nick had already been designated as the next helmsman of the Waltons. If nothing went wrong, he would become the new Walton helmsman in a few years. His status was much better than Roger's, and his family was much better than Roger's. Facing Nick, Roger didn't have any confidence.

Seeing that Nick had lost his temper, Roger was frightened, and his legs went limp. He knelt on the floor with a loud thud.

"Mr... Mr. Walton, I really didn't know of your identity just now. Otherwise, I wouldn't have dared to do anything to you! I will kneel in apology. As long as I can help you calm down, you can hit me and scold me as you please!"

Seeing Roger kneeling in front of Nick, Hayden and Samuel were scared out of their wits. They hurriedly knelt down with two loud sounds.

Thud!

Thud!

"Mr... Mr. Walton, please forgive us. We really didn't mean to offend you. We didn't know your identity... Please forgive us!" Samuel and Hayden also begged for forgiveness, their faces deathly pale.

Nick looked at the scene in front of him with satisfaction. Indeed, this was the only outcome for those who offended the Waltons. In the end, they would have no choice but to kneel, beg for forgiveness, and be at their disposal!

“Hmm?” At this moment, Nick saw Lucas still sitting in his chair, and his eyebrows immediately furrowed. “Punk, how dare you still sit there calmly?”

Lucas glanced at him and said indifferently, “I’m not involved in this, and what you do is none of my business.”

Nick frowned and asked the young man beside him, “Jacky, did this guy hit you?”

Jacky looked at Lucas carefully and found that he wasn’t there just now. He shook his head and said, “I didn’t see him.”

Alyssa immediately grumbled in dissatisfaction, “Hmph, this wimp was hiding. I didn’t expect him to escape this!”

Bethany and the others felt the same.

They had looked down on Lucas just now because he didn’t join them in saving Everleigh.

However, they had beaten up a Walton in the process, and now the Waltons were here to take revenge. On the other hand, Lucas didn’t participate and was lucky enough to escape this catastrophe!

The thought of it made them look at Lucas with even more displeasure.

But Lucas didn’t care at all about what these people thought of him.

He wasn’t someone who cared much about what others thought of him. He had merely agreed to come here with Leila because he had lost the bet. He was just posing as her boyfriend, so he didn’t care about what they thought at all.

“Jacky, the people who beat you up today are now kneeling in front of you. It’s up to you what you want to do with them!” Nick said to Jacky proudly.

Since these people dared to assault one of them, even if Jacky wanted their lives, the Waltons would definitely be able to settle it easily.

“Thanks, bro!”

After hearing what his brother said, Jacky laughed menacingly, grabbed the plastic baton in the hand of a strong man beside him, and hit Roger, Samuel, and Hayden, who were kneeling in front of him.

“You idiots, weren’t you feeling really smug when you surrounded me and beat me just now? I’m going to let you have a taste of your own medicine now!”

“No dodging! If anyone dares to dodge again, I’ll get the bodyguards behind me to let you have a taste of what it’s like to be surrounded and beaten up!

“And you bastard, f*ck, what’s the big deal about the Dunnes? You’re the bastard who hit me the hardest and acted the most arrogant! Damn it. I’m going to beat you to death now!”

Jacky cursed loudly while hitting Roger, Samuel, and Hayden, who were crying and shrieking in pain. But they didn’t dare to hide and could only beg for mercy.

“Mr... Mr. Walton, we were blind. We really know our mistake now! Ahhh, help! Please spare us! We will never dare to do it again!”

“Please forgive me! Mr. Walton... Argh!”

“I’m sorry! Ahhhh!”

Only when Jacky became tired did he finally stop hitting them. But they were already incomparably miserable as they lay on the floor with their faces swollen and bruised. They looked far more wretched than Jacky did.

Since Roger had hit Jacky the hardest earlier, Jacky had beaten him up extra hard, and there was a cut on his forehead. There were tears and snot all over his face, and he didn’t look anything like his high and mighty self from earlier.

Seeing Roger’s miserable state, Jacky felt that he had finally vented all his anger and tossed the plastic baton in his hand back to the bodyguard behind him.

“You bastards, I’ll definitely skin you alive if you dare to lay a hand on me again!” Jacky warned.

Roger hurriedly said, “I won’t dare to do it again! Never again! We were blind today and failed to recognize who you were. Otherwise, we would have never dared to touch you! This will never happen again!”

His attitude was extremely humble. If Jacky asked Roger to lick his shoes right now, Roger would do it without hesitation.

After Roger realized that he had beaten up Jacky, a scion of the Waltons, and seeing that Nick had brought so many powerful bodyguards, his heart sank to rock bottom, and he had thought that he was dead meat this time.

Even if he didn’t die, he would probably lose an arm at least.

But he had only been beaten up by Jacky. Although it was painful, it was much better than dying or becoming crippled, so he was absolutely grateful!

Hayden and Samuel hurriedly chimed in, "Mr. Walton, we will never dare to offend you again! How could we possibly dare to do anything to someone as noble as you?"

Jacky felt pleased. Looking at the two people who were too scared to even look unhappy, he suddenly thought of a good idea. "Yeah, you two plebs actually had the guts to beat me. I can't let you off that easily!"

His words immediately made Hayden's and Samuel's hearts skip a beat.

Then Jacky ordered, "Okay, you two beat each other up hard until I'm satisfied! I won't spare anyone who dares to pretend!"

Everyone was stunned.

But Samuel immediately reacted. He clenched his fist and punched Hayden's face hard.

Bang!

Thank you for reading on

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1152 -

1152 Dragging Him Down

Hayden didn't react until Samuel's fist hit his face and he felt a sharp pain in his cheekbone.

"Damn it, you bastard Samuel! You sneak attacked me! Since you struck first, don't blame me for not showing mercy!" Hayden hollered furiously and punched Samuel.

The two of them started hitting each other.

What Jacky said spurred Samuel and Hayden to go all out as if they were fighting to the death.

After a short exchange of blows, their faces were already covered in bruises and wounds. They were in immense pain, but they still continued to hit each other hard, afraid Jacky would think that they weren't hitting each other hard enough.

"Hahahahaha!"

Seeing that the two immediately fought each other after receiving his order, Jacky guffawed smugly.

Looking at the scene in front of him, Nick immediately smiled contemptuously, as if he was watching two dogs biting each other.

Next to them, Alyssa and Bethany watched nervously as their boyfriends beat each other up as if they were enemies. But they knew that this was Jacky's order, so they didn't dare to disobey him or lose their temper. They could only look at the scene in front of them worriedly.

Everleigh watched with some worry on her face, but her expression was rather fake. In fact, there was even some pleasure in her eyes.

At the end of the day, the reason they ended up offending the Waltons was that they had saved Everleigh from Jacky. It could even be said that she was the trigger for today's incident.

boxn ov el. c o m

But now, Everleigh was watching her roommates' boyfriends being forced to beat each other up after offending someone because they had saved her. She didn't feel any guilt at all but instead had a twisted sense of joy.

Reason being, she was disgruntled over Alyssa and Bethany having boyfriends that were much richer than hers, even though she was second in beauty among the four roommates after Leila.

They had frequently shown off to Everleigh in the past, so she had already accumulated a lot of pent-up resentment and jealousy.

When she saw how miserable they were, Everleigh felt that she had finally found some release for her long-standing resentment.

Of course, in addition to Alyssa's and Bethany's boyfriends, she also found Leila's boyfriend an eyesore.

Lucas actually drove a two-million-dollar car. How did Leila get herself such a boyfriend?

Thinking of this, Everleigh couldn't help looking at Jacky, who was standing in front of the crowd.

When Jacky tried to get fresh with her earlier, Everleigh had felt extremely disgusted.

But after learning Jacky's identity, Everleigh felt that he was rather handsome when she looked at him again. He seemed to be only in his twenties, so he was young and rich.

Moreover, he was from one of the top eight families in DC. If she could marry him, she would get to live a life of luxury, completely surpassing her three roommates of four years!

When Roger led Hayden and Samuel to her rescue about ten minutes ago, Everleigh had felt extremely excited and happy. But now, she was furious at these people who had ruined her good deed.

If they hadn't rushed over, taken her away, and even beat up Jacky, she might be Jacky's woman now!

When Everleigh saw Alyssa's and Bethany's boyfriends still fighting each other hard, while Leila's new 'boyfriend' Lucas was still sitting calmly and enjoying the show, her eyes flashed with maliciousness.

Everleigh suddenly pointed at Lucas and reprimanded self-righteously, "Lucas, aren't you Leila's boyfriend and their friend? They've been beaten up for offending Mr. Walton, but you're just sitting here and watching. Are you still a man? You're really a disappointment!"

Lucas remained sitting and glanced at Everleigh.

He was well aware of what she was thinking.

After she learned Jacky's identity, the regret on her face was almost overflowing. Immediately afterward, she had obvious hatred in her eyes when she looked at Hayden and Samuel.

Now that she knew who Jacky was, her gratitude toward them for saving her had already turned into hatred. She thought that they had ruined her chance to hook up with Jacky.

Now that she suddenly targeted Lucas, she just wanted to drag him down too.

Thus, Lucas didn't react to Everleigh's accusation and simply said indifferently, "I'm just accompanying Leila for a meal. Friend? The two of them aren't worthy of being my friends."

Leila could also tell that Everleigh had hostile intentions.

The person forcing Samuel and Hayden to beat each other up was a scion of the Waltons, one of the eight top families in DC. Even Roger had to kneel and beg for mercy from the two Walton brothers. But Lucas didn't have any friendship with Samuel and Hayden in the first place, so what right did Everleigh have to want him to help them?

It was clearly a deliberate attempt to get Lucas implicated!

Leila looked at Everleigh and said impolitely, “Everleigh, that’s enough. Aren’t you just trying to blow things up? Don’t forget who caused things to end up this way!”

She was good at observing, and she had long noticed the changes in Everleigh’s expressions.

She chose to keep silent because she didn’t want to embarrass Everleigh in public, thinking that doing so wasn’t necessary. But now that Everleigh wanted to drag Lucas into trouble, Leila couldn’t tolerate it anymore.

“Leila, how... how could you say that about me?! We’ve always treated you as our close friend, but you’re so selfish. Even though Alyssa’s and Bethany’s boyfriends are suffering, you’re not even thinking of helping them!

“You’re so heartless! I really had the wrong idea about you!”

Everleigh accused, looking extremely heartbroken.

Alyssa nodded and chimed in, “Exactly! Leila, why are you like that? Have we ever mistreated you before? Now that our boyfriends are in trouble, your boyfriend is watching at the side, and you refuse to help at all. Instead, you’re making callous comments. You’ve gone overboard!”

Bethany said angrily, “Leila, so much for being friends! They all say that time will prove people’s true colors. This incident shows that you’re just like your boyfriend, selfish and condescending. It’s really disappointing!”

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1153 -

1153 What a Scumbag Is Facing her three roommates’ accusations, Leila remained calm.

In fact, after four years of living with them, she had already figured out what kind of people they really were. So she wasn’t surprised that they would say such things.

“You don’t have to keep accusing me and my boyfriend. After all, those two are your boyfriends. What do they have to do with us? You two don’t even dare to go help them yourselves. Why should my boyfriend help them?

“It’s the first time my boyfriend met you guys today. You’re the one going overboard for asking a stranger to help!

“And you, Everleigh, since you’re so righteous, why don’t you stop them? After all, those two are your best friend’s boyfriends! Besides, they offended someone because they saved you, right? All the more why you should help them plead for mercy.”

What Leila said immediately made Everleigh speechless. Alyssa and Bethany were indignant, but they were at a loss for words.

At this moment, Samuel and Hayden had bruises all over their faces, and even a few of their teeth had been knocked out. They were so exhausted from fighting that they could barely even move.

“Enough, stop fighting,” Jacky finally said mercifully.

Samuel and Hayden instantly felt relieved from being spared from death. They relaxed and collapsed on the floor. After panting heavily, they hurriedly thanked Jacky, “Thank you, Mr. Walton!”

After pausing for a while, they asked cautiously, “Are... are you letting us off then?”

Jacky snorted coldly. “All the guys, get lost and leave the women behind. I’ll spare you this time!”

boxn ov el. c o m

Then Jacky ogled the girls.

Especially when he saw Leila, his gaze lingered on her for a moment. She was the prettiest among the group.

Since the men had offended him, he was being kind enough to use their women as compensation!

Hearing what Jacky said, Leila, Alyssa, and Bethany had drastic changes in expressions.

They were people, not objects. How could they be used as compensation?

Moreover, even a fool would be able to guess what would happen to them if they were really left here!

“Uhh... Okay, as long as it’ll calm you down, you can have these women, Mr. Walton! We’ll leave now!”

Samuel and Hayden only hesitated slightly before agreeing.

Since Jacky had finally agreed to spare them, they obviously had to agree immediately!

Besides, it would only be their girlfriends suffering. At worst, they would just get other women in the future. How could they possibly get into another conflict with Jacky for their sake?

Thus, they were overjoyed after hearing Jacky's conditions.

Samuel and Hayden were utter scumbags.

Roger hurriedly said, "Mr. Jacky, Mr. Nick, these women are at your disposal! We'll get going now and won't impose on you any further!"

Actually, these women had nothing to do with Roger, and the only person he had thoughts about was Leila. But he hadn't gotten together with her yet, so even if the Walton brothers violated her, it wouldn't count as cuckolding him.

Since Jacky wanted her, he naturally didn't have any objections.

Seeing their boyfriends agree without any hesitation, Alyssa and Bethany stared at them in shock!

"S-Samuel, I'm your girlfriend, and you're abandoning me like this? Didn't you say that you would treat me well and protect me forever?" Alyssa accused in fury, looking at Samuel in disbelief.

Staring at her boyfriend, Hayden, with tears welling up in her eyes, Bethany said angrily, "Hayden, you... you're actually going to leave me behind here? Do you know what will happen to me? Are you still a man?!"

Both of them couldn't accept this at all. What made them feel worse was their boyfriends' attitudes and betrayal. They had been betrayed and abandoned by their boyfriends!

Leila turned pale and grabbed Lucas's sleeve nervously.

However, she had 'tricked' Lucas into coming here, and he wasn't actually her boyfriend, so she was in no place to ask him to protect her since they were just casual acquaintances who had had a brief conversation.

Moreover, the person who had made the request was a Walton. But Lucas was just an illegitimate son of the Huttons, so he probably couldn't resist the Waltons...

Then, what should she do now?

Although Leila was usually very smart and had a high IQ, she was only a young girl in her twenties after all. In the face of this sudden situation, she would inevitably be panic-stricken and at a complete loss for what to do.

Among the four women in the room, Everleigh was the only one who wasn't worried but instead thrilled.

Everleigh was just thinking about how she could approach Jacky and hook up with him, but she didn't expect that the opportunity would come to her so soon!

She knew very well what would happen to the girls next.

If she slept with Jacky, she would be considered the woman of a scion of the Waltons, and she might even be able to become his wife as long as she put her skills to work!

So after she heard Jacky's request, her eyes were full of anticipation and excitement.

In contrast to the three other nervous and scared girls, Everleigh took the initiative to step forward and walk over to Jacky. She said with a gentle and flattering look on his face, "Jacky, I'm so sorry. When you said you liked me earlier, I was unprepared and shocked. I didn't mean to be disrespectful to you. Please forgive me!

"Could you give me another chance to serve you properly?"

While speaking, Everleigh pressed her entire body against Jacky's and said with a sultry look, "Jacky, I am a senior student at Georgetown University, and my name is Everleigh Cohen. If you're willing to give me this opportunity, then you'll be the first and only man in my life!"

Everleigh was quite pretty, and now that she was trying her best to please Jacky and leaning against him affectionately, he felt incredibly attracted.

"Hahaha, not bad. You're a sensible and interesting beauty. I like you!" Jacky laughed as he wrapped his arm around Everleigh's waist and stroked her a few times. "But your roommates seem very unwilling. How about this? If you can help me convince them and make them obey me and accompany me for one night, you can be my woman from now on!"

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1154 -

1154 Vicious and Shameless

As soon as Everleigh heard what Jacky said, she was over the moon. It was as if she had already seen the path to luxury in front of her.

She didn't even consider what Jacky's request was before she immediately said, "You should have heard what Jacky said, right?"

"Speaking of which, your boyfriends have already abandoned you and want to leave you behind, so why are you still so reluctant?"

“A young and handsome man like Jacky is much better than your boyfriends! It’s your honor that he wants to sleep with you!

“After today, Jacky will definitely treat you well. How about it? Have you considered it carefully?”

Everleigh’s behavior and what she said left Alyssa and Bethany in disbelief.

Even though they were usually a bit snobbish and envious of those with rich and handsome boyfriends, they were still college students after all. Having received so many years of education, they still had some shame.

Why should they allow a strange man to treat them like playthings?

They had a sense of shame and dignity!

However, Everleigh’s words and actions had proven that she was completely shameless now, so much so that she wanted them to do such a debauched and immoral act, just like a pimp!

Moreover, this conflict was due to them saving Everleigh.

boxn ov el. c o m

But in the end, Everleigh went all out flattering and seducing Jacky. To please him, she even went so far as to convince them to become his playthings too!

They had been living together in the same dormitory room for four years, but only now did they finally see how shameless Everleigh was!

“Everleigh, you are simply shameless! Even if you want to get ahead shamelessly, don’t use us as your tools to please him!” Alyssa said to Everleigh furiously.

Bethany chided, “Everleigh, you’re just a shameless slut who throws yourself at rich men whenever you see them. Do you think we’re the same as you? We wouldn’t have offended the Waltons if not for the sake of saving you!

“You’re simply an ingrate. You’re eagerly throwing yourself at Mr. Walton only because he’s a scion of one of the top eight families of DC! If he were just an ordinary person, you would have avoided him at all costs!

“You’re disgusting!”

Hearing this, Everleigh turned sullen.

She actually didn’t care what Bethany thought of her, but she was worried that Jacky would have a bad impression of her after hearing Bethany’s remarks.

If Jacky thought she was just a vain gold digger, he would abandon her once he got tired of playing with her. She wouldn't be able to become his wife and a daughter-in-law of the Waltons then!

"Shut up, Bethany! Don't take out your resentment on me and slander me!" Everleigh shouted righteously. Then she smiled strangely and said, "Speaking of which, Jacky is just asking you to accompany him for a night. But if you're going to be so insensible, he might just let other people play with you instead!"

"You must have already seen that Jacky and Mr. Nick brought more than ten bodyguards with them. If he gives you to them, you two probably won't survive until tomorrow."

"So, what's your decision? Are you going to serve Mr. Jacky for a night or let these bodyguards sleep with you?"

While speaking, Everleigh deliberately looked at the ten or so tall and muscular men behind Nick and Jacky.

If petite girls like Alyssa and Bethany were gang-raped by these burly bodyguards for a night, they might really die.

Everleigh threatened her roommates without any restraint.

On the other hand, after Jacky heard what Everleigh said, his eyes lit up, and he praised, "Everleigh, you're very smart!"

After praising Everleigh, he looked at the other three girls in the room again and said with an evil expression, "She's right. If you don't know any better and refuse to obey, you'll definitely suffer at the hands of my brother's bodyguards!"

"You can decide for yourself if you want to listen to me and serve me for a night or accompany these bodyguards instead!"

Jacky's and Everleigh's words made Alyssa's, Bethany's, and Leila's faces turn pale.

After seeing the large group of burly bodyguards who were nearly 1.9 meters tall blocking the door, they were so frightened that they began trembling.

If they were really left to these bodyguards to toy with, they might really die!

"Everleigh, you... how can you be so vicious? So much for treating you as a close friend before. You... you are too terrifying!"

Alyssa and Bethany were so frightened that they were about to burst into tears. They shouted at Everleigh, hoping that she could find her conscience and let them off.

“Hmph!” Everleigh just rolled her eyes at the two of them, harrumphed coldly, and turned away from them.

Jacky looked at Samuel and Hayden, who were still standing at the door, and then at Lucas, who was still sitting in the private room. He chided with displeasure, “What are you guys still doing here? Hurry up and get lost! Do you want to watch me toy with your women?”

Samuel and Hayden were frightened and hurriedly waved their hands. “No, no, no, go ahead, Mr. Jacky. We’ll leave right now!”

After speaking, the two of them hurriedly moved to leave in panic.

At this moment, Lucas, who had been only sitting in his seat like a bystander, put down the glass of juice in his hand and said coldly, “You can take that woman Everleigh if you want. She herself wants to stay and serve you anyway.

“But the other three women have already made it clear that they don’t want to accompany you, so I’m taking them away!”

What Lucas said immediately left everyone dumbfounded!

Leila’s, Alyssa’s, and Bethany’s eyes widened in surprise. Even Samuel and Hayden were extremely shocked. They never expected that Lucas would speak up for their girlfriends, whom they had already abandoned, and say that he would take them away.

Is Lucas Gray a fool?

Didn’t he hear what Mr. Jacky’s identity is?

He already knew the identities of Jacky and Nick, but he still dared to speak to Jacky in such a manner. They thought that Lucas was simply courting death!

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1155 -

1155 I Want To Take Them Away

Even Leila looked at Lucas in astonishment.

She knew that he was the chairman of the Stardust Corporation, and through various clues, she had guessed that he was an illegitimate son of the Huttons, one of the eight top families.

But she thought that since he was an illegitimate son, the Huttons didn’t recognize him officially. While he could still leverage the family’s power in front of the other families, he couldn't do so when facing the two scions of the Waltons, a family of the same status as the Huttons.

After all, the Huttons would never go against a family of comparable strength and status for the sake of an illegitimate son whom they had kicked out of the family years ago.

Moreover, Lucas wasn't really Leila's boyfriend in the first place. They had only met twice and exchanged a few sentences. She had merely dragged him here to pose as her boyfriend to try and stop Roger's incessant harassment of her.

But now, Lucas had spoken and might have offended Jacky. What if Jacky got the Waltons to retaliate against Lucas?

For a while, Leila's feelings were extremely complicated. Although she was grateful to Lucas for protecting her, she was also very concerned and worried about him.

Alyssa and Bethany looked at Lucas in surprise. Neither of them had expected him to be willing to stand up for them after their own boyfriends had abandoned them despite having criticized and despised him so much.

Regardless of whether or not Lucas had the ability to deal with Jacky and Nick and whether or not he could take the three of them away safely, the fact that he had the courage to speak out against Jacky was enough to make the two of them feel guilty and change their opinions about him.

Lucas wasn't the cowardly good-for-nothing that they had previously called him. Rather, he was a real man.

After Jacky heard what Lucas said, his face immediately darkened.

boxn ov el. c o m

Since Lucas didn't participate in beating him, Jacky had mercifully spared him. And when he taught Roger, Hayden, and Samuel a lesson just now, he didn't take the initiative to find trouble with Lucas but disregarded his presence.

But Jacky didn't expect Lucas to provoke him instead, even though he had spared him just now!

Jacky narrowed his eyes and said with a threatening look, "Punk, do you know who you're really talking to? Do you think you can take away people I want to stay just because you say so?"

Everleigh glanced at Lucas and said viciously, "Jacky, since this idiot wants to play the hero, you should show him what the consequences of offending you are!"

"I suggest you kill this punk in front of these people! This can be considered a warning to others. When people learn about it, they won't dare to disobey you in the future!"

Jacky glanced coldly at Everleigh, immediately making her shut up and tremble like she had fallen into an ice cellar.

She knew that what she had just said was taboo because Jacky didn't like being told what to do.

Nick stood at the side indifferently with his arms folded, as if he was watching a show, waiting for Jacky to deal with this matter himself.

After all, he had brought so many people here to support his brother. Regardless of how Jacky wanted to deal with these people, Nick didn't care.

Even if Jacky really wanted to kill people, Nick would take care of things well and make sure that there wouldn't be any trouble.

Jacky glared at Lucas and said arrogantly, "Punk, since this is the first time you've offended me, I can spare you. As long as you kneel in front of me and kowtow to me respectfully ten times, I will spare you!"

Lucas sneered, "I'm afraid you don't have what it takes to make me kneel and kowtow to you!"

"As I said, you can do whatever you want with that woman next to you, but I'm taking the other three away!"

"On account that this is the first time you've offended me, I can forgive you for being rude. Otherwise, don't blame me for being hostile to you!"

"Damn it! You must be tired of living!" Jacky instantly flew into a rage. He shouted at the bodyguards behind him, "You guys, go grab that punk! I've changed my mind. I'm going to cripple him, tie him here, and make him watch me toy with his woman!"

"Yes, Mr. Jacky!"

After hearing Jacky's order, the ten or so bodyguards immediately rushed toward Lucas menacingly.

Seeing this, Leila became extremely anxious and hurriedly shouted, "Lucas, run! Don't worry about us! Just get out!"

Although it would be extremely difficult for Lucas to break out through so many burly men, there would at least still be a chance of survival if he tried.

If Lucas really stayed in this small private room surrounded by so many people, it would only be a matter of time before he was caught.

When the time came, Lucas might really get his limbs broken, and Jacky's bodyguards might even beat him to death!

If Jacky really wanted to force himself onto her, she would just die so that she could escape the violation and humiliation.

But it was different for Lucas.

She was the one who dragged him here to help her today, so if anything happened to him, she would live with a guilty conscience for the rest of her life!

Looking at the bodyguards charging toward Lucas aggressively, Everleigh smiled maliciously. "Hmph, you deserve it! You only have yourself to blame for going against Jacky!"

The door of the private room was just a few meters away. Just as Leila finished shouting, the fist of the bodyguard at the front was about to hit Lucas's face.

But Lucas remained still, as if he was petrified in shock and even forgot to dodge.

Jacky and Everleigh had pleasure in their eyes, as if they had already seen Lucas's bruised and swollen face.

Bang!

But the very next moment, Lucas blocked the punch of the front bodyguard with one hand.

Lucas raised his head and slowly looked at Jacky, Nick, and the bodyguards with a look of pity! "I've just made things very clear, but why do you still choose to court death?"

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1156 -

1156 Drawing A Line

While everyone was watching in shock, Lucas squeezed the bodyguard's hand and folded it with great force, snapping it with a loud click. Then the bodyguard shrieked loudly like a pig being slaughtered.

"Ahhhhh!"

Immediately afterward, Lucas kicked the bodyguard in the chest, sending his body, which weighed about 90 kilograms, flying.

“You!” Jacky blurted out in astonishment. He didn’t expect that Lucas would dare to fight back and break the hand of a Walton bodyguard!

Of course, this was merely the beginning.

The next second, Lucas’s figure suddenly transformed into an elusive and blurry shadow that dashed through the remaining bodyguards.

Snap!

“Waahhh!”

Thud!

...

Shrieks of misery rang out one after another.

boxn ov el. c o m

In merely five seconds, all of the ten or so bodyguards that Nick had brought were lying collapsed on the floor, unable to get up.

Lucas had knocked them all out!

This scene made the jaws of everyone present drop, their mouths wide open in total disbelief!

Samuel, Hayden, and Roger, who were still standing at the door, were all stunned by Lucas’s act of knocking out so many tall and strong bodyguards in an instant.

They couldn’t even see Lucas’s movements clearly just now. They only saw the bodyguards being knocked unconscious and falling to the floor one after another, unable to move again.

It was... like a scene from a sci-fi or fantasy movie. They rubbed their eyes in doubt, wondering if their eyes were playing tricks on them or if they were hallucinating.

But it was an indisputable fact that there were numerous bodyguards sprawled across the floor of the private room.

Alyssa, Bethany, and Everleigh all looked at the scene in front of them in astonishment. They were so shocked that they couldn’t say a single word at all.

They didn’t expect that Lucas, who didn’t seem very strong, would suddenly display so much power and knock out the ten-plus bodyguards within such a short period of time!

More importantly, Lucas looked rather relaxed, as if it was just an extremely easy feat.

It was as if the bodyguards that Nick brought were all fragile weaklings that he had dealt with easily!

Leila looked at Lucas in shock, her eyes wide open.

Even she didn't know that he had such formidable martial arts skills!

At this moment, Nick and Jacky were the most stunned.

These bodyguards worked for them, so they were naturally clear about their strength. Although these bodyguards were not as formidable as the Waltons' top experts, it would be no exaggeration to say that they could defeat ten to twenty ordinary people each without any problem!

Besides, there were more than ten bodyguards altogether. Even if they faced more than a hundred people, they should still be able to deal with them easily!

But Lucas was alone. Even though he was a young man who didn't seem that strong, he had actually easily knocked the bodyguards to the floor!

This was simply unheard of to them!

After returning to his senses, Jacky flew into a rage and hollered at Lucas, "You... you bastard, how dare you knock out our bodyguards? You must have a death wish! We will never spare you!"

In contrast, Nick, who was several years older than Jacky, wasn't that easily angered, so he thought about things from a more comprehensive perspective.

From Lucas's moves just now, Nick acutely felt danger. He knew that the young man in front of him was definitely not someone who could be provoked easily!

Based on the fact that Lucas had defeated all the bodyguards in such a short time, Nick dared to conclude that Lucas's martial arts skills were not inferior to the strongest bodyguards of the Waltons!

"Who... who exactly are you?" Nick asked with a grim expression.

He was really worried that if Lucas was from a big family and they became enemies, it might cause the Waltons a lot of trouble.

Lucas said with a faint smile, "You don't need to think too much about it. I'm not from a wealthy family in DC."

Hearing this, Nick gradually looked less scrupulous.

After all, at this point, if Lucas was really from a big family, he wouldn't still be hiding his identity from everyone.

Unless, just as he said himself, he really didn't belong to any big force in DC at all.

After Nick thought of this, murderous intent appeared on his face.

To anyone who dared to deal with the Waltons' bodyguards like this, he would definitely teach them a harsh lesson!

Seeing that Lucas didn't reveal his identity, Nick turned gloomy and questioned the others in the private room with a threatening expression, "You guys had dinner with him, so you should know who he is, right?"

Seeing the hostility on Nick's face, Roger quickly drew a line between himself and Lucas, "Mr. Nick, I don't know who this punk is. I didn't know him at all before tonight, and we only happened to get together for dinner!"

Samuel and Hayden also hurriedly said, "Yes, that's right, Mr. Nic. We don't know this punk at all. Leila brought him here, and he's apparently her new boyfriend. All we know about him is that his name is Lucas Gray!"

"Yeah! In fact, we don't know him at all. We even had some conflicts. We even planned to teach him a lesson, but before we could..."

The few of them spoke nervously, for fear that Nick would misunderstand that they were friends with Lucas and thus take out his anger on them.

Lucas had actually beaten up the bodyguards of the Waltons. Even without thinking, they knew that the Waltons would definitely hold him responsible. Thus, they hurriedly took the opportunity to draw a clear line between themselves and Lucas, lest they were implicated.

In fact, they told the truth. After all, they didn't know Lucas well, but their eagerness to draw a clear line between themselves and Lucas was too unsightly and disgusting.

Seeing this, Lucas merely sneered and said proudly, "Based on your characters, it's impossible for you guys to have anything to do with me!"

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1157 -

Seeing Lucas be extremely disdainful toward them, Roger gritted his teeth and said resentfully, "Lucas Gray, don't be too smug! Who do you think you are? Do you really think you're some big shot that is superior to everyone else?"

"I'm telling you. The Waltons aren't a family you can afford to provoke! If you offend a Walton scion, it will be over for you even if you have ten lives!"

"The Waltons are one of the eight top families in DC, and they control almost the entire entertainment industry in DC. Even the other seven families don't dare to offend them easily!"

"And you, punk, how dare you talk to Mr. Jacky like that? You even beat up so many of the Waltons' bodyguards! You're dead meat this time!"

Roger was already angry because Lucas had snatched Leila, the woman he liked. If Jacky hadn't forcefully brought Everleigh into his private room and caused the other three women to run over to ask for help, he would have dealt with Lucas at that time.

Since Lucas was courting death by offending the two Walton scions, Roger didn't mind kicking him when he was down, in hopes that Lucas would end up as miserable as possible!

In fact, the Waltons were not as powerful as Roger said. At most, they only controlled 30% of the entertainment industry in DC. Moreover, it was their main area of business.

The reason he deliberately said this in front of Lucas was that he wanted to intimate him, as well as take the opportunity to please and suck up to the Walton brothers.

Samuel and Hayden also hurriedly said, "Mr. Dunne is right. Lucas Gray, since you have the guts to offend Mr. Jacky, you have to bear the consequences! If you kneel down and beg for forgiveness, you might be able to survive!"

Lucas looked coldly at the people in front of him and didn't even bother to say a word to them.

There was no point in bothering with these villains who only sucked up to the powerful and looked down on the weak.

boxn ov el. c o m

But Jacky was very pleased by their flattery. He said to Lucas proudly, "Punk, now you should know exactly what mistake you've committed! I want you to know that offending us is definitely the most stupid thing you have ever done in your life!"

"As long as you obediently give me the woman beside you and make me happy, I might spare your life!"

Lucas frowned in displeasure. "You talk too much nonsense!"

The lecherous meaning in his words and the way he treated women as playthings made Lucas feel absolutely disgusted.

So the next second, Lucas appeared directly in front of Jacky, raised his hand, and slapped him in the face.

Smack!

Even though Lucas held back, afraid that he would end up killing Jacky because of a slip-up, the force of his slap was not to be underestimated.

Under the force of this slap, Jacky was sent flying more than two meters away before staggering and falling to the floor. Even two of his teeth were broken, and his mouth was full of blood.

Seeing Jacky's miserable state, everyone fell silent, so stunned that they couldn't say a single word.

On the floor, Jacky was so dizzy that he couldn't get up for a long time.

As soon as he opened his mouth, blood dripped down from the corner of his mouth, and at the same time, half of a broken tooth fell out.

"Damn it!" Jacky immediately cursed, and as soon as his mouth moved, the stinging pain from the slap in his face swept through him. He shouted in agony, "Nick, kill him. You have to kill him for me!"

Only at this moment did Nick finally recover from the shock and point at Lucas furiously, "Bastard! How dare you hit my brother?! I'm going to kill you!"

Then Nick suddenly pulled out a black pistol from the holster by his waist and aimed it straight at Lucas's head!

"Oh my God. He... he has a gun!"

As soon as they saw the pistol, Alyssa, Bethany, Samuel, Hayden, and others instantly cried out in terror and retreated backward reflexively.

They rarely saw guns in real life. For many of them, it was their first time seeing a gun in the flesh.

It wasn't a toy or a model but a powerful weapon that could really kill someone in an instant!

But now, they were all in the room. If they were shot, they would really die for nothing.

Who would dare to demand an explanation from the Waltons?

When Leila saw that Nick had actually pulled out a pistol, her expression immediately changed, and her scalp tingled with numbness. This is terrible!

Even though Lucas could defeat so many of the Waltons' bodyguards, how could he possibly beat the speed of the bullets of a pistol?

Seeing the scene in front of her, Everleigh said with a smug smile, "Lucas Gray, aren't you very arrogant and proud? How dare you hit Jacky just because you're good at martial arts? You must have been pretty satisfied, right?"

"Hah, Mr. Nick is armed with a gun. Let's see how arrogant you can be now!"

Roger looked at this scene with a smile.

If Nick really shot and killed Lucas, it would be wonderful!

Looking at the black muzzle being pointed at him, Lucas chuckled, then sighed and said, "I advise you to put down the gun in your hand. It won't work on me, and you'll only end up making me angry. I was planning to let you go, but if you shoot me, I'm afraid you won't be able to afford the consequences!"

If an ordinary person offended Lucas, he might let them off.

But if they tried to kill him, he definitely wouldn't spare them. This was his principle.

"What's going on here?" A voice suddenly spread from outside, and a young figure appeared at the entrance of the private room. Following him were several people clad in the security uniforms of the restaurant.

Seeing this young man, even Lucas looked surprised. He didn't expect to meet him here. It seemed that the restaurant belonged to the Parkers.

In that case, things were about to get even more interesting...

Seeing the young man who came, Nick smiled and said, "Kenneth, you're finally here! Since this is your turf, you have to do justice for me! My brother got bullied here. That bastard not only beat up my family's bodyguards, but he even hit my brother!"

As soon as the person who came heard this, he was very surprised. "What did you say? Someone actually has the guts to hit your bodyguards and Jacky? Which bastard is it? How dare he..."

Before he finished speaking, he abruptly fell silent.

Reason being, he saw the figure sitting in the room. His body trembled, and he naturally couldn't continue speaking.

It... it's Lucas!

What is he doing here?!

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1158 -

1158 Completely Opposite

Nick didn't notice the strange expression on the young man's face and went on, "Kenneth, I have always treated you as my friend. But now that my brother has been bullied on your turf, shouldn't you help me deal with it no matter what?"

"Did you see that punk over there? He's very arrogant. He..."

Nick pointed at Lucas, wanting the young man to call all of the restaurant's security guards to capture Lucas.

But before he could finish speaking, an angry shout rang in his ears.

"Shut up!" that young man hollered at Nick furiously.

After being yelled at and being stunned for a moment, Nick almost suspected that he had heard wrong.

Nick's face turned red in anger, and he roared at the young man, "What did you just say, Kenneth?! You told me to shut up?! Are you out of your mind?!"

"You're the one with something wrong with your brain! Otherwise, why would you have provoked Mr. Gray?" the young man retorted in a louder voice. "Idiot, not only will I scold you, but I will hit you too! Of all people, you offended Mr. Gray, and you even wanted me to deal with him for you. You must be tired of living!"

Then he raised his arm and slapped Nick hard in the face!

Smack!

The loud slap immediately stunned everyone.

Even Nick was dumbfounded by the sudden slap. In disbelief, he couldn't react at all.

But the young man ignored Nick and hurried toward Lucas. He bent forward and greeted respectfully, "Mr. Gray, I didn't expect that you would come to our restaurant. Had I known you were here, I would have come to receive you a long time ago and arranged for the best room and dishes for you!"

The young man was Kenneth Parker, the grandson of Damon Parker, whose family Lucas had subdued in California!

Kenneth's action shocked everyone!

He had just slapped Nick, the future helmsman of the Waltons, one of the top eight families in DC, and then hurried over to Lucas and spoke to him so respectfully, as if he was afraid of displeasing Lucas.

The completely opposite attitudes were surreal to everyone. Did the general manager of this restaurant... mix up their identities?

No matter how they looked at it, they felt that a wealthy scion like Nick should be the one being treated with respect, while an ordinary person like Lucas didn't deserve this treatment.

Lucas asked with raised brows, "This restaurant belongs to the Parkers?"

Kenneth hurriedly said, "Yes, Mr. Gray, the restaurant belongs to us, and we have opened branches in many cities in the US over the last few months.

"I'll get you a supreme VIP card later. In the future, you can bring your friends to eat at any of our restaurants, and it'll be entirely on the house! This is a small token of my appreciation, and I hope you will accept it, Mr. Gray!"

Lucas was surprised.

Although the restaurant looked rather ordinary on the outside, it definitely wasn't a small bistro but a highly-rated one with luxurious decor and an expensive menu.

Over the past few months, the Parkers had opened numerous branches all over the US, so the scale of development was pretty fast.

It was no wonder that even Kenneth, a third-generation direct descendant, had come to DC.

In fact, strictly speaking, everything of the Parkers now belonged to Lucas.

Thus, even though Kenneth gave Lucas a supreme VIP card that allowed him to dine free at the Parkers' restaurants, it wasn't a big deal.

Lucas nodded without saying anything else.

After all, with so many people around, it wasn't a good time and place to catch up with Kenneth.

Kenneth stood in front of Lucas carefully and attentively, just like a subordinate.

This scene astonished Leila and everyone else.

At this moment, Nick finally recovered from the shock of being slapped by Kenneth in public and roared furiously, "Kenneth Parker, you bastard. How dare you hit me?! The Parkers can get ready to go bankrupt and get lost from DC!"

Seeing how furious Nick was, Kenneth couldn't help frowning.

Usually, Kenneth would be worried when a top scion like Nick lost his temper, and he would even be afraid of offending the Waltons and causing a disaster for the Parkers.

But the person Nick offended was Lucas!

The things Lucas had done before had long made Kenneth be in awe of him, so much so that he didn't even dare to think about defying him.

It could be said that the reason the Parkers had such a status and the chance to develop rapidly now was all thanks to Lucas. Without Lucas, the Parkers definitely wouldn't enjoy their current glory!

Furthermore, the Parkers were already loyal to Lucas, and Damon, the helmsman, had already instructed all members of the family to never offend Lucas and stand on his side regardless of who the other party of the conflict was.

It was the same even if the other party was the eight top families in DC!

Therefore, after knowing that the person Nick had a conflict with was Lucas, Kenneth yelled at Nick and slapped him without hesitation.

After hearing Nick's threats, Kenneth was a little nervous. But when he saw Lucas's calm expression, he was no longer worried.

With Lucas around, there was no need to be afraid of the Waltons.

"Nick, you don't have to threaten me. I advise you to think carefully about whether you can leave here safe and sound after offending Mr. Gray!" Kenneth sneered, completely fearless when facing Nick.

“You’re great, Kenneth Parker. You’re really courageous today, huh? Just you wait. I won’t let you and your family off!” Nick shouted.

If the ten or so bodyguards he had brought were still able, he wouldn’t just speak harsh words. Instead, he would have gotten his people to destroy Kenneth’s restaurant and even teach him a hard lesson!

But Lucas had already knocked unconscious all the people he had brought, so all he could do was lash out at them while trembling with fury.

Kenneth glanced at him coldly. “Since you’ve said that, it seems I can’t let you off today!”

He ordered the security guards, “Hit him hard!”

“Yes!”

After receiving Kenneth’s order, the burly security guards of the restaurant immediately pinned Nick to the floor and beat him up, causing Nick to scream continuously.

Roger’s, Samuel’s, and Hayden’s faces turned pale.

They didn’t expect that Nick, a scion of the Waltons and the Waltons’ future helmsman, would really be pinned to the floor and beaten to a pulp!

They wouldn’t have believed this scene if they hadn’t seen it with their own eyes!

It was crazy!

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1159 -

1159 Who is He?

While the security guards were beating Nick up, Kenneth approached Lucas quietly and asked carefully, “Mr. Gray, what do you say? Should we beat him to death or spare him after teaching him a lesson?”

Lucas was very satisfied with Kenneth’s behavior and said indifferently, “Nah, we don’t need to beat him to death. Just break his limbs and throw him out.”

He didn’t lower his voice, so everyone in the private room heard what he said.

Kenneth immediately answered, “Yes!”

He looked at the subordinates that he had brought and commanded loudly, “Did you hear that? Break his limbs and throw him out! Throw all of these people on the floor out too!”

Nick, who had been beaten to a pulp, was losing his mind after hearing their conversation. He couldn't believe that Kenneth, who had always been very respectful to him, would actually get people to break his limbs after just listening to what Lucas said!

"Kenneth, you... you can't do this! Ah! Kenneth, on account that we're friends, please let me off! I promise I will never take revenge on you— Ah! It hurts! Please just let me off!"

Facing the threat of having his limbs broken, Nick swallowed his pride and frantically begged.

But how could Kenneth go against Lucas's wishes?

Since Lucas said that he wanted Nick's limbs broken, Kenneth would definitely do so!

"Do it!" Kenneth said.

The security guards immediately pinned Nick to the floor, picked up several steel pipes that the Waltons' bodyguards had brought, and used them to smash Nick's limbs.

boxn ov el. c o m
Snap!

With the sounds of his bones breaking, Nick shrieked miserably and passed out from the pain.

After seeing his brother's tragic condition, Nick was too stunned for words. He cowered on the floor and shuddered.

"Throw these people out!" Kenneth commanded while looking at the Walton brothers and their bodyguards in front of him in disgust.

Soon, Nick, Jacky, and the Waltons' bodyguards were dragged away and tossed outside the restaurant like garbage.

This scene made everyone shiver in fear.

In their eyes, the scions of the Waltons were already top figures in the upper-class circle of DC.

But the Waltons had their limbs broken and were thrown out, their dignity trampled on.

Who exactly was Kenneth, the general manager of this restaurant? He actually disregarded even the scions of the top eight families!

Who exactly was Lucas Gray?

Why did Kenneth follow his orders and break Nick's limbs without hesitation?

At this moment, Lucas looked at the remaining people indifferently and said calmly, "Since the Waltons have been taken away, it's time for us to settle scores now, right?"

Hearing this, Roger, Samuel, and Hayden trembled in unison.

Then they knelt down in front of Lucas unanimously!

"Mr... Mr. Gray, we offended you because we're snobs who didn't know your identity. W-we apologize. Please spare us!"

They felt like they were about to die.

They had all thought that Lucas was just a poor loser with no background and had suspected that he had borrowed his car from someone, so they hadn't taken him seriously at all. They had mocked him and even wanted to teach him a lesson in the private room.

Only now did they realize that Lucas wasn't an ordinary person at all!

Although they still didn't know what Lucas's real identity was, even Nick, someone from the eight most powerful families in DC, had had his limbs broken and had been dragged away like a dead dog. If Lucas wanted, he could easily break their limbs or even kill them!

It was no exaggeration to say that Lucas now held the power of life and death over them. They were at his disposal, so how could they not be scared?

Looking at the three people kneeling in front of him, Lucas said indifferently, "Since you're begging for forgiveness, I will give you a chance. Each of you slap yourself twenty times, and I'll let you off."

Although these three people were rather abominable too, they only had foul mouths and immoral characters. They couldn't pose any threat to Lucas at all.

So Lucas didn't bother to do anything to them. He merely told them to slap themselves 20 times each to teach them a lesson before sparing them.

After hearing what Lucas said, the three of them immediately agreed as if they had been spared from death. They had thought that they would die, but they didn't expect Lucas to let them off just with the punishment of slapping themselves.

As if they were afraid that Lucas would change his mind, they knelt on the ground, raised their arms, and smacked themselves right and left in their faces.

Smack!

Smack!

Smack!

...

The loud sound of slaps filled the room.

Afraid that Lucas might think that they were slapping themselves too perfunctorily and decide to change the punishment, they slapped themselves extra hard.

By the time the 20 slaps were over, all three of their faces were swollen like a pig's head.

They looked at each other and then looked at Lucas pitifully. "Mr. Gray, we... we've finished slapping ourselves. Can we go now..."

Lucas waved his hand and said coldly, "Get lost! Remember to settle all the losses of this private room."

The three hurriedly took out their phones, scrambled to settle the bill, and then ran out in a disheveled state.

Hayden and Samuel fled without even saying a single word to their girlfriends.

Now, apart from Lucas and Kenneth, Leila and the other three girls were the only ones left in the room.

Everleigh patted her chest and suddenly strutted over to Lucas, her cheeks rosy. With a look of admiration, she said, "Ah, Mr. Gray, I'm sorry I offended you earlier. Please don't take it to heart."

Then she pressed herself against Lucas.

In Everleigh's opinion, Lucas had to be a powerful figure far superior to the Waltons since he dared to beat up Nick, the future Walton helmsman. She thought that if she could win his heart, her future status might be even higher!

Lucas frowned and took a step to the side to avoid her.

He looked at her coldly and said something that made Everleigh's expression change drastically. "Stay away from me. You're dirty!"

The hypocritical smile on her face stiffened instantly.

Charismatic Lucas Gray Chapter 1160 -

1160 Driven Out of DC

What Lucas said made Everleigh boil with fury. But when she thought Lucas was most likely a big shot hiding his identity, she didn't dare to show her anger.

She forced herself to smile. Knowing that Lucas didn't like her, she stopped throwing herself at him like she had done with Roger and Jacky.

Everleigh looked at Leila, picked up her hand, and said intimately, "Leila, this is so inappropriate of you. You've got such a great boyfriend, but you've been keeping quiet about him without telling us anything. You're not treating us like your close friends at all!"

"Get lost!" Leila shook Everleigh's hand away in disgust. The sight of Everleigh reminded her of what had happened just now and made her feel disgusted.

Before today, although she knew that Everleigh had some issues with being materialistic, vain, and pretentious, it was only today that she finally learned how shameless she could be!

For the sake of pleasing Jacky, Everleigh had coerced her so-called 'close friends' to sleep with him. The way she had behaved like a pimp was still fresh in Leila's memory.

Not to mention being touched by Everleigh, even the sight of this person made Leila feel nauseous.

Alyssa and Bethany were also hostile toward Everleigh. They said mockingly, "What's the matter? Everleigh, do you finally remember that we're close friends who have been roommates for years? Your attitude is completely different from when you were sucking up to Jacky Walton!"

"Speaking of which, I've never met a woman as cheap as you. You just dumped your boyfriend this afternoon and then threw yourself at Roger Dunne. Then after you realized that Jacky Walton was richer and had a nobler status, you eagerly threw yourself at him again. Now, you even want to do the same thing and snatch Leila's boyfriend.

"What's the difference between you and a hooker? You're even willing to sacrifice your character and dignity for the sake of power and status. Yet you still have the cheek to call us friends in front of us?"

"Also, why didn't Jacky Walton harass us when we were on the way back from the restroom? Why did he drag you into his room? Maybe you did something on purpose to seduce him."

Everleigh's actions absolutely disgusted them.

boxn ov el. c o m

They were not kind people, so they immediately bombarded Everleigh with all sorts of insults.

No matter how thick-skinned Everleigh was, she couldn't stand being accused by her three roommates one after another.

Besides, Alyssa and Bethany were right.

While on the way back from the restroom, Everleigh had indeed deliberately winked sultrily at the passing men while the others didn't notice, just so she could see the men getting charmed by her.

But she didn't expect Jacky, a scion of one of the eight top families in DC, to be seduced by the look in her eyes and immediately dragged her into his private room.

If not for this, the subsequent events wouldn't have happened.

But Everleigh only regretted not achieving her goal of seducing a wealthy scion today. She didn't think that there was anything wrong with her behavior.

She thought that it was only natural for people to aim higher.

She couldn't understand why her roommates were treating her with such animosity.

Despite thinking so, Everleigh wouldn't reveal it at this moment. Instead, she acted as if she had been bullied and said with tears in her red eyes, "All of you are blaming me, but I had no choice!

"Is it my fault that Jacky Walton dragged me into his room? Why are you blaming me?

"Also, I didn't know that he was a scion of the Waltons! At the time, he came to take revenge on you, and he was also the one who wanted you to stay. Why are you blaming me? I'm a victim too!

"Also, your boyfriends had already abandoned you and wanted to leave without you. And I didn't know that Lucas was so impressive either. I thought we would be in trouble, so I felt that instead of being forcefully violated, it was better to comply for now and save our lives first and then think of solutions!

"I clearly did it out of good intentions. That's why I put on an act in front of Jacky Walton. Not only do you not understand me, but you even got the wrong idea about me. Was our friendship for the past few years all fake?

“Am I such a shameless person in your eyes?”

While speaking, Everleigh burst into tears, as if she had really been wronged.

It had to be said that if Everleigh entered the entertainment industry, she might win an Oscar.

But no one appreciated her performance at all, and no one believed her either.

“Enough!” Kenneth hollered with displeasure, interrupting Everleigh’s tearful performance.

Although he had arrived late and still didn’t know what had happened, he could tell that Lucas was getting annoyed.

Kenneth yelled at Everleigh. But when she thought that the restaurant’s general manager actually dared to beat up even Nick, she immediately shut her mouth and looked at Kenneth with teary eyes.

Kenneth glowered at Everleigh in disgust and then asked Lucas, “Mr. Gray, how should we deal with this woman?”

Everleigh’s body instantly stiffened.

Lucas glanced at her and ordered coldly, “Get her to leave DC immediately. She will never be allowed to step foot into DC again from now on! Otherwise, you can kill her without reporting to me.”

Lucas didn’t feel any sympathy for Everleigh at all.

It wasn’t unforgivable to want to climb higher, but her actions had completely trampled on his bottom line, making him feel extremely disgusted.

Besides, this woman had always had strong animosity toward him. Otherwise, she wouldn’t have wanted to drag him down and kept urging Nick to kill him.

Lucas naturally wouldn’t be merciful to a vicious woman like her.

As soon as she heard what Lucas said, Everleigh felt as if a bucket of ice water had been poured onto her head, making her feel freezing cold as she went limp and collapsed to the floor.

DC was the most prosperous place in the country and the place where the rich and powerful gathered. It was home to the circle that Everleigh desperately wanted to enter.

But Lucas had now severed all possibilities of her future plan, destroying her dreams of marrying a wealthy scion in DC and becoming a rich woman!
