Chapter 41

Alexander's blissful kiss made me punch him

VICTORIA'S POV

'Why is Alexander so angry?' I thought in my head, as I looked at Alexander holding Daniel's collar before he lifted him in the air.

'Maybe that's because you didn't listen to him and talked to Daniel?' Carla suggested.

'To hell with listening to him! I am my agree soul. He can intimate dance with any girl, and I can't even talk to my friend. I have never seen such a hypocrite in my life!'

"What the hell Alexander! Put him down! We can talk things out okay? You don't need to be violent." I said as I tried to reason with him.

'No need to be violent? Says who. The person who doesn't even think before punching anybody who ruined her mood.' Carla said scoffing at my words.

'Now is not the time Carla! Let me handle this first yeah? You've got all the time in the world to mock me.' I said before I concentrated back on the duo who was fighting, more like Alexander who was trying to start a fight.

"How dare you try to kiss her?! Do you even know who she is?" Alexander roared, which involuntarily made me shudder as I felt his anger creeping my body.

'What's happening, Carla? Why am I feeling so weird?' I asked as I looked at him in horror, whole my own body felt like it was on fire.

'You are feeling his anger? You have started to feel his emotions? You are feeling your mate's emotions in your body? Why didn't you tell me earlier! Oh my god! It's starting, the transformation is starting. We need to get away from here as soon as possible.' Carla said as she stood from the couch and started pacing around restlessly.

'Calm down! Let me get through this. I will take us out from here soon, and then you'll tell me what's happening. Yeah?' I said before blocking her temporarily because her panicking like this, was a matter of concern for me too and I don't want that to distract me.

I have a more important thing on my hand right now.

"I..I..she is my mate, Alexander. You might like her because she is beautiful and sweet, but you need to get over it. She is my mate. You might be my alpha king, but she is my mate." Daniel said with a lot of struggle, while Alexander's grip on his neck tightened.

"What are you doing, you will hurt him!" I yelled at Alexander.

"Do fuck with your screwed imagination. You are feeling those emotions of protectiveness and care towards her because she is your Luna queen! My true mate! I never told anybody about it because I was fuckin afraid of losing her." Alexander said before punching him square in the face.

'What the real hell? What are they talking about? They are speaking English I am sure, but why am I not able to understand their conversation? Is this some code language?' I thought in my head panicked when I saw Daniel's face paling because of lack of oxygen.

"What the hell are you doing! Leave him alone! If you gotta problem with me, then talk to me, damn it. You manwhore!" I shouted, which made Alexander look at me in anger.

I know I shouldn't have used such profanity at him, but I couldn't control it anymore, as he was constantly ignoring me and Daniel's condition was worsening.

I think my yelling finally triggered something inside him, because as soon as I shouted those words, Alexander loosened his grip, making Daniel fall on the ground as he started taking deep breaths.

“What the hell are you getting angry for?” I asked in a loud voice while jabbing my finger in his chest with each syllable.

And I think that was a bad idea, because next thing I know, he lifted me in the air, before placing me on his shoulder like I was some sack of potatoes.

What the fudge?

I knew I was acting too confident for my own good, provoking an angry wolf like that.

Uhh, why do I always think about thunder when Alexander gets angry.

Focusing back on my current situation, I realized I was now dangling upside down on his shoulders, while he started walking in opposite direction, which leads towards the back gate of the university.

“Leave me alone! You scoundrel! Alexander! You better put me down! I’ll beat you to death if you don’t put me down this instant! Alexander! I am definitely gonna destroy your baby-making machine today if you don’t listen to me!” I yelled as my body dangled on his shoulders, because of his fast running.

“Alexander, you-” I started but stopped when he finally put me down.

Smoothing my clothes, which had become a bit improper, I looked up so that I can tell him off, but the next thing he did wasn’t something I ever expected to happen in such a situation.

Pushing me on the tree, he closed the distance between us, as his lips touched mine.

As soon as his lips touched mine, I felt sparks erupting in my body, and let me be honest, it was the most blissful feeling I ever felt.

I know the situation, emotion and our condition, didn’t match perfectly for acting romantic, but I can’t help but feel immense pleasure bursting inside every cell of my body, as my hand involuntarily reached to caress his face, while he kissed me with such passion, like I haven’t felt ever before.

Pushing me more into the tree, he placed one of his hands to cup the back of my neck, as he tilted my head more, to his convenience, and continued his rough kissing.

I know I should say something, at least kiss him back? Or just anything? But being the dimwit I was, I just stood there doing nothing except with my hands on his face, while Alexander was having his way with me.

And oh boy! How well did it felt!

If this was the reaction of angering him, then should I try talking with more guys? Will he kiss me every time I don't listen to him?

As I was busy with my procrastination, I felt his hands on my back, (did I mentioned my bareback) as he started to roam his hands while his sturdy chest pushed against mine.

Finally, after a minute which felt like an eternity to me, realizing that we both needed to breathe, Alexander pulled away from my lips, without pulling away from me completely as the distance between our faces didn't widen.

Looking at his face, I noticed some of his earlier anger fading away, and I did the only thing that came to my mind, which I know, no girl would do in a situation like this when the person she is crushing on kisses her.

I punched him!

Chapter 42

I Involuntarily used my powers I am screwed!

VICTORIA'S POV

"Ouch!! I am sorry okay?" Alexander said while he massaged his jaw, to ease out the pain, that my punch might've caused.

“For a girl that looks so delicate, your punches are surely powerful.” He commented again when I didn’t say anything.

Meanwhile, what I was doing? I was trying to smoothen my messy thoughts that were all over the place.

“Look, I know, I shouldn’t have kissed you so suddenly before saying anything and-” Alexander started, but I cut him mid-sentence when my anger started to rise.

And I know I need to take out my anger, before my powers think, that it’s a perfect time to make Victoria’s life messier than it already is, by exposing her in front of her crush, so that he can run miles away from her, just after kissing her.

“How dare you!” I said, nearing Alexander as I jabbed my finger in his chest.

“Do you have any idea of your own feelings?” I said looking him straight in the eyes.

“How dare you, dance intimately with Laila, when you showed so-called like feelings towards me?! How dare you send mixed signals to me! How dare you kiss my neck at my home!” I said jabbing my finger in his chest with each sentence.

“Look, I know it must be confusing, but hear me out first okay? I was-” Alexander said as he raised his hands in the air, as an indication of surrender.

“You bet, it’s confusing! First, you come to hug me, kiss my neck, then go to your so-called friend and then dance with her, and then when I am with my friend, you come, punch him, kidnap me, and then kiss me on lips! Do you have any idea what you are doing, yourself?”

“Look-” Alexander started again, but I wasn’t done with him, so yet.

“Kissing is not an issue. How dare you kiss me this late?! Do you have any idea there were so many times I wanted you to kiss me? But you are such a dimwit. Did it take you three weeks after that accidental kiss on the Ferris wheel, to kiss me? That to be in a fit of anger?” I said.

"I know, it was wrong of me to kiss you, and I should be-" he started again.

He said it was wrong of him, to kiss me? The fuck is wrong with his brain today?

"Now you regret kissing me too? Wow! Just great! To hell with your fuckin slow mind processing! You!! You are dumber than me Alexander! Ahhh!! I will surely do something, that I will regret today. I don't even want to talk to you anymore!" I said as I stomped my foot in irritation before turning around, wanting to leave.

"Victoria, don't go like that. At least listen to me. Wait...." He paused as his eyes widened in understanding, before he held me by my shoulders, startling me in the process.

"So kissing is not the problem? I mean, you mean, you like me too?" He asked as he looked at me with those expectant happy puppy eyes.

'Cute!' I thought before I reprimanded myself to concentrate. Now was not the time to go head over heels for him.

Though I was feeling irritated earlier and like my brain was about to get fried, however, when I looked at his happy expression, I couldn't help but feel happy deep inside my heart.

"What do you think, dumbass?" I rolled my eyes, as I turned around again, hiding my face, not able to keep that ghost of smile away from my face anymore.

"Oh god! You like me! You fuckin' like me! Jesus, is this some fantasy?" He asked raising his brows before his lips turned into the best smile I have ever seen on his face.

"You don't have any idea, how happy I am today. I feel like I am the happiest man on the earth today. I finally got my queen." Alexander said, and I was about to reply to him and comment on that queen part when he lifted me in the air and started circling me around.

'Not again!' I thought as my stomach started to have a weird reaction because of him circling me.

"Alexander Hunter! You better put me down! This is not funny at all!" I said with my head getting dizzy with each passing second.

But did he listened to me? Nope.

He was laughing so hard that, I doubt, he was even listening to anything I was saying now.

After a few seconds, which felt like an eternity to me, he finally put me down, which made me lose my balance, because of my dizzy head.

However, before my butt could land on the ground and make me taste some pain, I was caught by Alexander as he held me in his arms, looking at me with that signature smile of his.

"Don't worry, I will never let you fall." He said as he smiled at me, and I couldn't help but feel my heart swelling with love.

If I would've seen the same scene in a movie, or happening to someone else, I would've commented on how cringe-worthy the scene was. But, now, that it was happening with me, I couldn't help but feel giddy about it.

"So, umm you accept me as your mate?" Alexander asked as he scratched the back of his neck, once he helped me straighten.

"Aren't you already my mate?" I asked confused, as I leaned on the tree, my head still a bit fuzzy from his earlier stunt.

"Yeah, but we are updating our relationship, so we are like mates that cannot be taken away from each other because we like each other. So umm, do you accept me as your mate?" Alexander asked again, without looking me in the eyes

Why do I feel like, there was more meaning to his words and they weren't as simple as he was making them sound?

"You are sure, one weird guy," I said not knowing why he was doing that.

"Common, just say yes. Say it like, 'Yes, I accept Alexander Hunter as my mate and my other half for the rest of my life.' Please?" He said, which made me raise my brows at his tactics for real.

The nerve of this guy! He just kissed me, and now he is wanting a promise for life?

Though I don't oppose the idea, however, with my doubts regarding Laila, still in mind, I don't want to commit to something like that, before I know the whole truth about the situation.

"I won't do that. I don't want a dumb husband, who is not even clear of his feelings." I said as I started walking again.

"Why not? Of course, I am clear about my feelings. I love you, damn it." He said, which made me stop dead in my tracks.

"What did you say?"

"That I am clear?" He asked confused.

"No, after that," I asked again.

"That I love you, damn it?"

"Yeah, that. Is there something wrong with your head today? You're acting weird. I mean, you didn't have the guts to propose to me or say you have feelings for me. But, today, first you kissed my neck, tried to seduce me, kissed me on my lips, and now you are saying you love me?" I asked startled while knocking his head with my knuckle to check if he still possesses that tiny brain of his.

“Common, nothing is wrong with me. Just say it, okay? All you have to do is say it, why are you hesitating.” Alexander said while looking everywhere but me.

“But, he is saying that I am his lover, and not yours,” I said.

“Who is saying?” Alexander asked his words, having a tiny hint of anger in them.

“Daniel is saying. Didn’t you hear him? He is standing right over there.” I said as I looked behind him, towards an angry-looking Daniel, accompanied by Sean, Aiden, and Chris.

‘What the hell was this all about?’ I thought as I looked at Daniel’s angry stance.

This was the first time I was seeing him so angry, but for some reason, I wasn’t feeling afraid of him. Rather, I was getting a sense of more security, when he looked at me with that angry gaze of his.

Am I sure something is wrong with Alexander? Because of the way my thoughts are leading, I feel like something is wrong with my brain too.

“How come you were able to hear his words when he didn’t even utter a word?” Sean suddenly voiced out confused, as he looked at me with that suspicious gaze of his.

“Are you guys deaf or what? He just said that I am his lover and that Alexander is just trying to take me away from him. He also pleaded for me to look at him.” I awkwardly laughed, at their joke.

They sure have a weird sense of humor.

“What are you talking about, he didn’t say anything like that. He hasn’t uttered a word, since we came, to begin with. We are closest to him, shouldn’t we also be able to hear him, if there was something like that?” Chris scoffed, looking at me weirdly, with a hint of hatred and loathing.

"I indeed didn't say anything. However, these were the exact things I thought of just now. How can you-?" He trailed off as their eyes widened in surprise.

'Oh my god, did I just used my telepathy against him? It's been so long since I last used them. Are my telepathic powers updating themselves now, without even notifying me? Jesus, what the hell did I just got myself into?' I thought as I closed my eyes, wanting to reprimand my stupid self.

Opening my eyes, I looked at the five pairs of suspicious eyes, waiting for my answers.

Chapter 43

My friends turned into wolves

"I...I..." I started, not knowing what to say.

"Why the hell are you guys scaring her? Don't you know that mates have telepathic communication?" Daniel said as he rushed towards my side, before taking my hand in his own.

"You don't need to be scared. I got you." He said, smiling at me.

That's the exact reason, why I always say, I feel a sense of security when I am around him because I know, he will always have my back.

"Leave her hand. This has nothing to do with that. Besides, are you insane? Are your 'were' hormones reacting too much now, that you've been left without a mate for this long?" Alexander said as he pulled me toward him, holding my hand firmly in his.

"Look Alexander, I don't want to disappoint you, but I also have feelings for her. And they are real. You feel it too, don't you? I respect you because you are my alpha king, but that doesn't mean I'll bow down to you, even when the love of my life is at stake." Daniel said as he pulled me towards him.

'So currently, one of my hands was in Alexander's grip and one in Daniel's.

Why am I the only one targeted every time? Can't I have a decent night?' I thought silently weeping in my head.

"Leave her hand!"

"You, leave her hand!"

"She is my mate, Alexander."

"She is your Luna queen Daniel."

Both of them started fighting while playing tug of war with me.

"Umm..guys, I don't really think, this is the best way to decide that. I am both of your mates. So I will appreciate it if you can leave my hands." I said, trying to pull my hands, while my legs were dangling in the air now.

"You are mine!" Both of them said simultaneously.

Looking at my current condition, I remembered fighting with a friend of mine, when I was little. She had this beautiful doll that I wanted to play with, but she wasn't allowing me, and I had started the tug of war game just like now.

Now that I think about it, that doll Becky must've felt the same way, like I am right now.

'Dolls can't think.' Suddenly a voice echoed in my head, which made me roll my eyes at her.

I know she isn't going to help me. The best she can do right now is to keep her mouth shut.

"Guys, what I am trying to say is that we can talk like civilians and shouldn't get involved in fighting and all that stuff," I said trying to reason with them.

As I looked above, I noticed both of them engaged in a tough staring competition.

They think this is fun, ain't they?

As I was still forming reasons for them, to leave my hands, I suddenly felt a burning sensation bubbling inside me and knew that if I don't react fast, something else will decide to react.

And unlike earlier, where Daniel saved me from that telepathic incident, I am sure, no one will take my side when my hands will start oozing fire.

"Alexander hunter and Daniel! You better out me down, or I swear I am never going to talk to you guys!" I shouted, and they immediately left my hands.

Did I mention earlier, that my legs were dangling in the air? So now, that they left me like that, what was supposed to happen? You are right. I fell right on my butt.

"You morons!" I shouted, as I massaged my butt, which was hurting for real.

"Oh, I am so sorry, Victory," Alexander said, as he helped me up, and before he could say anything, I was snatched in Daniel's arms.

God! Not again!

"Okay, since you are soo sure, that she is sure mate. I am gonna prove it, that's she isn't." Alexander said.

Before anyone of us could react to his words, he suddenly pulled me towards himself and kissed my cheek.

And the sparks that I felt earlier suddenly started again.

Well, that was a sweet way of proving, I guess.

"So, I kissed her. But, did you feel anything? Any pain? Any emotion other than irritation, which is also because of your prejudice?" Alexander said as he hugged me sideways.

Well, his words weren't making any sense to me, but I liked the way his hands were draped on my waist.

"I didn't, but, these feelings-" Daniel started, but Alexander cut him off in between.

"These feelings are temporary. She is your Luna queen, you will feel protective of her. And regarding that telepathy thing, I will check that myself, I have some doubts of my own." Alexander said, as he looked t me at the last part, making me look down, as I was afraid that he will know the truth if I look him in the eyes.

"But, I still don't get it. You haven't let me kiss on her cheek, either. How will I confirm that she is your mate?" Daniel said.

"Why don't you-" Alexander started but stopped, before lifting his head in the air, as if smelling something.

"Rogues!" Suddenly Chris shouted.

And before I could understand what he was talking about, I heard loud howlings and growling from somewhere near us, making me shift closer to Alexander involuntarily.

The last incident with that wolf when I ran away from Alexander's home to meet thunder was still encrypted in my mind.

'Oh my god! What are we gonna do now! Even thunder is not here! He is also conscious of people, what if he doesn't come since there are soo many people around me!' I thought as things started to register in my mind.

'Don't worry girl! You are surrounded by wolves.' Carla said and I looked at her as if she has grown two heads.

But her words soon turned true. As I was praying in my head for thunder to show up, I suddenly noticed a pack of wolves coming from the left of our site, as they circled us.

'Did Carla said not to worry? She was kidding right?' I thought as I looked at their angry hungry face in horror.

'Done! We are done! We all will die today. I just had my first kiss with Alexander. God? Why are you so cruel to me?' I thought as I felt a sudden cold inside my body.

This reminded me, Miss Azrael said, to use my powers in front of anyone when it's a life and death situation. It's like that right?

As I was contemplating, whether I should use my powers or not, I saw Chris tearing off his clothes, as he looked at the wolves.

The fuck is wrong with his brain? What the hell is he doing? Can't he see I am standing right there? Moreover, does he think he is some kind of macho man that will scare wolves off with his bulky body?

More like, he is inviting those wolves with that meaty body of his. Like come here, I eat me, I have spent my whole life creating this meaty body for you. Come have a feast. I bet you'll like these juicy muscles.

Whatever he was doing, I surely don't want to be a part of that.

But what happened next, surprised me to a level, where, I wasn't even sure, if I was sane anymore.

Chris changed into a wolf!

And not only Chris, but Aiden, Sean, and even Daniel changed into a wolf!

A wolf for fuckin sake!

I looked at Alexander for some sort of surprise from his side so that I can feel relieved, as my mind was in shock, but when I looked at Alexander, I saw something even weirder than them changing into wolves.

Something had happened to him!

His canines were elongated and his eyes turned yellow, while his palms and feet turned to wolf paws while his nails elongated.

'What kind of monster is this?' I thought in my head

I looked at him startled, as I stepped away from him.

"Hello dear, mate. I finally get to meet you. I am Hunter, the alpha king of Pearly Canines and well a part of Alexander." He said, and before I could say anything to him, an immense amount of pain shot in my jaw, that shifted to my head, as I looked at the so-called hunter with my dizzy eyes.

"You-you-look like thun-thunder," I said as I saw him fully turning into wolf-like others did, as my mind went black and I fell to the ground lifelessly.

Chapter 44

My personal Jacob

VICTORIA'S POV

"Do you think she went in shock?"

"What are you talking about? Are you crazy? Don't spout nonsensical things."

"But he is right, why isn't she awake yet?"

"I think you should splash some more water on her face."

"I have a better idea. Throw her into waters. She will wake up when she'll drown."

"Daniel, you better take him out of here, before I decide it's much better to drown him."

“Ignore him. But I do agree with his idea of splashing some water on her.”

“I don’t know. I am kind of feeling a bit jittery. Will she think I am some kind of monster?”

“Don’t overthink. I am sure, she’ll understand if we explain her and give her some time.”

“Yeah, maybe you are right. I don’t think I can live without her if she decides to leave me because of my species. Hunter will be heartbroken, and I don’t even know how will I be able to mend things with him.”

“We are not done with this mate topic. I think we need to consult some witch regarding the matter. Besides, she is such a brave girl, I don’t think she will leave here like this.”

“Yeah, but it’s not like you come to know-”

Uhhuh! What was all this noise around me?

‘Who are these guys, talking just above my head to annoy my sleep? Is aunt Marla back? She must be watching movies, I am sure.’ I thought while trying to open my eyes so that I can greet her before she decides to go back to her boyfriend’s place.

As I opened my eyes, the first thing that I noticed was a branch.

Branch? From when do I have branches in my room. Wait! Is that a tree?

“Hey, you are awake. How do you feel? Does your head still hurt?” Alexander said with a worried expression etched on his face.

What is he doing in my room now?

“Why would you ask that? What happened-” I stopped in between when the flashback of the events after the dance started surfacing.

Extending my hand, I touched Alexander’s cheeks and sighed loudly when I felt his normal skin instead of the fur that I had seen.

I need to stop watching those unrealistic movies.

“Okay, umm...you can take her back home, that she is awake now. We’ll meet later. Yeah?” Daniel said as they all looked at me as if I was some kind of mental patient.

Alexander helped me up and supported my body on the tree beside the lake.

Once everyone was out of sight, I looked at Alexander before exclaiming,

“You won’t believe what I saw Alexander! Before fainting, I feel like I saw Chris, Aiden Sean, and Daniel changing into wolves! Wolves for god’s sake! Can you believe that? Even you, you changed into a caveman with large nails and...and...you looked like...thunder...” I trailed off, while looking at Alexander, who wasn’t reacting or saying anything anymore.

With his back to my side, he sighed loudly, and I couldn’t help but guess why it was like that.

I looked at the beautiful lake, which was shining under the moonlight, before muttering softly,

“You can start with your explanation.”

It wasn’t hard putting two and two together anymore.

I remembered asking Alexander so many times to go and meet thunder with me, but he never agreed to it, and would always make some excuse.

Apart from that, I used to hear growling and roaring sounds whenever these boys were together.

They also have a huge appetite. And that day, I was sure Alexander was wounded with a knife and there was blood on his shirt, but when I checked, there was not even a scratch.

His eyes would always change colors depending on his mood, and his voice will also change its tone from time to time as if he was a different person.

I might be wrong, but years of reading those online novels, movies, web series, indicated one thing only.

Alexander was a werewolf.

But, I still needed some confirmation from him, some kind of thing or hint that he wasn't the thing that I was thinking he was.

Something that would tell me, it's not just my fantasy or a part of some novel but real life, where supernatural creatures don't exist.

That, I was not in love with my personal Jacob from the twilight movie.

"I am hoping you remember what you saw before fainting. I don't want to hide things from you anymore and I won't sugarcoat things either. It's true. I am a werewolf.

I think it's time I introduce myself to you. Hello, Victoria, I am Alexander Hunter, a werewolf and Alpha king of Pearly canines, the to be the ruler of the werewolf species." Alexander said as he turned around and looked at me dead in the eyes.

Well, if this isn't weird.

What did he say? he is a king?

Smiling stiffly, I urged him to continue and tell me more about these things so that I can get a hold of the situation I was currently in.

“I don’t want to go into details currently, because you won’t be able to process that much information in a go.”

“As I have mentioned, I am a werewolf and so is almost everyone in this town. Daniel is also an alpha and my beta who works like a...if I put it in your language then manager, while I am the CEO, director, or whatever that helps you understand. We all are a pack of werewolves. However, because of our natural blending among humans, no one ever suspected anything. Even your aunt Marla is a werewolf and the boyfriend she keeps on talking about is her mate.

Now, you must be thinking why, am I telling you all this, and why I targeted you, or maybe something along the lines.” Alexander said as he took a step forward.

Well, I was indeed thinking that.

Note to self- werewolves also have mind-reading power, so do not think anything bad about anyone, especially here.

“Now, you must be feeling confused as to why I am telling you all this stuff. I am telling you all this, is because, you are my mate, my soulmate, my other and better half who will accompany me, marry me, fall in love with me, bear my kids, help me run my pack, for the rest of my life, until our kid takes over the throne after me.”

“You are kidding right?” I laughed as I looked at him intently, waiting for him to crack a smile and burst into laughter. However, even after waiting for a minute none of that happened.

“I am not kidding Victoria. Moon goddess or God in your case, gifts us with our destined mate. Every werewolf has a mate, predestined for him. It’s rare for a werewolf to find a second chance mate, otherwise one has to live with the love or sorrow of that particular person.” He paused before continuing.

“It’s not that the mate of a werewolf has to be a werewolf. Just like in our case. You are a human, but I am a werewolf. Humans can also become our mates. In the last decade, the cases of werewolves having human mates have been more prominent than a werewolf being a mate of a werewolf.”

“But, how do I know that you are the person I am destined for?” I finally asked, keeping the fact that my heart was still beating fast, just by the thought of having some mate, at bay.

“The sparks that you feel, whenever you are near me, or we hug, hold hands, or like today kiss. This is a clear indication that I am your mate. You won’t feel the same thing with any other male and it will practically break my heart and soul if you go with any other man because my only chance of having the love for my life will be destroyed.” Alexander said, as he hid his face at the last sentence, though I was still able to see his glistening eyes, which meant he was feeling emotional.

This was complicated and I don’t even know what should I do in a scenario like this.

“Look, Victoria, I don’t want to pressurize you into anything. Accepting me or not, is totally up to you. I will never force myself onto you, even if that means living in agony for my whole life. What I need from you, is love, trust, and care. Rest I will handle.

Marrying me will indeed make you Luna queen and that will put some responsibilities on you, but I’ll try my hardest to lessen them. I know it’s new for you-” Alexander was concentrated on his explanation with his back towards me when I felt a piercing pain in my jaws again.

However, this time, my canines, my ribs, my bones, everything was hurting.

I gasped for air as the intensity of the pain increased.

“If you want some time, I’ll wait for you, until you are ready. I know being human, this is new for you and-” Alexander was still talking, however, none of his words matters to me right now.

All I wanted was for this pain to stop. Feeling the excruciating pain in my mouth, I lifted my hand with great difficulty before touching my lips.

Bringing my hand in front, I looked it has some blood on it, as I gasped for air while my canines continued to hurt.

“A-AI-” I wanted to say, but no words or sound, not even a whisper or hissing sound came out from my mouth.

As I looked towards the lake, so that, I can take some water and rinse my mouth which was choking on my blood, I saw another, more shocking sight in front of me.

As I looked at my reflection in the lake's clean water and gazed at my mouth, my hairs that had changed their color from pitch black to dark brown, and my eyes, I couldn't help but gasp at the sight.

What the fuckin hell is happening to me?

Chapter 45

Laila is scheming something

ALEXANDER'S POV

"Hey dad, yeah, I understand that. I'll be going to prom tonight. Don't worry, I have a partner. No, it's not Laila. Okay, I'll tell you the details later. I am going to get late if I talk to you more." I said before ending the call.

Now don't get me wrong, you guys probably might think, how rude it was of me to end the call like that, but I did it for his good. I don't want to disturb their holidays, besides, they'll be back tomorrow anyway and I can tell them about Victoria when I'll let them meet her.

Checking my reflection in the mirror one last time, I took my car keys so that I can pick Victoria from her house.

On my way to her home, I couldn't help but pick a bouquet of red roses, as an indication of my feelings. I was going to propose to her tonight, that's why it's better if I test the waters before making the proper move. I mean she will let me know, if she isn't interested in my advances, no?

Besides, I was positive that she also has feelings for me. Parking my car in front of her gate, since, we won't take long and she has a habit of getting ready on time, unlike other girls who let their friends wait for hours when they go outside.

As I rang the doorbell, the sight that welcomed me once she opened the door was both jaws-dropping and lucrative for me. To be honest, I wasn't prepared for something like this.

Looking at her face, the only thing I wanted to do was smear her lipstick with my lips. She looked so seductive, sexy, and innocent all together that even the hunter was having a hard time keeping it in.

Entering the house, I looked at how nervous she was acting.

She was cute in her way.

Following her in the kitchen, I looked at her back which was showing a lot of skin than I preferred As she drank her water, an idea of flirting with her popped in my head.

"You know, if I knew you were looking this beautiful, I would've come way earlier, to enjoy your beauty more," I said, before stranding behind her wanting to hug her from behind. What I didn't expect was for her to choke on her water, as soon as my body touched hers.

'Look what you did! You Pervert!' Hunter yelled from inside my head as he paced back and forth looking at our mate with concern.

Taking her towards the hall, I helped her ease the tension in her throat by patting her back.

Though I was helping her, I couldn't help but blush when my hands touched her bareback.

Her skin was so soft and milky that I wanted to take a bite out of it, but controlled knowing, what a hard time hunter will give me if he hears my thoughts again.

Feeling a bit fidgety because of how her gaze was concentrated on my face, I became self-conscious, and couldn't help but wave my hand in front of her face, to get her attention.

"I was asking if you were ready to go, though, I won't mind if you have other plans for the night," I said trying to act calm, though only I know how nervous I was feeling tonight.

“What other plans would I have? Let’s go, our friends must be waiting for us.” She said before standing abruptly.

However, I think the moon goddess is also on my side today, because the next thing I know, is Victoria sitting on my lap again.

I looked at her face, as she had closed her eyes expecting some pain from the fall. This gave me enough time to gaze at her luscious lips and slender neck, without getting caught.

‘Hmm....this place is good. This is where I’ll mark her once everything between us is sorted out.’ I thought, while still looking at her neck when she opened her eyes.

Chuckling at her embarrassed expression I couldn’t help but want to pull her cheeks.

“Let’s go. I don’t want our friends to wait for long. Especially Daniel who wants to talk to me about something.” She said as she stood again, trying to hide her embarrassed face.

I wasn’t intending to do anything anymore, but the moment she uttered Daniel’s name, I remembered how he had told me, about proposing to her.

And I don’t know what got over me, as I pushed her on the wall before hugging her without touching as I kissed her neck to calm hunter who wanted to come out so that he can meet our mate.

I knew he was as anxious as me to make her ours, but I knew today was not the day to let him out just yet.

‘shut up! You are just jealous that she likes me more than she likes you.’ Hunter said childishly before sitting in the corner with a happy satisfied smile on his face.

Just now, I had allowed him to take over me for a second just for kissing her neck so that he stops pestering me for the rest of the night.

“What are you doing?” She suddenly asked petrified.

'What was I doing? I was letting your wolf taste you so that he can stop annoying me. Isn't he the one you love the most?' I wanted to say, however, controlled my emotions at the last moment.

"You smell nice. Like rose and chocolates, with a hint of lavender perfume. I was checking if you taste good too." I said truthfully.

"So, umm...Did you like it?" She suddenly asked, which even, rendered me speechless.

She just did not say that!

'Tell her I like it! I like it! I love it! I want to taste her all! Tell her that! That I love her.' Hunter suddenly started shouting from inside of my head.

'Jerk.' I commented before closing the mind Barrier.

"I love it. Would you like me to taste some more?" I finally asked.

"Go away! You pervert!" She suddenly yelled which made me laugh even more than I already was.

She is such a cutie! God! I can't wait to have her in my arms. I'll propose to her today, no matter what!

I thought in my head before we went out, to head towards the university for prom.

Tricking her into the first dance was even easier than I had thought. Though it wasn't wrong when I said that my parents dance first, but it was not because they were some kind of founder of this university, but because they are the current Alpha king and queen of the pack.

Since try wasn't here, it was my duty to have the first dance, and it was bliss that I got to dance with my mate and didn't had to dance with some random arrangement.

This was my first dance, I was doing with the acknowledgment of being to-be Alpha king, and being able to do that with my Luna queen was the biggest gift someone could have given me right now.

“Would you like to dance some more?” I asked Victoria wanting to feel her closer to me for a longer time, but before she could reply,

“You have already danced with your partner. Mind dancing with me?” I suddenly heard Laila’s voice.

I don’t know if it’s just me, but I have been observing that Laila is always finding ways to come between me and Victoria, however, this time I won’t let it happen.

‘I am not interested in dancing with you Laila. I have already made it clear that I love her. Mate or not mate. She is the one I choose and will choose over and over again.’ I said through the mind link as I gazed at her with a monotonous expression.

‘I know alpha, that I loved you and wanted to be your mate, I still want, but this is not about dance. I want to report to you about the recent rogue activities on the west side of the forest. I hope you still remember that I am a fighter of first defense who is responsible for the safety of the pack from the west forest.’ She said as she looked at me seriously.

‘It better be important!’ Suddenly hunter growled.

‘Calm down. Let me handle it quickly and we can be with our mate for the rest of the night.’ I calmed hunter, however, before I could explain to Victoria about the situation, she excused herself and went off the stage.

I looked at her figure and couldn’t help but jerk my hand away when Laila touched my hands.

“It’s just a dance alpha. So as I was talking about the patrols of the west side of the forests the rogue activities have been more prominent there because of the lack of people guarding the area. I also suspect that there is some insider in our pack who has been leaking information from our pack to someone who doesn’t want us good.” She said as she almost placed her head on my chest.

“You are too close! Move back!” I said with a warning glint.

“Okay, alpha.” She said, however, I didn’t miss that mischievous evil glint that passed through her eyes for a second.

Just what is she planning exactly?
