Chapter 25: Axel's Love

Conrad

I can already hear Robbie screaming before I even enter the door that leads to the dungeons, "Alpha" the guards say as I walk past them.

"Well, well, well, look who we have here" I say with an evil smile as I grab the keys to his cell door.

He stopped yelling real quick as his face went pale at the sight of me.

"We have some business to take care of."

"I have business I need to tend to with the Michaelson sluts, haven't seen them have you?"

I knew he was trying to get under my skin but it didn't work because I knew what was to come was going to be fun.

"Um... no, I haven't seen any sluts lately, just a woman-beating-coward, who is about to learn a lesson or two."

I turn the key unlocking the door, pushing it so it swings open.

"You've been a busy little bee, you beat on Beth then went and shot Blake, or was it the other way around?"

I was in Predator mode, I saw my prey and that's all that mattered right then. Robbie's natural instincts were telling him to get away from me, he started backing up towards the far wall of his cell, which didn't do him any good because I was closing in on him fast. I bolted to him, pinned him to the wall and snatched him up by his throat "this is your go to move isn't it? You really didn't think I wouldn't notice the bruises around her neck did you?"

"She deserved everything she got plus some more, she ruined my life!"

I gave an evil chuckle. "You have got your shit so twisted you don't even know what is and isn't the truth. I ruined your life. I contacted the judge, I showed him the video your dumbass didn't even think to ask if the club had cameras and I was the one that pressed the charges against you for the shit you did to Blake. She didn't do anything but defend her sister from your crazy ass."

His eyes spread wide as he was struggling to breath and he processed what I had just said.

"You bastard, I'm going to sue you for everything you're worth and more I will destroy you." He said as he tried to fight against me to get free.

"See that's where your shit is twisted again, you're not getting away from me still alive. You tried to kill my future wife, that score will not go unsettled so we are going to play a little game with a very old friend of mine."

I lower him so I don't choke him to death before I get to have some fun.

"Old friend? What, are you going to have one of your goons over there come in here and beat me up?"

"No, I don't need anyone to take care of my dirty work for me, I can handle taking out the trash just fine. No we are going to go hang out with Beth's boyfriend, he's not very happy with you busting her lip today."

"Oh that pansy Assker" Robbie says laughing like he was trying to make a joke or something.

"Yeah, Asher is going to hang out with us too," I look down at my right wrist, that doesn't even have a watch on it, "oh! look at the time we need to get going, it's time for our little game." I say letting out a chuckle.

I quickly let go of his throat to grab his forearm, turn on my heels and quickly walk out of the cell dragging Robbie along the ground behind me. He starts to scream a lot of colorful language but I just tuned him out, I couldn't give two shits about anything he had to say and I had already been away from the hospital way longer than I wanted to be. I jerk his arm really quick hearing his shoulder pop out of place, making a smile grow on my face. Damn Blake didn't even make a face when her shoulder popped out, but Robbie sounds like he's dying back there. I continued walking, at a pace I knew wasn't humanly possible to keep up with, just dragging him behind me. I mindlink the Lycans on patrol to avoid the Northern border. After a good 15 minute walk, I can smell Asher is already waiting not too far away.

"Oh good Asher is early." I say with sarcastic joy in my voice.

As I pass the territory line, I see Asher leaning up against a tree a few feet away.

"Asher, best circumstances to see you under, I told our little friend here he gets to join in on our favorite game tonight." I say lifting Robbie up by the arm I'm holding onto him with and shaking him around a little like I'm holding up a play toy.

"Conrad, glad you invited me to join you two this evening." Asher says never taking his eyes off Robbie.

I let go of Robbie's arm letting him drop to the ground with a thud. I lean down so I'm standing over him.

"Run!" I tell Robbie in a sadistic voice.

His eyes went wide again as he scurried to his feet and started running.

"Really Conrad you always were one for the dramatics." Asher says with a chuckle.

"You know how it is, Lycans always love a good chase and I'm in the mood for hunting tonight." I say with a playful chuckle.

"Alright let's go have some fun." Asher says as he jerks his head in the direction Robbie ran.

It had been about two minutes since he started running but he had hardly made any distance between him and us. We were quickly gaining on him, I let out a growl then I heard Asher let out one of his creepy laughs letting me know he was enjoying this hunt just as much as I was. Robbie let out a squeal, as he figured out I wasn't the only one gaining on him.

I noticed Asher had let up a little which told me exactly what was about to go down. I increased my speed to a quick jog as I neared Robbie, I lunged forward tackling him to the ground hearing quite a few bone breaks in the process. I quickly hop to my feet and bring Robbie off the ground with me, I wrap my arms around him and start squeezing very tightly as I hear Asher quickly approaching. I am putting a lot of trust into that vampire right now, but I know the fight isn't between us tonight. I see him running straight towards us, at the last minute he jumps up sending his body flying through the air right over mine and Robbie's head. As he passes over us he wraps his hands tightly around each side of Robbie's head, I feel His feet lightly push off my shoulder pushing his body backwards. As Asher pushes off my shoulder, I push myself forward, arms still wrapped tightly around Robbie as we rip his head from his body sending blood flying everywhere and coming down on us like rain. I release the body letting it fall to the ground and turn puns seeing Asher toss the head to the ground next to the body.

We looked at each other for a moment then both busted out laughing.

"That was the most fun I've had in awhile" Asher says motioning to Robbie.

"Yeah too bad it ended so quickly" I was going to say more but an electric shock went ripping through my chest.

I cleared my throat desperately trying to cover up my pain, yeah we were getting along right now but I sure as hell didn't want to give away a weakness that could be used in the future.

"Hopefully our mates don't have to be harmed for us to be able to have peace." I say looking at Asher.

He extends his hand, "I owe you one, I hope your mate pulls through"

I shake his hand "Thank you" I tell him with a smile as another shock rips through my chest.

"Till next time" Asher says as we part ways.

"Axel what the hell is going on?" I heard nothing in return but silence, what the hell was he doing. "Axel?"

It was then that I noticed I couldn't feel him anymore. I tried to run but I was getting harder to see in the dark. I pulled out my phone and called Anders.

"Con are you okay?"

"What is going on is Blake out?"

"No she just flatlined, they got her back but it's not good you need to get here now."

"I can't feel Axel anymore..." I was starting to get worried.

"Stay where you are, be there in a minute."

I stopped walking and leaned up against a tree searching my mind for Axel.

Axel

All of sudden, it felt like a rope was being tied to me, drawing me deeper into the back of Con's mind. I retreated deep in the back of his mind once or twice when we needed space after a bad argument but, this was the deepest I had ever gone. It was dark but with my sharp eyes I could still see fairly well, I noticed something laying in a ball on the ground.

"What the hell?"

I lift my nose gauging the air around me and that's when the smell of Blake's honeysuckle scent hits my nose. But this was the strongest I had ever smelt it. I started to slightly panic trying to figure out why she would be in a place like this.

"Baby girl?"

I got nothing in return, I continued towards the figure stinging on the ground. The closer I got the more it became clear it was another Lycan laying there, I took off running knowing exactly who it was. I stopped a few feet from her, just taking in her amazing beauty, she was nothing I had ever seen in all my years. She was this amazing dark gray color that looked almost a blue color, I knelt down in front of her lightly running my finger over her petite hand. It felt cold under my warm touch, I didn't like my mate feeling so cold. I lay down right next to her wrapping one arm over her side pulling myself as close as possible so she could take in my body heat. I could hear her very shallow breathing, it was uncomfortably shallow to be honest. As I laid there taking deep breaths of her scent, I started hearing this weird almost whining sound.

"CLEAR!"

All of a sudden I was hit with so much electricity it sent me flying at least 8 feet away from her. What the hell was that, I hear the whining again and then see my mates body jump. I finally realized what was happening.

"BLAKE!" "BLAKE!"

I stood up looking in different directions as I kept yelling her name over and over again.

Finally, I heard the sweetest whisper to ever enter my ears, It was so faint I almost missed it

"Axel?"

"YES, baby girl it's me, I'm here!"

"Hey my handsome Lycan"

Even in her almost dying state she can still make me feel so loved.

"Baby girl, are you okay?"

"I'm really trying Axel, I'm just so tired and this pain in my right side is nothing I have never experienced in my entire life."

"I know it is Blake. I found your Lycan, she's stunningly beautiful just like you."

"You found her?" Blake says in a breathy whisper.

"Yes baby girl I need your help waking her up though."

"Okay, what do you need me to do?"

"Fight Blake! I need you to fight like never before to stay alive."

"Absolutely handsome let's do this" though it was still a bit of a whisper it was much louder and dripping with determination.

I make my way back over to my Lycan mate and knelt down beside her.

"Aria" I say out loud.

"Is that my Lycans name?"

"Yes baby girl, it means Treasure, gold or of high value and she is my precious treasure."

"It's beautiful Axel... will things between us change once she and I merge?"

"What do you mean baby girl?"

"She will be your baby girl now"

"Blake I deeply love both of you each in your own way, you were my first love and that will never change."

"Will it be like that with her and Conrad?"

"Yes she will love us both deeply but, like me, each of us in different ways." I say looking up in the direction of Blake's voice hoping she understands.

"I don't know if we will ever get to talk like this again, so I want you to know now while I can talk to you. I love you so much Axel, you and Conrad have changed my life in ways I could have never imagined and I will be forever grateful for that." I hear Blake whisper, thick with emotions.

"This will be the only time we will be able to communicate like this, but I will always make ways to let you know how important you are to me and how much I love you."

"Thank you, I expect a kiss when I wake up and try to keep the slobber to a minimum."

"I can't make any promises on that one baby girl." I say with a chuckle.

"That's fine, I'll just rub it on Conrads shirt." She says with a light giggle

"Save your strength we still have some work to do."

I look back down at Aria and start gently rubbing her face.

"Hey beautiful it's time to wake up, we have a very important human we need to keep alive"

"Is she waking up Axel?" Blake was sounding stronger every time she spoke to me, which is a good thing...I hope.

"I'm still trying Baby girl it might take a few moments"

I keep rubbing Aria's face. I roll her onto her back, she is still breathing shallow but she is not as cold as before. I start rubbing my knuckles along her sternum, not too hard but enough it would be uncomfortable. I heard her make a light noise.

"That"s it beautiful now let"s get those eyes open"

I rub the center of her chest again pressing a little hard, and I heard her moan a little bit louder.

"I hear you, come on"

I grab her shoulders and start gently shaking her.

"ARIA!!!!!!!! WAKE YOUR ASS UP!!!!!!!!"

Aria jumped, in the silence Blake"s yelling even scared me. I watch as Aria"s eyes start fluttering open, she looks up at me with the most beautiful blue eyes. They look like big jewels looking straight into my soul.

"Hey there"

The sound of her voice left me completely speechless. I fell down to my knees, pulled her into my lap wrapping my arms around her and held her as I felt tingling and sparks course throughout my body.

"I"ve waited so long to meet you"

She leaned her head back touching her nose to mine. I move my face to the side and start rubbing my snout and the side of my face against hers. I hear her sweet mate purr, the sound makes my heart skip a beat and I can"t help but do the same.

After a while of letting Aria fully wake up and aware of where she was.

"There's someone I would like you to meet, come with me."

I stood up as I grabbed her hand and started walking Aria towards the front of Blake's mind, I felt her stop and tug on my hand. I turned around and looked at her.

"What's wrong?"

"You didn't tell me your name" She whispers.

I give a light chuckle stepping forward and touching my nose to hers.

"I'm sorry, my name is Axel. I picked the name Aria for you, I hope you like it"

I felt so uncertain at that moment I had never wanted the approval of anyone like I did from her right now.

"Axel, I love that name and I think Aria is wonderful."

I let out the breath I didn't know I was holding in. I smile down at her and start walking again, I can't go too far or it might affect their merge.

"Blake?"

I knew she was there quietly, patiently waiting, letting me have some time with Aria.

"I'm here handsome"

"This is your Lycan Aria, Aria this is your human Blakely"

"Hey" they both say and then giggle, the sound of them laughing together was such an amazing moment, I felt so blessed to be able to help my girls come together as one.

"This is as far as I can go with you, just keep going forward and I will see you again shortly okay. Once you've fully merged with Blake you will be able to talk to me and you'll be able to meet your human mate too soon too."

She gave me a soft smile, stepped forward and rubbed her snout and side of her head against me.

"I will see you again very soon." I say stepping away as I felt that pull again pulling me back to Con, I turn around and start walking.

I look up "I love you baby girl" I whisper not sure if she can hear me.

"Love you too handsome" I hear Blake whisper back.

A smile spreads across my face as I start jogging, I'm really going to miss being able to do that. I jog back to the front of Con mind.

"The fun has arrived!" I sang yell holding my hands out to either side.

I was so happy nothing could get me down.

"WHERE THE HELL HAVE YOU BEEN?" I hear Con yell at me.

"Oh nowhere in particular, just a little busy trying to keep Blake alive, wake up Aria and help our mates merge together. You know doing some light work compared to you out there playing cops and robbers with Asher."

"Shit, you could have given me a little heads up before dipping out on me. How did it go? Gauging your attitude, and not having used that line since we were in our 20"s, I would say it went well." Con said with a chuckle

"Well it wasn't flawless but it worked out in the end." I quickly told him everything that happened, with our girls.

"Now we just wait."
