Chapter 158

"Sister, I'm also for my brother-in-law and you. Think about the tea vegetable market. After all, it's a small place. What should I do in case!"

"Let's go!" Dai Wengang's wife said with tears in her eyes.

"Mom and Dad, please beg my sister. I really mean no harm!" He knew what his sister meant. To go was never to appear in front of Dai Wengang. Although she didn't know how hard her husband was, she knew how cruel the people beside her bed were.

"Girl, what's the matter with you! If you have anything to say, your sister and brother should talk well. Don't scare him! He is still young and not sensible, and he is not easy! " The little white faced mother looked at her son's red and swollen face and was a little unhappy and distressed, but the Ninja was still unhappy and begged her daughter.

"Little! Not sensible! He's not easy! I'll be easy! I'll be sensible? " Dai Wengang's wife has a cold in her heart! feel cold!

"Walk home and see what you can do! Without you, our family can still starve to death. Don't call me dad in the future! I don't have a girl like you. It's good or bad. Your man is dying. Did my son do it! Go! "

Little white face dare not go! He really dare not go! Dai Wen's angry expression has been rolling in his mind!

"Let's go! As far as he can go, I hope he sees the child's face ~ "she can't go on. The family is over and she has no face!

Dai Wengang's brother has called a lot of people. He wants to guard against Dai Wengang's wife and brother-in-law! If my brother doesn't wake up, he will really kill!

When people were working at ease, they had begun to roam the country of China. These people who roamed the Jianghu and dared to eat crabs were simple people!

In the operating room, Zhang Fan gently pressed the brain with a brain pressure plate and slowly washed the blood clot with normal saline. Some of the hemorrhagic brain tissues were eroded, and the blood circulation of some brain tissues was not very good. Zhang Fan and Liu Zhaoyun slowly remove blood clots. Now they are not in a hurry. The pressure has been relieved. At least there will be no brain hernia!

Zhang Fan's technique is very light. More than three hours have passed, and he still doesn't feel tired. Liu Zhaoyun doesn't give strength, but he still has to stick to it. At this time, the patient is still in the gate of death. Pull it and come over! No matter how hard or tired, you have to insist. Who makes you a doctor!

"Give me a bottle of glucose. I'm a little dazed!" Liu Zhaoyun couldn't stand down. He was nervous and focused under the shadowless lamp. Moreover, he didn't eat at night for his health. Now he can't hold on for more than three hours.

"Director, you nodded and I put the bottle down." Open the glucose with the bottle opener. The itinerant nurse gently pulled down Liu Zhaoyun's mask. Liu Zhaoyun tilted his head and asked the itinerant nurse to feed him glucose, but the retractor in his hand still couldn't be released!

Operation from shallow to deep, little by little, slowly remove the clot, and then stop bleeding completely. The brain is particularly sensitive to foreign bodies. If you leave some broken bones or hair, it is particularly easy to form brain abscess. Zhang Fan is very careful and does not miss any point. Every time he goes deeper, he will make sure that there is no problem with the brain tissue above. The operation is slow! The bleeding has stopped, and the patient's breathing is stable! Vital signs have stabilized.

Finally, repair the dura, which is to prevent infection or epilepsy. The operation is over! Zhang Fan turned to let the tour wipe his sweat. The disposable surgical cap was like a wet towel. The tour nurse wiped it carefully and quickly changed Zhang Fan's hat!

"Director Liu, it's over! The patient is saved! " Zhang Fan slightly extended his extension time, kept his body slightly bowed, and calmly said to Liu Zhaoyun.

"Yes, it's over! Succeeded! " They are very calm. Zhang Fan deliberately doesn't let himself get excited, while Lao Liu has seen too much and can't get excited.

Xia Huadong is different. He followed up the whole operation. It was dangerous and abnormal. Now he succeeded! When Zhang Fan said the end, his excited hands trembled, thumbed up to Zhang Fan and said, "cow! Zhang Fan! "

It's already more than 4 a.m., but the information about Dai Wengang's cerebral hemorrhage hospitalized for surgery has spread to the high-end people in tea vegetable city. Even Li Xiao knows.

Businessmen, especially bosses of this magnitude, have a lot of debts. They owe others money. Others owe him a lot. Li Xiao borrowed more than 10 million from Dai Wengang's company. If Dai Wengang really dies, the money can only be enforced by the court. It's hard to say how much he can get.

One car, two cars, many Mercedes Benz, BMW and Land Rover gathered in the municipal hospital in this ordinary early morning. Li Xiao also came. She wanted to know the specific situation at the first time so that she could formulate a response plan. I called Zhang Fan and wanted Zhang Fan to inquire, but I couldn't get through! Had to call Ouyang, but Ouyang's phone was also turned off!

Ouyang's special phone is unknown if it is not at a certain level. Not even if you're rich. It's discipline. But the rich are not comparable to ordinary people. After a while, several doctors or nurses came in Zhang Fan's operating room.

Or quietly say a few words with anesthesia, or say a few words with itinerant nurses, and then leave quietly.

"Who is the chief knife? Yu Bin or Liu Zhaoyun? "

"Zhang Fan?"

"Experts in bird market?"

"No, a young man who has been in surgery in the hospital recently!"

"Can Dai Wengang be saved?"

"It is said that the rescue was successful. The operation was successful! "

The boss who owes Dai Wengang money is disappointed and returns! Dai Wengang's creditors were very happy. Li Xiao also knew the news. "No wonder I can't get through to Zhang Fan. Let's go! We'll know the details when dawn comes. You call Dr. Zhang every 20 minutes. " Li Xiao said to the assistant.

The operation is over, but the patient has not passed the dangerous period. Postoperative high fever, gastrointestinal bleeding and acute pulmonary edema may occur at any time. The biggest danger is to continue bleeding. These symptoms can kill people, so we can't completely relax. We must pay close attention.

In the ICU, Zhang Fan said to the doctor on duty, "please take more snacks. The patient's operation is too big and the damage is not small. Maybe he will be restless at some time. Pay more attention. In addition to routine medication, I think dexamethasone should also be used! "

"OK, Doctor Zhang, I see." The doctor on duty said that he would use it only after asking the director. Zhang Fan is a surgeon, not a doctor in ICU. Zhang Fan suddenly felt his boldness, smiled shyly and hurried away.

As soon as I opened my cell phone, I received a call from assistant Li Xiao " Dr. Zhang, you're finally turned on. Wait a minute. The boss wants to talk to you. "

When Zhang Fan saw that it was already six o'clock in the morning, "did Li Xiao have a waist disease again? It shouldn't be. " Zhang Fan wondered.

"Doctor Zhang, have you had an operation?" The sound of Li Xiaogang waking up sounded!

"Yes, Sister Li."

"Can Devon just get through it?" Li Xiao asked directly without being polite to Zhang Fan.

"If you can survive today, it should be no problem. What's the matter, Sister Li? "

"Ah! Do business with him! Go and have a rest. Turn off the phone. I think there are still a lot of people to ask you about Dai Wengang. " Li xiaote said with great interest.

"OK!" Although Zhang Fan wondered, he turned off his cell phone and was advised to eat!

Liu Zhaoyun and Xia Huadong didn't go home. It was dawn and they didn't have much time to go to work. In the doctor's lounge, they lay down and fell asleep, although they couldn't sleep long.

Zhang fan can't sleep yet. The patient is his. He has to face his family and tell them about the patient~

The operation is over, but the patient has not passed the dangerous period. Postoperative high fever, gastrointestinal bleeding and acute pulmonary edema may occur at any time. The greatest risk is continued bleeding. So we can't completely relax, we must pay close attention to it.

Dai Wengang's wife has figured out the cause and effect of the matter. Her brother wants to kill her husband because he wants to get rich. And her hesitation because of worry also makes everyone see that as long as Dai Wen just recovers, these things must not be concealed, and her hesitation will become a sin!

Dai Wengang's brother has now looked at himself with cold eyes. And in recent years, she also felt that there were other women outside Dai Wengang! Maybe there are children, but she never cares! I can't care. Now she doesn't worry about anything, just her children! Motherless children are the most pitiful.

Years of husband and wife, she knows her husband very well. She is cruel to himself and others. Her brother has done everything and there is no room for recovery! Her face is like ashes. No matter how expensive cosmetics are, they can't cover up her dead face. Her heart is dead!

Zhang Fan came to the corridor of the operating room from the side door of the ICU. Dai Wengang's brother rushed over immediately after seeing Zhang Fan. There were many people behind him. These people were brought out of their hometown in recent years, none of them were from the frontier!

"Doctor!" Dai Wengang's brother looked at Zhang Fan's face, hoping to see something from it, but Zhang Fan's face was as calm as water, without any ripples! Now Zhang Fan is also exercising how to be calm like water. Like top experts, although there is not much emotion, the operation is exquisite and can save more people. No matter how rich feelings are, it's useless to save patients. This is a hospital, not a nursing home. You can't talk about feelings when you don't need to talk about feelings!

Although the words are cruel, this is the fact. Almost all real experts will not have a relationship beyond doctors and patients with their own patients! Zhang Fan is also slowly groping and understanding.

"The operation was completed, the bleeding was stopped, and the hematoma was removed. However, the patient has not passed the dangerous period, and there may be accidents leading to death at any time! This is a critically ill signature. Please sign it. "

"What do you need us to do?" Dai Wengang's brother asked. Now he no longer worried about who jumped out to stop him, because the operation was finished! For Dai Wengang's wife and brother-in-law, it's better to leave it to his brother to make his own decision!

"Pay enough medical expenses and wait at ease. I can't get in the ICU now. Wait. "

"OK, thank you! Please, my brother will thank you when he wakes up! "

"No!" Zhang Fan said and left. He was a little tired. I need to rest. There is a big ward round in the morning. I don't even have time to rest for a while!

Back to the Department, Zhang Fan has no choice. Liu Zhaoyun and Xia Huadong have occupied the bed. It's called a sweet sleep! When Zhang Fan turned to find an empty ward to live for a while, the nurse on duty shouted to Zhang Fan, "Dr. Zhang, go to the nurse's lounge and sleep for a while."
