

M Road

Chapter 163

I don't know whether it was Li Xiao's account or the little assistant's own opinion. The new car is full of fuel. The car is good, but it also costs fuel. Chalk is the farthest county from tea vegetable city. There is no expressway. Although it's a provincial road, it's either a mountain climbing or a big slope down the mountain. It's hard to walk.

There is abundant rain in autumn. It is approaching a place in Chalke county. The flood has covered the highway. Many cars can only stop at both ends of the road and sigh at the water. Zhang Fan's car has a high chassis and strong horsepower. As long as the big truck can pass, Zhang fan can drive there. He can't see the appearance of the new car after the new car. Looking at the mud and water covered with the new car, The distressed Zhang Fan shivers. He cherishes things very much, not to mention a car.

The building of the county government is behind the county Party committee. The two buildings are set up in the county town without several buildings, which is particularly conspicuous. Zhang Fan parked his car and called Kang Hua. After all, he is a leader, so it is not appropriate to rush in. There used to be Tang Jingjing, but now the Secretary has changed, and Zhang Fan is not familiar with it.

Kang Hua asked Zhang Fan to go directly to her office. In the morning, Zhang Fan said hello to the director of the Department and set out. The director of the oncology department also knows that Zhang Fanzhi is not here, and it is not difficult for Zhang Fan. Why do transferred doctors have a low status in the hospital, and nurses with some qualifications can scold? The most important thing is that there is no certificate! Without a license, you have not entered the ranks of doctors. What sounds good is doctors, and what doesn't sound good is interns! The rules and regulations of China are a little cruel to medical students.

Zhang Fan knocked on several doors, and opened the door of a girl who felt very cold. Her skin was white, her eyes were big, her nose was thin, and her lips were covered with a shiny lip gloss. Not low, wearing a lady's suit, "are you Doctor Zhang! The leader is waiting for you inside. " The sound is cold! Zhang Fan smiled, nodded and went in.

Zhang Fan is determined to change the habit of laughing at people, but he can't change it all the time. This is the problem of being a peddler in college. Kang Hua's office is a suite, and the outer room is probably the Gao lengniu's office.

Entering the suite, Kang Hua warmly got up to greet Zhang Fan. As soon as Zhang Fan saw Kang Hua's attitude, he knew that Kang Hua had something to ask " Xiao Wei, don't make that hospitable tea. Let Dr. Zhang taste my hair tip. " They didn't talk. Kang Hua said when she saw Wei Wei, the Secretary, making tea.

Wei Wei's uncle is the leader of the municipal Party committee and has a good relationship with Li Xiao. Kang Hua's position has made great efforts to Li Xiao. Now they are also a system, and their ruling ideas are very similar. Wei Wei graduated from University, stayed in the Youth League Committee, and then was admitted to the graduate student of the Department of psychology. After graduating from graduate school, Kang Hua didn't want to stay in the University. At the same time, Kang Hua begged uncle Wei Wei. By the way, her uncle asked Wei Wei to be Kang Hua's secretary.

These are ambitious women. Otherwise, a girl from a family like Wei Wei would never be a secretary to others. Wei Wei with tea put the cup in front of Zhang Fan and said gently, "Doctor Zhang, please!" Then she took Kang Hua's water cup from her desk to the tea table in front of the sofa. Wei Wei was at home and couldn't help the oil bottle when it was poured. As a secretary, it's not only necessary to serve tea and pour water, but also good!

Wei Wei, who was going to go out to work, asked Kang Hua to shout, "listen, Xiao Wei. If you have anything in the future, you can contact Dr. Zhang directly."

Wei Wei, sitting on one side, holds a pen and opens her notebook. After Zhang Fan took a sip of tea, Kang Hua said, "Dr. Zhang, I'll just say it directly. The current situation of the county hospital is not optimistic. The surgical operation is almost stagnant. It is difficult for the people in the county to see a doctor, and I have great pressure as a leader. This is my duty, but Chalk is too far from the city. Older experts are reluctant to come when they hear about Chalk county. I can only beg you now. I don't need you to come every day. Elective surgery is like before. Gather a few weeks and you can find time to focus on diagnosis and treatment for one day. If there is an emergency and a seriously ill patient needs emergency surgery, I think it will trouble you. "

As soon as Zhang Fan pondered, he said, "leaders, I'm afraid I'm on duty, and I'm also worried about the long way. Some patients can't wait! ~" Zhang Fan does not reject surgery, but after all, he works in the municipal hospital.

"Don't worry. As long as you agree, I'll talk to your Dean. There should be no problem. After all, there are few people here and there are not many emergencies! And you are young, skilled and energetic. You are the right person. " Kang Hua said.

When Zhang Fan was still thinking about whether there were any disadvantages, Kang Hua said, "the county government can give you a special appointment book. The transportation and horse expenses and operation expenses can be discussed."

"All right! Leader, in fact, I'm worried about the work in the municipal hospital. It's not a big problem such as operation expenses. " Zhang Fan said.

"There is no objection to this. Your expenses will be paid according to the expenses of the experts of the municipal hospital. Xiao Wei will give you an oil card later. You want dessert! The county hospital can't solve the problem of seeing a doctor in the county. I've been insomnia for several nights! " Kang Hua said something and patted the back of Zhang Fan's hand.

Kang Hua is really worried this time. She looked at the medical treatment simply and thought that it could be done by changing people. As a result, it had no effect. The Secretary and the leader in charge of health had talked about it after their predecessors.

If Kang Hua follows the rules, she doesn't have so many things, but she's too strong! Anxious to seize power, the rebound caused is not small. Can do the operation, and the operation fee, all the worries have been solved by Kang Hua. Zhang Fan has nothing he can't promise.

After Zhang Fan agreed, Kang Hua handed over the follow-up to Wei Wei and asked Wei Wei to take Zhang Fan to the county hospital first. The Dean changed and the director of surgery changed. As a result, the former director of surgery was angry and resigned and opened his own clinic!

Wei Wei was surprised when she was in the office. For a few months, she admired Kang Hua and called it hard to be an iron woman, but her attitude towards Zhang Fan really surprised Wei Wei. When she went out to see the muddy cool Luze, she was even more curious about Zhang Fan!

"I'm not old, which means I haven't worked for a few years. He smiles when he sees people, which shows that he was born in an ordinary family, but Kang Hua is very polite to him and drives a good car. It's a contradiction in every way. "

"Dr. Zhang, this is an oil card, which can be used by CNPC in all cities in the frontier. Please leave your mobile phone number so that I can contact you later."

Zhang Fan was also welcome. He took the oil card, took out his sister's eliminated Apple 4 and dialed Wei Wei's phone. Wei Wei looked at the mobile phone with pink decals! Remembering that Kang Hua once affectionately patted the back of Zhang Fan's hand, she suddenly had a layer of goose bumps!
