Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 151

Chapter 151

Jocelyn shook her head with a smile and said sincerely, "I know you are doing this for my own good, but I have my own principles in doing things, and I will be careful in the future. Thank you again for tonight's matter. I won't forget your life-saving grace." Abel snorted arrogantly. Jocelyn smiled and opened the car door. Jocelyn returned to North Court Villa and Skyler was not there. Jocelyn felt a little aggrieved when she thought of what happened tonight. However, after calming down, she still felt that she was the one to blame as she was too impulsive.

She should discuss Dan's contract with Davis tomorrow and she must cancel it. She did not want to get into this mess again. She did not have such good luck to have someone save her again the second time. At the same time, Vintage Bar. Skyler drank silently while Jim raised his eyebrows and glanced at him, laughing wholeheartedly. "Say, Skyler, there is a lot of buzz in the circle, are you the one behind what happened to the Quirrel family?" Skyler gave him a cool look. "What do you think?" Jim looked at him without blinking, his tone tentative when he said, "Don't you think it's funny? Some people said that you are killing three birds with one stone, and your targets are Chad, Lily, and Lynn." Skyler looked at him blankly, saying nothing. Jim was startled. "No way! Is it true? You deliberately asked me to go have fun with Chad that time because you want to make Lily a laughingstock and anger her successfully, right?" Skyler snorted softly, ignoring him. Jim was not angry either. His face was shocked when he asked, "Was it because of Jocelyn?" Skyler was kind enough to let out a hum and Jim's jaw dropped in shock. "I really didn't realize, so you're... into her now?" Skyler glanced sideways at Jim. "Is there anything else on your mind besides that?" "If you didn't fall in love with her, why did you do that to help her? I was scared, okay?"

Skyler took a sip of wine and said indifferently, "It's just that I don't like those people, so I decided to teach them a lesson while I was at it. It has nothing to do with Jocelyn."

Jim looked at Skyler and did not speak. He did not quite believe Skyler's statement. Skyler's behavior during this time was always a bit abnormal.

When Skyler came home, there was no one downstairs, only Whitie was lying obediently on the sofa.

Skyler could not help snorting when Jocelyn said that she owed him a favor. He even childishly thought that she had fallen asleep by herself before he came back when she owed him a favor.

Perhaps it was the alcohol, he had an idea.

Could he exchange the favor Jocelyn owed him for holding her to sleep every night? She could truly treat his insomnia and it was more effective than medicine.

Skyler suddenly jolted back to his senses when White meowed. What was he thinking about?

He ate a mint irritably to sober himself up. Then, he went upstairs to wash up and sleep.

As a result, as soon as he went upstairs, he saw Jocelyn standing at the end of the stairs.

Jocelyn looked at Skyler. "Mr. Moore, you're back." Skyler took two steps forward and Jocelyn could smell the evident smell of alcohol. She frowned slightly. "Have you been drinking?" Skyler thought of Jocelyn's cold and alienated attitude toward him, and his tone was a little irritable, "Do I have to report to you when I drink?"

Jocelyn pursed her lips. "No, I was just asking."

Skyler had some alcohol and when he saw Jocelyn's indifferent appearance, his irritability seemed to double, and his emotions were magnified. He frowned even more. "Can I help you?"

After Skyler finished speaking, he immediately regretted it.

He did not mean it that way!

Initially, Jocelyn heard the door open and wanted to talk to Skyler about Dan.

She had planned to discuss this matter with Davis tomorrow, but when she heard the door open and remembered what happened tonight, she suddenly wanted to talk to Skyler.

After all, the main reason Dan targeted her was because of Skyler.

As a result, Skyler's impatient attitude reminded Jocelyn of what he said during the day. He told her not to bother him with such things in the future.

Her expression was a little embarrassed. She restrained all her emotions and said in an extremely icy tone, "It's nothing, I just heard some movement, so I came out to see if you're back"

After Jocelyn finished speaking, she turned to leave.

As a result, Skyler suddenly grabbed her arm and pulled her back. Then, he directly pressed her against the wall.

Jocelyn did not expect this at all. Her breathing became heavier, and her heart began to beat faster. Skyler's breath had a faint smell of alcohol as it sprayed on her face, "Jocelyn, do you think I'm a monkey that you can just look at whenever you want?"

Jocelyn turned her head in discomfort and reached out to push Skyler away. "Mr. Moore, you drank too much. Calm down, I'm just caring for my companion under the same roof."

Skyler was pressing against Jocelyn so hard that Jocelyn could not push him away.

She frowned helplessly, not wanting to bother with a drunkard. When Skyler heard what she said, he suddenly sneered, his tone slightly sarcastic, "Companion under the same roof? Hehe... This is new." Jocelyn frowned and when she was just about to speak, Skyler suddenly bent over as if he could not stand. He put his head on the crook of her neck and pressed his soft lips against her collarbone. Then, he just hugged her and stopped talking.

Jocelyn froze. As she felt the warmth of her collarbone, her whole body seemed to heat up.

She blushed and struggled with an unpleasant expression. "Mr. Moore, let me go. You are drunk, I will take you back to your room so that you can rest."

Skyler trapped Jocelyn and was smelling the sweet fragrance on Jocelyn's body. Suddenly, his eyes shone. Did she think he was drunk?

She seemed to have a higher tolerance for his drunk self than his regular self.

Skyler's eyes were gloomy, and he did not know what he was thinking. He put on an act and pretended to be drunk. Then, he said in a muffled voice, "Don't move, I'm not drunk, I can still drink more later."

Jocelyn did not know if she should laugh or cry. He was indeed drunk!

She felt helpless and she figured that Skyler would be in a bad mood when he woke up the next morning and found out how much of a rogue tonight.

Jocelyn felt Skyler's strength loosen a little and she reached out to push Skyler away.

As a result, Skyler immediately hugged her tighter, his voice a little hoarse and deep, "Be a good girl and don't move."

Jocelyn's heart was beating frantically. She took a deep breath. "This man is just drunk.'

Moreover, he had never spoken to Jocelyn in such a tone so he must have regarded her as someone else!

Thinking of this, Jocelyn's expression suddenly turned unpleasant.

She bit her lip and suddenly stabbed her elbow hard against Skyler's chest.

Skyler groaned in pain and subconsciously reached out to cover his chest. He never thought that this woman would be so cruel.

Jocelyn immediately took the opportunity to push him away and ran back to her room.

Skyler clutched his chest. His eyes were clear, but his heart felt even more helpless. He did this to himself

Since he told Jocelyn not to have improper thoughts about him, he should keep a distance from her too, yet what was he doing now?

He did not even understand it himself!

However, when he figured that he was still drunk, he reluctantly slid down the wall, closed his eyes while leaning against the wall, and sat on the ground.

11 Jocelyn knew he was not drunk, it would be a big deal.

Jocelyn went back to the room and felt like she was overreacting.

She calmed down, opened the door, and saw Skyler leaning against the wall and sitting on the corridor floor. She pondered for some time but did not approach him herself. Instead, she summoned the butler and let him send Skyler back to his room. The next day, Skyler found that Jocelyn had left for work after he woke up. When he thought about what happened last night, his eyes darkened. His cold and handsome face displayed a hint of frustration.

Jocelyn arrived at work very early today. She planned to talk to Davis about Dan's contract this morning to find a way to cancel the contract of the custom jewelry.

In the end, Davis was busy this morning. He did not come to the office, and he was busy working outside. Hence, Jocelyn could only start working. At the same time, Yvonne received a phone call from Dan.

"Yvonne, how dare you f*cking lie to me?" Dan sounded furious. Yvonne's heart skipped a beat from fright. "What nonsense are you talking about? When did I lie to you?"

"Didn't you say Jocelyn is Skyler's woman? If so, why did Abel come making trouble for me last night? Aside from ruining my plan, he even said I messed with his woman. How dare you say you didn't lie to me?" Dan suffered a double loss last night and he was still seething.

Yvonne did not expect someone to appear halfway into their plan and ruin everything. Abel was helping Jocelyn now.

She frowned. "Mr. Lester, I didn't lie to you. If you don't believe me. Go ask around in the circle. Everyone knows that Skyler was avenging Jocelyn so that's why he did that to the Quirrel family. As for Abel, it's not weird for a woman like Jocelyn to have more than one man. How can you put the blame on me?"

Dan did not accept how Yvonne was trying to con him and his voice was extremely gloomy, "I don't care about Jocelyn. Come to Claude Hospital right away. I'm hospitalized because of you!"

He could not cause trouble for Abel and Skyler in his state right now, so he could vent his anger on Yvonne.

Yvonne was frightened by his tone. “Mr. Lester, if you are sick, just stay in the hospital, I...”

As soon as Dan heard Yvonne’s tone, he knew that this woman did not want to come, and he flew into a rage all of a sudden.

“You’re not coming, are you? Then I’ll get someone to bring you over.” He was being tyrannical.

Yvonne turned pale with fright. “Don’t be like this, Mr. Lester, we can talk about this.”

Dan sounded extremely impatient. “Yvonne, I’ll tell you the truth, I’ve recorded you when you instigated me to take actions against Jocelyn back then. If you don’t want this to fall into Skyler’s hands, you’d better come to me right away!”

Dan was not weak, and he would not let people manipulate him however they wanted. Yvonne did not expect this at all, her expression instantly became extremely unpleasant. “How can you do that?”

Dan sneered, “Do you think I need you to teach me what to do?” Yvonne was shocked and angry, but she did not dare to cross Dan. If he did send the recording to Skyler, she would definitely suffer judging from Skyler’s personality. Her lips were trembling as she said, “I’ll head over. I’ll head over now. Send me your ward number.”

When Dan heard this, he immediately hung up the phone. Soon, Yvonne received the ward number. However, she was so scared she did not dare to go.

Dan was urging her, and it was as if he was pressuring her to death. Last night, he suffered defeat at Jocelyn’s side and today, he was most likely trying to use her as a punching bag. However, he got dirt on her, so she had to go. Yvonne thought about it again and again. In the end, she decided to probe Jim. When the call went through, Yvonne said with a guilty smile, “Jim, what are you doing?”

Jim lifted his eyebrow. “What is it?”

"It's not a big deal. I heard people say yesterday that Skyler is related to what happened to the Quirrel family. I have had a good relationship with Lynn before, so when I heard this, I was a little curious. Some people said that this was because the White family had offended Jocelyn, so Skyler took care of the Quirrel family for Jocelyn," Yvonne thought for a while and said tentatively.

When Jim heard this, he snorted softly. "Yvonne, I should warn you to stay away from Jocelyn in the future. Get rid of your guesses and don't cause any trouble. It's not just the Quirrel family, Lily and Chad also offended Jocelyn. You better grow some brains or else I can't protect you if something goes wrong!" Upon hearing this, Yvonne's face instantly paled. Thinking of Chad's tragic death, her hand holding the phone trembled. "Did Chad offend Jocelyn too?"

Jim frowned and said in a displeased tone, "Did you forget that you're the one who asked Chad to offer Jocelyn a humble apology after he offended Jocelyn, but I guess Skyler can't get over this in his heart, otherwise, Chad will not ... I'm saying this so you'll wise up. Don't talk nonsense in front of the Jones family, do you understand?"

When Jim was a child, Yvonne's father saved his life, so even if Yvonne was a collateral relative of the Rand family, she would be better off than others in the Rand family because Jim was willing to allow this for her father's sake.

Yvonne was shaking when she heard what Jim said. She never thought that Jocelyn's position in Skyler's heart was so important! When she asked Dan to take action against Jocelyn, it was just to vent her anger, she really did not think so much!

She was jealous and scared now.

She was jealous that Jocelyn had gotten Skyler's attention so quickly, on the contrary, she had worked hard for so many years, but Skyler still did not take notice of her.

She was more afraid that Skyler would find out she was the one who asked Dan to take action against Jocelyn.

Judging from what Skyler did to Lynn and the others, if he found out what happened last night, there was a high chance that she would lose half of her life.

No, she had to stop Dan.

When Jim heard that Yvonne was not reacting, he was not happy. "Did you hear what I said?"

Yvonne quickly came back to her senses and nodded urgently. "Yes, Jim. I will stay far away from Jocelyn and not say anything in front of the Jones family."

Jim scoffed softly. "That's good."

Yvonne hung up and her expression turned tense and unpleasant.

She looked at the ward number on her phone. Then, her eyes flashed, and she drove to the hospital. Skyler was looking at the file when he got a call from Jim.

Jim sounded ecstatic. "Skyler, have you seen today's social news headlines?"

Skyler frowned. "What?"

Jim saw this news just now and his stomach hurt from laughing. "Dan was stripped of his clothes and hung on the Mauve Bridge for a night, and he was only found this morning. This piece of news is trending in the circle, I guess he's going to have a heart attack from anger!" Over the phone, Skyler could hear Jim's schadenfreude. Thinking of Dan's arrogant face in the past turning livid, Skyler raised his eyebrows and curled his lips with interest. "Persisting in evil brings about self-destruction indeed." Jim snapped his fingers. "You're so right, someone like him will collapse over sooner or later, and yet he still wants to fight us!"

Skyler said solemnly, "Don't underestimate the enemy so recklessly, Dan's game company has been developing well for so many years, so don't underestimate him."

Jim nodded, "Well, don't worry, I will separate work from laughing at him. Tsk... I wonder which hero did such a thing to get rid of the evil from the people. When I think about Dan looking like a buffoon and embarrassing himself, I'm so happy I can't wait to pop some champagne to celebrate!

Skyler's eyes flashed. "Okay, pop some bottles at night and call on a few friends!"

Jim's eyes widened in surprise. "No way! Is the sun rising from the west? You actually proposed to have a party?"

Skyler's voice was cold, "You can decide if we're having a party or not."

Jim quickly answered, "Yes, of course! You're the one proposing it and this is a rare first time!"

Skyler hung up the phone and remembered what happened last night. Then, he called Jocelyn voluntarily

The phone rang a few times before Jocelyn answered.

Skyler cleared his throat. "Are you busy tonight?"

When Jocelyn heard Skyler's tone, she lifted her eyebrows. Since Skyler was behaving like this, did it mean he forgot what happened last night?"

Her eyes shone. "I'm having dinner with a few friends. What's going on?"

Davis was getting too close with her these two days.

Jocelyn was on Lexie's side so she wanted to do everything she could to help Lexie.

She just promised Lexie and Davis through text that the three would have dinner together tonight

Skyler frowned and asked subconsciously, "Which friends?" Jocelyn lifted her eyebrow and replied coldly, "President Moore, I don't need to tell you this, right?"

Chapter 154

Skyler's handsome face suddenly looked a little off-colored. His voice was stiff, "I was just asking, don't overthink it." Jocelyn's voice was lukewarm, "Okay, I didn't. President Moore, what else can I do for you?" Skyler almost vomited blood, he had never felt so aggrieved before. Why did he feel like he was in a hurry to talk to her?

He said bluntly as if he did not care, "No, but Jim said he wanted to get together tonight. He hopes that I can ask you over and it depends on you if you want to go or not." Jocelyn frowned. "Will it involve alcohol again?"

Skyler's expression was unpredictable. "What do you mean again?" Jocelyn's tone sounded more helpless, "President Moore, you were drunk last night, did you forget everything?" Skyler instantly thought of what happened last night and his voice suddenly sounded a little uncomfortable. "I drank too much last night and I blacked out."

Jocelyn was even more helpless. She knew that this person must have forgotten, otherwise, he would not be able to talk to herself so casually today.

She said, "President Moore, you drank too much last night and you're going drinking again tonight? I told my friends that we'll have dinner together, so I really don't have time at night. If you want to go, drink less."

Skyler's expression looked stiff. "Which friend? Do I know them?"

Skyler was asking this question again and Jocelyn figured it would not be easy to con him again. So, she could only tell the truth, "I'm going with Director Lang and Lexie."

Only then did Skyler remember that these three graduated from Mauve University together.

His eyes flashed, "Okay, I got it."

After Skyler finished speaking, he hung up the phone. Jocelyn frowned and did not think much of it.

Coincidentally, Davis came back, and Jocelyn went to him.

"Director Lang, can we terminate Dan's contract?" Jocelyn did not say anything about last night. Instead, she told Davis about Dan's attitude.

Davis frowned. "If this contract is terminated, we will lose a lot unless they voluntarily terminate it."

Jocelyn was a little helpless and hesitated. "He didn't come to customize jewelry at all! He..."

Davis frowned when he saw Jocelyn like this. "Jocelyn, is there something you didn't tell me?"

Jocelyn looked at Davis' face. If she did not tell the truth, Davis probably would not understand how horrible Dan's attitude was.

She pursed her lips and said, "Dan tricked me into going to a bar last night, saying that he wants me to customize some jewelry just to target President Moore and avenge himself, and... If my friend didn't save me last night, something bad might have happened to me. So, I don't want to continue to perform the contract." Jocelyn said it lightly, but Davis' face turned unpleasant. "Did he purposely make things hard for you last night?" He was a man, so when Jocelyn said that, he could basically imagine what happened.

He knew what methods Dan wanted to use against Jocelyn. If Jocelyn was not lucky, she would not be able to sit here unharmed today.

Jocelyn was now Prosperity's hottest designer, so Dan wanted to hurt Jocelyn to slap Skyler in – the face.

He was so extremely despicable!

Davis' face darkened.

Jocelyn was a little helpless. "Director Lang, I know you're worried about me, but I'm fine, so don't be angry. I'll be careful about this kind of contract in the future."

Davis nodded. Then, he thought about it and said, "You just fell into his trap accidentally last night. In fact, this contract has a lot of restrictions on the second party and Dan is not that stupid. He knows he won't deceive you with the same excuse again unless he really wants to continue to customize the jewelry, otherwise, he will take the initiative to cancel the contract. Don't worry, this matter is not difficult to solve."

Jocelyn nodded and pursed her lips. "I thought of this too, but I want to deal with this as soon as possible, and... I don't want President Moore to know about this."

Davis' eyes flashed. "In this case, it's not too late, let's go to Dan now and solve this matter."

Jocelyn breathed a sigh of relief. She had actually calmed down and analyzed the stakes of the matter

Her analysis was the same as Davis'. She was confident that she was able to persuade Dan to terminate the contract, but what happened last night traumatized her and she did not want to face Dan alone.

Fifty percent of people in Mauve City today knew that Dan was beaten up, found by sanitation workers early in the morning, and sent to Claude Hospital.

Davis and Jocelyn rushed to the hospital.

Inside Dan's ward, Dan saw that Yvonne was longing to stand against the wall and be as far away from him as possible.

He scoffed and took out his phone to play a recording.

Her conversation with Dan came out of the phone clearly.

"Say, Skyler is so heartless, and he doesn't care about anyone. It's so hard for me to crush his awe-inspiring authority."

"Mr. Lester, you're wrong. I'm indeed not interested in Skyler, but there's a jewelry designer in Prosperity who Skyler cares about a lot."

"Oh, how come I never heard of this?" "If you haven't heard of this designer, then you should know about the Quirrel family. It's rumored in the circle that Skyler was so furious because of this designer."

"How do I know if what you said is true or false?"

"That's easy. You don't dare to offend Skyler, but isn't it easy to take action against a small designer? Give it a try and you will know how important she is to Skyler."

"Why are you so kind to tell me this?"

"Of course, it's because... I can't get the man I love. I like Skyler, a lot of people in Mauve City know about this, but unfortunately, even though I like him so much, he only has another woman in his heart. He even stood me up on my birthday because of that woman. I hate her and I want so badly to tear that woman to pieces..." "Hehe... You women are really interesting, by the way, what's that woman's name?" "Jocelyn White."

Yvonne's face was extremely off colored. She stared at Dan. "You recorded me. How despicable!" 1

When she heard Dan say that he had a recording, she thought maybe he was lying, but she did not expect that he actually recorded her.

Dan chuckled. "I'm nothing compared to you. You got someone else to do your dirty work for you and wanted me to help you deal with your rival in love. You are still young and inexperienced. I have suffered a loss from Abel this time, so we have beef now.

"It's just that I'm not in a hurry to settle accounts with you. At the end of the day, it's all because of Skyler. If I don't make him pay, I won't be able to swallow this grievance. If you don't want me to send this recording to Skyler, just cooperate with me."

Yvonne still wanted to struggle while on the brink of death. "It's just a conversation over drinks, Skyler won't believe it."

Dan sneered and looked at her sarcastically. "Really? Shall we give it a try?"

Yvonne's body shook. When she thought about what happened to Chad and the others, she clenched her hands tightly and her face turned pale.

She was silent for a while before she said, "What do you want me to do?"

"It's very simple. I heard that your relationship with Jim is not bad, so he won't be on guard against you. You just need to help me..." The more Dan explained his plan, the more ruthless the smile in his eyes.

After listening to what Dan said, Yvonne's eyes widened. "Impossible! I can't do this, if they find out, they will never forgive me!"

"Then I'll send the recording to Skyler now. Do you want to gamble on which one of the consequences will be worse?" Dan's face turned cold and the scar on his forehead made him even more terrifying.

Yvonne's expression changed repeatedly; her emotions were out of control. "Is there any difference between these two results?"

Dan's eyes flashed and he snorted coldly. "You are so stupid; can't you find a scapegoat?"

No wonder Skyler did not like her, her IQ was so low!

Yvonne's lips trembled and she was staring at Dan silently.

Dan sneered, his tone full of contempt, "No wonder Skyler doesn't like you. You're not even as courageous as Jocelyn, if I were Skyler, I wouldn't like you too." Yvonne was successfully triggered. Her body trembled and her voice was shrill and angry, "Shut up!" "Heh..." Dan laughed sarcastically. "Even if I keep my mouth shut, this is an indisputable fact."

Yvonne stared at him angrily. She wanted to swallow him whole with her eyes but there was nothing she could do.

Dan ignored her emotions and said lightly, "You don't have to get too emotional. Now is not the time to compare with Jocelyn, even if you defeat Jocelyn now, your cruelty can't be hidden once I present this recording to Skyler. Let me ask you, will Skyler still be attracted to such a scherning woman like you?"

“All men like pure and kind women even if it’s only an act. I can promise you, as long as you help me this time, I will destroy the recording, what do you think?” Dan guided patiently and systematically Yvonne looked like she was struggling with the proposition. She thought of how much Skyler cared about Jocelyn and how much she had been thinking about Skyler over the years. Eventually, she stared at Dan for a long time with red eyes before closing her eyes in pain. “Okay, I promise you.”

At this moment, there was a knock on the door of the ward.

Yvonne’s face changed drastically, and she stared at Dan with an unpleasant look.

Ma’am, The World Is Waiting For Your Divorce Chapter 156

Chapter 156

Chapter 156

Dan’s expression changed slightly. His eyes flashed and he pondered for two seconds. After that, he made a shushing action. He raised his voice. “Who is it?”

Davis’ voice could be heard, “Mr. Lester, I’m Davis Lang, the director of the design department of Prosperity Jewelry and I want to talk to you about something.”

Dan frowned and whispered to Yvonne, “Go hide in the bathroom.”

The original purpose of him asking his assistant to go to Prosperity to sign a contract for custom-made jewelry was to bring Jocelyn out.

He did not have any leisure time to customize jewelry at all. Now that the purpose had been exposed, there was no need to continue!

Now that the design director of Prosperity was here, Dan intended to solve this matter directly. He did not want to continue to waste time on this matter.

It seemed that Skyler had no idea about this yet.

He understood Skyler's temperament. If Skyler found out, it would definitely not be the design director who came to him, but instead, it would be a team of lawyers.

It had to be said that as Skyler's opponent, Dan knew him quite well.

As soon as Yvonne entered the bathroom, Dan said, "Come in!"

Dan was also taken aback when he saw Jocelyn and Davis come in together. He figured this woman must be terrified after what happened last night.

Unexpectedly, he truly could not judge a book by its cover. This woman had looks and courage. No wonder Abel and Skyler were viewing her in a new light.

He curled his lips. "Oh, it's Miss White and Director Lang. Please sit wherever you want."

When Jocelyn saw that this person could still laugh with the gauze wrapped around his head, she suddenly felt that Abel had gone too easy on him last night.

She looked somber, and her eyes became a little colder when she thought of what happened last night

Davis thought of what Jocelyn said and he did not like Dan His voice was cold when he said, " Mr Lester, let's get straight to the point. Are you going to continue or terminate the contract about jewelry customization"

Jocelyn was ready to pester Dan if he became demanding

She suffered a loss for what happened last night, and she would not let it happen a second time

She looked at Dan calmly. "Mr. Lester, if you don't plan to terminate the contract, you can only discuss the jewelry customization requirements at Prosperity in the future. This is not a breach of contract."

Davis was also ready to speak. He intended to clarify the stakes and let Dan stop while he was ahead. Unexpectedly, Dan glanced at Jocelyn with interest, curled his lips, and said unexpectedly, " Miss White, I plan to terminate the contract." Davis and Jocelyn looked at each other, probably not expecting it to be so easy. Thinking of what happened last night, Jocelyn's expression looked a little stiff. Davis stared at Dan vigilantly. "Mr. Lester, have you made up your mind?" Dan nodded. "Yes."

Davis continued, "We will deduct 20 percent of the deposit." Dan sneered indifferently, "Go ahead." Jocelyn suddenly felt a little aggrieved. She was played around by this person last night and something bad almost happened to her.

Sure enough, the deposit was only to let her punish him with his methods.

She stared at Dan with an extremely gloomy expression on her face.

Dan noticed Jocelyn's gaze and smiled. "Miss White, don't look at me like that. What happened last night was because I believed someone's slander and misunderstood you. I'll just give you that deposit as compensation for your shock." Jocelyn was rescued by Abel last night and she also had an amorous affair with Skyler.

He had not figured out who this woman really was, and with the company's tournament game coming out soon, Dan was not planning to go up against both Skyler and Abel at the same time. Jocelyn said coldly, "I don't need that. After all, Mr. Lester needs that more than I did after what happened last night." Dan instantly thought of what happened last night and his expression suddenly became a little unpleasant.

He did not expect Jocelyn to be so unforgiving. Davis was afraid that it would be too late, so he quickly took out the termination contract, "Mr. Lester, since we have the same goal, can we sign the contract now?" Dan ignored Davis. He stared at Jocelyn and smiled superficially, "Of course!"

He could see Jocelyn's vague pent-up anger at him. However, he did not care about this small emotion.

Even if she was angry, she could not do anything to him. If it was not for Abel rushing in too suddenly last night, he could have taken control of Jocelyn.

Jocelyn and Dan signed the contract soon. Davis said in a business-like tone, "The rest of the deposit will be credited back to your original account within one working day."

Dan snorted like he was about to laugh. "Take your time, guys. I won't send you off."

Jocelyn and Davis turned around and decided to leave. However, at this moment, a clear and long sound of flatulence came from the bathroom.

Ma'am The World is Waiting For Your Divorce (Skyler and Jocelyn)

Chapter 157

Jocelyn and Davis were startled and then they turned to look at Dan. The atmosphere in the room was very subtle and awkward for a while.

Dan's expression was a little stiff. He was a little pissed when he thought of Yvonne in the bathroom. 'Damn, this woman is really mentally challenged. She can't even hold it in for a while.'

Davis glanced at Dan and said meaningfully, "Mr. Lester, is there someone in the bathroom?" Dan looked embarrassed and smiled stiffly, "It's just my lover. She's very shy." Davis laughed and his tone was slightly sarcastic, "Really?"

Dan's eyes turned cold. "If not? What else do you think it is, Director Lang? Besides, I'm just hiding someone and I'm not obstructing you, right, Director Lang?" Davis' gaze was heavy. "Of course you're doesn't, I'm just asking. You don't need to be so nervous, Mr. Lester."

He could not do anything to Dan now, but it did not mean he could not in this lifetime.

Thinking of what Dan did to Jocelyn, he silently took this grudge to heart.

Davis finished speaking and walked out with Jocelyn.

As they walked to the door of the ward, Jocelyn stopped suddenly, glanced at Dan on the hospital bed, and said in a vague tone, "Mr. Lester, something will always go wrong when you screw around."

After she finished speaking, she left with Davis.

Dan's face was off-colored. He had never been so humiliated before.

After he heard the two people walking away, he said solemnly, "Yvonne, get the hell out."

Yvonne's face was a little red and she slowly came out of the bathroom.

Dan looked at Yvonne's state and he wanted to curse, "Can't you just f*cking hold it in?"

Yvonne's face was full of shame and anger. "Do you think I can hold that in? I've tried my best!"

Dan's head was smoking with anger and his face was contorted. "You're hiding because you don't want people from knowing that you came to my ward. Think of a way to get out now. Maybe Davis and Jocelyn had found someone to keep watch out there."

Yvonne's expression changed repeatedly, and she finally said, "If you want me to help you, you have to help me hide my identity to get out of here. Otherwise, if Jim and Skyler know that I came to see you, I won't be able to help you! Maybe we'll both be done for. Don't forget, we're on the same sinking boat now."

Dan was so mad his teeth were aching. He must be nuts for using such a mentally challenged woman

At the same time, Jocelyn and Davis went downstairs. Davis said, "Jocelyn, are you sure you won't tell President Moore what happened with Dan?"

Jocelyn said calmly, "Don't tell him, the contract has been terminated anyway."

Davis' eyes flashed. "Then should we find someone to keep an eye on Dan? Although the contract was terminated, I always feel that Dan's purpose is impure. Plus, we don't know who's hiding in the bathroom of the ward just now..."

Jocelyn pursed her lips, "Davis, you don't have to get involved in this mess anymore, so let's stop here." 1 After Jocelyn finished speaking, she walked toward the parking lot. Davis pursed his lips and said nothing. Jocelyn's eyes sank. Dan almost destroyed her last night, so how could she just forget it?

However, she did not want Davis to be involved in this matter.

She wanted to terminate the contract quickly, but she did not want to make this incident so big that Skyler knew about it.

After all, she clearly remembered that he did not like this kind of trouble.

She could solve her own business herself.

She could avenge herself.

However, she was not a fool, and she was not so tough that she could attempt the impossible.

Skyler could easily deal with the Quirrel family, but she did not have Skyler's skills. In addition, she would not be so opinionated to think that Skyler would treat her seriously after he helped her once, of course.

If she wanted to take revenge, she could not be impatient. She had to hide in silence, plan secretly, and wait for the opportunity.

After all, it would never be too late to seek revenge.

Jocelyn had planned to leave early during the dinner this evening, so she could give Lexie and Davis time to be alone and help them create opportunities.

As a result, when it was about time to get off work, Davis sent a message to the group chat with the three of them.

Davis: (@Lexie @Jocelyn, I can't go to dinner with you tonight!) Jocelyn: (Davis, do you need to go somewhere else?) Lexie saw the message from Davis, but she did not say anything.

Yuni and Davis had been very close recently, so Lexie knew better than anyone else that Jocelyn had been secretly concerned about her.

It was just that she could not bring herself to confess her feelings to Davis now.

Back then in university, she liked him for three years before she finally summoned up the courage to confess, but she did not expect that Davis would disappear in the end. The longer someone hid their emotions, it would weigh heavier in one's heart and it would be more difficult to express them. Davis: [There is a dinner party in the evening and a few big names in the jewelry industry will be there. President Moore asked me to go and get to know them.] Davis did not know why Skyler suddenly asked him to go to the party and Skyler also reminded him that he could bring his friends there.

Davis: (However, I can bring friends to this dinner party so do you want to go, Jocelyn? If you don't want to, I'll take Yuni.)

Jocelyn: (I'll go!) Jocelyn held the phone. It would be impossible for her to let Davis and Yuni spend time alone. Jocelyn: (Didn't you say you can bring friends? Lexie has an appointment with us tonight. If we go to the party, we'll be standing her up. Can we go together?) Davis: (Alright, I will ask about the situation first and I will reply later.)

Jocelyn did not wait long before Davis replied to the group.

Davis (Let's all go after work I heard that it's a private dinner party, but I can bring friends, I just need to let them know the number of people in advance!

Jocelyn (Okay, the three of us will go together after getting off work!)

Lexie did not say a word the entire time, but Jocelyn knew she must have seen the conversation

Since it was a private party, there was no dress code After getting off work, the three of them went directly to the dinner party. The venue for the dinner party was actually a villa on View Street in Mauve City. The villas here were often used for private parties When Jocelyn and the others arrived, a beautiful woman just arrived at the door. Jocelyn frowned slightly. She was a little confused about the nature of the party, It was because the beautiful woman was quite a famous influencer, so Jocelyn recognized her at a glance

They only got out of the car after the beautiful woman entered the door. They were about to walk into the villa when Jocelyn heard a playful voice not far away. "Lil Sis, what a coincidence, we meet again"

The three of them turned at the same time and saw Abel looking at Jocelyn with a grin on his face.

Davis saw Abel's grin and gave Jocelyn a worried look.

Jocelyn pursed her lips slightly and whispered, "Davis, you and Lexie should go first, I'll say a few words to him." Davis looked worried. "You can handle it by yourself, right?" Jocelyn was taken aback, then she immediately thought of what happened last night and ok her head. "Don't worry, he's not here to cause trouble for me."

She had interacted with Abel so many times, so Jocelyn had a general understanding of him.

Abel was the kind of person who looked like a rascal, but in fact, he was kind and righteous in his bones. He belonged to the kind of person who was decent, but he was arrogant, so people were a little scared of him.

Seeing that Jocelyn was so determined, Davis could only remind her, "Well, if anything happens, call me."

Jocelyn nodded. "Okay, Lexie doesn't come to such occasions very often, you can help me take care of her."

Davis nodded. "Of course."

As soon as Davis and Lexie left, Abel leaned against the hollowed-out door of the villa and he was looking at Jocelyn with a half-smile, not saying a word. Thinking of his righteous rescue last night, Jocelyn took the initiative to walk over. "Mr. Crain, why are you here?" Abel raised his eyebrows. "I saved you, right? So I can be considered your friend, why are you still acting like a stranger?" Jocelyn paused and said, "I will feel more at ease if I call you Mr. Crain." Abel pouted. "Whatever, as long as you're happy." Jocelyn nodded. "You haven't answered my previous question yet." Abel snorted, raised his chin slightly, and pointed to the villa next door. "I am attending a dinner party next to you guys. What do you think? Don't you think we're destined to meet?"

If this was before, Jocelyn would definitely say that she would rather not have this kind of fate. However, after what happened last night, her attitude towards Abel was much better. She smiled and nodded. "Yes, I guess so."

Abel was taken aback. He looked at the soft smile on her face that looked as fresh and refined as a newly sprouted lotus after the rain, and it made him unable to take his eyes off of her.

He was a little lost for a while. Then, he looked at Jocelyn blankly. "You smiled at me!" Jocelyn was a little uncomfortable when he looked at her. "I should greet you with a smile because you have saved my life after all." Abel came back to his senses and grinned. "Oh, since it's a life-saving grace, how are you going to repay me?" Before Jocelyn could speak, she saw Abel wink with a cheeky grin. "You can also repay me with your body?"

The smile on Jocelyn's face subsided. "Mr. Crain, please don't make such a joke."

Abel wanted to say that he was not joking as he was quite attracted to Jocelyn from the start. However, as he watched Jocelyn's smile subside and her expression turned cold, he knew that if he did not want Jocelyn to stay away from him in the future, it was better not to say that. He tugged on the corners of his lips. "Just kidding, why are you so serious?" When he said that, Jocelyn breathed a sigh of relief. After all, Abel was her savior now and she did not want to make things embarrassing for Abel. She pursed her lips and said, "To be honest, I am grateful to you from the bottom of my heart for what happened last night. If you have time, I will buy you a meal."

Of course, she would remember his life-saving grace.

However, of course, it was not enough to give thanks verbally for this kind of kindness. Furthermore, it was not too late to repay his kindness at the right time.

Abel curled his lips and looked at her. "Okay, I'll look forward to that."

Upon hearing this, Jocelyn nodded. When she was about to bid farewell to him to head to the party, she heard Abel say, "Would you like to come and have fun with us? Why don't I introduce you to a few friends?" Jocelyn immediately refused, "No, I'm going to find Director Lang and Lexie." Abel did not force it either. "Alright, we'll meet again when we have time, but don't forget your promise!"

Jocelyn was a little speechless. He was making a meal sound so serious.

As soon as Skyler got out of the car, he heard Abel's last sentence. His expression immediately sank when he saw Jocelyn standing in front of Abel.

Chapter 159

Jocelyn was about to say something when she saw Skyler getting out of the car, his expression was very cold and he walked straight into the villa without looking sideways, ignoring him and Abel directly. It suddenly occurred to Jocelyn that in the morning, Skyler called to say Jim had hosted a party and asked her if she wanted to go. Her expression changed. She did not expect it to be so coincidental that the party Skyler was talking about was actually the same party that Davis was talking about. She rejected Skyler righteously but came over with Davis. The more Jocelyn thought about it, – the more awkward she felt.

Jocelyn was still thinking about whether to find a time to explain it to Skyler in private when she heard Abel complaining, "I didn't expect Moore the Second to be here tonight.

It's such a small world. We can even be neighbors during parties." Jocelyn did not care about his complaints. "Mr. Crain, if there's nothing else, I'll go first."

Abel grinned. "Don't go so quickly, let's talk a little bit more. Look at Moore the Second's unchanging dark face, you will be tormented by him if you go in."

Jocelyn was speechless. "There are other people at the party." Seeing that Jocelyn really did not want to talk to him, Abel could only purse his lips. "Okay, I won't force you to stay, but I'm saying this for your own good, try to keep a distance from Moore the Second."

Jocelyn had heard Abel say this more than once, but she could only try to stay at an appropriate distance from Skyler in their relationship.

She nodded. After that, Abel waved his hand, turned, and walked toward the villa next door.

The villa for the party is large, especially the living room, which could accommodate many people.

There were often rich kids hosting parties here and Skyler did not expect that Jim would choose this place tonight.

As soon as he entered the door, he saw a foul atmosphere in the living room. There were all kinds of celebrities, influencers, and kids with rich parents. There were all kinds of people here and it was very chaotic.

Skyler caught Jim in a corner, and he was having a lot of fun with an influencer. Then, he grabbed Jim to the sofa next to a French window.

"What's going on? Is this the private party you mentioned?" The vein on Skyler's forehead was throbbing and he looked as if he was going to fly into a rage at any second.

He was already pissed about what happened with Jocelyn. Now, he did not expect Jim to do this.

Jim said matter-of-factly, "Didn't I tell you I want to host a party to celebrate? Plus, this is the first time you propose a gathering, so I want to make it livelier and that's why I found these people to hype this party up." Skyler rubbed his brow bone, and his face was dark. He looked like he was in a horrible mood. Jim was a little scared and he pursed his lips. "Isn't the party livelier with more people? What's wrong? Are you not happy?"

Skyler gave him a cold look “Do you think I can be happy in this foul atmosphere?” Jim was helpless. “Do you want me to drive all of them away now?”

Skyler was too lazy to continue discussing this topic with him. When he thought that Jocelyn might still be talking to Abel outside, he was even more irritated. “Go away, don’t stand in front of me like an eyesore.”

Jim shook his head helplessly and continued to look for the influencer to flirt with her.

As a result, he only took two steps and spotted Lexie in the corner talking to Davis.

There were quite a lot of people coming tonight and he never expected that Lexie would come.

After Davis entered the door, he was confused. He did not expect that Skyler asked him to participate in a party where celebrities and influencers gathered. Obviously, they were just here to have fun, and yet Skyler was talking about getting to know the big names in the jewelry industry.

However, he did not dare to ask Skyler about this.

After he entered the door with Lexie, he found a place to chat with her.

Jim straightened his collar immediately, intending to go say hi to Lexie.

As a result, when he was about to approach Lexie after taking two steps, the influencer who was with him just now came over and grabbed his arm. The influencer’s voice was soft and coquettish. “Mr. Rand, you told me to wait for you, but why did you turn around and ignore me?”

At this moment, Lexie’s eyes turned towards him. Almost subconsciously, Jim pushed the influencer away. With a stern expression on his face, his voice suddenly increased eight octaves, “Show some respect!” The influencer was unprecedentedly confused. All of them were used to playing like this, especially a playboy like Jim. How would she imagine that Jim would do this? Her eyes were red, and she reached out to pull Jim’s sleeve. “Mr. Rand, did I do something wrong?”

Jim dodged desperately. When he spotted Lexie looking at him indifferently before looking away, he even had the urge to choke this influencer to death.

Almost all his actions were subconscious and he never thought about why he was feeling so guilty doing this. After finally dismissing the influencer, he smiled and went to look for Lexie. Then, he heard Lexie say to Davis, “Davis, it’s too stuffy in here. Let’s go out to get some air, and by the way, let's see if Jocelyn has finished talking." Davis nodded and walked outside with Lexie, turning their backs to Jim coldly. Jim had been a playboy for several years, and he had never felt like this before. His heart felt suffocated, and he felt strangely uncomfortable. He pressed his lips together and shook his head to get rid of those unhappy thoughts. Then, he turned around to go have fun with others.

The influencer did not remember her lesson last time and she went over to Jim shamelessly when she saw him coming over. Jocelyn met Lexie and Davis outside the villa and the three of them entered the villa. The moment she entered the door, she spotted a few familiar faces. They were all influencers or celebrities.

She frowned. What kind of party was this? When Skyler told her this morning, she thought it involved alcohol.

Jocelyn's small face sank. She did not like this kind of place. She looked around the living room before she spotted Skyler. Skyler sat on the sofa next to the window. His expression was cold, and he looked very unapproachable. The light cast on his face softly, shrouding him with a layer of light. He sat there looking noble and cold. He was obviously emitting an unapproachable aura but somehow, he had an oddly deadly attraction.

When Jocelyn saw him sitting there alone, she was wondering if she wanted to explain to him why she rejected his invitation this morning but showed up here at night. After all, she did not want Skyler to think that she was someone who would contradict herself. In the end, the moment she took a step forward, she suddenly saw a familiar celebrity walking over and sitting next to Skyler obediently. At this moment, Skyler coincidentally raised his head and his eyes met with Jocelyn's midair.

Skyler was trying to make the woman next to him go away, but he saw Jocelyn looking at him. Then, he instantly thought of the way she and Abel were standing together and talking. Therefore, he tensed his face, gave up what he wanted to say to drive the celebrity away, and leaned lazily on the sofa.

Jocelyn saw this scene and stopped in her tracks immediately.

She frowned slightly. 'Is he planning to have a long talk with that celebrity?' She stared at Skyler, forgetting to look away for a while. Skyler also came here straight after getting off work, so he was wearing a tie and a suit. He looked into Jocelyn's eyes and the irritability in his heart subsided a little. He could not help reaching his hand out, loosening the tie around his neck, and revealing his sexy Adam's apple. Looking at his appearance, Jocelyn's eyes twinkled. For some reason, he thought of the word 'poppy'. It was dangerous and deadly, but it made people want to get closer. Jocelyn pursed her lips. No matter how attractive Skyler was, she should not be attracted to him.

After all, she would always remember how Skyler provoked her with his words. Jocelyn stared blankly at Skyler and thought to herself, "If a person doesn't allow you to have inappropriate thoughts about him, but you have those thoughts that you shouldn't have, you would just be like a moth flying to a flame."

The celebrity sitting next to Skyler was Rhode Ginn and she was just a B-lister.

She had to beg to come to this party tonight. She knew that a big shot would show up at this party tonight and if she could claim connections with him, she would not have to worry about resources in her lifetime.

She had noticed Skyler early on. As soon as Skyler entered the door, she could tell that he had the aura of someone in a leadership position and it was not something that anyone could learn.

Although Skyler was low-key and no one knew his identity, Rhode knew that the more powerful a person was, the more low-key he was.

Rhode had guessed everything, but the only thing she did not expect was that Skyler would be so handsome. Even if he did not have money, women might still flock over to him just for his looks.

Skyler sat here indifferently, his imposing manner was overwhelming, and his expression was indifferent. He was out of tune with the atmosphere in the room and no one dared to come forward to disturb him.

However, Rhode just could not hold herself back. She wanted resources, she wanted to become famous, and she also wanted this handsome and charming man.

She plucked up her courage and sat down beside Skyler. She had thought that Skyler would say something whether he wanted to pay attention to her or not, even if he asked her to get away from him. As a result, Skyler loosened his tie and did not say a word.

Rhode's eyes twinkled. Was he... consenting to this?

She reached out to help Skyler pour some wine. Then, she raised the glass and turned towards Skyler, her voice soft as a spring breeze. "Would you like a drink?"

Skyler saw that Jocelyn was still looking at him and he did not know what she had in her mind. Hence, he took over the wine from Rhode's hand.

Then, he raised the glass and finished the wine.

When Skyler was taking over the wine just now, the pad of his finger touched Rhode's finger. For a moment, Rhode felt that her heart was beating wildly, and her hand was a little numb.

She mistakenly thought that Skyler was interested in her. So, she could not stop herself from inching closer to him.

Skyler finished his drink, put the glass on the table, and looked up again to find that Jocelyn had withdrawn her gaze and turned her back to him.

Skyler felt very uncomfortable.

Rhode stared blankly at Skyler and continued pouring him a drink. Then, he continued to drink with a dark face and did not say anything.

Lexie, Jocelyn, and Davis turned around and went to the corner to find a seat.

Lexie had noticed Jocelyn's gaze just now, so she asked, "The woman next to Skyler is wearing the same clothes as you!"

Jocelyn did not notice what she was wearing until she turned her head to look at Rhode. It was indeed true.

She muttered, "I wasn't paying attention just now."

Lexie nodded, her voice a little tense, "I understand. It's not scary to wear the same outfit as someone else, but the uglier one will be the more embarrassed one."

Jocelyn was in a bad mood at first, but when she heard Lexie say that sentence in this kind of tone, she felt inexplicably joyous

She curled her lips and smiled. "She's a celebrity so she'll look better than me."

Lexie pouted and said straightforwardly and seriously, "Not all celebrities are beauties, you are prettier than her!"

When he saw Lexie being so serious, Davis smiled and nodded in agreement. "Indeed, you're much prettier than her"

Jocelyn smiled and said, "Alright, you two are not bad as well."

Davis laughed. "Are we flattering each other?"

Jocelyn smiled and shook her head. "No, we are just returning politeness for politeness."

Davis smiled and said to Lexie, "Look at how good your bestie is with words."

Lexie's face was a little tense. "Jocelyn, do you think that the celebrity looks like someone?" Jocelyn was a little surprised. She looked up at Rhode and she could only see her side profile. She asked, "Who?" Lexie pressed her lips together and said, "Snow Sullivan." Jocelyn's expression changed and did not answer her.

Davis was curious. "Who's Snow Sullivan?"
