Chapter 207

Chapter 207

Lexie looked tense as she typed relentlessly. Numbers and letters flickered past the monitor's screen. Even though Jim could not understand what was happening, he was still in awe of her. She looked so cool!

He stared at Lexie's face. Her eyes were filled with a passion that he had never seen before.

Lexie was fast. In less than two minutes, she had utterly defeated her opponent.

It was a battle of the gods, but it was a shame that the other three people on the scene were all outsiders who had no idea what was going on! None of them understood what was happening, but they knew that Lexie won! This was because Lexie had gained control of the other party's camera. The hacker was just a young man in his twenties, dressed in all black. Lexie typed onto the screen.

"Who are you? Who hire you?"

Even though the young man had clearly lost, his eyes still sparkled with curiosity.

"Which pro are you? You must be extremely skilled. Right?"

"Quit your nonsense and answer any question, otherwise, I'll report you to the authorities!"

The young man looked a little disappointed. "Aww, don't be like that. It's not every day that I get to meet such a highly-skilled hacker like yourself. Why don't you cut me some slack and tell me your name, huh? If you do, I'll answer all your questions!"

"I'm LX!"

The young man froze in his seat, his eyes turning wide. "You're that mysterious hacker? That genius girl LX?" Tin was confused and could not help glancing over at Jocelyn. He whispered to her, "Hey, is LX really that good?"

Jocelyn gave him a brief explanation out of courtesy "Yes, she's never encountered a worthy opponent in recent years!" As soon as she finished speaking, Jocelyn opened the door and left to look for the restroom

Jim looked at Lexie, his gaze filled with a look of utter worship

Skyler had a slightly surprised look on his face as well. He did not realize that he had such a genius working for him in his company's IT department!

Lexie continued typing with a calm look on her face

"You're spouting a lot of nonsense!"

The young man smiled suddenly "concede! It's a great honor to lose to the legendary LX

"Answer my question!"

Lexie looked exceptionally radiant "My name's LX I'm a huge fan, that's why I named myself after you Isn't that cool?"

"I'm running out of patience! Do you need me to find out who you're working for myself?" The young man rubbed his earlobe awkwardly. Since Lexie had already found out who he was, it was only a matter of time before she found the person who hired him. Moreover, their transactions were done online. Finding out who the other person was would be a piece of cake for Lexie.

He laughed dryly. "Fine, I'll talk. It's the owner of a game company called Dan Lester! He also invests in movies and some other stuff. There's no other valuable information on him. The only thing I know is that I gave him the virus and he passed it to the person who planted it in Jim's computer. That's how I managed to successfully control his company's computers! Also, I was only responsible for stealing the source codes I didn't touch anything else. Our deal was done online He's kind of an idiot. He thought he was super mysterious and that I wouldn't know who he was. He didn't know that if there were traces of him on the internet, he wouldn't be able to keep any secrets from us. If I wanted to, I could've easily found the names of all his ancestors from the past 18 generations!" Lexie typed curtly. "Got it, bye!" As soon as she finished typing, the video feed flickered, and the young man's smiling face disappeared from the screen.

Jim was still in awe as he stared at Lexie in a daze.

Lexie controlled the other hacker's computer remotely and installed the virus program into his computer, as promised to Skyler. Then, she set it into hidden mode "Miss Lane, you're amazing!" Skyler exclaimed earnestly

Lexie shook her head and suddenly downloaded a video resource onto the computer

Skyler's eyes widened. "This... this is the film that Dan's company invested in?" Lexie replied calmly, "That's correct."

"Why are you doing this?" Skyler asked quizzically: He did not think that Lexie was helping them enact revenge by broadcasting the film for free in advance. That way, by the time they hit the theatres, not a lot of people would bother watching them anymore

Lexie turned to look at Skyler. "I'm doing this to avenge Jocelyn! I'll be relying on the two of you to spread the film online. Just think of this as me helping you avenge your company"

Skyler became even more confused, "What do you mean by avenging Jocelyn?"

Chapter 208

Lexie looked at Skyler unhappily. Her tone remained emotionless, but it was not difficult to see her dissatisfaction.

"When Dan Lester came to customize jewelry at your company, he took the opportunity to invite Jocelyn to a bar, saying that he wanted to discuss details regarding the jewelry customization. In the end, Jocelyn went to see him only to find out that that group of people had lured her into a trap!"

Lexie looked at Skyler, an indescribable look on her face. "A group of men in the private room almost took advantage of Jocelyn. It was fortunate that Abel Crain caught wind of the situation in time and rescued her. Not only that, but something also almost happened to Abel last night. Dan was the one who orchestrated it as well. Did you not know any of this? If that's the case, you're not a very good husband. Even though she's just your wife on paper, you can't just neglect her like this!" When she said that, Skyler's expression fell. He stood there gloomily and it felt as if the temperature in the entire office had dropped a few degrees. Something terrible almost happened to Jocelyn. It happened such a long time ago too, and yet he had no idea about this! He finally understood why Jocelyn suddenly became such close friends with Abel! Being able to save Jocelyn from a situation like that is equivalent to saving her life. How could Jocelyn not see him as a friend? Now, he understood why Jocelyn would disregard her own safety to go rescue Abel yesterday.

After a long while, he finally spoke up, his tone solemn. "I had no idea at all!"

Lexie's gaze turned colder. "It's none of my business whether President Moore was aware of the situation or not. But since I encountered this enemy again, I must do what I can to avenge Jocelyn!"

Skyler looked at Lexie with an indescribable look in his gaze.

Jim was shocked. His mouth opened and closed a few times before he finally recalled what happened that day. "That means that that time Abel made Dan spend a whole night on the Mauve City Bridge, it was to avenge Jocelyn? So Dan ended up holding a grudge against him?" Lexie glanced at him and nodded. Jim looked at Skyler, unsure of what to say. He knew that Abel had opposed Skyler all these years, and Skyler had gone from being annoyed at him to downright hating him. However, Abel saved Skyler's wife. Surely this would have moved him, even just a little! Lexie's gaze darkened as she looked at Skyler, but a faint look of understanding fitted across his gaze as she did. She looked away and said plainly. "If there's nothing else, I'm leaving first!" As soon as she finished speaking, Jocelyn pushed open the door and walked in. Skyler's head snapped towards her, and he stared at her. He hid the look of anger and guilt in his gaze and felt a pang of hurt in his heart. Jocelyn was oblivious to what was happening. She frowned, "What's the matter with all of you? Why does the atmosphere feel so weird?" Skyler was still acting like she was not there before this. Why did his attitude change so suddenly?

Lexie did not bother saying anything else. She just looked at Jocelyn and said, "It's nothing. The problem's solved. They'll handle the investigation on the traitor. I'm going home to sleep!"

Knowing how Skyler was as a person, he would not let Dan Lester off so lightly!

Jocelyn was still in a daze. Skyler glanced at Jocelyn, a complicated look on his face. "You should go with Miss Lane and wait for me downstairs. I need to have a few words with Jim. I'll be down in a bit!"

Jocelyn frowned and nodded, then followed Lexie downstairs.

The moment they left, Skyler took a seat on the couch and pondered for a moment. It did not seem like he intended on talking to Jim. Jim could not hold back a self-indulgent sigh. "I just realized how radiantly beautiful women glow!"

Skyler was deep in thought. When he heard this, he gave Jim a cold look "Didn't you used to say that sexy women were the most seductive?"

Chapter 209

Jim pursed his lips. "I was too shallow in the past!"

Skyler looked at him as if he were an idiot. "You're not just shallow!"

Jim was a little listless. He frowned and glared at Skyler. "Could you please stop attacking me? I think I might genuine feelings for Lexie. She's not like other women! When she was sitting here today, she looked like she was glowing. You have no idea how fast my heart was beating!"

Skyler finally had some reaction. He gave him a serious look and said, "Don't get any ideas, she's nothing like you. Moreover, she's Jocelyn's best friend. She's not like the women you used to fool around with!"

Jim became a little agitated. "Who says I'm just messing around? I'm serious this time!"

Skyler gave him a mocking look and said curtly, "I'm sure you're very serious. So serious that I can't even count all the times you've been serious in the past few years with both of my hands!"

Jim was speechless. He stayed silent for a moment, then he looked at Skyler and said, "Didn't you tell your wife that you wanted to have a word with me?" "I'm thinking. Stop talking to me and go find out who the traitor is!" Skyler's tone was devoid of emotion.

Jim frowned. "Don't worry, I'll make sure to turn the company upside down to find the traitor. I'll certainly find out who it is. But what are you thinking about?"

There was only a slight trace of emotion on Skyler's face, and his lips parted slightly to say, " I'm thinking... about how to make Dan Lester suffer!"

When Jim saw the look on his face, he could not help the shiver that ran down his spine.

He knew that Dan would not be able to get away that easily! Skyler was not scary when he lost his temper but he was scary when he was at his calmest. It was downright terrifying. Skyler did not linger at Jim's office. Once he made up his mind, he just left. Lexie had given Skyler online evidence that could be used in court, however, Skyler abandoned his initial plan to sue Dan directly. After all, if he just sued him with the evidence he had, he would be going easy on Dan. He wanted Dan to suffer slowly.

He did not pursue the hacker named X either. The hacker was just one of Dan's pawns after all. He left the matter of uploading the movie Dan invested in to Yale.

In a moment, an anonymous account appeared on countless websites. Videos of the film Dan had invested in were uploaded. Now, no one needed to pay to watch the movie. Not only did they get to watch the movie for free, but the viewers also left a bunch of bad reviews too.

The film was a bust before it even showed.

The next day, when Jocelyn went to her company, many people were still discussing the film that Dan's company had invested in.

In a day, Dan had experienced tragic losses. Before filming the movie, he had borrowed money from a bank. Now that the movie was in a situation like this, there was no way he could get the money he invested in the movie back. Not only that, the bank was rushing him to repay the loan too.

Dan was digging new holes to fill the first hole.

In just one day, the game company also faced a serious capital chain break.

Dan had never been so humiliated in his life. His face which was initially full of hostility had turned as meek as a mouse.

When he returned home that evening, exhausted, he realized that the lights in the living room were on!

His expression changed and his body tensed up. There was someone in his house! "Who is it? Come the f*ck out right now!" Dan was like a cornered rat. He was shocked and enraged. He yelled out loudly as if he wanted to release all the rage he had suppressed inside him the whole day

Chapter 210

The door at the balcony was opened, and a tall figure slowly stalked over from the balcony.

Dan's pupils shrank instantly, and the scar on his forehead suddenly stood out grotesquely." How did you get in here?" As soon as he finished speaking, the back of his neck felt numb, and he lost consciousness. When he woke up again, it was because of the cold.

He was only wearing a baggy pair of pants. His hands were tied, and the chilly, ocean breeze was blowing at him relentlessly.

He suddenly realized that he was on a deck. Dan struggled to turn his face around and immediately saw Skyler standing on the deck. Dan gave him an unpleasant look, he was beginning to panic. "What the h*11 are you trying to do, Skyler Moore?"

Skyler turned around casually and gave Dan a chilling look. He had a glass of red wine in his hand. "What do you think?" A flash of panic flitted through Dan's gaze. "I'm warning you, Skyler. What you're doing is illegal! I'll sue you!"

Skyler seemed unbothered as he walked toward a couch on the deck to take a seat. He sat down, took a sip of his wine, then gazed at Dan lazily. "Oh, is that so? Go on then, sue me!" The sea breeze blew through the air. Dan gave Skyler a doubtful look "Are you that kind?" Skyler looked down at him sarcastically, then took a long drag on his cigarette. "Why don't you try and find out? However, I must remind you can't sue me without sufficient evidence. And if you try, you'll end up in jail for the rest of your life." Dan's expression changed drastically. "Skyler, you *sshole!" Dan was not an innocent person. Otherwise, he would not have dared to bully Jocelyn so recklessly in the past. He knew that there were some people who once they sent you to jail, would not be responsible for what happened to you inside!

Just because he did not provoke any other inmates, it did not mean that they would just leave you alone, especially the one who had been bought off.

When that happened, if you tried to fight back, provoke them or kill them, you would never be able to step out of prison again. Dan knew that Skyler had the power to do that. That was what made him so terrifying! There was a cold look on Skyler's face, and a chill seemed to radiate from his body. It was as if the deck had turned colder.

He gave Dan an expressionless look. His tone was so cold it made it hard for Dan to breathe."

Why didn't you think of yourself as an *sshole when you were harassing Skyler?"

Dan was stunned. When he suddenly realized what Skyler meant, his expression changed drastically. "Skyler, are you doing all this for Jocelyn?" Skyler stood up, not wanting to speak to him. With a wave of his hand, two black-clad bodyguards walked out. Skyler spoke in the most cold blooded tone he could muster. "Let him bleed and feed him to the sharks!"

Dan was horrified. Sharks were attracted to the smell of blood. If he was thrown into the ocean, how would he survive?

He began panicking. "Wait, Skyler, I have something to say!" The strong sea breeze tousled Skyler's hair, which only added to his intimidating and chilling aura.

He walked up to Dan and stared down at him. Then, he poured his wine onto Dan's face." Speak then!"

Dan did not care about how Skyler was humiliating him. At that moment, it was more important to preserve his life. Who knew what kinds of things a madman like Skyler was capable of?

His words tumbled out in a rush. "It was Yvonne Rand, she made me do it! If it weren't for her, how could I possibly know that Jocelyn was important to you?"

Skyler's pupils shrank. He finally squatted down and quirked his brow, looking at Dan coldly." So, does that mean that everything you did was related to Yvonne?"

Dan nodded rapidly. "Of course. Not only do I have videos, but I also have voice recordings as well. All of which could be used to prove that she did those things. Besides, did you really think that it'd be so easy to hack into the game company which was you and Jim's joint venture? It only worked because Yvonne was the one who planted the virus in Jim's computer!" This time, Skyler's expression darkened completely. Jim had sworn that he would find the traitor today.
