

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 102

The Qiao Chen girl from the Qiao Family couldn't hold a candle to Qiao Nian. Her grades and looks were average. The only thing she had going for her was that she was born into a good family and knew how to dress herself up. She was also able to link up with the Tang family and behaved as though she was born into fame and fortune.

She would only be famous in a place like Rao City.

Those truly rich and famous wouldn't do the things that she did. It would be degrading for them.

Look at the second and third generations of powerful companies. Which of them entered the show business?

If Qiao Nian wanted to get famous, she would have been more successful than Qiao Chen. It was just that Qiao Nian didn't want to.

It was rare for her to find a girl so young and yet so mature.

Some of the things that she did even impressed her.

"I've heard from Wei Lou about what happened to you in school. I wanted to visit you, but since you're with your brother, I couldn't come over. I had to wait for you to come over.

"Thank god your hand is fine. Else the design team would go crazy."

She poured a cup of juice for Qiao Nian and handed it to her. "It's your favorite orange juice. I've added sugar for you so that it won't be sour. Have some and get some vitamins."

Qiao Nian took a sip from the cup and put it down. She frowned and said, "Aunt Yuan, you don't have to prepare these for me. I rarely come, anyway."

She was aware that Yuan Yongqin had fresh oranges in her office fridge all the time. Hence, everyone thought that she liked oranges a lot. However, Qiao Nian knew that the oranges were for her.

The reason behind this was that Yuan Yongqin found out that Qiao Nian hated all other fruits except orange.

Hence, Wei Lou and Yuan Yongqin would prepare fresh orange juice for her all the time.

Yuan Yongqin glared at her and disagreed. "How could I do that? You do visit, after all. There's no way I don't offer you a drink, right?"

She had no children and recently fell out with her family. Hence, she was all alone. Qiao Nian was not just a business partner to her. She was her savior and was like a family to her.

Even though she didn't like to say it out, she would always be thankful for what she did.

She knew that Qiao Nian wasn't an expressive person because she was brought up in the Qiao Family. The people from the Qiao Family were hypocritical.

Since she grew up in that environment, she must have never known love. Hence, Qiao Nian would feel uncomfortable if she said too much.

She then changed the topic and said smilingly, "My dear, the design team would have killed themselves if you didn't come. So, do you have a design in mind already?"

“I’m sorry, I was busy with school and didn’t have time to do it. I took some time to come up with a few during the break. You can have a look.”

Qiao Nian then passed her some papers with some things drawn on them.

Yuan Yongqin took over the papers carefully. She smiled even before looking at them and said, “How is it possible that something that you created is bad? Do you know how many companies are trying to headhunt you? The jewels that you have designed have received several international awards already. You’re the genius designer ‘S’. How could no one know about you?”

Everyone knew that Cheng Feng had two money trees. The first was the cinemas all over the country.

The second one was the high-end diamond brand: Seven.
