

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1023

“What’s wrong?” At this moment, the light above was covered by a hood. A man’s low and charming voice came from above.

Qiao Nian did not look up. She knew who it was just from the voice.

She pulled the brim of her cap in frustration and suddenly looked up at the man who had come out in front of her. “Does Lan Pavilion have a computer?”

“Huh? What do you want a computer for?” Ye Wangchuan asked. Before she could answer, he walked forward. “Follow me.”

“I have something on.” Qiao Nian followed behind him and thought about it distractedly. “I don’t want an ordinary computer. I want one with a better configuration and internet speed.”

On the way, he met a waiter from Lan Pavilion. Ye Wangchuan instructed the waiter.

Turning around, his fair skin and high nose bridge were clearly in view. His eyes were filled with nobility, and he had a charming arrogance. “Is the computer for gaming good enough? If not, I’ll go back and get my car key. The computer at home should work.”

Qiao Nian was stunned for a moment, but it was only for a moment. Her heart palpitated as she lowered her dark eyelashes. She pulled her cap down impatiently to cover her eyes. “Enough!”

Lan Pavilion was one of the top high-end clubs in Beijing.

Even Yuan Yongqin had chosen this place to hold a big show for SEVEN. It could be seen how good Lan Pavilion was.

In Lan Pavilion, there was basically everything you could think of.

From billiards to shooting to other rich pastimes, Lan Pavilion had everything. Naturally, there was no lack of online games that young people liked to play.

Ye Wangchuan led Qiao Nian to an internet cafe.

Before they arrived, the waiter had already cleared the place. Qiao Nian went over with just the two of them. She found a random computer and pulled out a chair to sit down.

A waiter brought her a drink.

However, Qiao Nian did not drink it.

She turned on the computer and checked the internet speed and computer configuration. As expected of an internet cafe. The computers here were all brand-name computers used for gaming. From the configuration, they should be the latest model of this brand. The internet speed was very fast, and the driver processor configuration was not bad.

Qiao Nian did not delay. After sitting down decisively, she began to create her own programming software...

The waiter came in again to deliver tea to Ye Wangchuan.

“Young Master Ye, your tea.” He carefully placed the tea at the man’s table as he stole a glance in Qiao Nian’s direction.

Before coming in, he had heard from others that a student Young Master Ye had brought along wanted to play on the computer. He thought that it was a girl who was young and liked to play games.

When he came in, he saw that the numbers on the other party’s computer were constantly refreshing.

From the looks of it, she was not playing a game. Was she writing a program?

When the waiter sent the tea out, he couldn’t help but glance curiously at Qiao Nian. What he saw was an overly young face.

18?

Or 19?

In short, she must still be studying.

However, he saw the girl’s fair hand typing skillfully on the keyboard. Her hand speed was much faster than when she played games at home.

She could program at such a young age? This was too heaven-defying.

He didn’t dare to look at her anymore and retreated silently.

There was no programming software on Lan Pavilion’s computer. Qiao Nian first made a programming software herself, then wrote an IP tracking program.

She was very familiar with these.

She used to play at home when she was free.

Therefore, it did not take long to settle it.

She entered Jiang Li’s phone number and pressed the Enter key. Her hands left the keyboard and she leaned back, waiting for the results with a normal expression.
