

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1046

The building of the Jin Chen Hotel was magnificent. It was even taller than the tallest hotel in Beijing.

The room Slim Waist Control had booked for them was on the 33rd floor. All six rooms were on the same floor, which meant that they had practically booked the whole floor.

The suite had a total of three rooms. In addition to the bedroom, there was a work room and living room. It was very luxurious.

Liang Conglin was someone who had been exposed to the world before. When he entered the suite that Qiao Nian's friend had booked for them, even his eyes couldn't help but light up as he secretly exclaimed.

No wonder everyone in Beijing's upper-class circle said that in terms of money, the illegal district was the place where global wealth gathered!

This wasn't even the best room. Just the suite alone had many antiques.

Each one was expensive.

The decorations in the suite were definitely worthy of the sky-high price!

Tian Jing and the others quietly gathered in his room after putting down their luggage. The other professors had long been blinded by the luxurious suite.

Only Tian Jing felt upset. While Qiao Nian was not around as she was busy putting her luggage in her own room, Tian Jing said sourly, "The rooms here aren't cheap, right? How did she know such a friend? I heard that not everyone can stay in Jin Chen Hotel as they wish. Her friend booked an entire floor of suites right away. That's too much! I just heard Qiao Nian say that she wanted to pay him for the room fees. She's a freshman and from Rao City. Where did she get so much money?"

Just now, when she said this, a physics professor who was on good terms with her tried to persuade her. Now, she was standing there alone and chattering, but no one paid attention to her.

After all, they had already moved in. At this time, it was too low-class to be jealous of a student's money.

Liang Conglin didn't give her much face. Not looking good, he directly retorted, "Professor Tian, if you're worried, you can choose not to stay."

Tian Jing almost choked from his retort. Her expression was awkward, embarrassed, and even a little puzzled.

She was just casually mentioning it. The principal was too protective of that freshman!

She recalled what Liang Lu had said to her previously and held back her anger. Changing the topic, she stood rooted to the ground with her feet together and said with a straight face, "Just now, that... Slim Waist Control said that the people from the Council would come looking for us themselves. It's been a while, but no one has come over."

Liang Conglin no longer wanted to bother about her. He walked over and poured himself a cup of water before letting the other professors sit first.

As he drank the water, he slowly said to Tian Jing, "Since he can afford to invite us to stay in Jin Chen Hotel, there's no need for him to lie to us. Where's the reason for lying? All of this just so that we wouldn't find trouble with them?"

Rebutted by him twice in a row, Tian Jing couldn't take it anymore. She clenched her fists by her sides, gritted her teeth, and said with a dark expression, "Principal, I'm just asking. There's no need for you to be so reactive, right?"

On the account that she was a teacher, Liang Conglin had been especially patient with her along the way. Hearing this, he raised his eyebrows and was about to speak when someone knocked on the door politely.

He put down the cup, glanced at Tian Jing, and walked over to open the door.

"Hello, are you from the Qing University team?"

A foreign man in his forties was standing at the door. He was blond and wore a tight-fitting suit. The double-breasted suit looked especially elegant on him.
