

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1093

Compared to Liang Lu, who was doing well in the Beijing circle, the Chinese Medicine Faculty was really nothing much. Everyone knew who to offend.

“Give it to...” Before he could finish, he saw someone walking over from the corner of his eye.

The manager stopped speaking abruptly and blinked hard to make sure that he had not recognized the wrong person. His expression changed slightly. He brushed off what he was saying and quickly went forward to welcome her, looking polite and even intimidated by her. “Oh, Miss Qiao, what brings you here?”

He subconsciously looked behind Qiao Nian.

Not seeing that ‘Buddha’, he heaved a sigh of relief. His expression was no longer nervous, but he still appeared extremely polite. “Miss Qiao, you are here today for...?”

“A meal.”

As soon as Qiao Nian finished speaking, he nodded and called for the waiter to arrange a seat.

Ye Wangchuan, Qin Si, and the others had a special private room here. They didn’t usually come over, but the private room was always empty, and they didn’t dare to let others use it.

He had wanted to arrange for Qiao Nian to go over.

Unexpectedly, the girl raised her snow-white chin slightly. The face under the brim of her cap was very eye-catching. She looked back at the few people standing at the door and said to him in a hoarse voice, “I’m with my teacher and a few classmates. We booked a private room...”

A private room?

The manager broke out in a cold sweat. The back of his shirt was almost drenched.

His reaction was extremely fast. Without waiting for Qiao Nian to finish, he immediately said, “So Miss Qiao came with some classmates. Ah, don’t worry. I’ve kept your private room vacant. I’ll get someone to arrange it for you immediately!”

There were rumors in Beijing that Master Wang had a girlfriend who came from Rao City. She was only a freshman at Qing University. It was said that her results were very good and her college entrance examination results were especially good.

He had met Qiao Nian once before, but he didn’t deliberately ask her which faculty she was studying in.

Of course, with his status, he didn’t dare to ask Ye Wangchuan and the others.

Who knew that he almost provoked someone he shouldn’t have because of this!

That day in Master Wang's private room, he saw that the master started to dote on the girl like she was a princess. He even personally served the girl food and water...

With Master Wang's attitude, even a hundred Liang Lu wouldn't be qualified to challenge him!

The manager hurriedly arranged for a waiter to lead the way for Qiao Nian and the others. However, he was not confident enough in the waiter and caught up halfway to personally lead the way.

In the big private room reserved by Shen Yugui.

The interior was quite spacious. They could see the antique decorations inside when they entered. There was a large round table inside, and a square screen was placed beside it. A porcelain table on a stool was at the side of the screen, and goldfish were swimming around inside. The water ripples were imprinted on the screen because of the light shadows, and they could see fish swimming in the water. It looked very stylish.

After the manager arranged the private room for them, he got someone to send in drinks and tea. There was also a fruit platter with cut fruits and cherry tomatoes.

Before going out, he kept reminding them to call him if they needed anything. His attitude was so respectful that the people from the Chinese Medicine Faculty couldn't get used to it.

Silence ensued.

What was going on? Didn't the Emerald Pavilion want them to give up their private room?

Why did he suddenly change his mind?

Song Tian subconsciously looked at the girl who had sat down in a quiet corner and seemed to be replying to messages on her cell phone. She was in a daze.

Q-Qiao Nian?
