

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1099

Secondly, it was extremely degrading for a big star like Jiang Li to attend the school's opening ceremony. There would only be disadvantages and no benefits even if this school was Qing University.

What would he go there for?

Jiang Li hadn't even attended Qing University, so there was really no reason for him to be at the ceremony. It wasn't as if that would boost his reputation.

However, Jiang Xianrou insisted that he attend it. Even Jiang Li himself did not refuse. So, as the manager, he had to think of a way to arrange for it to happen.

For this, they even compensated a penalty for canceling a live event.

Losing money was nothing.

After all, Jiang Li was a top celebrity and could earn a lot of money every year. It was no problem for him to earn 100 million yuan a year.

However, Jiang Xianrou called again and said that she wanted to use Zhui Guang's song at the opening ceremony.

This...

He was one of the few people who knew who Zhui Guang really was.

That person had also been admitted to Qing University this year. She might even appear at the opening ceremony.

In addition, Zhui Guang had personally acknowledged Brother Li on Weibo last time and publicly tagged him as her brother. The netizens were sure to have a misunderstanding if Jiang Xianrou made such an arrangement with Brother Li at the school opening ceremony!

After a short hesitation, the manager was about to reject her when Jiang Xianrou hung up without giving him a chance.

A 'busy' tone went off.

The manager looked at his cell phone.

She had really hung up.

What the hell was this!

He put away his cell phone, pinched the bridge of his nose, and walked towards the place Jiang Li was filming the advertisement with a headache...

At the same time, at Emerald Pavilion.

Qiao Nian had just finished eating.

“Professor Shen, thank you for your hospitality this afternoon. We made a roll online. Are you busy? Let’s go to the KTV together.”

Song Tian discussed with the people around her as soon as she walked out of Emerald Pavilion. She was thick-skinned and the most open-minded. Everyone asked her to talk to Shen Yugui.

“KTV? I...” Shen Yugui was about to refuse when he was stopped.

Several of the freshmen tried to persuade him otherwise.

Too embarrassed to refuse, Shen Yugui subconsciously looked at the last girl who came out of the dining area and asked, “Qiao Nian, everyone said they’re going to the KTV. Are you going?”

It was only then that the girl managed to get hold of her earpiece cord. The brim of her baseball cap was pulled down low, but her delicate features could still be seen. Her expression was calm and inexplicably valiant.

Hearing this, Qiao Nian looked up at him casually and said without thinking, “No.”

Ah, the Almighty was not going... Song Tian was a little disappointed, but she was too embarrassed to force her to go. She just couldn’t hide her disappointment.

Qiao Nian pursed her lips and said calmly when she saw this, “I have something on in the afternoon. A teacher is looking for me, so I’m going to Qing University.”

“I see.” Shen Yugui nodded and did not think too much about it.

Qiao Nian only had two teachers, Nie Mi and Mr. Huang.

Mr. Huang had yet to return from his overseas lecture. The teacher Qiao Nian was referring to should be Nie Mi.

He nodded again and looked toward the road. “It’s not easy to get a taxi out here,” he said hesitantly. “Let me send you there.”

Qiao Nian raised her hand, revealing her snow-white wrist. Her eyes looked rather proud. “No need. I called for a taxi on the app.”

Then, she paused and said politely, “Professor Shen, go and have fun with them. Don’t worry about me.”

At this point, Shen Yugui nodded and insisted on waiting for her taxi to arrive.

The group of people waited by the road for five to six minutes. Then, they turned around and went to the KTV nearby after they watched Qiao Nian get into the taxi.
