

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1143

"I'm fine." Ye Wangchuan raised his eyelids. His eyes were clear and he looked fine. "Uncle Liang, don't worry about me. Go ahead."

"Mm." Liang Conglin was old friends with Old Master Ye in private and was also a whole 12-year cycle older than him. Ye Wangchuan called him Uncle Liang, so he did not stand on ceremony. After agreeing, he asked him, "Do you want me to get the waiter to bring a bowl of hangover soup for you?"

Ye Wangchuan casually looked at his cell phone. Qiao Nian had not sent him a message. He placed his arm on the table and pressed his fingers against his high nose bridge as he frowned, not knowing what to think. He was about to reject him when he picked up his cell phone again. He stood up and said, "No need. I'll go out for a walk and take a breather."

"Then later..." Liang Conglin wanted to ask if he would return.

Ye Wangchuan guessed what he wanted to ask and said lazily, "It depends on the situation. It's possible that I'll return. It's also possible that I won't."

Liang Conglin nodded. He understood and informed the people around him.

The people at this table were basically all from the Ministry of Culture. Ye Wangchuan rarely met them, but this time, he gave them enough face. He punished himself with a glass of white wine for his early departure before walking out politely.

As soon as he left, the people in the private room felt as if a huge weight had been lifted from their hearts.

Everyone looked more at ease than when he was around.

It was obvious that when Ye Wangchuan sat here, even they were a little flattered by his politeness. However, they also felt pressured.

A fat middle-aged man took out a handkerchief and waited for Ye Wangchuan to leave before he dared to wipe the sweat from his temple. He looked at Liang Conglin and sighed softly. "Young Master Ye is too polite today. He's making me nervous. Qing University is indeed a century-old school. Even Young Master Ye is giving Principal Liang face!"

Liang Conglin wanted to say that Ye Wangchuan was not giving him face. He was clearly giving Qiao Nian face. However, he did not want to say anything unnecessary. He raised his glass and chuckled easily, then said gently, "There's no such thing. It's all the same when it comes to all of us involved in education. Come, let me toast everyone. Thank you for taking the time to attend the school's anniversary celebration."

"You're too kind, Principal Liang."

“Yes, the principal is too kind.”

The people at the table responded to his call. They got up, raised their glasses, clinked glasses, and drank.

Then, they sat down. They were all wily old foxes who knew that Liang Conglin toasted everyone with this glass of wine just to change the topic.

They were not fools.

With Ye Wangchuan’s status and background, how could they dare to talk about him behind his back? Even the person who brought up this topic shut up.

The others were not crazy and did not bring this topic up again.

However, everyone became even more curious.

There were rumors in Beijing that Young Master Ye had a girlfriend from Rao City.

Compared to Beijing...

Rao City was just an inconspicuous third-tier city. With Ye Wangchuan’s status, who wouldn’t be curious about his girlfriend?

There was a rumor that Young Master Ye’s girlfriend had excellent grades and even got into Qing University. Previously, they did not believe this rumor.

Now... they all believed it!

After all, Young Master Ye’s attitude today was very unusual!

A girl who came from Rao City had actually taken Young Master Ye down. They wondered what kind of girl she was. She would probably not be worthy of the Ye family if she was just good-looking.
