

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1282

The female employee tore a bag of instant coffee and poured it into a cup beside him; she was from the secretary's office. She smiled when she heard this and her red lips curled up. "Isn't that a good thing? You didn't hear? Our company might work with the JC Corporation. The cooperation will be done as long as we take this cooperation case."

"JC Corporation? The very impressive JC Corporation?" The employee looked surprised.

The Jiang Corporation was considered the best in the jewelry industry in the country, but it was not enough internationally.

JC Corporation was different. They were the leader in the industry globally.

Their company was definitely out of their league!

"That's strange. Why would JC Corporation work with us? Didn't they only work with a few fixed brands in the past?"

The few brands that JC worked with regularly were all luxury first-tier brands. The Jiang Corporation was far inferior in this aspect. It was not surprising that the employees would be surprised.

A hint of confusion flashed across the female employee's eyes.

However, she knew the rules of the workplace well. She suppressed all her doubts and stirred her coffee with a spoon, then said casually, "Why do you care about this? You just have to know that our company is about to reach a cooperation with JC Corporation! JC Corporation has already kept our cooperation case. Usually, the possibility of cooperation in such a situation is very high. President Jiang is happy about this these few days. Let's wait. I won't talk to you anymore. I'll go back to my seat. Take your time~"

Jiang Zongnan didn't know that the news that they were about to sign a contract with JC Corporation had already spread throughout the company.

After he returned to his office, he walked straight to his seat and picked up the work that had piled up on his desk. He flipped open one of the folders and was about to sign it.

Unexpectedly, the office door suddenly opened and someone entered in panic.

He frowned and asked in a low voice, "Why are you so flustered?"

His assistant had already walked in quickly. He didn't look too good. He lowered his head and said, "President Jiang, something bad has happened."

Jiang Zongnan put down his fountain pen and frowned, then looked at him with a dark expression. "What's wrong?"

The assistant did not dare to hide it from him and said honestly, "Just now, the people from JC contacted us and said that they rejected our plan. They don't plan to cooperate with us anymore."

"What did you say?" Jiang Zongnan suddenly stood up from his chair. The chair hit the bookshelf beside him with a bang.

Shocked, the assistant immediately dared not speak anymore.

Jiang Zongnan took a long time to recover. An anxious expression appeared on his face as he suppressed his emotions and said in a low voice, "Did you ask them why they are not cooperating with us? Didn't they hint that there was a high chance of cooperation when they left the plan behind previously? Why did JC suddenly change their mind?!"

"This... President Jiang, I've asked. But they didn't say it explicitly. They only said that we caused trouble and provoked their higher-up. This is their decision, and they can't control it."

The assistant was also very anxious. "I tried to find out who the higher-up they were talking about was. I said that we were willing to go to their door and apologize to them. However, I couldn't get anything out of them. They refused to say who they were."

This was the first time Jiang Zongnan had encountered such a thing. He didn't even know who the other party was, but JC insisted that they had offended someone at the top.

The other party did not even give him a chance to apologize!
