

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1287

Ten minutes later, the black car slowly stopped in front of them.

The window rolled down, and the mesmerizing side profile of the man in the passenger seat appeared.

Gu San greeted Qiao Nian warmly. "Miss Qiao."

Then, he noticed the person at her side.

Ye Wangchuan also saw him, a middle-aged man. He had seen him before. It was Qiao Nian's biological father, Jiang Zongjin.

He did not expect Jiang Zongjin to be there. He immediately greeted him politely, "Hello, Uncle Jiang."

"Uh, okay. Hello."

Jiang Zongjin seemed to be stepping on cotton and was in a daze. He watched as the girl walked over to open the door and gestured for him to get in. "Dad, get in first."

"Ah, okay, okay."

Jiang Zongjin instinctively followed.

After he got into the car, Qiao Nian followed him inside. She closed the door quite naturally and rolled down the window. Her posture was relaxed as she put her elbow on the rolled-down window and said to the person in front of her lazily, "Let's go. Let's find a place to eat first. I'm treating my father to a meal."

Ye Wangchuan was very calm and immediately asked the man, "Does Uncle Jiang like spicy or light food?"

Jiang Zongjin was dumbfounded. He felt uncomfortable in the car and felt that something was wrong. For a moment, his mind was a mess, but he did not realize what was wrong. He replied uncomfortably, "Something lighter."

"Okay." Ye Wangchuan nodded and instructed Gu San, "Go to the Imperial Mansion."

The dishes in the Imperial Mansion were Cantonese. They were light and sweet, suitable for middle-aged and old people.

If Jiang Zongjin's taste was as spicy as Qiao Nian's, he would bring him to the hotpot restaurant that they had gone to last time.

"Okay, okay, Master Wang."

Gu San hurriedly reversed the car and drove in the direction of the Imperial Mansion skillfully. He even looked at Jiang Zongjin's reaction through the rearview mirror.

He secretly clicked his tongue.

Miss Qiao came suddenly~!

Big boss was big boss. Miss Qiao did not tell them that Father Jiang was also here. Master Wang was forced to meet his parents.

For some reason, a sentence appeared in Gu San's heart: An ugly daughter-in-law will have to see her in-laws sooner or later.

Why did he feel that Master Wang was the wife who suddenly met his in-laws?

Gu San only thought about it in his heart and did not dare to show it on his face. If Master Wang knew what he was thinking, he reckoned that his name would be in the quota of Continent F!

Jiang Yao placed his hand on the steering wheel. While waiting for the traffic light, he looked at his sister sitting in the front passenger seat and said in a low and serious voice, "Xianrou, don't talk to Uncle like that in the future. Uncle always treated you well. Even if our families have separated, we're still family with Uncle and the others. Uncle is still an elder we have to respect, understand?"

Jiang Xianrou was distracted. Her eyelashes fluttered as she replied impatiently, "I understand. I didn't say anything. They were unwilling to ride with us in the first place. It's not like we weren't willing to send them back."

That was the logic!

Jiang Yao always felt that sometimes, her emotions were too written on her face and it was easy to make people uncomfortable.

Jiang Yao could only say tactfully, "Uncle... is a teacher. Qiao Nian doesn't know many people, but they're our family, after all. We're all family. Grandpa handed the company and connections to Dad because he hopes that our family can take care of Uncle and the others in the future. Don't let Grandpa down."
