

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1303

There was no brand label on the girl's laptop case, either. He didn't know what brand it was.

His eyelids twitched. Unable to stand the farce in front of him anymore, he sneered and said, "Can you find out if we give you the location of the cell phone? You don't even know who Eagle Eye is. How dare you ask us to give you the location of his cell phone? This matter..."

"Deputy Captain Luo!" Bo Zheng stopped him.

Luo Ming's expression turned ugly again. He clenched his fists, closed his eyes, and ruthlessly suppressed the frustration in his heart.

How infuriating!

Wasn't he making a fuss?

It was ridiculous that a girl would know how to check the location of Eagle Eye's cell phone.

Ye Wangchuan's expression was calm. There was not much expression on his handsome face, but his eyes had clearly turned cold. He said indifferently, "You can choose not to give it to her, but you have to be clear that you were the one who asked my girlfriend for help, not the other way round. Go and get him yourself if you can't even learn this."

Seeing that he was really angry, Bo Zheng rubbed the space between his eyebrows and tried to smooth things over. "He doesn't mean that. He's just a rough person.

"Your girlfriend knows how to track the location?" Bo Zheng asked curiously as he handed a note to the girl. "This is Eagle Eye's cell phone number. Is this enough?"

His voice was kind and gentle as he added, "If that's not enough, give me your QQ account. I'll get the technician to send you everything he's got."

Qiao Nian took the note from him and saw the phone number written on it with a fountain pen. Her beautiful black eyes were deep, and there was an indescribable dominance to them. "There's no need. This is enough."

She did not even look at Luo Ming. Or rather, she had never taken Deputy Captain Luo seriously.

He had been hard to get along with this whole time.

Qiao Nian nimbly turned on her laptop. She turned on the GPS tracker and entered the phone number Bo Zheng had given her.

Her fingers flew over the keyboard as she entered a series of codes.

As she moved her hands, a large map appeared on her computer screen. Beside the map was a long frame.

The data in the long frame kept refreshing.

The range of the coordinates on the map was also gradually narrowing...

At first, Bo Zheng did not think that Qiao Nian would be able to do it. He had only given her Eagle Eye's phone number because of Ye Wangchuan. He was afraid that Luo Ming's attitude would offend this famous junior who wasn't to be trifled with.

He did not actually believe that Qiao Nian could locate Eagle Eye.

Not until he saw the girl turn her baseball cap backwards to reveal an exquisite and eye-catching face, and how her fingers worked nimbly and swiftly on the laptop. His eyes lit up. He didn't care anymore. He pushed back his chair, got up, and walked behind the girl.

Seeing the rapidly updated data on Qiao Nian's computer, he couldn't help but look surprised.
"Wangchuan, your girlfriend's computer skills are not bad!"

This girl really knew how to do it?

Deputy Captain Luo felt a little embarrassed. However, he wanted to know if Qiao Nian could do it. Only by locating Eagle Eye's exact location could they capture him.

After hesitating again and again, he still could not suppress the annoyance in his heart and silently walked behind the girl with a long face.
