

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 135

When they exited First High School, they saw a fleet of cars Jiang Zongjin had called for them.

When Qiao Nian came out with everyone, a cute voice was heard from opposite the road. "Sister!"

Qiao Nian looked up and saw Ye Qichen jumping out of the car. He was wearing a cute shirt with an image of a cat on it. He was also wearing a bow-tie. He even pinned the cat-shaped brooch on the pocket of his shirt.

Even though he was still limping a little as he ran towards her, his joyful expression covered it up.

He was so beautiful!

Even though he was from the Fu family, he looked more like a Ye family member. He was just like his uncle and had perfect facial features since young. He was handsome since he was born.

"Sister Nian, who's this?"

Since the shock just now, Liang Bowen was suspicious of everyone. He even thought that the kid was Sister Nian's son.

The kid looked like he was five.

Sister Nian was just 18.

Sister Nian would have to be 13 when she got pregnant with the kid. That was impossible.

Qiao Nian looked at the kid with a gentle expression and then answered, "He's my friend's nephew."

"Oh." Liang Bowen wanted to ask what friend. However, when he saw the guy walking behind the kid, he froze.

He felt that he was good-looking. Even if he wasn't the most handsome in First High School, he was the most handsome in the class.

Fu Ge was only better than him in terms of grades.

He was confident of winning with his looks.

However, the guy walking towards them now had a one in a million aura. He admitted defeat after seeing him.

Who's this guy?

Just as he was shocked.

The kid went to Qiao Nian and hugged her leg. His face was flushed, making him even cuter.

"Sister, are your lessons over?"

"Yes, why are you here?" Qiao Nian said as she touched his head. His hair was so soft.

Ye Qichen looked down shyly and answered, "Uncle brought me here. I wanted to pick you from school."

He missed Sister too much.

He couldn't eat because of it.

He wanted to follow his uncle to the parent-teacher conference to see her. But his uncle didn't allow him.

Ye Qichen looked angrily at the uncle following him. But when he turned to Qiao Nian, the anger disappeared.

He remembered something.

He took out a sweet from his pocket and gave it to Qiao Nian. He then said shyly, "This is an orange-flavored candy. It's not white, but it's transparent. It's really sweet."

Does he think I like orange-flavored sweets? Qiao Nian was confused. She created orange-flavored sweets because it was the only fruit that she would eat. It wasn't because she liked orange-flavored sweets. But his gesture made her smile. She wasn't even aware of how happy she was at this moment. She bent down and took the sweet. She then patted the kid on the head and asked, "Is this for me?"

"Yup."

"Thank you."

Qiao Nian unwrapped the candy and popped it in her mouth. She then said, "It's really sweet."

It was really sweet.

Ye Wangchuan approached them. He thought for a while as he saw their interaction. He handed a cup of milk tea he was holding to her and said, "Chen Chen asked me to get this for you. It's orange-flavored as well. Do you want it?"
