

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 1487

The following day.

Jiang Xianrou woke up early.

After washing up, she waited outside the hotel with Tang Wanru for Qi Yan to bring them to the Pharmacy Association.

Qi Yan's car arrived at half-past nine.

The Qi family's driver opened the door for them respectfully. "Madam Jiang, Miss Jiang, please get in."

Jiang Xianrou and Tang Wanru got into the car one after another.

The car moved slowly in the direction of the Pharmacy Association.

Along the way, Jiang Xianrou pursed her lips and almost did not speak. She kept looking out of the window with a tense expression. It was obvious that she was very nervous.

Qi Yan chatted with Tang Wanru for a while. When she turned around and saw that she was so nervous, she smiled and said casually, "Xianrou, don't be nervous. Follow me when we reach the Pharmacy Association later. I'll bring you to report."

Jiang Xianrou looked at her with her beautiful eyes and pretended to be calm. "Thank you, Godmother."

Qi Yan did not reply. She only looked at her with a faint smile, and disdain flashed across her eyes.

To be honest, if it weren't for the Qi family, she wouldn't have given Jiang Xianrou a spot in the Pharmacy Association.

Lanyin was far, far more talented in medicine than her.

She had originally planned to leave this precious spot to her family. Unfortunately, God's plan worked. The Qi family had offended the Red Alliance, so she had no choice but to find external help.

She could only give up the spot in the Pharmacy Association.

After all, Qi Yan was not Qi Lanyin. She was in her 40s and had long experienced the baptism of society. No matter how dissatisfied she was, she could do it flawlessly on the surface and not let anyone see any dissatisfaction.

"I called Dean Zhong on the way. He's here today. I'll take you to him after you finish the paperwork."

Jiang Xianrou didn't expect Qi Yan to bring her to meet Dean Zhong. Her eyes lit up and she could no longer hide her joy. She said excitedly, "Thank you, Godmother."

This time she said it far more truthfully than the last time.

Qi Yan pursed her lips and smiled again. She waved her hand and said considerately, "You don't have to be so polite with me."

"But when you see Dean Zhong later, remember to perform well and be sensible. This way, you can increase your favorability with him. It will be beneficial for your stay in the Pharmacy Association in the future."

Even without her reminder, Jiang Xianrou understood the twists and turns. She nodded solemnly and said, "I know. Godmother, don't worry. I won't disappoint you."

Qi Yan adjusted her shawl and smiled elegantly, as if she trusted her. "Child, seriously, I already said that you don't have to be so polite with me. Of course, I'm at ease with your words~"

...

Half an hour later.

The car arrived at a very quaint building and found a place to stop.

Qi Yan glanced outside, opened the door, and said to the two of them, "We're here."

Jiang Xianrou was still immersed in the joy of meeting Zhong Yiliu. She only looked outside when she saw Qi Yan unbuckle her seatbelt and get out of the car.

What came into view was a very simple and unadorned building with a European style. It was not very eye-catching from the outside, but the simple aura stood there quietly.

She immediately felt a strong visual impact and an invisible pressure pressing down on her, making her heart beat faster.

Was this the Pharmacy Association?

Jiang Xianrou's breathing quickened and her pupils constricted. She opened the door and got out with Qi Yan.

She didn't even dare breathe.
