

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 290

He was worried that Qiao Nian had set the goal too high and would fail to pass the test.

Jiang Li also had the same worry. He looked at her and said, "Yeah, Nian Nian, do you want to think about it again? The questions used by Qing University for the independent enrollment are no simpler than the college entrance examination. Their math papers often look for questions in the Olympiad. There are few slots, and thousands of people take the test every year. It's not that easy."

Only Ye Wangchuan glanced at her with deep and narrow eyes, and asked calmly, "How do you plan to go to Beijing? By car or by plane?"

Rao City wasn't far from Beijing. The high-speed train would take a few hours, while the plane was faster, and could land in two or three hours.

Qiao Nian was actually a bit airsick and did not like the feeling of weightlessness, but instead of taking seven or eight hours of high-speed rail, she readily chose the latter. "By plane. I'll buy tickets online in advance."

Ye Wangchuan's thin lips curled in a smirk, and he put his hand on the table, saying leisurely, "No, I just happen to be returning to Beijing in a month. You can send your information to Gu San and ask him to book your tickets. Let's go back together."

Silence ensued for a moment.

Qiao Nian's brows furrowed suddenly, and a trace of hesitation flashed under her eyes.

She was going to Beijing to handle some private affairs and didn't want to be with them.

Seeming to guess what she was thinking, Ye Wangchuan said lazily, "Anyway, you have to go to Beijing, and I'm going there on the way too."

Having said this, she would appear too stingy if she refused, so she pursed her lips and looked up at him. "I'll send the information later."

Then, she continued, "But we might not go at the same time."

She didn't know the exact date of the admissions exam at Qing University. When the time was confirmed, she would fly over two days in advance at most.

It didn't necessarily happen to be the same time as them.

Ye Wangchuan didn't rebut her. He said naturally, "We'll see how it goes. If the time is right, we'll go together. If it doesn't match, let Gu San buy your ticket."

Qiao Nian raised her eyes and glanced at him, and immediately said, "If it matches, then let's buy it together. If it doesn't match, then forget it, I'll buy it myself."

If she owed him too much favor, there would be a psychological burden!

Ye Wangchuan glanced at her beautiful snow-white profile, and the corners of his mouth rose unconsciously. He chuckled lightly, his bloodthirsty eyes as deep as the sea, with a little bit of light hidden inside. "OK, I'll do as you say."

Qiao Nian was afraid that she would have to argue with him, but she didn't expect him to agree so easily. She was relieved unconsciously.

She herself didn't even notice her little relief, but it was completely captured by someone else.

The light in those deep and narrow eyes became deeper and deeper as if it could suck people in. Ye Wangchuan poured her a glass of water and handed it over, his thin lips curled up. He said in his heart:

There's no hurry.

Rabbits will bite when they are in a hurry.

Creatures like cats don't necessarily bite when they are in a hurry, but they will hide without a trace.

He had always been a patient hunter. He could afford to wait!

At this time, the waiter served the dishes, bringing in the steaming tomato hot pot. The waiter asked Ye Qichen which dishes he liked, and first placed those dishes into the clear soup...

After a while, the ham and other dishes were already boiling in the bottom of the pot.

Only Jiang Li and Gu San were still immersed in the matter of persuading Qiao Nian to reconsider whether to participate in the independent enrollment of Qing University.

What was the situation now? They were still persuading her to think about it again, but how could the two of them suddenly discuss buying air tickets to Beijing...
