

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 435

Qiao Nian raised her eyes and searched among the group of teachers, but she didn't see anyone who was like the one she was looking for.

She put her hands in her pockets, the tails of her eyes hanging down leisurely. In a relaxed tone, she said, "The Chinese Medicine Faculty."

What?

Liang Lu's complexion became extremely difficult to look at. She held the student files tightly and was about to smash the A4 papers into a ball of waste paper without even noticing as she stared at the girl in the center, wanting to crush her like a cockroach.

"Which department do you want to study in?" Cheng Wu's expression was also bad. He squinted and reminded her solemnly. "Student Qiao Nian, I believe you already knew about Qing University before coming. Choosing a major is a lifetime thing, you have to choose carefully!"

When Shen Yugui heard what he said, he was surprised and excited. At this moment, he couldn't bear it. He patted the table with both hands and confronted Cheng Wu. "Professor Cheng, what do you mean by this? Why can't she choose our Chinese Medicine Faculty? Students must choose your Finance Department to make a prudent choice?!"

Cheng Wu leaned back in his chair, confident and contemptuous. "Mr. Shen, I just advised the student to think again. You don't need to be so angry. Whether the Finance Department is the right choice or not, the number of students who came for our interview today explains everything. Did anyone choose your Chinese Medicine Faculty?"

"You!" Shen Yugui's face turned green. In the matter of enrolling students, the Chinese Medicine Faculty had been unable to raise their heads for so many years and could only lie flat to be ridiculed.

Finally, there was a good seedling who was willing to choose their department. Even if he was ridiculed, Shen Yugui still didn't want to give up. He turned his head and forced a gentle expression, looking at Qiao Nian. "Qiao Nian, you've chosen our Chinese Medicine Faculty? It's an absolutely correct choice. As long as you come to our department, all our teachers will teach you well, and you'll be the most precious student in our department!"

Cheng Wu came to the side and said coolly, "That's because there aren't many students in the Chinese Medicine Faculty. After finally obtaining a student, that student must be regarded as a treasure, but is it useful for her?"

A university was a small, condensed society, and networking was very important.

The Chinese Medicine Faculty had been in decline for years, and even with Shen Yugui and the others, they were still in an embarrassing situation. For so many years, they hadn't even entered the Medical Faculty. Compared with Liang Lu, who had become the President of the domestic Medical Faculty at a young age, they were nothing.

Qiao Nian was undoubtedly ruining her own future if she chose the Chinese Medicine Faculty!

He looked at Qiao Nian deeply with regret and asked again, "Student Qiao Nian, are you sure that you don't want to consider finance? If you choose the Finance Department, I can take you personally. I'll take you personally and you'll be exposed to many connections and resources, at a level that you can't reach in school. After you graduate and go to society, these connections and resources will also help you."

He said this with confidence. Only those with strong confidence could say this in public.

Cheng Wu obviously thought that he himself was the one who had absolute strength to say this!

Among the younger generation of Qing University, apart from him and Liang Lu, only Nie Mi and Huang Laozhi were qualified.

If Qiao Nian was wise, she would definitely understand him.

“Student Qiao Nian, you have to think carefully.” Cheng Wu leaned back in his chair, wearing a black suit that made him look formal and rigorous. However, he couldn’t hide the superior attitude in his speech and behavior.
