

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 494

Wei Dongshan was swift and decisive in his work. In the blink of an eye, he had already finished calling his subordinates and instructed them to cancel Qiao Nian's enrollment. When he heard this, he scoffed and smiled. "Alright, I'll wait to see how much I'll regret this."

He wanted to see if a tiny ant could shake an elephant as he had said! Cai Gang didn't even understand what was happening. It was ridiculous!

In a deep courtyard house in Beijing, Old Master Ye was trimming the flowers. The person standing beside him was the principal of Qing University.

At this moment, he was full of joy and was talking to him about this joint examination. "In all my years of management, this is the first time I've encountered such a talented student. We studied the Mathematical Olympiad criteria for this question. I originally thought that it would be good if a student scored more than 600 points, but I didn't expect her to get full marks.

"Tsk, there are a few students with potential this time. There's a girl called Qiao Chen who came all the way from Rao City. She's in the music department. As an art student, she got 588. It's a pity Elder Nie doesn't want her..."

He took a sip of tea and said regretfully, "If Elder Nie can bring a student along this time, the students of Qing University will be lucky!"

"Didn't Elder Huang come out of the mountains to take in disciples?" Ye Maoshan raised his eyebrows disapprovingly. His gaze was sharp. He raised his hand and cut off a flower bud with its head sticking out.

He was wearing a Chinese tunic suit, and his body was well-proportioned without a trace of fat. His back was straight, and he looked energetic.

"Elder Huang hasn't taken in a disciple for almost ten years. A few years ago, he would go to Qing University to teach. In the past few years, he has retired and hasn't been to Qing University for a long time. For him to be able to come out of retirement this time, it can be seen that he's truly moved."

Speaking of this, the principal couldn't help but smile. He sighed from the bottom of his heart. "That's right. Only this kind of genius with full marks can move Elder Huang. I originally felt that it was a pity for her to study in the Chinese Medicine Faculty. With her grades, she could have chosen a better department. If she's under Elder Huang, it would be a good choice..."

As he spoke, he rolled his eyes and suggested shrewdly, "By the way, Old Master Ye, you haven't seen Qiao Nian's scores, right? I've gotten her exam permit. They can transfer her papers and scores. Do you want to see them?"

Ye Maoshan was a little tempted.

Actually, he wanted to see Qiao Nian too.

His baby Chen Chen had been sending messages in the group chat every day. Today, his sister had bought a gift for him, and tomorrow, his sister would take him shopping at the mall... The Ye family group was about to become a small world for him to brag about. Every day, he talked about his sister, and never mentioned anyone else.

However, the brat at home didn't arrange for them to meet. He was already at this age and was an elder. Why was he so embarrassed to freeload?

Since he couldn't see her, it seemed like it was a good idea to see her results too.

At this thought, he put down the scissors in his hand and said in a good mood, "Sure. Let me take a look."

The principal of Qing University knew that he wanted to see it, so he specially brought the tablet over. When he heard this, he immediately took out the tablet and logged into the archive system. He was prepared to pull out Qiao Nian's file, but after clicking it a few times, he did not succeed.

The principal was a little angry. "What's going on? Why can't we see Qiao Nian's file? We managed to bring it up a few days ago."

He looked at the old man waiting for him and quickly said, "Old Master Ye, please wait a moment. I'll make a call and ask what's going on. Maybe the system is stuck."

Ye Maoshan was originally in high spirits, but now he felt like he had been splashed with cold water. However, as he was in a good mood, he let him ask about it.

It didn't matter.
