

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 566

Although she didn't understand what Ye Wangchuan was doing, when did the Ye family in Beijing become so free?

He was bought over with a bowl of hot and sour noodles?

Ye Wangchuan raised his eyes. The ends of his eyes were dark red from waking up early. However, he was still very firm in certain matters. He took her phone away and walked in front. "Let's go."

It was early in the morning at Rao City's First High School.

The students who came to class all said the same thing when they met in the morning: Hey, have you seen the school forum?

The English representative of Class A, which was supposed to be having morning reading, did not go up to lead. No one spoke in class. Everyone took out a book and spread it on the table, but not many people read it. Their gazes were basically on the second seat on the third row.

Wu Jie arrived early. She had been sitting in her seat all morning. Her back was straight and her face was tense. There was no expression on her face as she kept her head buried as if she was reading seriously.

Shen Qingqing gritted her teeth. As she looked at her back, which was filled with righteousness, she couldn't help but feel disgusted. "She sure can hold it in. She even dared to come to class."

It was English morning self-study this morning, but a Chinese book was spread out on Liang Bowen's desk. He was half leaning against the wall, and it could be seen that he wasn't reading seriously at a glance. His handsome face revealed a cold smile as he replied cynically, "Of course she dares to come to school. She can't wait for us to 'bully' her. It'll be a good opportunity to let the forum gossip and let everyone in the school know that our class bully bullied her. She can also conveniently pin this on Sister Nian and say that she instructed us to do it... Otherwise, why do you think she came to class so early? Is she looking for a beating?"

"Pfft! She's dreaming. She went to kneel down and curry favor with Qiao Chen. She curried favor with the wrong person, so she posted on the Internet to slander Sister Nian. When did Sister Nian isolate her? When did she form cliques?" Shen Qingqing was disgusted by Wu Jie's behavior. She said coldly, "Sister Nian has a good personality, so we're willing to play with her. Is that called forming cliques? Besides, have we isolated her before? Her seat should have been in the third last row, but because she isn't tall, the teacher mentioned that she couldn't see the blackboard because of her short-sightedness. Jiang Tingting took the initiative to give her the front row seat and let her sit in the front. Is this called isolation? When has everyone not called her out for any group activities? If she doesn't want to participate, why is she saying people isolated her?"

“Alright, even if this is called isolation, we’re the ones who isolated her. What has it got to do with Sister Nian? How long has Sister Nian been transferred to our class? Half a year? It’s Sister Nian’s fault that she was ‘isolated’ for three years?”

Liang Bowen saw that her face was so red from anger that she looked like a ripe apple. He really wanted to take a bite, but since the time and setting were not right, he could only endure it. He silently touched his high nose bridge and advised her, “Don’t be too angry. Some people are like this. They’re just jealous. Even if Sister Nian hasn’t done anything, she can still pick out bones from eggs. It’s enough if everyone can tell what kind of person she is.”

Shen Qingqing put down the book and said in frustration, “Are we just going to let her slander Sister Nian for no reason?”

“Wait until Sister Nian comes...” Liang Bowen didn’t think much of Wu Jie. He was more concerned that Qiao Nian hadn’t replied to his message.

However, since she didn’t reply to his messages, he felt more at ease. At least it meant that Qiao Nian didn’t take Wu Jie’s matter to heart and the matter was not that serious.

At least, it was not as serious as Wu Jie had said in the post. She said that Sister Nian might be sentenced for beating someone up until he was disabled.

If it was really that serious, Sister Nian would have replied long ago.
