

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 571

“Have you finished chatting with Chen Yuan?”

As soon as Qiao Nian came over, she saw the man leaning against the wall straighten up and walk toward her. His long black trench coat looked tall and impressive on him, making him quite eye-catching.

She retracted her gaze and nodded. For some reason, she paused again and added, “I told him to go to school tomorrow. Aunt Chen has been worried about him these past few days. I just convinced her to go back to sleep. Uncle Chen is bedridden and can’t control him. I’m the only one who’s able to control him.”

Ye Wangchuan’s eyebrows rose as he walked in front. There was a hint of unhappiness in his deep eyes, but it dissipated like clouds. His voice was low and alluring. “I know you’re on good terms with the Chen family. Uncle Chen and Aunt Chen are not in good health. You treat Chen Yuan as your younger brother and your friend. It’s okay to take care of him.”

Fortunately, Gu San did not follow.

If Gu San came along, he would definitely ask him, “Master Wang, do you really think so? You weren’t jealous at all when you saw Miss Qiao putting her hand on Chen Yuan’s shoulder?”

However, Gu San wasn’t around, and Qiao Nian didn’t think about it.

When they got into the car, Qiao Nian had just put on her seatbelt when Shen Hui called again.

She rolled her eyes and took out her phone. Although she was feeling very frustrated, she answered the call politely, “Hello, Teacher Shen.”

Ye Wangchuan turned the car around and placed his hand on the steering wheel. He was in no hurry to drive back. Instead, he waited patiently for her to answer the call.

It was unknown what the other party was talking about. Qiao Nian frowned slightly, her exquisite eyes filled with impatience. She nodded and said, “I’m outside. I’ll go over later.”

Where was she going? Ye Wangchuan raised his eyebrows and looked at her.

Qiao Nian didn’t look in his direction. She rolled down the car window and fresh air flowed in from outside. She looked out of the car window, holding her phone in one hand and resting the other on the window. She exuded a strong sense of laziness.

“Okay, I understand. Bye.”

Two minutes later, she hung up and put down her phone. Then, she said to the man beside her in a deep voice, “I’m going to the school for a while. I have something on.”

“I’ll send you there.” Ye Wangchuan had been waiting for her to call. After she made the call, he said naturally, “Since I have nothing on today, I’ll accompany you.”

In the past, Qiao Nian would have definitely said no. However, she didn’t say anything today.

On the way from the city hospital to the school, she flipped through the posts on the school’s forum. Perhaps because all the students had gone to school, that post became even more popular. The number of views broke 10,000, and more people replied to it.

Qiao Nian lowered her eyes and casually flipped through it. She saw many people from Class A standing up for her.

[Indigo Collar: I’m from Class A, why haven’t I seen Sister Nian bully anyone?]

[I’ll carry a gun and pry open the earth: Those who took the opportunity to scold and spout nonsense in the posts, come to Class A to look for your sister if you have the guts. Your sister will never change her name no matter what. She’s Jiang Tingting from Class A. I’ll be waiting for you!]

[Figure Jumping Water: I’m also from Class A. The post says that Qiao Nian is forming cliques in class and is isolating the other students. It’s too much of an exaggeration. I can only say that she’s very popular and that everyone likes to play with her. Also, Wu Jie said that the matter of Qiao Nian injuring someone has not been investigated clearly. She’s the only one talking about it. I think it’s best to treat it rationally.. There’s no need to stand out and criticize her first, lest you slap yourself in the face.]
