

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 596

The outsiders were still discussing among themselves, and the expressions of the Wei family members were all ugly. The Wei family had blocked Liang Lu outside and asked them to wait for so long, but the person who came was actually a young girl. This was not fooling around. This kind of behavior made the Wei family lose face in the circle!

If news of this got out tomorrow, they would laugh their heads off!

How could a high school girl compare to Professional Liang?

What miracle doctor?!

Bullsh*t doctor!

In a relatively spacious corner of the courtyard, when someone saw Qiao Nian, they reacted like Jiang Xianrou and recognized her immediately.

“Nian Nian?”

Wei Mingxuan didn't expect the miracle doctor his son had called over to be a high school girl. He was in a daze when he heard her voice. He turned his head and asked, “President Ye, do you know the doctor Lou'er found?”

Ye Lan was wearing a black cloak and coat today. The shape of the coat was excellent, and she had a white shirt with lotus leaves on it. Her overall appearance made her look cool and elegant. She was already past fifty years old. With her outstanding clothing, one couldn't tell how old she was.

Ye Lan was also very surprised to see Qiao Nian at the Wei family's residence. After a while, she figured it out a little. It was said that Wei Mingxuan's son had stayed in Rao City for a few years. Gu San had said that Nian Nian knew many people who sold pills on the black market. It wasn't strange for the two of them to know each other.

She nodded immediately and said, “Yes, she treated my grandson's leg.”

“She's so young, but her medical skills are so good?” Wei Mingxuan was stunned.

Ye Lan nodded without hesitation. “No matter what, she's more powerful than you think! I didn't expect Wei Lou to call her over, and she's even willing to help. I think Old Master Wei will probably be able to survive this time.”

So powerful?

Wei Mingxuan opened his mouth and was momentarily speechless. He subconsciously looked in Qiao Nian's direction. It was still that overly young face. “...”

Everyone in Beijing knew that there was a little devil in the Ye family who was pampered by the entire family. He was Ye Lan's eldest grandson.

That child's background was heartbreaking. Not long after he was born, his mother died. His biological father was also unreliable. He had been raised in the Ye family since he was young. However, when he was more than a year old, he realized that he had not gotten enough nutrients in the womb. His left foot had congenital leg disorders, and he was no different from a little cripple.

From then on, the little devil's leg became an indescribable pain in the Ye family. Over the years, they had found many experts.

Both domestically and overseas.

The outcome was not optimistic.

Some time ago, he had heard that Ye Qichen's leg had been cured. He was still trying to find who the doctor was, but Ye Lan did not reveal it.

He didn't expect her to be so young!

Qiao Nian heard the whispers around her. Many people were questioning her ability.

She took off her earphones and walked to the man who had welcomed her. She pulled on her hat with her fair and slender hands, looked up, and said hoarsely, "...You didn't tell me there were so many people."

There was no accusation in her tone. She simply did not like crowds.

Wei Lou, on the other hand, had changed his cynical attitude when he was talking to Wei Ying earlier. His peach blossom eyes were dark as he looked at the girl in front of him and explained softly, "I haven't found the time to tell you yet. My family's situation is more complicated, and I can't explain it in a short time. Help me see my grandfather first?"

Qiao Nian saw that his hair had been cut short and he had become much more energetic. However, the ear studs on his left ear were sparkling brightly, and he still had the arrogant look from before. She didn't say anything else and took off the earpiece wire. "Okay," she said and prepared to enter.
