

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 747

Master Cheng's turbid but spirited eyes stared at her with a regretful expression. "Are you really not free?"

She gave him an affirmative answer. "I really don't have time!"

At this moment, the people in Master Cheng's laboratory gasped. Their reactions were similar to Bo Jingxing's. Their expressions couldn't be described as one of shock. It was simply too complicated.

Master Cheng had taken the initiative to invite her, but Qiao Nian had rejected him twice.

Did she know Master Cheng's status in the domestic scientific research world?

Qiao Nian was still the same. She had her hands in her pockets and with her hoodie pulled up. Her snow-white face was wrapped under the hoodie, and her eyes were extraordinarily exquisite. She gave off a bandit aura and did not look like a good student. Her cynical aura was more like that of those ignorant and incompetent gangsters in school.

If Master Cheng hadn't said personally that the girl in front of him was the first place in this year's Qing University's joint examination, no one would have been able to link the person in front of them to a perfect score.

It wasn't that they didn't believe it.

She just didn't look the part!

However, when Ye Wangchuan saw Qiao Nian reject Master Cheng for the second time, he was not surprised at all. His smile widened. He knew that she would reject him.

Gu San saw his reaction and noticed that he seemed a little proud. The corners of his mouth twitched. He really wanted to ask him what he was being proud of. What was the difference between Miss Qiao rejecting Master Cheng and rejecting the Ninth Branch?

Even if Master Wang didn't feel comfortable with being with Young Master Bo and the others, at least he shouldn't look at Miss Qiao with such a proud expression!

As the person involved in the matter who had been rejected twice in a row, Master Cheng was quite calm. He returned to his senses after a short daze and smiled. "Forget it if you don't have the time. I originally thought that if you have the time, I'll introduce you to bioengineering. However, you have to be interested in learning. What matters most is that you like it."

Qiao Nian leaned back slightly and glanced at the reactor on his experiment table with her dark eyes. She hummed in response.

Her answer wasn't very respectful.

Master Cheng didn't mind. He sized her up with his turbid eyes that revealed intelligence, placed his hands behind his back, and said slowly, "Are you sure you want to go to university? Are you studying at Qing University? You're not taking the college entrance examination?"

The national joint examination wasn't considered a college entrance examination. Unlike the college entrance examination, the joint examination results could be regarded as a guaranteed result, but it didn't affect the participation of the college entrance examination.

If Qiao Nian wanted to take the college entrance examination, she could still take it.

It was up to her.

Qiao Nian raised her hand and tugged at the brim of her hat. Her fingers were a little cold as she replied casually, "I want to take the college entrance examination, but I'm still going to university. My major will never change."

"You told Principal Liang?"

With Qiao Nian's results, no school could bear to let her go easily. He had a good relationship with Liang Conglin and knew very well that he was a person who loved money as much as his life. He wouldn't let a student like Qiao Nian off. He must have gone to talk to her personally.

It turned out that the older, the wiser. He guessed correctly.

Qiao Nian nodded and said, "Yes."

"I knew he wouldn't let you go." Master Cheng smiled and said gently, "Qing University is considered a good school in the country. Strictly speaking, I went to Qing University too. They don't have many courses. After you go to university, come look for me in the Ninth Branch if you can spare some time. Your science results are good, it'll be a waste if you don't take the laboratory path!"

Qiao Nian frowned slightly and looked at him with her bright eyes.. She really wanted to say that she might not have time, either.
