

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 776

Qiao Nian was speechless.

She raised her eyes slowly to look at him. She seemed to think about it and said slowly, "Money... Actually, I have a little."

Ye Wangchuan was very efficient. He had only found out about Zhou Wei's behind-the-scenes scheme in the morning, but in the afternoon, the news of her being chased out of the Ninth Branch spread throughout the upper circles of Beijing.

The various large families in Beijing had always liked to keep an eye on the Ninth Branch. This time, with the Ninth Branch causing such a huge commotion, almost everyone was secretly guessing what had happened.

Jiang Xianrou received a call from Zhou Hengfeng. She had just come out of Liang Lu's place when she called Qin Si. After asking where he was, she went over to Chang'an Club.

Chang'an Club had a member system. Jiang Xianrou often came with Qin Si and the others, and the waiters all knew her.

The moment she arrived, the public relations manager greeted her enthusiastically and led her to the private room.

"Miss Jiang, Young Master Qin, and the others are in private room 003."

Jiang Xianrou was hiding something in her heart and her expression was not good.

On the way, the public relations manager looked down and did not speak much. He silently led her to the private room Qin Si had booked and then excused himself.

Jiang Xianrou ignored him and pushed open the door.

In the private room.

Qin Si, Zhang Yang, and the others were all there.

Zhang Yang and the others were playing mahjong. Qin Si was leaning on the sofa, his phone clutched in his hand as if he was playing a game.

Seeing her enter, Qin Si looked up and took the time to greet her.

"Xianrou, you're here."

Jiang Xianrou held her handbag and walked over. When she saw the game interface, she pursed her lips and did not sit down.

Qin Si sent a message to Qiao Nian. He then looked up and saw her standing upright in front of him. Frowning instinctively and suppressing his impatience in his heart, he patted the sofa beside him. "Why are you standing there? Sit."

"I want to ask you something." Jiang Xianrou was thinking about Zhou Hengfeng's call. Her snow-white oval face was serious as if she had something to say.

Qin Si still gave her face. Hearing this, he logged out of the game and put down his phone. He then looked at her. "What is it? Tell me."

"You know that Zhou Wei was chased out of the Ninth Branch by Master Wang..."

She had just finished speaking when Qin Si interrupted her impatiently with a clear expression. "Are you here to plead for Zhou Wei?"

Her question was direct and a little impolite.

Jiang Xianrou had been playing well with Qin Si and the others because of Jiang Li's relationship. Qin Si and the others also took special care of her. They rarely spoke to her in such a tone. She clenched her handbag in discomfort and remembered Zhou Hengfeng's instructions. She nodded stiffly again.

"What did Zhou Wei do? Master Wang's punishment is so serious. If Zhou Wei is chased out of Ninth Branch, she won't be able to stay in Beijing anymore..."

Qin Si raised his eyebrows with a complicated expression. "You don't even know what mistake Zhou Wei made, yet you came looking for me?"

Jiang Xianrou was a little embarrassed and felt her face burning. She bit the bullet and said, "Zhou Hengfeng is the number one hacker in the country. He knows many people and is also related to the Red Alliance. I just don't think there's a need for you to be so ruthless..."

Qin Si was impatient. When he finally finished listening, he repeated her words with a faint smile.

"Zhou Hengfeng is the number one hacker in the country? Who told you that? Did he say it himself?"

He didn't know what kind of situation Sister Qiao was in, but he had heard from Luo Qing that she was pretty good at IT. Her programming skills crushed Zhou Wei..
