

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 779

At the Emergency Department of the city hospital.

Jiang Li's manager rushed to the hospital. Not even trying to find a place to stop, the car stopped at the roadside. In the blink of an eye, the traffic police had pasted a ticket on it, and he was in no mood to care.

On the way, he wished that he had four legs so that he could walk faster.

He then arrived outside the emergency room.

'When he saw the other party's company representative, he immediately strode over and greeted them.

"President Chu, you're all here."

Xue Ziang's assistant was discussing with the company's representative how to use this popularity to step on Jiang Li and raise his own artist.

Halfway through their conversation, they turned around and saw him coming over. The few of them instantly looked at each other and tacitly stopped talking.

Jiang Li's manager saw their small actions. However, he was currently anxious. Even if he knew that they were probably discussing how to cheat them, he could only pretend not to see it. He smiled and walked over. "How is Xue Ziang?"

"Heh, just like that. With how badly he was beaten, his nose must have broken."

The boss of Xue Ziang's company was a woman in her early forties. Her surname was Chu, and it was said that she had a little background in Beijing. Her background was not small. At this moment, her hair was neatly combed at the back of her head, and she did not look outstanding.

Dressed in a professional suit, she looked quite valiant, but her attitude was a little harsh. Hearing this, she narrowed her eyes slightly and raised her chin. She wasn't polite. "As for whether he suffered other injuries, the artist is still doing a checkup. We don't know the details yet. The doctor said that it's best to take a CT of his brain to see. We still have to do an electrocardiogram test later..."

"The manager knew that she was deliberately making things difficult for him. What electrocardiogram? CT scan of the brain? It was too exaggerated.

Jiang Li had indeed beaten Xue Ziang up, but the two of them were quickly pulled away by the staff present. At most, Xue Ziang had received a few blows to his face and had suffered some soft tissue injuries on his body. There was no need for a scan at all. With so many reporters waiting outside, Chu Yao insisted on bringing Xue Ziang to the city hospital for a checkup. It was obvious that she wanted to take this opportunity to cling to Jiang Li

Although he knew clearly in his heart that Jiang Li had hit him, it was the truth. Furthermore, he had beaten Xue Ziang into a pig's head under the eyes of so many people. Logically speaking, he didn't have the advantage in public opinion. If he wanted to escape from the news this time, he could only discuss it with the other party.

Therefore, he was silent for a moment before choosing his words carefully. He said very humbly, "President Chu, we'll reimburse Xue Ziang's medical fees this time. Look at the Weibo post on the Internet..."

As soon as he finished speaking, Chu Yao raised her exquisite eyebrows arrogantly. "My artist was beaten up for no reason. You don't even have a single explanation. You want to reconcile just like that?"

"That's not what I meant..."

Chu Yao: "I saw the status on Xue Ziang's Weibo. He didn't say anything. He's considered a victim. He was clearly beaten up, but he still explained it for Jiang Li on Weibo. What else do you want?"

The manager only wanted to laugh coldly. Explain?

Xue Ziang had published that Weibo post when Jiang Li's side just contacted Weibo to lower the popularity of this incident. How was this called explaining?

It was more like adding fuel to the fire!

He even firmly established the image of an injured puppy in the hearts of his fans!

He knew very well that this was just the entertainment industry's usual trick. Since the other party was acting stupid with him, he couldn't possibly tear his face apart and say anything if he needed a favor. He could only take a deep breath and swallow this anger. He discussed with the other party nicely.

"President Chu, according to what I know, Jiang Li did not attack for no reason. Xue Ziang also did something he shouldn't have done..."
