

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 782

The Jiang family didn't rely on him to earn money. At most, he would go back and be a spoiled heir. However, he felt a little regretful that he couldn't play the music he liked.

'When the manager saw his expression, he didn't even dare to say what the other party had proposed. After a long time, he said, "They... want you to apologize to Xue Ziang publicly on Weibo."

"Damn! Are they shameless? To think they dared to think that Brother Li would publicly apologize to him? On what basis? Xue Ziang has a foul mouth. He deserves it!"

"Exactly. How shameless."

The assistant and the others couldn't help but curse.

The manager wrung his hands helplessly. "I also know that they're shameless. They want Jiang Li to apologize publicly to hype up Xue Ziang. The problem is that Jiang Li hit Xue Ziang first. The surveillance videos clearly show that he hit him first, and the reason for doing so is... I can't say. They don't accept resource replacement, so there's nothing we can do."

He originally did not want to say this, but he couldn't help but say, "Besides, the other party even threatened to call the police."

If this matter was brought to the police station, it would be a big mess.

If they caused a ruckus at the police station, Xue Ziang could casually create an injury certificate and ruin Jiang Li's reputation. The other party was relying on this to be fearless!

He thus made a brazen request for a public apology.

It wasn't impossible to resolve this matter, but he needed someone...

The manager frowned and looked at the man in the back who was clearly not afraid of trouble. He said hesitantly, "If Miss Qiao is willing to stand forward.."

He was about to continue speaking when Jiang Li interrupted him. "Don't even think about it! I can leave the industry. If they want to call the police, just let them do it. I won't involve Nian Nian. Don't even think about it!"

'I just say this. Actually, if she's willing to stand forward, this is a good thing..."

Before the manager could finish, Jiang Li threw his phone away again and said forcefully, "You don't have to say anything. I'm telling you, it's impossible! I won't apologize to him, either! They can do whatever they want."

The manager knew he would say that. He was so anxious that his mouth burned, but there was nothing he could do.

This time, he had used the Jiang family's connections to suppress the popularity of this news on the Internet. Otherwise, it wouldn't be easy to suppress the trending searches. If Jiang Li was unwilling to involve Qiao Nian, they could only be sucked dry by Xue Ziang's side. There was nothing they could do...

However, their attitude was really infuriating.

He thought about it for a long time but couldn't think of a good solution. He rubbed his forehead and said to the driver, "Let's go back to the company first. I'll discuss with the company and see what to do next."

Everyone in the nanny van was in a gloomy mood.

In the Ninth Branch.

Qiao Nian had already dried her hair. She sat back at the desk, her long legs wrapped in a bathrobe resting casually as she picked up the phone on the table.

Nie Mi had already replied to her message.

'I've prepared the Weibo verification. Go up and take a look yourself. See if there's any problem. Let me know if there is.'

Qiao Nian curled her fingers and clicked on her phone. She lowered her eyes and thanked him.

Then, she booted up her laptop and logged into her account. Indeed, there was a red V on the back of the account.

She narrowed her eyes and stared at it before scanning the certified information below.

—Zhui Guang, musician.

There was only one verified Weibo post that the system had sent itself lying there silently. The number of forwards and comments was very high.

Qiao Nian looked at it. In less than an hour, there were already more than 30,000 forwards.

Qiao Nian saw the trending searches at the side from the corner of her eye..
