

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 789

Old Master Ye moved his gaze away from the mirror and said unhappily, "I'm not asking if it fits. I'm asking you if I look amiable? Will young people like me? Isn't this color too serious?"

The old butler looked at his powerful aura and then at his white hair and serious face. He thought about the questions and was a little at a loss for an answer. He whispered tentatively, "If you think the color is too serious, why don't you change it to red? Red is a celebratory color."

"It's not the new year!" Old Master Ye looked at the mirror again. "Forget it. I don't think I'll ask you about aesthetic standards anymore."

The butler: "..."

He couldn't stand watching him gesture in front of the mirror for the entire morning. He reminded him softly, "Old Master Ye, do you want to ask Young Master? Young Master should know what color Miss Qiao likes."

Old Master Ye's eyes lit up. He looked at him in praise and then looked at the living room.

Ye Qichen was playing with his phone on the sofa. It was obvious that he had dressed up seriously today. His hair was combed smooth and coiled at the back of his head, revealing his fair and tender face. He was adorable.

However, his pretty face was quite serious, which greatly reduced his cuteness.

"Chen Chen."

The little boy nestled on the sofa looked up. His dark and deep eyes were the characteristic of the Ye family. At a young age, his facial features could be seen. Old Master Ye looked at him and coughed, embarrassed to ask him this.

Unexpectedly, the little guy was smart. Seeming to have heard their conversation, he sized him up before saying, "It's cute."

Old Master Ye: "??"

"What's cute?"

Ye Qichen moved his gaze away and placed his phone on his knees. He leaned back and showed his sweater with a picture of a cat on it. A cat brooch was also on the side of the jacket. He raised his chin slightly with the same wooden face. Old Master Ye could see his proud expression. "Sister likes cute types."

".." Old Master Ye's lips twitched.

Looking at his strange clothes, he finally understood that he usually wore them rigidly. Why did he have to get the auntie who took care of him to find him clothes with cat prints today? It was because of Qiao Nian!

He looked at the little child nestled on the sofa and felt upset.

It was heartbreaking for the older one to not go home on a big day and for the younger one to be like this.

Before Old Master Ye could react, he heard a car stop outside.

The butler whispered from the side, "I think it's Missy."

Just as his voice fell.

Ye Lan walked in valiantly. Seeing them, she put down the car key and greeted, "Dad, are you ready? We should be leaving soon."

Old Master Ye felt that he had more or less prepared himself, but thinking of what Ye Qichen had said earlier, he was not very confident. He looked up and asked her, "Are my clothes too boring? Do I look approachable?"

"Er..." Ye Lan rushed back from the unit in a hurry and did not turn around for a moment. She only looked at him after putting down her car keys. After knowing his intentions, she laughed involuntarily and said, "Dad, you don't have to be so nervous. Qiao Nian is very easy to get along with. She's not that unreasonable."

"Ahem." Old Master Ye felt a little embarrassed by her words. He was mainly embarrassed to admit that he cared about this. He even pulled a long face and pretended to be angry. "Who told you I'm nervous? I'm just meeting a junior. Do I have to be nervous?"
