

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 802

"I send a message to Sister Nian to ask."

Jiang Tingting giggled and returned to her seat. She had forgotten to ask the question.

The next day, before Qiao Nian boarded the plane, she saw a message from Jiang Tingting asking her if she was Zhui Guang.

She lowered her eyes and was about to reply when someone handed her a cup of hot coffee. "It's cold. Have some coffee to warm yourself up."

She looked up and met a certain person's deep eyes. His gaze was too hot. The corners of her mouth twitched as she looked away first. She slowly put away her phone and took the coffee can from him. "Thank you."

She was quite polite!

Ye Wangchuan smiled and pretended not to notice her discomfort. He took the coffee can from her hand and said, "I'll help you open it."

Qiao Nian: "... Then, why didn't he open the can before giving it to her?"

Despite saying that, she still handed the can to him lazily.

The man lowered his head and opened the can before handing it back to her. His gaze landed on her again, and he saw her slender neck. He asked, "Are you cold?"

Gu San went to buy coffee with him. Ye Wangchuan had also bought him a can. It was hot, and the temperature in his hand was just right. However, when he saw the couple standing not far away, he instantly felt that the coffee was no longer fragrant!

"Huh?" Qiao Nian subconsciously held the can and took a sip of hot coffee. Then, she lowered her exquisite eyes and reacted. She said slowly, "I'm fine. I'm not cold."

Ye Wangchuan didn't say anything. He reached out and held the girl's hand, pinching her slightly cold fingertips. "Your fingers are so cold, but you still say you're not cold."

"..." Qiao Nian raised her eyes and gave him a devilish look.

Wasn't he being a little too much? He had just confessed yesterday, but today, it was as if he was on duty with a certificate. He kept making small moves.

Ye Wangchuan took off the scarf around her neck and wrapped it again. He tied it around her neck and said, "It'll be colder in Rao City. Put it on first, don't catch a cold."

His scarf was warm to the touch. It was quite warm around her neck, and it did not seem as cold as before.

Qiao Nian lowered her eyes and silently agreed to his actions. She didn't take off the scarf.

Gu San smacked his lips and took a sip of coffee silently.

Since coffee was bitter, being single was better than watching others show their love!

At this moment, the broadcast urged them to get ready to board the plane.

Gu San threw the can into the trash can at the side and walked over. He braced himself and interrupted his boss's sweet time.

"Master Wang, it's time to board the plane."

Ye Wangchuan glanced at him. He stood tall and looked especially eye-catching as he stood in the departure hall. Many girls were stealing glances at him. He didn't look at them at all and focused all his attention on the girl beside him. He raised his hand and helped the girl smooth her scarf before lowering his head. He held her hand and said, "Let's go back to Rao City."

The plane landed at Rao City Airport three hours later.

After getting off the plane, someone came to pick them up.

Qiao Nian didn't go back to the villa to put away her things. Mainly, she didn't bring anything with her to Beijing, There was nothing much to put away. Therefore, she told Ye Wangchuan to go directly to the city hospital.

In the hospital, Uncle Chen was still the same. Seeing her, he became much more energetic.

Qiao Nian accompanied him for a while. When she saw that he was dispirited and tired again, she got up to let him rest and went to look for his attending doctor to understand the situation.

Chen Yuan called her as soon as she left the hospital.

"I just saw your message.. Sister Nian, you got off the plane?"
