

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 836

Jiang Li walked over and looked around. He didn't see the prospective candidate. Pulling his chair aside and sitting down, he asked Gu San suspiciously, "Where is Nian Nian? Why is she not here?"

Gu San had just gone to heat up a glass of milk and was bringing it over. After hearing Jiang Li's question, he looked at him and replied calmly, "I don't know. I haven't seen Miss Qiao, either. I think she's still sleeping."

"She's still sleeping?" Jiang Li couldn't calm down. He dropped the buns he was holding in shock, not wanting to eat them anymore. He looked at his watch, turned his head, and asked the man sitting on the sofa, who had his legs crossed and was playing with his cell phone, "Master Wang, what time will the examination begin?" Ye Wangchuan was replying to a message from the Ninth Branch. As soon as he sent the message, he raised his eyes and pursed his thin lips. He seemed to be in a good mood. "It begins at half-past eight." "Half-past eight..." Jiang Li lowered his head and looked at the time.

His handsome face suddenly changed, looking as though he had eaten a bitter gourd. He lifted his head and said, "It's half-past seven now..."

There was only one hour left, and Qiao Nian was still sleeping

Jiang Li was unable to describe his complicated mood.

He initially wanted to go and wake her up. However, after thinking about it and remembering her grades, he felt that it would seem like he was worrying too much.

Qiao Nian had just woken up.

She wasn't awakened by her alarm clock.

She was instead woken up abruptly by the various incoming text messages and phone calls.

She woke up groggy and went into the bathroom to take a cold shower to cool down. She waited for the tiredness to wash off her before she came out of the bathroom, changed her clothes, and picked up her cell phone.

Her cell phone was full of messages.

Yuan Yongqin and Su Huaiyuan had even called her.

Ye Lan and Qin Si had also sent her messages.

Among the messages, Qin Si's messages contained the most amount of nonsense.

Out of everyone who had sent her messages, he was the only one who sent her more than a dozen messages.

Qiao Nian squinted her eyes. Her dark eyes were very dry as she clicked on Qin Si's message. After scrolling through a bunch of nonsense, she finally got to his main message.

(Sister Qiao, how many points do you think you can score in the examination this time?)

(For the College Entrance Examination this time, don't put too much pressure on yourself. With your grades, you would have gotten into Qing University anyways. You just have to face this examination without pressure. If you really score a few points off the mark for any major, you can always look for me. I will find a way to help you.)

Qiao Nian raised her eyebrows. She slid her finger across the screen again and turned on her cell phone again. She realized that these two messages were the only messages sent after seven o'clock.

The first message he had sent was at half-past six in the morning.

She half squinted her cold eyes and then casually replied to him, She then went downstairs.

Zhang Yang was with Qin Si in Beijing

Qin Si had asked him to wake up early in the morning to go for breakfast.

Since Zhang Yang wasn't in a position to annoy the young master, he yawned and accompanied him to the Imperial Mansion for breakfast. After taking a bite of the crab porridge, he noticed the man opposite him playing with his cell phone absent-mindedly. His cell phone suddenly lit up.

Qin Si immediately sat up straight, eager to read the message.

After reading it, he opened his mouth but didn't speak for a long time. He only managed to squeeze out a word: "Damn!"

He followed up by saying: "So crazy, she's so wild!"

Qin Si's mouth dropped as he stroked his chin again. In a good mood, he laughed. "She really has the same demeanor as that person. They really fit well together as a couple."

"What couple?" Seeing him so excited after looking at his cell phone, Zhang Yang couldn't help but ask. "Young Master Qin, what are you talking about?"

Qin Si looked at Qiao Nian's reply. Her words were concise and clear.
