

MADAM'S IDENTITIES SHOCKS THE ENTIRE CITY AGAIN Chapter 856

However, with Fu Ge and Wen Ziyu in such a mess, someone had to mediate. He could only be the bad guy. "The Qiao Nian you mentioned not only did not get 0 marks, but she also... got full marks."

Qiao Nian scored full marks?

Fu Ge felt like he had been drenched in cold water in front of everyone.

He subconsciously retorted, "Impossible. I saw the screenshot. It says 0 marks for all the subjects."

"I told you, that's because the results hadn't been recorded yet. Who would have thought that there would be a perfect score for the college entrance examination this year! The teacher who graded the papers also didn't expect that when the results are out, according to the rules of review, such a heaven-defying paper with 750 points would definitely have to be revisited for inspection. This is why Qiao Nian had not been recorded for so long."

"..." Fu Ge still didn't believe or was unwilling to believe. He clenched his fists and gritted his teeth, his face turning red.

Seeing his reaction, Wen Ziyu wanted to laugh and watch the show coldly.

"Think about it. It's not like she didn't take the exam. No matter how bad her results are, she shouldn't have gotten 0 marks for every ten-odd multiple-choice questions. Furthermore, there's still the English subject. What kind of person must be able to make dozens of choice questions wrong?"

Fu Ge was robbed speechless.

However, after calming down and thinking about it, that made sense. However, he still couldn't accept that Qiao Nian had scored full marks. He felt extremely stifled and his eyes were dark. He didn't say a word.

Wen Ziyu stared at him smugly and mocked. "Some people have the time to speak ill of Qiao Nian in front of me. Why don't you go online and see what your girlfriend has done? If I were you, I would really be embarrassed to say those things!"

With that, he picked up the basketball and walked to the court without looking at Fu Ge's reaction.

Qiao Chen had been very close to the people in their dormitory recently. Everyone knew her because of Fu Ge. They had originally gotten along well.

Everyone in the dormitory was envious of him for having a campus belle girlfriend. She was beautiful, had a gentle personality, and had good results.

Now, their envy had changed. It turned sour. And the way everyone looked at him changed from envy to blatant sympathy.

The person who had just told him about Qiao Nian's results also walked to the basketball court. However, when he passed by him, he raised his hand and patted his shoulder, silently comforting him. "Fu Ge, look at the trending searches on the Internet. Qiao Chen is quite... That... It's not easy to say that as your brother. Take a look yourself and you'll know why Wen Ziyu criticized her." Qiao Chen hadn't arrived at Qing University yet. From now on, her reputation would be tarnished!

"I'm going to play basketball."

Fu Ge watched helplessly as his friends went to the basketball court to look for Wen Ziyu. His face was livid, and he clenched his fists tightly. He swallowed his breath, went to the pile of clothes, took out his phone, and opened Weibo.

The first trending topic was related to the college entrance examination.

He already looked embarrassed.

He forced himself to look down again.

Other than a few trending searches that were clearly related to the college entrance examination, another trending topic was especially eye-catching.

#Zhui Guang has been plagiarized

This was not the first time he had heard of this name in Beijing. He knew very well that people like Nie Mi respected this person very much.

Wen Ziyu's aunt, Wen Ruxia, was the same. Her attitude towards Zhui Guang was different.

He frowned and clicked on it unconsciously.

Seeing the pinned Weibo post on the square, his expression changed. [Zhui Guang: @Qiao Chen, are my things useful?] Her words were already ruthless enough, but she even tagged Qiao Chen directly.
